Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Romney are settled in their new home at 212 S. W. 1st St. Mrs. Romney will be at home on Mondays.

Probably the most elaborate affair of the week was the luncheon given on Tuesday by Mrs. W. G. Sharp at the Alta club. The event was in honor of the hostess's sister, Mrs. T. B. Davis, and about 40 guests were present to enjoy the feast. The dining room was decorated with autumn leaves, and the guests sat at a number of small tables, each decorated in a different color, and the curtains and sideboard in the room being bright with autumn leaves. The windows were drawn, and the candles were shaded in the different colors, the whole being most effective. The place cards had the monogram of the guest of honor and the name of the guest. Present were: Mrs. Kearns, Mrs. Miner, Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. Daggett, Mrs. Hoyt Sherman, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Salisbury and her guest, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Sprague, Madam Ploutz, Mrs. Bascom, Mrs. Worthington, Mrs. Downey, Miss Salisbury, Mrs. Thompson, Miss Crawford, Mrs. Edwin S. Bamberger, Mrs. Clement, Mrs. Arthur Bird, Miss Edith Searman, Miss Thorne.

WEDDING BELLS

A pretty home wedding took place on Wednesday when Miss Bessie R. Birkshaw and Gordon H. Place were married, the ceremony being performed at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Nancy Birkshaw, by Bishop Herbert Iverson at 8 o'clock. The rooms were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and flowers, red and white prevailing in the colors. The bride wore a charming costume of white crepe de chine over tulle, with trimmings of applique, and a long veil of tulle, a shower bouquet of bride's roses completing the toilet. She was attended by Miss Edith Birkshaw, and Dr. J. Ulrich acted as best man.

Two out of town marriages of the week in which Salt Lake people were interested were those of Mr. John Miller and Mr. Edward Rosenbaum of this city, the bride of the former being of New York and the ceremony being performed at Trail, B. C., and the latter

OF VELVET AND FEATHERS.

This charming shape is of champagne-colored chiffon velvet, the crown and brim shirred. A drapery and row of the velvet trims the right side and back. The two white feathers, with celluloid ball ends, are sewn on the crown, falling over the deeply-turned up left brim.

An interesting bridal event of Wednesday was the wedding of Miss Edna T. Brown and L. Clyde Bailey, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Brown, by Rev. W. M. Padon, and an elaborate wedding supper being served afterward. The rooms were artistically decorated with autumn leaves and cut flowers, the dining-room being especially attractive. The bride wore a handsome gown of white crepe de chine, and carried bride's roses. There were no attendants. The bride is popularly known in musical circles, and with the groom will receive the best wishes of a host of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will make a short trip to the coast and will return here later to reside.

The wedding of Miss Afton Kimball and Adrian Pembroke took place Monday at the home of the bride, Bishop O. F. Whitney performing the ceremony in the presence of the near relatives and friends, and the young couple left afterward for a trip to the coast.

An exceptionally pretty wedding reception of the week was that of Miss Ethel Dean Bayly and Mr. James T. Young on Thursday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Saville, the marriage having been solemnized in the Temple during the day. The rooms were brilliant with autumn leaves, vines and cut flowers, and delightful music and recitations were features of the affair. The bride couple stood under a canopy of smilax and flowers, while about them were palms, white asters and carnations, carrying out the color scheme of white and green. The dining room was in red, the table being spread with lace, and decorated with deep red carnations, while red candelabra-shades completed the pretty effect, which was enhanced by the American flags which draped the walls. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white silk mull over tulle, and carried bride's roses. During the evening musical numbers were rendered by Mrs. Stanley C. Price, Miss Sybella Clayton and Prof. McClellan, while Bishop O. F. Whitney gave some enjoyable recitations. Assisting in the dining room were the Misses Saville, Poyer, Cannon, Nicholson and Harper, and punch was served in the hall by Misses Clayton and Whitney. Mr. and Mrs. Young will reside for the present this city. The marriage will take place early in November at the home of the bride's parents in Minneapolis.

Invitations for the wedding reception of Miss Nellie Walker and Dr. Murray Rockwell Stewart have been issued. The wedding will take place on the evening of Oct. 24 at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Sharp Walker, at 8 o'clock, at which only the family will be present. A large reception is to be held from 9 until 11 for the friends of the families.

The state laws affecting women and children have been taken up and recommended as subjects for discussion in a large number of clubs throughout the country. In some clubs entire meetings are given up to the subject every year. Club women have labored so faithfully for the rights of others that they are to be congratulated on their latest move in the direction of examining into their own rights. In many states these are sadly inadequate. Louisiana, for example, the home of some of the brightest and most progressive women in the United States, the laws are made according to the Napoleonic code, which denied to women even the scant justice allowed her by the common law of England. In the majority of the states women are not yet equal guardians with their husbands of their own children, and in some of the states the property rights of wives are not properly guarded. Women should know and consider these things with a view to their adjustment.

The first annual report of the Civic Betterment Association of Philadelphia shows a that excellent body to have a membership of 923, increased in a total number of 63 organized branches. The aim of the association is to "secure the co-operation of Philadelphia women in an intelligent and carefully directed effort to better the conditions of Philadelphia by increasing interest in the care and supervision of highways, sanitation, education, and other matters of public health and convenience and by urging upon the voters of the city the exercise of their civic duties."

THE LARGER OUTSIDE

OGDEN.

Ogden, Utah, Oct. 17.—One of the prettiest home weddings of the season was solemnized Wednesday evening when Miss Carrie Hammond became the wife of Charles Arthur Bell. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. French Hammond 441 Twenty-seventh street, Rev. E. J. Goshen officiating. There were present besides the relatives, a large circle of friends of the contracting parties. The bride was attended by Miss Nellie Bell, sister of the groom, and Mr. Edward Jessup acted as best man. After the ceremony at the bride's home, a large reception was given at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bell, 1743 Washington avenue, where a sumptuous wedding repast was served.

The home where the ceremony and reception were given were very artistically decorated with evergreen ferns, ivy, the color scheme being pink and white. The bride and groom stood under a very prettily arranged arch where the ceremony was performed.

The bride is a charming young Wisconsin lady who has been living in Ogden only about two years, but during that time has become very popular among a large circle of friends. The groom is well known in this city and is a member of the Southern Pacific engineering corps. Mr. and Mrs. Bell will reside at 1743 Washington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. George Larkin, Sr., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sarah J. Larkin to Mr. William Shaw, the popular bookkeeper of the Amalgamated Sugar company, the wedding to take place the latter part of November.

Wednesday afternoon a number of Miss Larkin's lady friends gave a china shower in her honor at her home on the twentieth street. After a delightful afternoon, dainty refreshments were served.

At the Fourth ward amusement Wednesday evening a city ball was given in honor of David Fugger who departs next week on a mission.

The Childs' Culture club held its regular session this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Christensen on Twenty-fourth street. A very interesting and pleasing program was rendered.

A theatrical treat is assured the public for next Friday evening at the Grand opera house when Ward and James will appear in "Alexander the Great," an effective production.
