

HOODLUM CROWD NOT MOLESTED

Rowdiness Unconfined Marked
The Night and Police, Though
Numerous, Were Inactive.

R. WHITNEY'S NOSE BROKEN.

Ruffian Assaults Member of Orderly Group Without Provocation, Inflicting Painful Injury.

The election crowd last night was of all election crowds this city has known in the past the most boisterous, given over to rowdiness they were suffered to go to the farthest limits of hoodlumism without police interference. It caused the early retreat of celebrators more mild in their tastes. Bonfires made with plunder stolen from untold stores at the streets and flying wedges cleared men, women and children from the sidewalks. Armed with tin cans on strings, clubs, soft bottles and every conceivable sort of weapon, the hoodlums made the night hideous with their bedlam of noises and their wanton assaults on pedestrians. In many cases these assaults were excused in the consideration of the time, but in many cases they were too brutal to pass unnoticed and it is in regard to these cases that the inactivity of the police is impossible to explain.

Chief Barlow had all available men and many patrolmen on duty for what purpose is hard to see in the light of the events which failed of suppression.

In Commercial street, Second South, First South, Main and State streets the saloons were filled with crowds which bulged the doors and in the greater number of them drunken orgies were permitted without restraint. In the streets and inside the dives and resorts the hoodlum element was in absolute control and felt free from any interference.

WELCOMED HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Sjodahl and Daughters
Held Reception at Fourteenth Ward.

An enjoyable event was the home welcome party given in the Fourteenth ward meetinghouse last evening by J. M. Sjodahl, editor of the Deseret News, in honor of the return of his wife and daughters, from their extended trip to Europe. A large number of relatives and close friends were present. One of the features of the affair was the banquet served in the amusement hall of the edifice, which was much enjoyed.

The party adjourned to the assembly hall after the banquet where a program was rendered. Mr. Sjodahl made a brief opening address, in which he told of his pleasure in welcoming his friends at the party to welcome his wife and daughters back to their home again. He also said some nice things in favor of his assistants on the staff of the paper.

Short, but felicitous addresses were also delivered by President John R. Winder and President Anton H. Lund, who complimented Mr. Sjodahl on his interesting family and also upon his work as editor of the Deseret News.

Other numbers on the program were some very entertaining readings by John P. Meakin, and vocal selections by Mr. Fejldbo, Miss Lerdal and others.

At the conclusion of the program informal handshakes and social chat were in order, and the evening was brought to a close by the singing of a hymn by the congregation and benediction by Elder George Q. Morris.

GODMAN MISSING.

Without Date in Consequence.

The case of R. L. Godman, who was charged this morning in police court with having assaulted his former wife, was continued without date from the fact that the defendant did not put in an appearance. The police say that he has left the state.

Statements by Victor And by the Vanquished

John S. Bransford, the successful candidate, made the following statement to The News this morning:

Again the tinkle of the bells of the voting machines have ceased to ring, and the verdict of the people has been registered.

Again the voters of this city have chosen me to fill the office of mayor. Again I wish to express my sincere appreciation, and to thank heartily my many friends, for their able efforts and the successful termination of the campaign, in my behalf, and in behalf of the "American" party.

The desire of the people has been spoken, and the duties of administering the affairs of the municipality have been placed in our care—and these duties must receive our most serious and conscientious consideration, with but one object in view, namely: What is for the best interests of all the people?

It will be my purpose to use my best efforts to make of this a city of improvement and progress for a still "Greater Salt Lake." It is clearly the duty of all citizens to cheerfully cooperate with all those in charge of the affairs of the city to the end that every thing necessary may be done to continue the progressive spirit that has characterized the past few years. Salt Lake City is destined to be one of the greatest cities in the intermountain country and with a united people this can be accomplished in the very near future.

WHOLESALE HOLD-UPS IN SHORT ORDER

Three Trucks Turned Last Night by Footpads at Second West
And Second North.

Two holdups turned three trucks at the same time, 5:00 o'clock Tuesday night, at Second West and Second North streets, where they robbed R. R. Sargent, 214 west Third North street, of $17 and a gold watch; W. V. Robins, 212 west Second North street, of $23 and a gold watch and chain, and P. A. Phelps, 5 Woodbine place, of a watch, Sargent and Robins were first stopped and ordered to throw up their hands. While the robbers were searching them, Phelps came riding by on his bicycle. Holdups promptly checked. Phelps off his wheel and pointed on him. One of the robbers then fired the three times up and kept them covered, while his pal secured their valuables.

COURT NEWS

WILL PLEAD SELF DEFENSE.

Seven jurors had been accepted in the case of the state against John Kothlaff, charged with having murdered Peter Getis in Bingham canyon, Dec. 22, last, when recess was taken at noon in today's session of Judge T. D. Lewis' court. The entire time Tuesday and this morning was consumed in securing this number of talemens.

Following are the names and addresses of the jurors who have been accepted: James H. Haas, 265 north Fifth West street; Edward H. Fletcher, 1120 Browning avenue; Charles W. Symons, 425 east Fifth South street; Francis A. Naylor, 333 east Third South street; Herbert P. Savage, 219 south Main street; D. E. Law, 1967 south State street; and George H. Thurston, North Jordan.

