

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Vermont is the greatest maple sugar producing State in the Union. Its annual yield is about 9,000,000 pounds, worth $700,000, or about an average abundance of thirty pounds for each inhabitant.

James Dwyer has received Vol. VII of "Knights' Popular History of England," No. 15 of the Standard Series, price only 25 cents. One more volume will complete this splendid work.

Serious destitution prevails in several counties of Kansas, along the line of the Kansas Pacific Railway, no rain having fallen in that locality during the past six months. The wheat crop is a failure there, and no spring crop will be cultivated. The people are suffering, and contributions are being raised for their relief.

Splashing water on passers by has become the correct thing in the Quaker City circles of hired-girl-dom. The reason of this is that a Philadelphia servant girl who was engaged washing windows scattered some water on a passing stranger, but immediately apologized and bestowed on the victim one of her most gracious smiles. The pedestrian was snubbed, and in four weeks they were married. He turned out to be worth $200,000.

Don't fool with old cartridges under the impression that they are harmless. The other day a ten-year-old boy at Oakland, picked up a cartridge that had been dropped in the street, and commenced picking it with his fingers. The cartridge exploded, tearing the ends of the two first fingers and thumb into shreds. A physician was called in, and it was found necessary to amputate the thumb and half of each finger.

The loss of the Atlanta remains one of the mysteries. It will perhaps never be solved until the day when "the sea shall give up the dead which are in it." The Atlanta was an English training ship, and went out with three hundred youths on board to be trained for seamen. Nothing has been seen or heard of her for several months. An investigation is now going on in England to find out whether she was seaworthy. It seems as though this inquiry would have been a little more consistent if it had been instituted before she started.

Gen. B. F. Butler is in town. He is one of the celebrities of the age. A man of brains, courage, political and military experience and great force of character. Like all men of mark, he has been much abused, but no one ever accused him of being a fool. We hope the General will have a pleasant trip to the Pacific Coast, and that if he cannot be President of the United States nor Governor of Massachusetts, he will not long be deprived of a voice in the affairs of the nation. He was always a power in Congress.

Some time ago the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals offered prizes "to the publishers of any books, magazines or newspapers in which the cause of mercy to animals has been most satisfactorily explained and defended." In April, the judges reported: "We have selected for the first prize, the St. Nicholas, a monthly published in New York by Scribner & Co. This is really a first-class juvenile magazine, one which parents need not be afraid to place in the hands of their children. The June number is ready and is full of interest and variety, its stories, whether funny or serious, being harmless and its illustrations exceedingly attractive."

KALLOCH AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

ISAAC M. KALLOCH, Mayor of San Francisco, pastor of a Baptist Church, sand-lot broker, politician, demagogue and scheming man of the world, has achieved another victory over his enemies. Single-handed he has won the whole Board of city authorities, and the day is his. But he has conquered on a technicality. He won by tactics in the Board of Supervisors; he has done the same in the Superior Court. The odium of the charges preferred against the wily fellow still clings to him. But he is used to such malodorous perfumes, and cares nothing for them so long as he comes out ahead.

When his case came up for investigation, the object being to remove him from office, he interposed several demurrers, some of which were overruled. But on the point that if he had uttered the incendiary language of which he was accused, or performed any of the acts alleged, it was not as the Mayor of San Francisco, but as I. M. Kalloch, the private citizen; that he had done nothing, as charged, in an official capacity, and therefore could not be impeached. The court sustained the demurrer and the case is dismissed. Kalloch will still sit as the presiding officer over a body opposed to him, and as coolly as he put the motion for his own impeachment will direct their official deliberations, while he laughs in his sleeves at their defeat and chagrin.

It is only in the great and glorious government of the United States that such abnormal, political and religious growths can be fostered and can assume such remarkable proportions and exert such a wide-spread influence. Brains, audacity, strong nerves and perseverance, unchecked by conscience and untried by fear of God or man, can, under our free institutions and the laxity of popular morals lift their possessor to almost any position which he covets. The Mayor of the city by the Golden Gate is a prominent representative of this type of American character.

A JOURNALISTIC SUMMERSAULT.

THE New York Herald has never been accused of political cowardice. Its valiantness is too numerous to list. It is noted for its fearless turnings and castings, as much as for its enterprise and newsgathering genius. But its latest summersault is the most sudden and complete turn-around that we ever remember in its history.

Ever since General Grant declined the honor of the company of a Herald reporter on one of his tours of pleasure and observation, the paper has dubbed him invariably "the ex-President," not mentioning his name in any of its editorials. The Herald has also opposed most strenuously the re-election of Grant, and has openly denominated the third term policy. Hamilton Fish was its nominee for the Presidency announced as the only fitting candidate for the Republican party.

