The Popular Pope.

ROME, Jan. 5.—The Pope said mass at St. Peter's today for the benefit of the pilgrims remaining in the city. Thirty cardinals and 189 archbishops and bishops were in attendance at the service, while the congregation consisted of 20,000 persons. The Grand Duchess of Tuscany was among the notable people present, and occupied a place of honor. The vestments the Pope wore were very rich. After the service the Pope removed the vestments and ascending the Sedia Gestario, was carried around the church amid cries of "Long live the Pope King." He was deeply moved by the enthusiasm manifested by the people.

Removal of the Remains.

LONDON, Jan. 5. — Ex-Empress Eugenie has decided that the ceremony of the removal of the remains of Napoleon III and the Prince Imperial from Chiselhurst to Farnborough, shall take place next Monday; by request of the ex-Empress none of the members of the Royal Family will be present, but the Queen will send wreaths to be placed on the coffins. After mass had been celebrated, the coffins will be taken to Farnborough.

WASHINGTON.

Nominations.—A Presidential Dinner, Etc.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The following nominations of Indian agents were sent to the Senate today: J. W. Preston, of Georgia, Mission Agency, California; W. W. Dougherty, of Missouri, Warm Springs Agency, Oregon; J. B. Lane, of Oregon, Siletz Agency, Oregon; J. D. Jenkins, of Iowa, Sisseton Agency, Dakota; R. D. Gwider, of Kentucky, Colville Agency, Washington Territory; also Thos. Cuttler, Collector of Customs for the district of Humboldt, Cala.

Registers of land offices; H. O. Billings, Hailey, Idaho; F. B. Beane, Blackfoot, Idaho; J. R. Whiteside, Leadville, Colorado; F. P. Tanner, Gunnison, Colorado; R. G. Hardin, Buffalo, Wyoming; J. H. Walker, Santa Fe, New Mexico; J. M. Adams, Spokane Falls, Washington Territory; Edward Burgess, Prescott, Arizona; A. B. Duff, Tucson, Arizona.

A LONG LIST

of army and navy appointments was also submitted.

The Secretary of the Navy has issued an order for the United States steamship Iroquois, at San Francisco, to proceed to Humboldt Bay, California, for the purpose of blowing up the wreck of the schooner John Hancock, reported as being a dangerous obstruction to navigation.

Ex-United States Senator J. G. Fair, of California, now in this city, was on the floor of the Senate today and was given a cordial reception by his old associates.

The President has sent to Congress a communication from the Secretary of the Interior, submitting the draft of a bill "To provide for the protection of the Round Valley Indian Reservation," in California.

THE PRESIDENT

in his message of transmittal says: "The documents thus submitted exhibit extensive and entirely unjustifiable encroachments upon the lands set apart for Indian occupancy, and disclose a disregard of Indian rights so long continued, that the government cannot further temporize without dishonor. The efforts to dislodge trespassers upon these lands have in some cases been resisted upon the ground that certain moneys due from the government for improvements have not been paid. So far as this claim is well-founded, the sum necessary to extinguish it should be at once appropriated and paid. In other cases, the position of these intruders is one of simple and barefaced plainly questioning the inclination of the government to protect its dependent Indian wards and its inability to maintain itself in the guaranty of such protection. These intruders should forthwith feel the weight of the government's power. I earnestly commend the situation and wrongs of the Indians occupying the reservation named to the early attention of Congress, and ask for the bill herewith transmitted careful and prompt consideration.

The first of the annual series of Presidential state dinners was given at the White House tonight to the members of the Cabinet. The public parlors were handsomely decorated. The dinner table was adorned with a floral centre-piece consisting of a bank of red roses three feet in length. The music was furnished by the MARINE BAND.

