

On account. The committee reported that it had not had sufficient time to properly determine this question and recommended the passage of S. B. 156, requiring the state auditor to thoroughly investigate the state board of examiners. To liquidate these claims the bill carried with it an appropriation of $25,000.

Speaking to the measure Representative McCrea stated that the committee, after due consideration, had concluded this to be the better way out of the difficulty. He said the outstanding bounty certificates amounted to about $20,000, and nearly all of them were held by parties who had purchased them at 10 to 20 per cent discount. These parties, he said, had purchased them in good faith and he believed they should be protected. The bill passed, Edward being the only one to oppose it.

GOVERNOR REJECTS.

The senate notified the house that the governor had rejected S. B. 167, by McKay, providing for the sale of liquor by consent, and that the governor's action had been sustained.

AFTER THE ARMORY.

Joseph introduced H. B. 237, providing for the repeal of S. B. 86, appropriating the sum of $50,000 for a state armory. In explanation the author of the bill stated that the governor had remarked that the Legislature would have to cut down the appropriations at least $100,000, before he could consider early approval of that bill. In this connection he had intimated that the armory appropriation could be cut out.

WOULD KILL THE GUARD.

Anderson, J. A., expressed the conviction that the proposed action would seriously cripple the National Guard, while McCrea went farther by declaring that it would actually abolish the state militia.

THE SCHEME FAILS.

Tolson opposed the measure, while McCrea favored it. The motion to sustain the rules and place the bill upon its final passage, failed, and H. B. 237 was pronounced dead.

CUTTING DOWN EXPENSES.

The appropriation bill was then read by the clerk and the following amendments adopted:

Capture and extermination of outlaws reduced from $1,500 to $1,000. Extradition of fugitives from justice, reduced from $4,000 to $3,000. Clerical assistance in secretary of state's office, reduced from $5,000 to $4,000.

Contingent expenses in secretary of state's office reduced from $3,300 to $2,000.

An effort was made to strike out the appropriation of $1,200 for the recorder of marks and brands, but the motion failed and the item was allowed to stand.

At 12:40 the house adjourned until 2 p. m.

APPROVED BY THE GOVERNOR.

At this afternoon's session of the house the governor's reported having approved the following:

H. B. 178, providing for the publication of bank reports.
H. B. 143, relating to the reports of the state superintendent of schools.
H. B. 128, relating to salaries of county superintendents.
H. B. 204, making it the duty of the state chemist to analyze for poisons.
H. B. 114, relating to change of venue.
H. B. 129, relating to the sale of merchandise in bulk.
H. B. 170, providing for the branding of renovated butter and the licensing of manufacturers.
H. B. 171, providing a penalty for false representation as to credits or assets.
H. B. 224, making cities and school districts jointly liable with contractors on public works in actions brought by sub-contractors.
H. B. 214, relating to subpoenas.
H. B. 220, relating to form of pleadings in justice courts.

MOTION FOR COMMITTEE.

McCrea moved the appointment by the speaker of a committee of three to confer with the governor relative to the appropriation bill. The motion was opposed by whereupon Merrill moved to amend by vesting the power of appointment in members of the house. This precipitated lively discussion, in which it was strongly intimated that the speaker, if permitted to appoint the committee, would perhaps discriminate against county members. The amendment was finally tabled, carrying the motion with it.

HULL GETS A CUP.

Speaker of the House Presented With a Silver Goblet.

As a token of their esteem, the members and officers of the house yesterday afternoon presented Speaker Hull with a handsome silver loving cup, the presentation speech being made by Representative Cottam of Washington. The cup is a triple handled silver goblet and contains the names of the members and officers of the house, together with the following: "Presented to Hon. Thomas H. Hull, speaker of the House of Representatives of the Sixth Legislature of the State of Utah, by the members and officers." The recipient thanked his legislative associates for the gift presented by them and then said that he had tried to perform his duty and had had great pleasure in noting the support given him by all the members of the house, and the good feelings which had characterized their efforts during the session.

BUILDING UP RAPIDLY.

East Bench Apparently Growing in Favor as Residence Section.

Contractors and real estate men call special attention to the rapidity with which the east bench is being built up. The reason given is the desire of house-holders to escape from the smoke and the haze of the lower parts of the town, and breathe the purer and clearer atmosphere obtaining along the bench. So new houses are going up all the way from the north bench south to the state prison, and not a few of these are costing as high as $10,000 each, and real estate men are not backward in predicting that the far east part of the city will in a few years be thickly built up and populated.

Residents in that section say they can get up in the morning, and see the lower part of the city almost entirely hidden from view in a fog and smoke haze that is spread over the land like a rail.

GAVEL OF UTAH WOOD AND GOLD.

Emblem of Parliamentary Procedure Presented to President Love.

THE GOVERNOR SIGNS BILLS.

Notifies Senate of the Approval of a Considerable Number—No Adjournment Today

At the noon hour the senate came to order for a few moments in order to present President Love with a symbol of his office in the shape of a gavel made of Utah wood, bound with bands of Utah gold and inscribed with the names of the senators and officers of the senate.