But Fish does not want the position, and has pronounced in favor of Grant. The Herald's expression having also declined in Grant's favor, the Herald now takes a bold and goes with the crowd; drops Fish as if he was hot from the frying pan, and hoists the colors of General Grant as the coming man. It is not now "the ex-President," but "General Grant," the name and title repeated two or three times in a brief paragraph, and the successful soldier is lauded to the skies and compared favorably with Washington.

The third term "too" is all right now, and the desire of the Republican party to bestow this distinction on Grant is cited in a leader, as "a higher mark of confidence than any party has ever been willing to bestow on any citizen since the death of him who was first in the hearts of his countrymen."

All dangers from such a anomaly in our institutions have vanished into thin air, and it is announced that "the people desire to elect General Grant." They are now invited to have their way and take whatever risks may attend the setting of a new precedent, since there is nothing in the Constitution to restrain their choice.

The following is the closing paragraph to another Herald article on this subject: "General Grant is the only fit candidate for the Presidency. Of course, we do not mean by this that no other citizen of the United States would make good administration. But those who are best qualified refuse to run against him, declaring their opinion of his superior fitness. The practical choice lies between him and his immediate rivals, and in this restricted field we have no hesitation in saying that he is the only fit candidate for the Presidency. The question in political circles will now be, what was the material inducement for this remarkable political top-over of the leading journal in the country?"

Opposed to Licensing Dealers. New York, 28.—The Commercial Bulletin this morning has the course of the Pacific Coast merchants who are urging the licensing of commercial travelers narrow and short sighted. The whole thing is the incarnation of selfishness and provincialism and unworthy the free air and freemen of the Pacific. It is a favor of the narrow spirit of the Louisiana and Carolina sugar and rice planters in opposing the California demand for a sandwich-island reciprocity treaty. We stood by the Californian in that fight in the interests of unfettered commerce, and to-day they are reaping the fruits of it in a greatly increased trade, home as well as foreign. The practical choice lies between him and his immediate rivals, and in this restricted field we have no hesitation in saying that he is the only fit candidate for the Presidency. The question in political circles will now be, what was the material inducement for this remarkable political top-over of the leading journal in the country?"

The Herald's latest tables give the following list of names in Chicago: Grant, 400; Blaine, 217; Sherman, 81; Washington, 14; Edmunds, 84; Windom, 10. At Cincinnati Morris, 37; Tilden, 184; Bayard, 37; Seymour, 42; Hancock, 81; Thurman, 48; Randall, 18; Field, 5; English, 2; Hendricks, 1.

San Francisco's Summersault. The Herald says: San Francisco has indulged in another summersault. Kalloch's position is sustained and Kearney is out of a habes corpus writ. What was the bargain?

William as Back Horse. Senator Jones of Nevada, who has been detained here by the Hudson River Tunnel interest, goes to the Chicago Convention to-morrow. He is for Blaine, as his State is, but he believed that Windom is the safe horse, because his State will hang on to him as Ohio did to Hayes, four years ago, and thus secured his nomination.

The "Barn" Candidates. The erratic Sun has the following as the first article this morning: No third term; no Coarctation; no President; Benjamin H. Howland, of New York for Vice-President; John B. Henderson, of Missouri.

A Peculiar Allusion. The Herald's special from Jewett City, Connecticut, says: Miss Katie O'Day, a sparkling and vivacious young lady of this place, lately a general favorite, was stricken by one of her legs five months ago, with a disease which the local physicians term dry gangrene. The limb has gradually assumed a sallow tinge and become much swollen and is now powerless. A darning needle can be run into the flesh its entire length without being felt. The allusion has caused the young lady to become nearly insane with grief and despair. Miss O'Day is the adopted daughter of James O'Day, recently of San Francisco, a wealthy resident of this place. The disease has thus far baffled medical experts from all over the world, and the patient was so prostrated it was feared the operation would be at once fatal. Surgeon Carleton, of Norwich, assisted by several doctors, will cut it off to-morrow. Amputation is supposed to be the only hope of saving the young lady's life, and in fact she is not expected to survive that method of treatment.

News from Hatch.

CHICAGO, 28.—A dispatch dated Canada, Alamo, 25th, from Col. Hatch, received by Gen. Sheridan, arrived yesterday, and contains news of a battle with the hostiles at the head of Pellemas River, in which 31 to 55 hostiles were killed. They are reports that Major Morrow had joined him with four companies. He was arranging for an active campaign, and a later report from him reports more fighting, but gives no particulars.