Covers were laid for thirty. The President escorted Miss Bayard and the Secretary of State escorted Mrs. Cleveland. Other guests were Mrs. Endicott and the Secretary of the Treasury; Mrs. Fairchild and the Secretary of War; Mrs. Ingalls and the Secretary of the Navy; Mrs. Carlisle and the Secretary of the Interior; Mrs. Whitney and the Postmaster-General; Mrs. Sheridan and the President of the Senate; Mrs. Hawley and the Speaker of the House; Mrs. Hearst and General Sheridan; Mrs. Condert and Admiral Porter; Mrs. Berry and Governor Jackson; Mrs. Pruyn and Mr. Condert; Mrs. Jackson and Senator Hearst; Miss Nelson and Senator Hawley.

A New Line.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—An evening paper says the owners of the British Anchor line of steamships are about to put on a fast line of steamers between New York, Indian and Chinese ports. This will practically drive the American flag from foreign waters, as this is about the only profitable trade left us.

The "Eureka" Safe.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The American bark Eureka, which was supposed to have been lost off Waterford, has arrived at Queenstown.

CASUALTIES.

A Span Falls with Fatal Results.—The Lost "Snow," Etc.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 5. — A span in the new Central Viaduct now being constructed and which connects the south side with the city proper, fell this afternoon. It was ninety feet long and eighty-five feet above the ground.

A LARGE CAR

upon which there were supplies, was pushed off the end of the span by accident, and in falling it knocked the braces and beams out of place and the span went also. There were eight men on the span when it fell. The killed were Harry Burton and an unknown man. The wounded were John Boweden, burned by steam on the hands and face; Eugene Hanlan, slightly injured; Alexander Blank, injured internally and Charles Ortz, engineer, injured internally.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 5.—Reports just at hand say that by a premature blast four men were killed and seven seriously injured while at work on the new branch line of the Lehigh Valley Railroad near Laurel Run.

THE "ALFRED D. SNOW."

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—The American ship Alfred D. Snow, whose loss was reported from Waterford, Ireland, was one of the Nevada Bank's fleet of wheat ships. She departed for Liverpool August 31st last, having been cleared the day previous by William Dresbach, leader of the bull clique in the late wheat deal. The crew consisted of Captain W. H. Willey, First Mate P. H. Sullivan, Second Mate John Child, and twenty-six seamen. Captain Willey's wife also accompanied him on the voyage. The cargo of wheat was valued at $90,000, insured in the Anglo-Nevada and Thomas & Messey Companies. The Alfred D. Snow was owned by T. W. Chapman & Co., Thomaston, Maine. She was built in 1877, and cost $115,000; fully insured in Eastern companies.

PILOT BOAT SUNK.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—The pilot boat T. H. Allen was struck by the British bark Sir William Wallace, a few miles off Golden Gate last night, and sunk in a few minutes. The crew were saved and brought here today on the Wallace.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Fire broke out at 1 o'clock this morning at the Brooklyn Navy Yard in the navigation building, which stood in the centre of the grounds. The building was completely gutted, the walls alone being left standing. Loss about $200,000.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 5.—Pioneer Press specials show that the snow storm of yesterday and today has been accompanied in Montana, Dakota and northern Minnesota by an unusually high wind, which has thrown loose snow into great drifts, filling cuts and badly delaying RAILROAD TRAINS.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The English steamer Maude foundered in the Black Sea, and 12 were drowned.

French Elections.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—The triennial elections for members of the senate are progressing today. Returns received this evening show that 42 republicans and 19 conservatives have been elected. Twenty-one second ballots will be necessary. The conservatives have gained four senators.

The full returns show that the conservatives gained three seats.

The Crown Prince.

SAN REMO, Jan. 5.—Dr. Schmidt examined the crown prince today and reported favorably on his condition.

Emperor William has sent a reply to the New Year address of the Berlin municipal authorities. He says he has been deeply moved by their heartfelt sympathy manifested since the decline of his father.

Spy Captured.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—A Russian spy, with maps and compromising documents in his possession, was arrested at Sarnowitz, an Austrian town, today.

