EDITORIAL NOTES.

The President's message has not been received, and it is reported will not be published until to-morrow.

It appears that Sullivan the pug-lust is somewhat conscience-stricken at the idea of supporting his parents on the proceeds of prize-fighting, and has resolved to take to the trade of rum-selling. The distinction is not a difference of enormous width, and can only be distinguished by the most minute discrimination.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean asks why the secular missionaries cannot get down to business like the "Mormon" Elders by preaching temporal as well as spiritual salvation. Perhaps the answer lies in the fact that the ordinary secularist is not in love with hard work, except when working up a religious and political crusade against the "Mormons," fired by jealousy at their success. If you want real energy to be displayed by the ordinary run of secularists, just get them after some system or institution the success of which endangers their trade and places them at a decided disadvantage.

The N.Y. Sun says: Walnut City, Mo., was laid out last summer, and lots were sold to the amount of $150,000. Merchants flocked to the place, and Mr. Stewart, of Sedalia, Mo., erected a block of business houses and a large three-story hotel that cost $30,000. About 800 persons became residents of the place; but there was nothing to sustain it, and they and the merchants started while awaiting the building of a railroad and the coming of the "boom" that the road was to give the place; but last week Thomas Nichols, who managed the company's business, was unable to pay the few men who were earning money in the town, and then it leaked out that he was $30,000 short. The railroad scheme was immediately abandoned, and people began to move away. The town is dead.

It is said concerning Henry Villard, the railroad magnate, that twenty years ago he was a reporter in desperate circumstances, and applied to John Swinton for employment. John asked him for a specimen of his work, and Henry wrote a report of a fire in the Bowery. Swinton threw it in the waste basket, gave Villard a dollar to buy his supper and a bed for the night, and advised him to hire himself out as a porter to one of the commission houses in Ann Street. Some weeks ago, when Swinton started his new morning daily, Villard was one of the first subscribers, sending the subscription price and a note to Mr. Swinton, and in the letter he sarcastically remarked that he had always felt under obligations to Mr. Swinton for giving him advice which he did not follow. Then Swinton wrote a sarcastic editorial about Villard, advising him to get a job that had once been a barefooted German boy.

The Providence Star says: "It is frequently remarked that the American people could cast aspersions at Mormon polygamy with better grace and more effect, were social scandals less frequent in professedly monogamous families." It then relates the case of the Rev. G. B. Cutler, of Hebron, Connecticut, denouncing in plain terms, without mentioning names, a wealthy member of his flock who had obtained two notorious divorces and was then living with "his third wife." The Star continues: "The pastor said that the only difference between the Hebron polygamist and those in Utah was that the latter supported his wives, while the Hebron man was economical and took his one at a time. The Hebron polygamist was wroth and swore vengeance. He brought suit for infamancy, laying claim to $5,000 damages. But he found no encouragement to press the suit, and reports now come that he has withdrawn it from the courts. The sermon has destroyed his usefulness in the community, so that he has sold his household goods at auction and will shortly leave town for some more congenial sphere—perhaps for Utah." If the paper means that Utah would be a congenial climate for such a fellow because the "Mormons" are here, it is grossly in error. If he had been a "Mormon" his course would have entitled him to excommunication from the Church. Send him to righteous Chicago or spotless Cleveland. He might in either place be turned from the error of his ways.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.

THE struggle for the office of Speaker of the House of Representatives is over, and the press of the country has lost one of the topics of discussion on which editors have lengthily dilated for some time past. Mr. Carlisle, of Kentucky, is the victor. The issue has been chiefly between him and Mr. Randall, Cox of New York, who is fighting in a subordinate way, and no others having the ghost of a chance. Mr. Carlisle is one of the ablest members of the Forty-Eighth Congress. He is a thorough Democrat, a clear-headed lawyer, a deep thinker, a good parliamentarian, and is thoroughly versed in the issues of the times and the necessities of the hour. Mr. Randall has had great experience and stands in the front rank of his party, and would no doubt have been elected to the position which he has now foregone, if it had not been for his semi-protectionist predilections. The election of Mr. Carlisle is tantamount to a manifesto of the Democrats in favor of free trade. We look for a wise and judicious management of the House and appointment of the various committees, under the leadership of the distinguished Kentucky statesman.

MORE ANTI-MORMON RESOLUTIONS.

