

WYOMING MURDER TRIAL IN PROGRESS

Herbert L. Brink, With Others, Charged With Killing Three Sheepmen Last April.

CASE OPENED FOR THE STATE

Sentiment in Regard to Assassination Is Changing as Enormity of Crime Is Revealed.

(Special to The News.) Basin, Wyo., Nov. 6.—Judge E. E. Entine, assisting Prosecuting Attorney Metz, made the opening statement in the case of the state against Herbert L. Brink, one of the seven cattlemen charged with the murder of Allemann, Emge and Lazier, sheepmen who were assassinated on Spring creek last April, and at today's session or the district court the testimony of Sheriff Aiston, County Surveyor Morton and Dr. Walker was introduced. The opening statement of the prosecution surprised the defense, and also the people of Basin, and opened the eyes of the tatter to the enormity of the crime, and it is thought the sentiment, which has been strong for the defendants, will undergo a change as the details of the horrible crime are brought out.

The prosecution announced that the seven men will be judged without reference to each other if the work keeps the court in session all winter.

William Goodrich and wife, star witnesses for the state, who were recently influenced to leave the state, were returned today, and Charles Farris and William Keyes, two of the defendants who have been kept in the Sheridan jail, were brought in today by Detective LaPots of the Wyoming Wool Growers' association.

A large number of cattlemen from the east met in the Big Horn basin town today, and while some nests have been made it is believed the country authorities and the militia will be able to maintain order.

TESTIMONY OF KEYES.

Basin, Wyo., Nov. 6.—The trial of Herbert L. Brink for the murder of Joseph Allemann, Joe Emge and Julius Lazier, sheepmen who were assassinated on Spring creek last April, was opened today by the evidence of William Keyes, one of the seven men who participated in the sheep camp raid.

Keyes' testimony is brief, but to the effect that all of the defendants except Brink, Thomas Dixon, Ed Eaton, M. A. Alexander and Brink took part, Brink being the leader; that the raiders met at his ranch and went to spring creek to kill the sheep of Allemann & Emge and burn their wagons and outfit. He also testified that he and Brink, the leader of the north wagon, which Allemann was assassinated, and where all of the dead bodies were found.

The courtroom was crowded to the doors and the spectators were completely absorbed at the testimony, as no one imagined the prosecution had a strong case. Sentiment, since the introduction of this testimony, is changing and the people are horrified at the heinous crime as the details come from the lips of Keyes, one of the participants and star witness for the defense.

FARRIS HAS CONFESSIONED.

Monday Charles Farris, another participant who has confessed, will connect Brink and the others more directly with the murders. He will testify that Brink shot Allemann in the wagon, and again after he walked forth at the command of the raiders, that Ed Eaton's mask fell off during the raid. George Helmer, a boy, testified that he recognized Eaton when his mask fell off, as he was hitching his buck to the Spring creek.

Monter will be taken up by going into threats made by Brink and his confessions to four witnesses of his participation in the raid.

It is not known what the defense in Brink's case will be.

WILL TRY SABIN NEXT.

George Sabin, the leader of the gang of raiders, according to the confession of Keyes and Farris, will be tried next. It is expected the defense will do everything possible to save his neck as he has plenty of money and influential friends, whereas Brink is little known. It is only hinted that Brink, Sabin and others will suffice the tall tales for the crime, and an attempt will be made to save the entire affair off on him.

COAL MINERS WILL ASK MORE WAGES

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 7.—Thomas L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, indicated in an interview here today that the miners will make a stand for higher wages in the spring. Mr. Lewis declared that work in the mines is improving and work to continue to do so. He also explained that the miners are in control of the presidency of the organization, explaining that two locals have nominated him for every one that named his opponent, William Green of Ohio.

Discussing the prospects for making new wage contracts next year Mr. Lewis said:

"I see no reason why there should be any difficulty in obtaining new contracts with improved conditions. Of course, I cannot say what will take place but you may be assured that the international convention in January will lay down a policy that will protect the interests of our men and they will be able to maintain order."

MANTI WILL HAVE BIG CELEBRATION

Founders' Day to be Observed on Occasion of Sixtieth Anniversary of Settlement.

INVITATION SENT BROADCAST

All Who Ever Knew the Temple City As a Home Asked to Come Back For the Festive Days.

Manti is to have a home-coming week. Everybody who ever called Manti his home is expected to be there. The dates are Nov. 22-24, the occasion being the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the settlement there. The following invitation has been sent broadcast announcing the event:

Manti proposes to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the city and with cordial greetings the citizens of the capital of Sanpete earnestly invite every Manti, wherever he or she may be, to come and participate in the joyous home-coming week to be given in the old town Nov. 22, 23 and 24, 1909.