Barbed Wire.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Jan. 5. — Judge Shire today rendered a decision in the case of the Washburne & Moon Company vs. the Beat-'em-all Barbed Wire Company. The findings are that Alvin Morley invented the same style of barbed wire covered by the Glidden patent, and exhibited samples in 1859. The decision nullifies the Glidden patents. Relying on this decision all barbed wire manufacturers will cease paying a royalty to the Washburne & Moon Company.

Conservative Victory.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—In the election in Winchester today, Moss, Conservative received 1,364 votes and Henderbye, Gladstonian, 849.

The Strike.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5.—The strike of railroad hands still hangs on without any appearance of a change. The running of trains is accomplished with regularity. General Manager McLeod appears confident that the miners, strike cannot cause a coal famine. The situation at Port Richmond is unchanged. The relations of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen to the Knights of Labor engaged in the strike have been definitely explained in a dispatch received in this city from T. S. Sargent, grand master of the brotherhood to the master of La Fayette Lodge saying: "No bulldozing on the part of members belonging to the Knights of Labor will be permitted. I will reclaim the charter of any lodge that is allowed to be an agent in involving our brotherhood in a strike that we have nothing to do with and members of the brotherhood will so understand it."

POWDERLY SPEAKS.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 5.—Chairman Lee and C. F. Farne, who have been to Scranton to confer with Powderly on the subject of the strike, returned this evening. They report that Powderly unqualifiedly repudiated all assertions ascribed to the effect that he was opposed to the railroad strike. Lee and Farne were directed to return to Pottsville, select a committee from the joint executive board of railroad men and miners and proceed to Philadelphia and present the entire matter to the general executive board of the order, which have no official knowledge of the strike which they are expected to sustain.

He Resigns.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Special from Washington, D. C.: Charles J. Gandday, assistant treasurer of the United States in charge of the sub-treasury in this city, has resigned to accept the vice-presidency of the Western National Bank of this city, succeeding C. H. Jordan, who will become president in place of the late Daniel Manning.

Criminal Cases.

NOGALES, Jan. 5.—A double murder was committed by one Sandaval, a few days ago in a small town in Jalasco, Mexico. Finding his wife occupying the same apartments with a stranger, Sandoval stabbed both to death and then hacked them in a terrible manner. The murderer escaped.

NAVASOTA, Texas, Jan. 5.—Governor Ross last night ordered the Navasota Guards to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to Madisonville to quell the disturbance resulting from a recent lynching. Terror prevails there owing to a bold murder, and thefts committed by a gang of horse and cattle thieves under the leadership of Bill Bolo. Judge Kittrell is now holding court at Madisonville. During the excitement growing out of the hearing upon a writ of habeas corpus in the murder case, citizens were openly attacked by Bolo, and in return they hanged two of his lieutenants.

To Be Censured.

ROME, Jan. 5.—The government has resolved to censure the Princes Massino, Deldengo and Maltesta, who, although belonging to the army, attended the Pope's reception.

Dinner Party.

VIENNA, Jan. 5.—A dinner party was given at the Imperial Palace today. Among the guests were Cardinal Galimberth, Papal nuncio, and the ambassadors of Russia, France and other countries.

A Big Price.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—A dispatch from Rome says advices have been received from Massowah to the effect that Ras Aluka offered to join the Italians with 40,000 followers on condition that he be created king of Abyssinia in the event of the defeat of King John.

FIFTIETH CONGRESS.

SENATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The President's message concerning the right of way for railroad purposes through various Indian reservations, also relating to trespasses on Indian lands that and to timber trespasses were presented and referred to the committee on Indian affairs.

Among the petitions presented was one by Blair in favor of a national prohibitory amendment and one by Hoar against the admission of so long as its power is in the hands of the Mormon Priesthood.

Dawes, from the committee on Indian affairs, reported bills to provide for compulsory education of Indian children and in relation to marriage between white men and Indian women.

Among the bills introduced were the following:

By Hoar, to provide for a world's exposition at the national capital in 1892, and thereafter a permanent exposition of the three Americas in honor of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America. Referred to a select committee on centennial celebrations.

By Dawes, to establish a postal telegraph system.

