

SENATOR CLARK SEES PROSPERITY

Declares the Country is Too Big
To Halt in Its Onward
Course.

MINING WORLD PROMISING

In All Lines, He Says, There Are Signs of Hopefulness—Talks of His Railroad.

W. A. Clark, mining magnate of Montana, railroad president and builder, former U. S. senator and prominent among the west's prominent men generally, is in Salt Lake. His coming was announced by the "News" yesterday afternoon. He reached the city last evening. Mr. Clark has been on the coast and traveling through Nevada and California to inspect both railroad and mining properties. He was accompanied by Charles W. Clark, his son. The magnate is a Democrat, and although the defeat of Bryan was a disappointment to him, he looks forward to four years of continued prosperity. "This country is too vast to be affected. We have grown under the biggest handicaps, so when a conservative man like Taft is elected there is no reason to anticipate anything but prosperity. He is not radical. The country is so confident in its own future that it goes ahead, not caring about changes in presidents and similar matters. The recent slowing down was a good thing, in that it brought affairs to a sensible basis."

NO BIG IMPROVEMENTS.

According to the visitor his railroad—the Salt Lake Route—is going to see no big extensions, improvements or alterations in the line being. It is in the shape now, "physically and financially," is the way this point is discussed. "The California fruit crop is going to be excellent this season, and with metals straightening out, Nevada's mines are coming into their own again. Utah is making business at a lively rate, so that on our line there is certain cause for satisfaction. Owing to the hostility which has been shown against railroad corporations throughout the nation, the railroads have been unable to grow as they want to. Until this feeling dies out, big systems and small must be quiet. Metals are the keynote of the mining situation. Despite the fact that this has been a presidential year, copper has held its own. This country has been taking only 40 per cent of the usual quantity, but Europe was eager to get all we could export. This has held the market firm and now with conditions normal business and industry should become as lively as ever." Mr. Clark leaves at noon today for his home. This forenoon was spent in chats and conferences between the visitor and local railroad officials.

What is a cold in the head? Nothing to worry about if you treat it with Ely's Cream Balm. Neglected, the cold may grow into catarrh, and the air-passages be so inflamed that you have to fight for every breath. It is true that Ely's Cream Balm master catarrh, promptly. But you know the old saying about the ounce of prevention. Therefore use Cream Balm when the cold in the head shows itself. All druggists, 50 cents or mail by Ely Brothers, 55 Warren St., New York.

WOOL RATES RESTORED.

M. K. Parsons is in receipt of a letter from Secretary Walker of the National Wool Growers' association calling his attention to the restoration of the former Colorado-Texas rates. The railroads raised them arbitrarily two years ago, and the Interstate Commerce commission refused to allow it. The railroads appealed to the courts which upheld the commission, and this week the old rates were restored. This will affect favorably Texas, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.

Be as careful as you can when you will occasionally take cold, and when you do, get a medicine of known reliability, one that has an established reputation and that is certain to effect a quick cure. Such a medicine is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has gained a worldwide reputation by its remarkable cures of this most common ailment, and can always be depended upon. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. During the many years in which it has been in general use we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

YOU WILL BE TAGGED.

Saturday Fair Dames and Damsels Will Accost You on the Highways.

The Young Woman's Christian association has designated tomorrow as the day when their game of tag will begin for the purpose of raising funds for a building to act as a permanent home for the organization.

Mrs. E. B. Critchlow, president of the association, has the matter of raising money in charge. The city will be divided into 25 districts, one of which will be in charge of each woman of the association. Under them will be woman solicitors and all will be victims of this game.

Everything over 10 cents will be accepted and the tag will act as a receipt and as a mark of exemption from other fair solicitors. So hold on to the tag.

COLDS AND CROUP IN CHILDREN.

"My little girl is subject to colds," says Mrs. Wm. H. Serg. No. 4 Fifth St., Wheeling, W. Va. "Last winter she had a severe cold and a terrible cough, but I cured her with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy without the aid of a doctor. Since then she has never been troubled with colds or croup. I give her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for three or four days, which prevents the attack. This remedy is for sale by all druggists."

Governor Proclaims Day of Thanksgiving

Governor John C. Cutler has issued a proclamation designating Thursday, Nov. 26, as the day when the people of Utah should give thanks for the blessings vouchsafed them during the past year. The proclamation follows a similar one issued by President Roosevelt, and is as follows:

"By official proclamation his excellency Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, has designated and set apart Thursday, Nov. 26, 1908, as a day for thanksgiving and prayer throughout the nation."

