

SOCIETY

C. Wood. The beautiful home on East South Temple street was beautifully decorated by the Salt Lake Floral company. The parlors being done in American Beauty roses and pink carnations, the rear parlor in deep red and white carnations, the dining room in pink with carnations and pink shaded candelabra, and the hall entirely in green. Here an orchestra was stationed, rendering a delightful program of music during the evening. Assisting in receiving were Mesdames A. C. Allen, J. X. Ferguson and Messrs. Joseph Barrett and Simon Bamberger. Mrs. Harkness and Mrs. Sol Siegel poured coffee in the dining room, and Misses Dorn and Mar-

ROSEBERRY'S SON SHORTLY TO WED.

One of the most interesting matches of English society is the engagement of Lady Marjorie Grey, daughter of the famous Countess of Warwick, to Lord Dalmeny, eldest son of the earl of Roseberry. The young man is only 21 years of age while the bride to be has just turned 18. Dalmeny has an inheritance from his mother of $10,000,000. The young couple are anxious to wed immediately.

gic Miller served punch. About 250 guests were present.

On Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wood entertained at a second reception in honor of their children, the affair being on the same elaborate scale. The hosts and guests of honor were assisted in receiving by the same people as previously with the addition of Messrs. Kimball and Van Ness to the receiving party. About 250 guests were present to enjoy the delightful affair.

On Wednesday night Mrs. Dinwoody, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jennings and Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Morris entertained at a large card party at the home of Mrs. Dinwoody, the affair being a most elaborate and delightful one. The rooms were decorated in pink and white flowers, with vines and palms, and the scenes were in the shape of hearts with cupid's done in water colors pasted on the cards. The first ladies' prize was won by Mrs. S. I. Clawson, the second by Mrs. Melvin Morris, the first gentleman's by Mr. J. H. Moyle, and the second by Mr. H. M. Dinwoody. Nearly a hundred guests were present to enjoy the pleasant affair.

PARIS MODEL COAT.

Coat of white peau de sole lined with white China silk. Applications of black lace on cape and revers, edged with narrow black velvet ribbon, with bows on the deep wide cuffs. The ribbon that ties in front is laced through worked eyelet holes.

One of the prettiest events of the week was the card party given by Mrs. Simon Bamberger on Thursday afternoon. The game was hearts and hearts and cupid's abounded in the decorations, the entire scheme being in red. The rooms were ablaze with the brilliant color, strands of red hearts being drawn from each corner to the chandeliers, where they were caught with great bows and streamers of red ribbon. In the parlor the strands were drawn to the mantel and held by a cupid. The dining room was especially artistic. In the center of the table was a cluster of carnations, and overhead was a cut glass candelabra holding carnations and ferns. Strings of hearts made a border for the cloth, and heart shaped dishes held the bon bons. At each end of the

SOCIAL CHAT

Mrs. Mabel Miner McClure and Mrs. E. S. Perry entertained delightfully at luncheon on Monday. The affair took place at the home of Mrs. McClure, and 10 guests were present. The decorations were in pink and white and were artistically carried out in a centerpiece of carnations, candelabra shaded in pink, and valentines in pink and white. The guests were: Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Downey, Mrs. Dooly, Mrs. Holman, Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. John Marshall, Mrs. Harkness, Mrs. Bascom, Mrs. Kerr and Mrs. William Reid.

On Tuesday Mrs. McClure and Mrs. Perry entertained at a second luncheon, the decorations being in the same shades, and prettily carried out in flowers, pink ribbon, and candles, shaded in pink. The place cards were foreign postal cards. The following were present: Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Fischer, Mrs. Masters, Mrs. Sturgis, Mrs. Bird, Mrs. Fabian, Mrs. Mont Perry, Mrs. E. C. Howard, Mrs. R. G. Smith, Mrs. O. W. Powers, Miss Woodward and Miss McCornick.

Mrs. McClure and Mrs. E. S. Perry were hostesses at a third delightful luncheon on Thursday, the event being a dinner at which 12 guests were present. The table was beautifully decorated, pink roses forming the centerpiece, while pink tulips surrounded the table, pink candles were used, and pink and white valentines were the place cards. The guests were: Gov. and Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Fischer, the Misses Thorne, Anderson, Read, and Messrs. W. J. Lawrence, Whitley, E. Ellis Brown, Fred Lyon and F. C. Schramm.

