

DESERET EVENING NEWS

Published every day, except Sunday, at a price of 25 cents.
Subscription price, by advance, $10 per year.
Subscriptions, $10 each per week, printed or delivered by mail.

SUBJECT SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS.
Published every Saturday and Friday.
Subscription price, $10 per year, paid in advance.
Subscription price, $10 per month, $100 per year.

THE DESERET WEEKLY.
A $10 per month magazine, the character and tone of which is determined by the author of certain articles. Price per volume of 10 numbers, $100 per year, $100 each.

HOSPITALITY AMONG WOODSMEN.

Where the Stranger Is Taken in and Held to Feed at.

Among the greatest woodsmen in western America great hospitality to strangers is the most distinguishing trait. By woodsmen is meant those who make their living by chopping and hauling logs, and who live all winter in log camps, half buried up in the snows of a rigorous mountain climate, far away from the outer world. Among these people there is no love against tramps. The solitary hiker or the lonely traveler whom they might have overreached, they always receives a cordial welcome, not from one but from all of the camp.

As soon as the stranger's hand is inside of the log door by which the hut is entered, the cook calls out to him to walk in, for it is this time-honored way who does the honors of the camp. He is then invited to take a place at the table, where he may be better able to warm his hands before the fire. The question is then put, "Have you had your supper?" and the wanderer is asked to step up and have a bite, even if he has already supped he will almost assuredly take a piece of sweet cake and to drink a cup of tea.

The kettle always sits beside the fire, and on the stranger's arrival the cook gives this "go" word for woodsmen, who then, well filled, fat person cut and put into pieces and is soon simmering over a cheery fire. While the stranger is taking off his moccasins and putting on a dry pair socks, with which the cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate without asking anybody. He not only becomes one of the crew, but the best place in the kitchen is reserved for him; some one turning out of it and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew sit when eating their meals. Sometimes the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

Many years since, late one snowy winter night, I arrived at Mr. W.
Richard's logging camp at the "Outer Shade," on the Nashua river, New Brunswick. The crew had retired.
When I entered the camp Mr. R. raised his head from the fire built on which the log drivers sat to me, "Come take this place," he said, caught at the moment a glimpse of a bed of snow beneath the green boughs.
"No, thank you, I prefer the damson seat." On this I gladly stretched my weary limbs with my boots for a pillow and coat thrown over my shoulders for covering, and yet after all, my sleep was sounder and more refreshing than that of one of all the luxuries of the town—Forest and Stream.

A Subsidiary for Canal Locks.

H. G. Ketchum, engineer of the Chicago & St. Louis railway, is credited as the author of a scheme by which vessels drawing upward of twenty feet of water can be passed through the present St. Lawrence canal from Port Arthur to Quebec, and through the Sault canal now being excavated, without deepening the canals or enlarging the locks, thus obviating the expenditure of millions of dollars upon canal dredging.

Mr. Ketchum proposes that large vessels be placed upon steel rafes or pontoons and thus floated through the canals and over river shallows, the vessels to be placed upon the pontoons to be floated through the canals established at the entrance of each canal. He says $200,000 would provide pontoons and lifts for all the existing canals, but these lifts could be used as graving docks; but little time would be lost in placing the vessels upon the floats, and the plan has been successful elsewhere. —New York Telegram.

The Doctor's Report.

One of the brightest physicians of Portland and one of the ablest tho-logians of Boston were in the physical room at Derrick's Medical school last evening examining in company with others, numerous slides showing certain peculiar glandles of the intestines. The physician at once launched out into a brilliant discussion of the glands and their relation to various diseases.

The theologian grew tired after a time, and finally said: "You doctors know so much about the abnormalities of this world that I should think you would be interested in my theology," came the quick reply.
"Tell us much about the certainties of the next that we don't want to die." —Lewiston Journal.

Sharing His Bed.

A Grab shop friend of Johnson's was Derrick, of whom he wrote, of honor. Derrick, for his strength of mind. "One night when Floyd, an other poor author, was wandering about the streets he found Derrick sleeping upon a bulk. Upon being suddenly awakened Derrick started up.
"My dear Floyd," said he, "I am sorry to see you in this deplorable state. Will you go home with me to my lodgings?" And they turned in on the bulk together like the good folks they were.—Collier.

The Northern Star.

One good effect of our efforts, if we have been successful, is to teach the people to learn how to walk well. At present there is a shuffle, many, even in one room, do everything but walk. Walking communes every exercise, vigorous and dignified of speech, and when we set ourselves to have a higher mission, we have done our duty. We have a right to do this, and that is why an effort against the reign of indecent bearing must be made.

There is no room in the world for such走路, except among the ignorant and uneducated. That is one of the great blessings of our country, that we have a distinct class of people who are not ashamed of their own country, and that is why an effort against
the reign of indecent bearing must
be made.

Women should not sit.

More women are sitting than walking, more through slovenly and all wrong than not. There is no room in the world for such走路, except among the ignorant and uneducated. That is one of the great blessings of our country, that we
have a distinct class of people who
are not ashamed of their own country,
and that is why an effort against
the reign of indecent bearing must
be made.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but
the best place in the kitchen is reserved
for him; some one turning out of it
and sleeping on the damson seat
time being, on which the crew
sit when eating their meals. Some-
times the damson seat is preferable
to the berth.

The French eat four times a day,
breakfast, dinner and supper, and the
French are the most fat people in the world.

French fat people eat and put into pieces
and are soon simulating over a
cheery fire. While the stranger is
taking off his moccasins and putting
on a dry pair socks, with which the
cook is plying him with questions as to what is going on out
in the settlement.

So soon as the "boss" or owner of
the camp and crew come in at night,
their day's work over, the manager
keeps the fire up all night, and becomes
one of themselves and is
expected to walk up to the bean pot
or the frying pan and to help himself
to anything that suits his palate
without asking anybody. He not
only becomes one of the crew, but the best place in the