"The custom which has come down from the Pilgrim Fathers of giving thanks each autumn for material and other blessings vouchsafed during the year, is one of the most beautiful heritages of our national life. To acknowledge the source of all our benefits and make public profession of our gratitude to Him, is to become, through a grateful and reverent recognition of His goodness, more worthy of future blessings. They who are truly grateful to God will strive more freely to deserve His future favor. In this is the assurance of our nation's growth and safety."

"In practical blessings we have cause for thanksgiving. The farms,

FOR SECOND TIME SEEKING DIVORCE

Jennie B. Parsons, Married Twice
To Same Husband, Enters
Local Court.

REFUSES TO LIVE WITH HER

Pays All Her Bills, She Says, But Life at That Is Not of Roseate Hue.

For the second time in her life, Mrs. Jennie B. Parsons has filed a court action for divorce from her husband, Charles C. Parsons, a prominent attorney and mining man of this city. In her complaint Mrs. Parsons alleges that her husband and she have not lived together since July, 1904, when her husband refused to occupy the same apartments with his wife, but left her at a hotel and went himself to the home of his son.

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons were first married at St. Louis, Nov. 10, 1880, and there is one daughter, whose name and age is not stated. In 1893 Mrs. Parsons secured a divorce from her first husband, and the remarriage occurred at Denver, Jan. 23, 1901.

Mrs. Parsons alleges in her complaint that soon after the second marriage, her husband began to treat her coldly, evincing sultry moods, and declaring the second marriage was a mistake, and that they should not have remarried. He urged her, according to the complaint, to try and get another divorce from him, but she was a burden to him. The complaint recites that they have lived apart ever since.

HUBBY HANDLES MONEY.

That Mr. Parsons has furnished her money sufficient to supply her expenses is not denied by plaintiff, but it is alleged that she is not permitted to spend the money herself, and her husband pays the bills, declaring she is not competent to handle money. The plaintiff further alleges that defendant looks upon his contributions to her as charity, which he may withdraw as he sees fit.

Mrs. Parsons alleges that her husband, as chief counsel for Samuel Newhouse, earns $1,000 per month; that he is heavily interested in the Boston Consolidated and other mining properties, and that he is easily worth $500,000. She asks the court to issue a temporary order restraining defendant from disposing of any of his property pending his appearance in court to state the exact nature of his possessions and the outcome of this action. She also asks for $500 per month permanent alimony, $50 costs and $500 attorney's fees.

Mrs. Parsons is now in Denver, and Mr. Parsons himself spends much of his time in the Colorado metropolis, but maintains a residence here at 216 Thirteenth East street, and law office in the Daily block. Mr. Parsons is a member of the Alta club and is prominent socially and professionally.

"Had dyspepsia or indigestion for years. Appetite and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me."—J. H. Walker, Sunbury, Ohio.

GOOD LUCK EMBLEM USED.

Clever thieves known as room and office workers are still abroad in the land. Yesterday while Manager E. L. Goodyear of the Star loan office in the Atlas block was out to lunch a thief entered the office and with a horseshoe smashed open the cash register from which he took $26.20 and from the safe he secured $29.05. The front door to the office had been open but there is a partition separating this part from the inner office. The thief climbed over the partition and lost no time in breaking open the cash register and getting away with the money.

the mines, the mills, the factories, and all the other sources of our wealth have been made more fruitful in spite of temporary depression, capital and labor have had magnificent returns. And, it fully appears that an era of prosperity is approaching, to make us forget the adversity which has tormented our prosperity in the year just closing. With gratitude for past blessings we may therefore enjoy a grateful assurance of increasing welfare.

"Now therefore, I, John C. Cutler, governor of the state of Utah, following the proclamation of the president and the excellent custom of our nation, do hereby designate Thursday, Nov. 26, 1908, as a legal holiday in the state, and a day of thanksgiving and prayer. I recommend that the people generally suspend business on that day, and gather in their homes and their places of worship and give thanks to Almighty God for the blessings He has bestowed. And I believe that we should mingle with our thanksgiving an earnest resolve to live not only our material lives, but the broader and better intellectual and spiritual life, in such way as to merit the increasing favor of a just and loving Father."