Keene's Reported Failure. The board of trade directors will make a searching investigation into the alleged reports circulated on charge to the effect that James B. Keene had failed. Keene's principal broker here has brought charges against a commission from alleging that they started the story to bear the market.

Want to Surrender. A Fort Buford, Mont., special agent, the residents now at Poplar Creek agency have repeatedly sent word to Gen. Hazen desiring to surrender, and three councils have been held with these hostile Sioux. They are very hungry, but fear treachery and dread being put in irons, preferring even death by starvation. Sitting Bull himself has a special envoy, but Hazen told him the terms of surrender were the same as heretofore expressed.

Nevada Democrats. SAN FRANCISCO, 28.—The Democratic State Convention of Nevada met at Winnemucca yesterday afternoon, to effect a permanent organization and in an evening session nominated delegates to Cincinnati. Thos. prefer Tilden, two Thurman and one Field, but the convention, by a vote of 58 to 33, declared Tilden the preference of the party. George W. Cassidy was nominated as member of California, and J. C. McFarrah as delegate to the National Convention. Adjoining sine die.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Foreign Notes.

LONDON, 28.—A private telegram from Rangoon reports a rebellion among the natives of Burma. Fighting is in progress between Minlah and the British frontier, it is supposed between the British and Burmese princes now at Calcutta and the Burmese government troops.

It is said that Waddington will not succeed in his mission to London. It is rumored that Moor Beed Khan, leader of the Tekke Turcomans, is being sent to London.

A Montreal dispatch says: An open air meeting in behalf of a commercial union with the United States, was held last night in the "Cough" quarter. After speeches a resolution in favor of a commercial union was carried unanimously.

Prince Leopold, of Canada, is making arrangements, privately, for a trip to the Western States, traveling as much as possible incognito. He leaves Montreal on Monday morning for Chicago, and will likely be accompanied by the Duke of Albany. The latter arrangement is not fully settled.

Across the Water.—A telegram from P. W. Gibson, New York, received this morning, states that the steamer Waconia, with the Sawyer party, arrived at Queenstown, Ireland, at 7 o'clock last evening.

General Butler.—Last evening's train brought to this city a gentleman whose name and fame are probably as well known in American history, as any other character our nation has produced. Hon. Benjamin F. Butler is the gentleman in reference, who took rooms with his party at the Walker House, having been met in Ogden by a number of leading citizens, including Messrs. W. H. Hooper, Wm. Jennings and John Sharp, and escorted to Salt Lake in a special car, placed at their disposal by Superintendent Sharp. There are in the party, besides General Butler, his son, three ladies and three other gentlemen. They are all on the way to California. They spent the day in the city.

A Nuisance.—Complaint reaches us respecting the obstinacy of a property owner in the 19th Ward, whose house is occupied by several families besides his own. Our informant states that this landlord has obnoxious outposts in close proximity to his dwelling house and to other habitations, the inmates of which are more or less afflicted with disease. Four persons have died in the immediate neighborhood during the last few days, and the suffering residents are justly concerned respecting their children's health as well as their own. The party referred to will neither purify the building by cleansing or disinfectant, nor move it back into its lot out of the way. We think the citizens here are reduced to a bad quarter, and in their behalf, we call the attention of the proper officer to the matter.

Go-as-You-Please.—This evening, a twenty-four hour go-as-you-please race will begin on the vacant lot just north of the Walker House. The place has been fenced in, a track 377 feet in circumference has been measured out and covered with boards, and an awning has been erected to cover the plodders during their jaunt. The number of starters is variously estimated at from twelve to twenty, all good travelers, but during the race many of these will fall out, and the contest be narrowed down to a few. Among the contestants are Mr. King, of Ogden, noted for his connection with the Dispatch, Bueller and tar and feathers, and a colored youth named Burns, a good walker and a genuine wit. The match begins at 9 p.m. to-night and closes at the same time to-morrow evening.

Arrest of Romero.—The following special telegram to the Despatch News was received this afternoon at 3:13: "San Francisco, May 28. John Romero, a Mexican, who on the first day of May, shot and killed William H. Manning, at Jose Valley, San Diego County, surrounded himself yesterday to the precinct officers of this place, at 10 o'clock, a.m. To-day an examination of the case was held before Justice James C. Brown. The affair seems to have grown out of protracted quarrels and ill will. It appears from the evidence given in the case, that Manning was in the act of drawing a pistol on Romero when the fatal shot was fired, and that the killing was done in self-defense. The defendant was committed to await the action of the grand jury. S. A. Kenner, of Ogden, appeared for the defense. He notified the justice and sheriff of his intention to hold them responsible for false imprisonment."