Among the notably pretty events of the week was the luncheon given by Mrs. P. Kerwin in honor of Mrs. Fred Noble on Wednesday. The function was given at the Commercial club, the private dining room being prettily decorated for the occasion. Red prevailed, the table having a bank of red carnations, and ferns, candelabra shaded in red, and place cards in valentine design of the same color. Covers were laid for 20.

The Commercial club was the scene of another pleasant social affair on Wednesday, Senator A. B. Lewis entertaining a party of 25 gentlemen at an elegantly appointed dinner. The guests were chiefly comprised of the party of Boston men who are here to inspect the mines near Millford.

An enjoyable dancing party was given at the Ladies' Literary club house on Tuesday night, a large number being present. The committee on arrangements included Dr. Hopkins, Judge Sheekel and A. G. Mahan. About 200 people were present.

Miss Florence Sears entertained at a large Kensington this afternoon.

One of the elaborate affairs of the week was the dinner given at the Alta club last night by Mr. J. M. Callow.

Mrs. E. W. Wilson entertained at a pleasant afternoon affair yesterday.

Mrs. Harry Ganz entertained at a delightful afternoon function yesterday.

Mrs. Dinwoody, Mrs. Joseph Jennings and Mrs. R. Morris entertained at a large Kensington on Tuesday afternoon about 150 guests being present. The rooms were prettily decorated in lavender and white, and these colors were carried out in the refreshments. A paper heart contest was a feature of the afternoon, each guest being supplied with sheets of tissue paper in the prevailing tints, and prizes being awarded the most artistic and the most grotesque of the creations in the shape table was a candelabra shaded in red, and at opposite corners were large bows of ribbon. Red carnations were on the mantel, which was also strung with candy hearts. The lights throughout were shaded in red and the entire effect was beautiful. Large valentines were used for scores and the tallies. Prizes were won by Mrs. John Dorn, Mrs. J. M. Dart, Mrs. Oberdorfer and Mrs. Vincent.

Mrs. Charles Brink was hostess at a delightful card party on Thursday, given in honor of Miss Ireland, the valentine idea being carried out in decorations scores and tallies, red and green prevailing. Prizes in the contest were won by Miss Ellerbeck, Miss Maude Parker and Miss Marie Ireland. The guests to meet Miss Ireland were Mrs. Archer, Mrs. Will Browning, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Burrows, Mrs. Bogue, Mrs. Crenay, Mrs. Critzer, Mrs. Cowan, Mrs. Druehl, Mrs. Ellerbeck, Mrs. S. D. Evans, Mrs. James X. Ferguson, Mrs. R. D. Grant, Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Kenyon, Mrs. Heber Lee, Mrs. Love, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Mayo, Mrs. Milner, Mrs. Oswald, Mrs. Pfeutz, Mrs. G. B. Pfouts, Mrs. E. R. G. Smith, Mrs. Scarff, Mrs. Carver, Mrs. E. A. Hall, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Whitner, Mrs. Young and Mrs. M. Walker, and the Misses Binford, Crenay, Cowan, Ellerbeck, Hobbs, I. Kenyon, Jackson, Noble, Parker, Radcliff, Hague and Dean.

Among the card parties of the week was that given by Madame Pfouts and Mrs. G. B. Pfouts, the same being "63." The rooms were prettily decorated and the afternoon delightfully spent. Prizes were won by Mrs. Magath, Mrs. Hoyt Sherman and Mrs. Hanauer.

Mrs. James Hickey entertained at an enjoyable card party on Wednesday night. The rooms were decorated in pink and green, carnations, roses, vines and ferns being used with pretty effect.

Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Morris will entertain at cards tonight in honor of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Sloan of Grand Junction.

Mrs. Charles Fiffel was hostess at a pleasant card party this afternoon.

Miss Dorn will entertain at a valentine party tonight.

Mrs. Russell L. Tracy was hostess at one of the numerous card parties of the week, the entertainment being whist. Prizes were won by Mrs. D. C. Roberts and Mrs. E. W. Whitney.

Mesdames S. and M. Woolf were hostesses at the card party given by the Jewish Relief society this week. The affair was delightfully planned, and most enjoyable, about 50 ladies being present. The prizes were won by Mrs. Ed. Silberstein, Mrs. Theresa Simon, Mrs. Hesselberg and Mrs. J. J. Moss.

