In secret session Senator Van Wyck's resolution for the discussion of commercial treaties in open session was referred to the committee on foreign relations.

In fifteen minutes the doors reopened, and the Senate took up the Dakota bill.

The Dakota bill was informally laid aside at the request of Hill, in order that he might address the Senate on the silver question, apropos of the resolution recently submitted by him declaring it the sense of the Senate that there is no reason for a suspension of the coinage of silver dollars or of the issue of silver certificates. Chicago, 15.-Members of the Transcontinental Railway Association, who have been in session in New York several days in consultation with the trunk lines on the question of the latter's proposition on through freight between the Atlantic and Pacific, met here to-day in formal session, and, without deciding upon any matter of moment, adjourned till to-morrow. A statement will be published to-morrow that it has been discovered that on December 1st the necessary thirty days' notice of withdrawal from the association was given by the Central Pacific. The cause of this withdrawal is stated to be dissatisfaction with the arbitrator's award of California business, which gives it 19% per cent., while its feeders—including the Union Pacific, Denver and Rio Grande and Burlington, all of whose freight must pass over its lines between Ogden and San Francisco—are allowed an aggregate of over 25 per cent. If this statement proves true, the present association will end Dec. 31st, and the meeting now being held will have to deal with its formation anew.

Fifteen Cents a Bushel. The C. P. Witdraws.

DES MOINES, Iowa, 15.—The low prices for grain and high rates for transportation charged by railroads for moving crops has created a bitter feeling against the roads by farmers, and it is becoming more pronounced daily. In some portions of Iowa corn is only bringing the producer 13 to 15 cents per bushel, while the railroads are charging 17 cents to lay that same bushel of grain down in the Chicago markets. The railroad commissioners of the State have sent letters to each of the roads traversing lows, inquiring in regard to the alleged increase of transportation rates during great business depression. The railroad commission seem disposed to sift the matter to the bottom, and if they have not already sufficient power to set matters right they, will undoubtedly ask such additional legislation as will give them the authority. It looks as though an extra session of the legislature will be held this winter.

Gigantic Projects. Fifteen Cents a Bushel.

Gigantic Projects.

Chicago, 15.—Capt. Bedford Pim of the Royal Navy, and lately member of Parliament for Gravesend, is in the city, having returned from looking over the cattle ranges of the west. He has on foot a plan for building a railroad from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Hudson's Bay, for the transportation of cattle to England, instead of bringing them to Chicago, and thence shipping them east. The road will cost about ten millions, and he wants the United States to subscribe 1½ per cent of that amount, and England a like sum. The remainder, he claims, can be secured on the London Stock Exchange in a few days. Pim has also been in correspondence with the Washington authorities concerning the Nicaraguan canal. The United States has recently secured a contract for this canal from Nicaragua, and its estimated cost is $40,000,000. Pim says $100,000,000 won't do it. He wants the United States and Great Britain each to subscribe one and one half per cent. of $200,000,000, and he says he can raise the remainder in London. He says of the Hudson Bay road, that, for Texas cattle, it will save 1,000 miles by land an 500 by water. He goes to Toronto to consult with Sir John MacDonalti, and will also call on President-elect Cleveland to suggest the appointment of a preliminary commission to consider terms for joint action between England and the United States on the Nicaragua project, of the Proteus expedition for the rehef of Greely.

The charges were sent to the Secre-tary of War over a week ago, with a letter asking the ordering of a court for their trial, but no action has yet been taken by Mr. Lincoln, nor has he yet decided whether he will order a Lieut. Garlington arrived in this city to-night. On his arrival here he said he was not aware of any charges hav-ing been preferred against him.

Bynamite in Ohio. Columbus, U., 14.—The officers of the Coal Exchange in this city report that they have information that an effort was made at 2 o'clock this morning to blow up the house of a miner named Lauterbach, who had gone back to work. The statement is that dynamite was placed near the door where his two children were sleeping, and that the door and fra ne were torn to pleces, but the children were not injured beyond a severe shock. The City Council held a meeting and appointed 20 extra police.

20 extra police. Boston, 15.—In 1881 the whaling vessel Jon Esmond, of South Boston, heavily laden with sea elephant oil and sealskins, homeward bound from the sealskins, homeward bound from the Antartic Ocean, encountered a hurricane and was driven into the breakers at Desolation Island. The crew were washed overboard, only Captain Easmon and the colored steward, P. M. Olsen, of Baltimore, being saved. They had several months' terrible experience on the island. After hearing their story General Butler and others decided to make an attempt to recover the property. They chartered a schooner, put Easmon in command and Olsen as cook, taking a Halilax erew. All are now believed to be lost.

Fatal Fire. PORTLAND, Ogn., 15.—A report is just received that fire destroyed the residence of G. B. Thompson, near Lostine, last night, while he and his wife were attending church. Two of their children—six and two years of their children—six and two years of age—were burned to death.

