

OGDEN.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 3, 1850.
Newspaper for circulation, $1.00 per year.
The news is delivered by carrier or post and at a lower rate than all other papers.

Labor Day.

Yesterday, Ogden, a joint holiday was observed by all the people in the city. The banks closed and also did the different courts, but many of the states remained open all day. No program was carried out by any of the societies, but the public were invited to a picnic, which was held at the University, where an excursion was run by the Golden Mountain Club.

Hay Consumed by Fire.

At about half-past nine last evening of this city were visited by a very destructive fire. The department answered in good time, but the yard being full of hay nothing could be done to save the inflammable stuff. The fire was now confined to the property belonging to the fire fighters, who worked hard to save the tragic element, but to no avail, as soon the hay were consumed. The origin of the fire is not at present known.

District Court at Logan.

This morning at 10 o'clock the first session of the Fourth district court will be held at the courthouse of Cache Valley, Judge Miner and Clerk Gentry, together with Deputies Faunt and Smith, and a full quota of attorneys left for the north to be ready for business of a legal nature. This meeting is highly appreciated by the people of Cache county.

The cases that will be heard at Logan are mostly those of interest to the people of that section of the territory.

Wanted at San Francisco.

Word was received yesterday by Sheriff Belong from Chief of Police of City of San Francisco that an officer would shortly leave that city with requisition papers for James Howe, who was arrested on Saturday last by Marshal Davenport and Sheriff Belong on the charge of being one of the "Latin Carrion's" associations. The arrest was made at Promontory, on the Southern Pacific railroad, where the young man had been employed as a section hand on said road.

Police Items.

Business at the police station is at a standstill. Not even an ordinary drunk was run in on Labor Day, and vagrants are staying clear of the city. The police, however, have their eye on a certain class who have recently been playing their trade.

City Council.

The city council did not meet last night, yesterday being a holiday, but tonight the sittings will again come to order.

Cahier of The Commercial.

Mr. T. D. Ryan of Rock Springs, Wyoming, has been selected as caher of The Commercial National Bank of this city, which will resume business in a few days.

For the Coast.

Heavy shipments of arms and navy supplies for the Monterey and other vessels at the Mare Island navy yard, passed through yesterday for the coast. That valuable piece of horse flesh, "Ormonde," passed through Ogden on Sunday morning for the coast.

Personal.

Ben E. Rich, editor of the "Review (Utah) Press" is in the city visiting among his many friends.

Thomas A. Shreve was a passenger on the train for Salt Lake this morning.

Peter H. Green, a resident of St. George, returned this morning from a two years' mission to Scandinavia.

Governor West and party passed through the Junction city this morning at 9 o'clock this morning on their way to Chicago.

Opening of Weber Stake Academy.

The "opening" of the Weber Stake Academy yesterday was well attended by the friends of that institution. Addresses were made by Elder Richards, in the quadrum of the Academy, and Dr. Miller, and Dr. Phillips of the faculty. One hundred and twenty-seven scholars were enrolled against 135 at the close of the second week last year, which speaks well for the popularity of this institution.

FIRE AT SALT LAKE.

The Gradient, fireworks, were soon in use.

Wednesday will mark a red letter day in pyrotechnics, the exhibition surpassing all previous efforts.

The Gradient fireworks exhibit will be exhibited this year worth shooting at. Even the Fourth of July was advised to look out with a few spattering crackers and rockets.

The people have been hoodwinked as often as they have been hoodwinked. I regretted that all the exhibits were alike. Professor Miller has been holding back all summer, for a grand display that will pain the heart of every爱国者, and that will give the spectator the keenest satisfaction. One of the most esthetic pieces will be Niagara Falls, but this only one of half a dozen big pieces.

The fireworks are by all odds the best ever seen in this country, and those who want to witness a glorious exhibition will be on hand.

THE CHOIR IN ST. LOUIS.

Their Performance Warmly Praised—Good Words for Solists, Chorus and Conductor.

The following handsome notice of "The Mormon Chorus" given by the Interim choir in St. Louis last Saturday is from the "Globe-Democrat" of Sunday morning:

Many men still in middle life remember when the Mormon bands, driven from the Mississippi valley, crossed the plains to the westward, and the Indians, who were then numerous in the valley of Salt Lake. Although the railroads have greatly facilitated travel and made Salt Lake City the metropolis of the West, the Mormon bands still do enough, the memory of which is still strong, to make the idea of a band of accomplished singers from the Mormon Tabernacle worth a visit in St. Louis en route to Chicago, that it can command a large amount of attention. The idea of musical culture in the heart of the Rocky mountains is now more popular and familiar with that region, and yet the band was eminently successful in its efforts to impress the minds of the Mormons with the trained choir of the principal church in the Mormon country, who gave an entertainment that may justly be pronounced one of the events of the year.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced. The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "Globe-Democrat" we learn that the leader, Mr. Conductor, was the manager in command of his forces, and has the reputation of a skillful conductor.

The choir was large and unanimous, and the parts thoroughly well balanced.

The training to which the great choristers have subjected themselves is of the most commendable character. From the "G