Alfred A. King and Russell G. Schuler, for the defense, were compelled to exercise a large number of peremptory challenges this morning, owing to heavy prejudice which the prospective jurors exhibited against the state in today's case. It appeared from their answers to questions that they had formed strong opinions as to the guilt of the accused from having read newspaper accounts of the murder.

From the outline of the questions asked by counsel for defense, it is believed that Kothlaff will try to show that he was justified in killing Getis and that he did it in self defense.

Kothlaff and Getis it is said, knew each other in Greece, and the latter, after coming to this country and living for a while in California, joined the state forces and fought in the Mexican war. They lived together for some time. Kothlaff avers that Getis did him a deep wrong. They had a quarrel and Kothlaff was at the scene several times but did not injure him. Kothlaff went away to Garfield. About two weeks later, Kothlaff returned to Bingham for the purpose, so he says, of going to his personal belongings and some money. Kothlaff claims that it was about 2 o'clock in the morning, and that Getis suddenly opened fire on him in the darkness without warning, shooting him through the breast, arm and hand. Kothlaff returned the fire, and killed Getis.

Owing to the fact that Assistant District Attorney E. C. Lesterwood and Associate Counsel Carl Badger ask every juror whether he believes in the right of self defense, the following subscriptions to stock in the company have been made: Noble Warren 8 shares, $200; J. B. Dalley, 4 shares, $200; C. A. Giovanni, 4 shares, $200; Guardello Brown, 4 shares, $200; E. G. Giovanni, 4 shares, $200. Other directors of the company are H. M. Hays, W. D. Livingston, N. J. Harris, E. R. South, B. E. Grant and Joseph J. Daynes, Jr.

OGDEN RACING DRAWS CROWDS

Bad Day for Jockeys, Three Going Down—Yankee Tourist Dies— Rather Royal Sold.

(Special to The News.)
The second day's racing at the fair grounds brought out a larger crowd with more Salt Lake residents than on the opening day. The jockeys had a bad day, but the racing was good, without serious injury of any kind. Fast time and large fields marked the day's races.

Prove proved he had his best speed by taking the feature race of the day from Kerry and Hester, the other contenders. Prove jumped into the lead shortly after the barrier was thrown and was never headed.

Salmon and Antaria were the two good things in the opening race which failed to come across. Lorain Prince, one of the best played horses in the race, was with a run and beat out Dr. Sherman who looked like a sure winner all the way down the stretch.

Prove, who had been opened favorite in the second race was not backed very heavily, but proved his class by taking the lead at the first quarter and held it until the end of the race. He was backed down from 8 to 1 to 3 to 2, but was never in the running.

Young Buck, bred home in the third in front of a field of 11 starters. Father Downey had a hard fight to beat the favorite, but he was not to be beaten. He was backed down from 8 to 1 to 3 to 2, but was never in the running.

Invader in the fifth event was overlooked and galloped home a 9 to 1 shot. St. Joe, the favorite, ran a poor race. Yolo had a race on his hands in the closing event with Albin Collins. The Wilson mare seemed to like the short course of the half-mile track and raced down the stretch in time to beat Yolo out in a fighting finish.

It was claimed that Yankee Tourist, one of the well known contenders at Buena Vista had died yesterday of a cold contracted while moving him from Salt Lake to Ogden. Rather royal, another well known Buena Vista favorite, changed ownership yesterday. J. W. Rice acquired him. He has been owned by near Geneva, was broken into yesterday morning and some articles of clothing, etc., taken. The burglars have not been arrested.

WESTERN GIRLS STRONGER THAN EASTERN GIRLS

New York, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Raymond Robins, president of the Woman's National Trades Union league, with headquarters in Chicago, who has been here in connection with the reception of Mrs. Pankhurst, the English suffragette, declares that western factory girls are physically superior to those of the east.

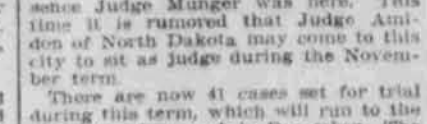

"My investigations since coming here show that all the western girls are much stronger than those employed in New York factories," said Mrs. Robins. "Some of the girls here were very weak, but this is the first generation to be exploited and they are still vigorous."

"The women in New York have suffered trade exploitation for too many generations and their vitality has been sapped. I don't think the western girl will come to that. There is more good native American blood out there and they are fighting for their own protection. Although this is only the first generation of girls at factory work, they are far better organized than the girls here, and the further west you go, the better is the organization."

CHINATOWN AGITATED.

Kay Chin's Arrest Creates Considerable Excitement in Vicinity of Plum Alley.

There is much very serious deliberation, considerable babbling, and a marked increase in the consumption of "hor" through the pipe medium in Chinatown, today because of the arrest of Kay Chin, the almond-eyed individual who wears the peacock feather and rules the roost in the chop suey "joints."

Kay Chin was arrested yesterday on a charge preferred by Roy Armstrong, a State officer, of being a United States officer. The defendant Roy avers that, in company with Salt Lake's La Hung Chang, he went shooting some days after midnight, and heads mudders, and almost any old thing with which to make the chop suey compounds which delight the palates of the denizens of the underworld.

Their names were great and on their return they proceeded to liquidate to such an extent that Roy lost track of his shotgun. He complains that the hatched man has it in the possession. Kay Chin, with the smile that was child-like and bland, "assures" that a mistake has been made and that there was nothing doing in the gun line business.