Senator Park made the speech of presentation, and in it paid a high compliment to the ability and fairness displayed by the president while in the chair.

In responding, President Love referred happily to the virtues and ability of each senator.

"How can I ever forget the picture," he said, "of Senator Bennion, that stirring constitutional lawyer from Vernal, with his face buried in his record book, scanning bills for errors the rest of us have overlooked, or Senator Walton grinning whenever he hears a communication read from the house telling of the death of one of his pet measures."

The senate adjourned to Johnson's photograph gallery, at the conclusion of the presentation speech, to resume work at the pleasure of the house to which the appropriation bill is now a source of trouble. It is said that the senate will adjourn until the business will occur tonight if the business is not concluded.

SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR.

The senate this morning received a communication from Gov. Cutler stating that the following bills had been signed:

S. B. 5, on voting machines.
S. B. 85, on the practice of dentistry.
S. B. 134, on powers and duties of trustees.
S. B. 71, on the time of beginning the fiscal year.
S. B. 146, providing a medal of honor for Indian war veterans.
S. B. 131, relating to loan, trust, and guarantee associations.
S. B. 106, relating to real estate held by any county under tax deed.
S. B. 62, authorizing cities of the first and second classes to issue scrip against the funds to be raised by special taxes.
S. B. 63, relating to special taxes, and actions to recover on taxes erroneously paid.

"FURY" HAS TUMBLED.

Writes a Friend to "Wise Up" and Give Salt Lake a Wide Berth.

Out at the State prison there is a convict named "Fury," doing six years for robbery.

Yesterday he wrote a letter to a friend in the east, the substance of which is as follows:

"Dear Jim—You wrote me some time ago that you intended coming out here. Let me wise you up a little. We have a newly elected judge out here who is doing things. Recently he gave three twenties and two eighths for what I am doing six for. Now, if you still have intentions of coming out here, just forget it, see?"

"Fury" was sent up with Hickey, Munroe and Quibb, for robbery. The warden Pratt read the letter and he and other officers are pleased to know that the information of what cracks make in this territory is being circulated where it will do the most good. Needless to say, the letter was sent to "Jim" and "Jim" will not come here.

CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY.

Formal Information to That Effect Filed Against Bounty Graters.

District Attorney Loofbrow this afternoon filed in the district court information against David B. Davis, Will E. Phillips, Ed Hanna, Henry Martin, Charles W. Jones, James Gorman and John Meyers, the men who are alleged to have been implicated in the gigantic bounty frauds in this county, charging them with criminal conspiracy. The men who have heretofore been arrested in connection with the affair will be arraigned tomorrow before Judge Ritchie.

The information charges that on Nov. 1, 1904, the men conspired together to cheat and defraud the state out of large sums of money by falsely and corruptly representing to the county clerk of Salt Lake county that certain wild animals had been killed by them within the state within 60 days prior to the date mentioned; that no bounty had been previously paid on the same. In addition to the above date, 111 other dates are mentioned in the information upon which the defendants are charged with carrying on their fraudulent transactions. Davis is charged in the information with purchasing the ears of only part of the hides presented to him for bounty and with issuing fraudulent certificates upon the state auditor to the other defendants.

VIOLATED HER TRUST.

Woman Robs Hotel Employer of Silverware and Other Articles.

Mrs. Mary Woodmansee, who has been employed at the Kenyon hotel for three or four years, was arrested yesterday afternoon on the charge of stealing from her employer, Don H. Porter, silverware, napkins and many other articles have been missed from the hotel during the last three months. Detectives Chase and Durt were on the case for some time and yesterday secured a search warrant and searched the woman's room where they found a large quantity of the stolen property.

Mr. Porter could scarcely believe what he saw as he had trusted the woman most implicitly and would not believe she would steal. While the detectives were waiting in the room, the woman was brought in by two deputy sheriffs.

WITH THE POLICE.

Greek Tries to Rob a Saloon and Fellow Countryman Hits a Residence.

At 5:15 o'clock this morning Officers Palmer, Burton and Price caught a Greek named R. Karatulis, or something like that, in the act of burglarizing the Board of Trade saloon on west Second South street. The fellow had forced open a door and was in the act of helping himself when the officers swooped down on him and took him to the station. A complaint will be filed against him today charging him with burglary.

J. B. Lavin, who resides on south State street, had a visit from a thief yesterday, and he saw the man but did not suspect his character. Mr. and Mrs. Lavin had left the place for a few minutes and when they returned they saw a Greek leaving the place. He supposed the fellow was simply looking for a room, but later discovered his mistake. The Greek's visit explains the loss of a clock, a ring and other articles to the value of about $35.

W. E. Crockett, charged with obtaining money by means of false pretenses, is having a preliminary hearing in Judge Ditch's court today.

Myrtle Bauman Accuses Her Husband Of Making Threats.