Wheeling, W. Va., 15.—The Calumet sewer pipe works, two miles north of Toronto, Ohio, and one of the largest in the counts, burned this morning.

Loss, $100,000; insurance, $40,000.

Origin unknown. They will be rebuilt immediately.

Bloped with a Negress. GREENVILLE, 15. - Samuel Easell, who eloped with a negress, called on his wife last night and pleaded to be taken back. Mrs. Easell refused to recognize her husband, whereupon he called his six-year old daughter to his side, shot the child in the head, killing her, and then blew his own brains out. He Refused to Go.

LOUISVILLE, 15.—The Courier-Journal's Horse Cave, special says; P. J. Siocum, a school teacher, incurred the ill-will of some members of the community, and has received several anonymous letters lately, suggesting that if he didn't leave town he would be waited on. He did not leave, and Saturday night a mob of 20 men surrounded his house. He fired several shots at the crowd and succeeded in driving them away. Wayne Crain was killed, Joe Long wounded, and several other men and a number of horses are supposed to be wounded. Slocum is being tried (at Mumfordville for killing Offsile.)

The letter is here, and is now in the possession of a gentleman of Raleigh. Following is the letter: Richmond, Va., Nov. 11, 1862.

To His Excellency, Governor Vance:

Dear Sir—I have the honor to acknowledge yours of the 25th ult., and regret the disappointment to which some of the recruits of North Carolina have been subjected. I concur with you as to the policy of allowing conscripts, so far as the state of the service will permit, to select the companies and regiments in which they are to serve. The right, secured by law, of the volunteer to select his own company was lost, it is true by enrollments, but the policy was so obvious of associating men together who would best harmonize with each other, that it was my purpose to continue the privilege beyond the limit fixed by law. The danger to the coast of North Casolina, and our inability to draw troops from the army of Northern Virginia, rendered it proper that the greatest exertion should be made immediately to fill up the regiments in French's command; but this did not interfere with allowing conscripts to select among those regiments the one to which they would be assigned, to long as vacaueles existed in the companies chosen, and that I expected would have been done. I will send your letter to the War Department, with a copy of this reply to you, and hope for the future, there will be no ground for dissatisfaction, and that, as far as possible, the disappointments to which you refer may be corrected by transfer. I feel grateful to you for the cordial manner in which you have sustained every position connected with the public defense, and trust that there will always be such co-intelligence and accordance as will enable up to co-operate for the public good. The Conscript Act has not been popular anywhere out of the army. There, as you are aware, it serves to good. The Conscript Act has not been popular anywhere out of the army. There, as you are aware, it serves to check the discontent which resulted from retaining 12 months' men beyond the time of their original engagement, and was fairly regarded as a measure to equitably distribute the burden of the public defense; but the state authorities have nowhere offered any opposition to its execution, or withheld their aid, except in the state of Georgia and—so far as the cadets of the military institute are concerned—the State of Virginia. I shall endeavor, by judicial decision, to settle the question raised in those two States, and in the meantime, I have been cheered raised in those two States, and in the meantime, I have been cheered by the evidence of popular sentiment which supports any measure necessary to protect our country, and secure our political independence. Like yourself I have hoped that the party distinctions which existed at a former time would be buried in the graves of the gallant men who have fallen in defense of their birthright, and that we should all as a band of brothers, strike for the inheritance our fathers left us.

With sincere regard. I am respect-

He then reiterated the statement made in these dispatches a few days ago, that when he gets ready he will make a statement through the War Department but not till the newspaper agitation has quieted. Proceedings in the Reichstag.

Berlin, 15.—A motion was carried in the Reichstag to-day increasing the salaries of two officials in the Chancellory. A motion was also made to create a second directorship in the ministry of foreign affairs, which met with considerable opposition. In the course of debate, Bismarck spoke in justification of its passage. He reminded the house that he was compelled, in 1877, to ask to be relieved of his functions because of overwork and ill health. He said he would only be able to continue in office by a law providing him with a substitute. If the house refused to grant the means with which to provide a substitute, with suitable compensation, he must decline to be responsible for the foreign policy. When he declared on his oath that the new post was necessary, the refusal of new post was necessary, the refusal of the house to establish it was a virtual the house to establish it was a virtual declaration that he was either ignorant or incapable. "After I have sacrificed my health and my strength," he said, "in the service of the Empire and the Fatherland, don't refuse me what is necessary to the best interests of the service." Continuing his speech, he severely rebuked the House for seeking to prevent him from continuing his policy. He said, the threatened action of the House would make mobilization unnecessary, even after the millions that had been spent thereon. He gave his official assurance that his present staff was inadequate, adding that a refusal to comply with his request would only embitter his life.

Vollman insinuated that official oaths were worthless, as already proven in were worthless, as already proven in he law courts: This statement excited a great up-roar, and protests and calls for order were made.

Bismarck protested against such treatment, and claimed that he should be treated with the decency prevailing in educated society.
