PROSECUTION RESTS IN PATTERSON CASE

Counsel for Defense Gives Notice That His Side Would Submit No Testimony.

CONTENDS STATE HAS FAILED.

Means Speedy Conclusion of Third Trial of Woman Accused of Murdering Caesar Young.

New York, April 28 .- After a day of interesting developments both the prosecution and the defense rested in the case of Nan Patterson, indicted for the alleged murder of Caesar Young, the wealthy bookmaker, almost a year ago. The prosecution finished its case just before the adjournment of the court, and later Atty, O'Reilly of counsel for Miss Patterson notified the prosecution that his side would submit no defense and would rest on the contention that the state had failed to make any case against the defendant. The plan had been under consideration for some days, but was only decided upon at a con-ference today between the counsel for Nan Patterson and her aged futher. The decision means the speedy conclu-sion of the young woman's third trial the sensational tragedy on Wes When the case is called Monday, is

When the case is called Monday, to which date the trial was adjourned to-day, Asst. Dist. Atty. Rand will im-mediately begin sumining up the case of the state. Besides this the success-sion of events which marked today's proceedings included the court's de-nial of a motion to dismiss the indict-ment; the testimony of the prisoner's sister. Mrs. J. Morgan Smith. In which she made some interesting statements, but stood on her right to refuse to an-swer questions, on the ground that the answers might incriminate her; Mr, Band's promise to quash the conspiracy Rand's promise to quash the complicacy indictments against Mrs. Smith if she would answer his questions, and the protest of the counsel of the defense to the court that Mr. Rand's mercliess

the court that Mr. Rand's merciless method of questioning was 'badgering the witness," and the rejection again by the court of the much quoted let-ter of Mrs. Smith to Young expressing fear as to the consequences if Young did not see her sister. In his argument for dismissal of the indictment, Atty. Unger, of counsel for the defense, contended that the con-spiracy accusation had practically been abandoned by the prosecution, which had failed to prove that J. Mor-gan Smith was the purchaser of the gan Sulith was the purchaser of the revolver. He further claimed that, as the case was admittedly one of cirthe case was admittedly one of cir-cumstantial eyldence, the testimony of Doctors O'Hanlon, Riggins and Phelps indicated sulcide rather than murder. Replying to the argument, Asst. Dist. Atty. Rand contended that the fact of the crime had been proved beyond all question of doubt, and, even if nothing was known of the relations of the de-fendant with Young, and of her threats against Young, the case ought to be submitted to the jury on the character of the wound, which could not have been self-inflicted. He insisted that he had proven beyond all doubt that ad proven beyond all doub was in Stern's pawnshop on 3, 1904, the day the revolver was June 3, 1904, the day the revolver was sold. He had not expected the pawn-broker to identify Smith, as a man in that sort of business was reductant to make identifications. WHY COV. M'BONALD VETOED RAILROAD MERCER BILL

Denver Colo., April 28.—Gov. Jesse McDonald today vetoed the railroad inerger or expansion hill passed at the late session of the legislature the pur-pose of which, as represented, was to enable the Colorado and Southern Rail-way company to extend its lines to the Gulf of Mexico and in other directions. There has been a bitter fight of a size way company to extend its lines to the Guil of Mexico and in other directions. There has been a bitter fight over talls measure between two factions of the Republican party and it was an im-portant factor in the gubernatorial contest between Peabody and Adams. In vetoing the bill Gov. McDonald Eave the following reasons: "Section 2, of the bill declares that the 'act shall not be construed to per-mit any railroad ecompany to purchase or lease any parallel and competing line situated within this state," but does not in any way attempt to limit the construction of the act to prevent a parallel and competing, or a parallel or competing line from acquiring and holding all the stock and obligations of a parallel and competing line.