By Platt, for the formation and admission into the Union of the State of North Dakota.

Mitchell called up the joint resolution introduced by him for the appointment of a commission to select a site for a naval station on the Pacific Coast and addressed the Senate in advocacy of it.

The joint resolution makes it the duty of the commission to examine the coast north of the 42nd parallel of north latitude in Oregon, Washington and Alaska, and to select a suitable site, having due regard to the Commercial and naval necessities of the coast, for a navy yard, and to make a full and detailed report to the secretary of the navy, to be by him reported to Congress.

Mitchell said that while $56,000,000 had been spent for navy yards and naval stations, of which amount only five per cent had been expended west of the Alleghany Mountains, there was only one navy yard on the coast, on which about $3,000,000 has been expended. One establishment, no matter how well equipped, was wholly inadequate to meet the wants of the country on the Pacific Ocean. He contrasted with the indifference or criminal neglect of the United States, the care given by the British, French, Russian, Italian and German governments to the building up of great naval establishments. It was country could, whenever occasion arose, provide for it. The rapid environment of the Pacific Coast by important military and naval establishments representing British influence and and military occupation by Great Britain of islands in the Pacific Ocean was of itself a subject which ought to arrest the attention of the American people, and prompt the government to such speedy and effective action as should be a fitting response to this formidable extension of British power. The whole country north and west was, in fact, environed and menaced by a cordon of British military and naval establishments, and by lines of British railroads and steamships which, in the event of war between Great Britain and the United States, would give the former immense advantages. These forces would fall with unimpeded and relentless power upon the people and industries and commerce of the Northwestern Pacific Coast. Oregon, Washington and Alaska, with all their limitless resources unprotected, would become the sport and toy of GREAT BRITAIN.

Dolph said that Puget Sound possessed all the advantages that could be found for a first class naval station. The importance of the subject could not be overestimated. His colleague has referred to the British influence in the Hawaiian Islands, but the United States cannot permit those islands to pass under the control of any European power, because their possession by any modern naval power would give to that power control, not only over the Pacific commerce of the United States, but also over its coastwise commerce. We cannot afford to allow foreign conquests and acquisitions to be carried to our very doors. If we do, we shall abdicate the position which our power, our influence, our wealth and our location permit us to retain among the nations of the earth.

The joint resolution was referred to the committee on naval affairs.

The Senate then took up the Blair education bill as unfinished business.

Cameron moved that when the Senate adjourned today it adjourned to meet on Monday. The motion was agreed to: Yeas, 43; nays, 10.

REAGAN

opposed the education bill. He felt it due to the people of his state to give the reason why he should vote against the bill. So much of the purpose of the bill as looked to the enlargement of common school facilities had his hearty approval. It was not to the purposes of the bill, but to the methods of the bill, he was opposed. His opposition to it was based upon the absence of the power in Congress to enact such a law. Its passage would be the adoption of a policy of centralization which would establish a despotism of the popular majority, overthrow the Constitution and endanger the liberties of the people. It offered a bribe of money to the people to sacrifice their manhood, self-reliance and state government. It would be the surrender by the people of their birthright for a

MESS OF POTTAGE.

He said the Southern States were not in need of federal aid for the support of their common schools, and showed that in the State of Texas the school fund for this year was $3,100,000.

Vest obtained the floor, but yielded to Plumb, who offered an amendment to the second section, providing that the money shall be distributed among the several states and territories in proportion to their population, according to the census of 1880.

George stated that democratic senators had voted for this bill on the two occasions when it passed the Senate and gave their names. The number of democratic senators voting against was thirteen.

Plumb suggested an inquiry whether the objection to giving the list was the apprehension that any of the senators who had voted for the bill might get away.

After an executive session the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The House adjourned till Monday next.

Dr. Bigbill—You may thank your stars, sir, that physicians in these days don't bleed patients afflicted with your malady as they used to.

Patient (dubiously)—I'm not so sure that they don't, doctor.

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are fidgetty, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before.