A CONVENTION has recently been held in Cincinnati of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The subject of "Mormonism" received a large share of its attention. Some resolutions were passed which we give below that they may be placed on record, and a discussion of the "Mormon problem" ensued, conducted by several ladies who would have been very much puzzled if they had been required to give a truthful and intelligible statement of "Mormon" doctrines, principles and teachings. They were Messdames Wiley, Brown, Davis, East Williams and Newman. The resolutions were offered by Mrs. A. F. Newman of Nebraska, as follows:

Resolved, That the immigration policy of the Mormon Church makes its missionaries to gather proselytes by the thousands from the millions of Europe and our own South, and that, whereas, our government has issued no official protest, and put no check upon the illegal traffic in the bodies and souls of the ignorant and superstitious victims of Mormon duplicity; therefore,
Resolved, That it is the duty of the Christian women of America to publish to the world the protest of the Christian churches of America.
Resolved, That the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church here assembled, appoint a committee to draft a circular, setting forth a true statement of the Mormon religion, its character and teachings, and that such committee be authorized to confer with the civil and religious authorities at Salt Lake City, and to make careful investigation of the relation of the ballot in the hands of the women of Utah, to Territorial legislation at the National Capital and its power to perpetuate the religious bondage and domestic slavery of the women so enfranchised, and if they shall find the facts to warrant, they shall draft petitions to be circulated, asking for the disfranchisement of the women of Utah.
The same lady proposed that an industrial home for women and an asylum for orphans be established in Utah, stating that the movement was supported by Acting Governor Thomas and Rev. T. C. Hill, of Utah. The sum of $4,500 was subscribed in 30 life memberships, for the Industrial Home, and great enthusiasm. A committee was chosen to draft the circular letter mentioned in the resolutions, consisting of Mrs. Newman, of Nebraska, and Rev. Hill, Judge Hume, and Mrs. Paddock, of Utah.

The interest which can be aroused among professors of religion in the welfare of people in distant places while the much worse condition of neighbors and society at home is ignored, has received many illustrations in the course taken by various sectarian missionary organizations. Stockings and tracts for the heathen abroad, neglect and scorn for the barefooted and ignorant heathen at home; flannel shirts and New Testaments for the Hottentots, and gutters, spittoons, and just for the street Arab of Christian cities, are among the inconsistencies of modern proselyting philanthropy. The proposed "Industrial home for women" and "asylum for orphans" in Utah, while there are a hundred poor women and famished orphans in Cincinnati who need help from the benevolent to one of each class in this Territory, come under the same category. We have no objection to the project, if the ladies of the East choose to spend their money and find a vent for their pious enthusiasm in this direction. It will please them and not hurt us. It is like the building of the big Methodist church and similar edifices here, that are almost entirely useless except to make echoes in when the few attendants dot the nearly empty benches at the ordinary services held therein. They have no more effect on the "Mormon" question than the dead wood and broken mortar which have been used in the buildings, except to put a little money in the pockets of the "Mormon" artisans employed in their erection. Go with the industrial home and orphan asylum, but if you want them filled, good Christian people, you will have to send a few of your poor, neglected, starving women and orphan children from your own vicinities to the "Mormon" people look after their widows and orphans and take care that their cries do not ascend to heaven in condemnation of the rich, as in the great cities of churches and chapels, missionary societies and institutions for foreign conversions.

The resolutions given above disclose the usual amount of ignorance of "Mormon" affairs displayed by strangers who undertake to regulate them. There is no "traffic in the bodies or souls of the ignorant and superstitious" or in the bodies or souls of any one, connected with the "Mormon" Church, and the idea of the "Mormon" government issuing an "official protest" against the proselyting of any religious body, is about as sensible as an "official protest" against a Methodist revival or a convention of gushing old ladies anxious to reform everybody but themselves. The project of instituting a careful investigation of the questions named in the last resolution would be an excellent thing if it were conducted with anything approaching to sincerity and fairness. But there is no reason to believe that the intent is more or less than to get up a sensational document, repeating the old slanders against the "Mormons" and the state falsehoods about the use of the ballot in Utah. This is clearly shown by the selection of the committee. Judge Bertram is well known as a most unscrupulous and persistent defamer of the Latter-day Saints, a narrow-minded bigot and a conspicuous failure in the positions he has been called to fill, even down to his last occupation—that of plate-passer at extraordinary Methodist gatherings. The woman named on the committee is notorious as a peddler of foul gossip and ridiculous romances, and for rabid anti-"Mormonism" amounting almost to insanity. We say nothing about her personal history, as we do not wish to enter into such details in this connection. The Nebraska lady we know nothing about, but from her anxiety to figure as a prominent member of the committee, in this Territory, we can judge how far her assistance is likely to be lent to anything like a fair investigation.