Cruelty is the ground upon which Myrtle Bauman seeks a divorce from Charles Bauman, whom she married in 1891. The complaint, which was filed in the district court today, alleges that defendant on numerous occasions has called plaintiff indecent names and threatened to inflict physical injuries upon her. On March 19, 1905, it is alleged that defendant became enraged at plaintiff and called her a "low down thing" and left the house saying that he was tired of her and wanted nothing more to do with her. On Oct. 15, 1904, she alleges that her husband wrongfully accused her of infidelity. She asks that she be awarded alimony, attorney's fees and the possession of their household goods.

COURT NOTES.

Judgment by default in favor of plaintiff was rendered by Judge Armstrong today in the case of the Sadler Mercantile company against George W. Dickson and Arthur Rich, doing business as George W. Dickson & Co., for the sum of $589.35 and costs, amounting to $158.93. The action was brought to recover the balance of the purchase price of certain merchandise sold to A. J. Mead & Co., of Fort DuFrenoy, who subsequently sold out to defendants.

Bertha Christensen filed suit for divorce in the district court today against Theodore Christensen on the ground of cruelty. They were married in this city on July 15, 1902. It is alleged that defendant has repeatedly called plaintiff vile and abusive names and has threatened to inflict physical injury upon her. He is asked for alimony and $50 as attorney's fees, and that her husband be restrained from disposing of any of his property pending the determination of this action.

EFFORTS AND RESULTS.

Dr. Tanner's Address to Students at L. D. S. U. Today.

General Supt. of Church Schools Dr. J. M. Tanner addressed the students of the Latter-day Saints' university today at 10 a. m., in Barrett hall. The speaker was introduced by Prof. B. S. Hinkley, and was listened to with deep attention by an audience numbering, by actual count, 620 students.

Beginning by reference to the common wish of knowing what the future is to bring forth or of feeling assured of one's future welfare, Dr. Tanner showed to the students that it is the future that we cannot look into, but that, if our future prosperity is reasonably or absolutely certain, our best efforts are never put forth. This point was aptly illustrated by reminiscence of the speaker's student days at Harvard. Next to him in some of his courses sat a millionaire's son. As a consequence of assured wealth, the young man neglected his college work, and instead of the broad, general culture he might have obtained, he barely passed the required amount of work.

The speaker caused general amusement by his new version of old proverbs, such as "A bird in the bush is worth two in the hand," and "The dollar in another man's pocket is worth more to you than the dollar in your pocket." The speaker's words, which the students' faces gradually melted away as the speaker in forcible terms showed that it is the honest effort put forth to earn the dollar in another's pocket that we cannot look into, but that, if our future prosperity is reasonably or absolutely certain, our best efforts are never put forth. This point was aptly illustrated by reminiscence of the speaker's student days at Harvard. Next to him in some of his courses sat a millionaire's son. TOOK SHOT AT PEDDLER.

Chinaman Arrested after a Very Lively Tussle Last Night.

Deputy Sheriff Edwards had a lively fight with a Chinaman named Ah Wo last night while attempting to arrest him, and had to take an ugly looking gun away from the Mongolian before conquering him. After overpowering Wo the deputy made a search of the house and found two other weapons and a huge knife secreted in the place.

The trouble occurred in the Chinaman's hut on Thirteenth South and West Temple streets, and arose over an attempt to arrest Ah Wo, who was a partner, Lou Bing, for shooting at a fish peddler named William Hobbs earlier in the evening. According to the story told by Hobbs, he was making a trade with the Chinaman, whereby he exchanged some fish for celery. He did not like the looks of the celery and told the Chinamen so. They took exceptions to his remarks and Lou opened fire on him with a gun. Several shots were fired but none of them hit Hobbs, so he made a hasty departure and notified the sheriff of the affair.

Deputy Edwards was sent to the seat of war, but Lou had taken flight. He broke in the door of the hut and found Ah Wo in bed, but the latter became very active and drew a revolver on the deputy. After a struggle the gun was taken away from him and he was securely handcuffed. A search of the place was then made and the other guns and knife were found. Ah was taken to the station where he will be held until he can be removed to the county jail.

THAT BIG FISH

HAUL IN SANPETE.

Editor News: Wales, Sanpete Co., March 11.—In the "News" of March 10 there is an account from Moroni of our vigilance committee and game commissioner springing a great surprise on our local nimrods, from the little tots with their pinhooks and lines to some older heads who sported "boughten" rods and reel baiting hooks. The watchful commissioner found angling for minnows and suckers on the banks of a little brook, and thinking a few additional cents would be of interest, I caught the lot.

On March 1 and 2 one or more of the officers of the "private reservoir" referred to advised in the neighborhood of a "streak" and "older heads" to quit fishing, as the fish were up the "brook" spawning, but the parties paid no attention whatever and doubted that they could be prevented from fishing. On the 3rd and 4th the same advice was given, but on the 5th the deputy sheriff made the arrests referred to. So much for "great surprises."

There is no doubt but the parties were fishing for "minnows and suckers," but "whether the 'nimrods' threw back into the 'brook' the other varieties of fish is a question, at least to me," being from one to two miles from home fishing with "pinhooks" just let that pass as it is.

As to the heavy fines imposed, the reporter says "the parties were tried in our justice's court," therefore it is fish that comes high in the Moroni market, or is it the defiance or violation of law?