For these three days—and the fourth for Thanksgiving dinner—Manti will be the meeting place for old friends to meet and greet and to talk of other times and other days. "In the memory of every one are pictures of years painted in colors that will never fade away."

Ye pioneers come back! Visit once more the old town. Stand upon the ground made hollow by your toil, hardship and suffering, stand again upon the pristine citadel where disease and starvation almost wiped out the colony and observe the beautiful buildings that now mark the spot!

Tell the grandchildren and the strangers of the brawn and the battles with the redskins that took to redeem the desert and make it fit for habitation, and give heed to little Johnnie when he begs dear old grandpa to tell it again.

Roam as far as you may go, as old and as new the past is yet more mystic, invisible chord which runs from your heart back to the old associations. If you come again someone will meet you who said "good-bye" the day you went away!

"Welcome," in letters of gold, will be written over our doors and across our hearts. Loyal men and royal women will give you greeting as roses greet the sun.

Give us the opportunity to pay homage to the pioneers who fought the wilderness and the savage, and to honor the courageous mothers who braved the hardships of the desert and braved the danger of the tomahawk to be beside the men they loved while a commonwealth was being built—for thus conceived, Manti was well-born.

Come back and see the heritage, the great fields, the golden harvest, the girls, the boys who are now men, the girls who are now women, the girls who are now women, the girls who are now women,

Since the day you bid adieu many changes have taken place which you would like to see for yourself; let it create a desire that will bring you back to dear old Manti—to home, sweet home, in old Sanpete, a desire that will conquer all barriers and will bring you back to old neighbors, the old hearthstones of the family circle.

An interesting program will be rendered every day. No expense will be spared to entertain you. We will make you glad you came. We appeal to all who ever called Manti "home" to come and join the happy throng.

The parasites is never in itself fatal, but it consumes a greater part of its consequence there is not enough nourishment left to sustain the body. The system loses vitality and every organ becomes less active.

"Lack of energy and ambition not only affects the body, but the mind also becomes dull and sluggish. The memory is not so good and the eyesight becomes somewhat poorer."

"As I have already stated, I believe these parasites are very dangerous. I shall prove this conclusively before I leave Salt Lake City with my preparation. My medicine, in cleansing the stomach of impurities, seems to be fatal to these great worms and drives them from the system with astonishing rapidity. It shall be sold at the Gardner drug store, Main and Second streets, for several weeks to come, and will continue to meet those who wish to see me at this store from 10 o'clock until 6. I wish to assure any one in Salt Lake City who has had the experience just related with my preparation that there is no cause for alarm in the matter, and that it will, as a rule, mean a speedy restoration to good health."

CORNERSTONE IS LAID AT NEW CHURCH SITE

Services Held Yesterday at Edifice Being Erected at Fifth South and First West by Presbyterians.

The cornerstone of the new edifice of the Westminster (Second) Presbyterian church was laid Sunday afternoon at Fifth South and First West streets, before a large attendance. A program was observed, including singing from Miss Rose Smithen, Miss Edythe Evans, A. Hudson and F. M. Howell, with Miss Jennie Williams as organist.

Following the music the "Apostles' Creed" was read in unison, led by Rev. McIntyre. This was followed with scriptural reading, Ezra 10:13, and St. Peter, iii: 1-11, by the Rev. H. G. McNeese, D. D., dean of Westminster college. Prayer was offered by the Rev. H. Hay, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church.

A brief history of the church was given by Mrs. Stewart McLean, the church historian. Mrs. McLean referred to the early beginning of the work in this city, the time which $1,200 was appropriated by the board of missions in New York. With this sum the work was begun in 1881, and the first meetings were held in rooms, and this was followed by meetings in the old Jewish synagogue on Second West. The first Westminster church was partially completed in 1884, when the adobe portion was finished. In 1886 the brick portion was completed.

The statement of the building committee, presented by Gordon Williamson, acting secretary follows:

Cash available, Nov. 2, 1909, $14,571.12.

Approximation for contracts still to be let, $5,250.

Approximate total, $19,822.

Cash available, $14,571.12.

The sermon was by Rev. Dr. W. M. Padon of the First church, which he preached from the text: "Behold I lay in Zion a sure foundation. Let every man take heed how he buildeth thereon." Isa. xxviii: 16; 1 Cor. iii: 16.

J. W. Phillips of the "Deseret" congratulated his fellow church members.