To those who desire to learn the facts we shall be happy to impart information on any subject connected with "Mormonism" or the Utah question. Investigation is what we desire to promote among those who are not of our faith. Inquiry is our hope and vindicator. We have nothing to fear from examination into the realities of our faith and policy. If the truth is wanted, ample facilities will be afforded to those willing to learn it. But when the object in view is the discovery of something to bolster up an unhallowed attempt to distort the belief, misrepresent the policy and vilify the acts of the Saints, and thus add fuel to the flame of popular passion kindled by ignorance and fanned by bigotry, we have no expectation that knowledge will be sought or care exercised to arrive at the facts. The result of the Cincinnati anti-"Mormon" resolutions and anti-Mormonism will be, more money gathered from the unscrupulous, more noise and nonsense about Utah and the duty of the government, occupation for a season for a few impetuous agitators and—the continued quiet progress of "Mormonism" in its grand work of spreading the gospel of peace and building up the Kingdom of God upon the earth.

THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 3.—The Senate was called to order by President pro tem Edmunds. Prayer was offered by the chaplain.
The President laid before the Senate the credentials in relation to Beck, who will succeed himself, and Farmer, Ferry and Pike, who succeed Rollins. The oath was administered to Beck, Bowen, Cullum, Dolp and Ferry, whose credentials were submitted to the Senate.
The customary resolutions notifying the House and the President that the Senate was ready for business, were agreed to, when a recess of one hour was taken, after assembling the recess was extended to 4 p.m.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 3.—House at 12 o'clock—Clark McPherson read the House to order and proceeded to call the roll. Roll called disclosed 310 members. Nominations for speaker being in order, Geddes said:
"I nominate for speaker of this house for the 48th Congress—Carlisle, a man acknowledged to be pre-eminently qualified for the place. Cannon presented the name of Kiefer, and Lyman the name of Robinson of Maine.
Morrison, Tucker, Reed and Calkins were appointed tellers. The clerk proceeded to call the roll, with result as follows: Carlisle, 141; Kiefer, 112; Robinson, 75; Lyman, 61; J. S. Wines, Va. (For) Wadsworth, N. Y.; (Oppose) Lacey, Michigan, 1; (White, of Kentucky).
The clerk declared Carlisle elected, whereupon Randall and Kiefer escorted that gentleman to the chair. His entrance into the chamber was the signal for the reading of the oath of office was then administered. Upon taking the chair Carlisle said:
"Gentlemen of the House of Representatives, I thank you sincerely for the high honor conferred upon me by the vote just taken. To be chosen from this assembly, a body like this, to preside over its deliberations, is a distinction upon which any citizen properly congratulates himself, and I assure you, your kindness and appreciation. At the same time, I realize the fact that the position which you have assigned me is one of very great labor and responsibility, and while profoundly grateful for the manifestation of your confidence, I shall enter upon the discharge of its duties with a serious distrust of my capacity to meet the requirements of the office. I promise, however, to devote to your service all the real and whole ability I am possessed. Gentlemen, the maintenance of order on the floor is essential, absolutely essential to the intelligent and systematic transaction of public business, and I earnestly invoke your assistance in the enforcement of the rules adopted for the government of our proceedings. The large additional membership of the House, resulting from late apportionment of representation, makes this duty even more difficult than before, and without your cordial cooperation and assistance I cannot reasonably hope to evenly discharge the ordinary daily duties of this office. That you will cheerfully co-operate with me in every proper effort to preserve order, to facilitate business and legislation, I have no doubt, but, gentlemen, I shall ask something more, and shall have co-operation in the discharge of my duty assuring you of my earnest desire at all times, to be just and impartial, still I cannot expect you to volunteer and shall be compelled therefore, frequently to appeal to the friendly forbearance of gentlemen of both sides of the House, and I am confident, all that matter of legislation presented to this Congress will receive from you such careful consideration, as the magnitude and character of the issues involved require, and that your action upon them will be wise, conservative and patriotic. Sudden and radical changes in laws and regulations affecting commerce and industrial interests of the people ought never to be made, unless imperatively demanded in some public emergency, and in my opinion, under existing circumstances, such changes would not be favorably received by any considerable number of those who give any attention to the subject. (Applause.) Many reforms are undoubtedly necessary, and it will be your duty, after careful examination of the whole subject, to decide how far they should extend, and when and in what manner they should be made. (Applause.) If there be any who are prone to alarm on this or other subject will actually be injurious to any interest, or even afford reasonable cause of alarm, I am quite sure they will be as agreeably disappointed. (Applause.) What the country has a right to expect is strict economy in the administration of every department of government; just and equal taxation for public purposes, faithful observance of the limitations of the Constitution, scrupulous regard for the interests of the great body of the people in justice to their country, and a power to protect them against encroachments from every direction. What we need is done under the circumstances surrounding us, to meet this expectation ought to be done, in my judgment, but gentlemen, without assuming to tell you how to do it, I take the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution and laws, and proceed to the complete organization of the House. (Applause.)
The Ironsides was administered by Kelley, the oldest member in continuous service, and Speaker Carlisle called the House to order.
