

SOUTH TEMPLE PAVING HELD UP.

Council Divided Between the Proposals of Laying Asphalt and Macadam.

D. F. WALKER BLOCK PETITION.

Committee Reports Against Permission to Add Another Story to the Building—Walls Too Light.

Three members of the committee on streets of the city council last evening discussed the paving of east South temple street, but could come to no definite agreement in regard to the matter, so they decided to refer it back to the council for final action. Some are in favor of paving the entire street from State to Tenth East street, with asphalt, as provided in the original plan, while others favor paving from State to E street with asphalt and from E to Tenth East street with macadam. A number of property owners petitioned the council to use macadam instead of asphalt as the former would cost about $4 per front foot less than the latter. While there were not enough votes against the improvement to defeat it, still some of the councilmen believe that the property owners should not be compelled to pay the additional cost of using asphalt if they do not favor it, but that macadam should be used for at least part of the work. Should the council decide to use macadam in part of the work the entire matter will have to be re-advised before the improvement can be commenced.

The committee on fire department and engineering denied the petition of D. F. Walker, presented by his agent, H. G. Raybould, to be allowed to add another story to the D. F. Walker building. A petition to add the fifth story to the building was issued by former Building Inspector Ulmer, but it was annulled by present Building Inspector Lewis for the reason that the walls of the building are not of sufficient thickness and strength to bear the additional weight of another story. Mr. Ulmer appeared before the committee and urged that the petition be issued and said that the ordinances are so faulty that they specify only the thickness of walls in large buildings and do not specify the strength required. Councilman Neuharth said that the walls do not comply with the ordinances and that they are not strong enough to stand the additional weight. The committee in its session decided to report unfavorably on the petition.

The committee on municipal laws decided to amend the bicycle ordinance by including in the restricted bicycle district the sidewalks between South temple and First North streets and East temple and Third West streets. The committee on markets again considered the request of City Senator Weights and Measures Richards for permission to purchase a horse and buggy to use in his department, and decided to grant the officer permission to hire a horse and buggy five days each week if necessary at a cost not to exceed $150 per day.

The license of pawnbrokers will be reduced from $200 to $100 per annum in accordance with the decision of the license committee, which decided to make such a recommendation last night.

The department payrolls for the first half of June were referred to the finance committee and the chairman of the other committees interested at the adjourned session of the council last night, just before the committee meeting.

The council also adopted the resolution introduced by Black authorizing the board of public works to proceed at once with the paving of First street from State to A street.

CONTINUAL STRAIN.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of indigestion, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain" but they can remedy its health destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower, which tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to the whole system, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

pears, 200 of plums, 50 of peaches and half a ton of grapes.

A number of improvements at the southern Utah fruit farm were ordered, among them were the construction of a tank house and tank, and the purchase of a gasoline engine and pump, a farm team and wagon, etc.

The fruit crop outlook in most sections of the state was reported to be most promising. In Dixie and some of the southern counties of the state, late spring frosts had injured a great deal of the fruit and the crop would be short in those localities. The state fruit farm at St. George was hit hard by the frost, but there will be enough left probably to show the quality and variety of fruit that can be produced in Utah's Dixie.

A Very Close Call.

"I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run down people always gain new life, strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by Z. C. M. I. Drug Store. Price 25 cents.

REUBEN ROBERTS DEAD.

Passes Away as a Result of Injuries Received Last Monday.

The death of Reuben Arnold Roberts, son of Charles H. Roberts, postmaster of Bingham canyon, occurred last night at the Holy Cross hospital in this city. Mr. Roberts' demise was due to an injury received through falling from a sprinkling wagon on Monday last. It appears that while driving the wagon the wheels ran into a rut, throwing him to the ground and striking his head against a rock, causing a severe fracture of the skull. He was taken to the hospital Tuesday morning, where an operation was performed, but the injury was such that he died at 7 o'clock last night. Deceased was 29 years of age, and leaves a wife and one child.

PICKLED HUMAN HEAD.

Gruesome Relic of Barbaric Chief to Be Seen at World's Fair.

St. Louis.—The head of a South American tribal chieftain, cut off and preserved by his conqueror, a neighboring barbarian king, is a gruesome but interesting exhibit in the Brazilian section of the anthropological building at the world's fair. The head is a part of a collection of relics of the native tribes of Brazil. After being cut off, the head was treated after the custom in such cases by having all the facial and skull bones removed. It was then put through a process of curing that hardens the flesh and preserves the original color. As a result the head is practically unchanged, except in size. The process reduces the size and the once-savage chieftain's head now appears about the size of a man's hat. A luxuriant growth of hair of more than a foot in length is appended to the diminutive relic, the features of which are perfectly preserved. The mustache and beard are also perfect.

The specimen was secured from the warrior who decapitated it in the interior of South America and is the only relic of this nature on exhibition anywhere.
