A Sarcastic Letter from Seligman to

Judge Hillen.

NEW YORK, 19.—The following is the full text of Seligman's letter to Hillen, care of Messrs. A. T. Stewart & Co., New York:

Dear Sir:—My family have, for many years, patronized the Union

Hotel at Saratoga, but were informed yesterday by your manager that the orders from headquarters are to exclude all Jewish families from the list of guests this season, alleging as the reason that there exists a prejudice among the Americans against the people of that persuasion, which had injured the Union to that extent last season that headquarters proposed to close them out, viz., to tell them all, without exception, that all the rooms except the garret chambers, were engaged. Now permit me, dear Sir, in your own interest, and in the interest of Seligman's valuable estate, the loss of which you seem to have acquired, to say that you are adding to many serious mistakes you have committed since you inherited that estate by refusing admittance to the Union Hotel to a large class of persons regardless of their respectability, wealth, and proper bearing, and to render to vulgar prejudice, under the mistaken notion that by so doing you will fill the house with other nationalities.

You will find yourself mistaken.

You are no judge of American character. The civilized world is beginning to be more tolerant in matters of faith or creed than you believe, or would have them. They despise intolerance, low cunning, and vulgarity, and will not be led by one who seeks to make money by pandering to the prejudices of the vulgar. I regret that you are running the Union at a loss. I regret that you are making no headway in your wholesale departments in New York and Chicago, and that even the Ninth Street retail store, so peculiar and prosperous under the management of the late

Stewart, has lost its best patron.

A little reflection should show to you that the grievous falling off in your business is not due to the patronage of any nationality, but to the want of the proper management of the store, and that your Judge are not big enough to keep an hotel, or broad enough in your business views to run a dry good store.

You have tried competition with experience and popular houses in the manufacture of carpets, of woolens of silk, and of scores of articles of minor importance, and you have succeeded in making yourself a laughing stock to your neighbors, and I respectfully advise you to close your eyes to your nothing, although you charged ones $10.00 for advice which was worth nothing, and if you want to save the rest of this once valuable estate, I advise you to advertise a large auction to sell your merchandize and your hotels to the highest bidder, and no matter what advices you get of them, you will come off better than by holding on to things which you cannot intelligently manage.

Trusting you will avail yourself of this friendly and disinterested advice, I remain, dear Sir, Judge,

Yours very truly,

JOSEPH SELIGMAN.