Misses Minerva and Eleonore Jensen pleasantly entertained last Monday evening at ping pong and cards, after which a dainty supper was served. The guests were: Misses Judith Anderson, Ina Smith, Katherine Williamson, Mona Wilcox, Rebecca Christensen, Louise Barnes, Messrs. Willard Smith, Will White, Claude Cannon, Wesley Smith, Romm Hansen, Fred Wilcox, Nils Anderson, Gilbert Davis, Archie Wilkinson, George D. Bennett, and Parley P. Jensen.

of hearts. Mrs. John Sharp won first prize and Mrs. Margaret Clawson consolation.

The dancing party given by the ladies of the First Unitarian society on Thursday night was a most successful affair.

Mr. Henry Peery was host at a dinner given to a number of his friends at the Alta club last night.

The J. T. N's. gave one of their enjoyable dancing parties at the Ladies' Literary club last night, the pleasant affair being enjoyed by a large number.

An event of interest next week will be the evening entertainment in the Twentieth ward hall on Thursday, the affair to include the charming operetta, "A Garden of Singing Flowers," besides an excellent program of music and recitations and the "Coronation Ballet." The entertainment promises unusual excellence and should be generously patronized. The program begins promptly at 8 o'clock.

Mad. and Mrs. Downey gave an old fashioned dinner on Thursday, 25 of their old friends being invited to participate. Three tables were spread, each having its distinctive decorative scheme one being in pink roses, the other in red carnations, and the third in white carnations and jonquils. An old fashioned menu was served, the guests who enjoyed it being Mr. and Mrs. George Y. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bancroft, Judge and Mrs. Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. Daggett, Mr. and Mrs. Holman, Mr. and Mrs. McCornick, Mr. and Mrs. Salisbury, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Sherman, Judge and Mrs. Harkness, Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. Calhoun, George M. Scott, Col. Donnellan, Judge Marshall and Col. Bubb.

Mrs. R. C. Naylor entertained a few friends informally at her home yesterday, the time being spent chiefly in sewing. Present were: Mrs. A. W. McCune, Jr., Miss Hattie Jennings, Miss Tessie Williams, Miss Kathie Dougall and Miss Claire Dougall.

One of the prettiest of valentine parties was that given by Mrs. H. G. Whitney this afternoon for her daughter Marian. The occasion was the ninth birthday of the little hostess, and about 75 of her friends were present to enjoy the event. The rooms were decorated with valentines, there was a postoffice with valentines for the guests, and the valentine idea was carried out in all details. Dainty refreshments were served and the affair throughout was delightful.

Miss Lucile Taylor entertained at a pleasant Kensington on Wednesday.

Mrs. D. C. Roberts gave an afternoon reception today in honor of Miss Hattie Jennings.

Mrs. Russell Tracy entertained informally at luncheon yesterday.

Mrs. J. T. Richards gave a delightful party at her home today in honor of Mrs. Fred Scarff.

Mrs. Margaret Buchanan, president of the Fifth ward Y. L. M. I. A., was tendered a birthday surprise party at her home on Seventh South street Thursday night. The affair was under the auspices of the association and the evening was pleasantly spent in games and an informal program of music. Refreshments were also served. Mrs. Buchanan was presented with a handsomely bound volume of the book of Doctrine and Covenants.

Miss Ethel Farrington was the important hostess at a pleasant affair last Tuesday night, a number of her friends gathering unexpectedly at her home in honor of her sixteenth birthday. Music and games were the features of the evening. Dainty refreshments were served. The guests were: Ella Farrington, Birdie Snowball, Mary Pickering, Ora Smith, Alga Morck, Mary Burton, Willie Jones, Sanas Hardin, Albert Carrington, Jean May, Charles Burton, Frank Farrington, Mr. Snowball.

Paris model gown of light grey satin surah, the figure in pale green and white. The bands of same pattern in darker shade, edged with white lace insertion, the skirt is cut in the new fan back with seam in front. The blouse shows the modish bertha, and large sleeves gathered into a deep cut of tucked white chiffon, the yoke of the same with lace over. Hat of grey chip, trimmed with black velvet and pale pink roses.

Miss Edna Sands. Afterward dainty refreshments were served. The dancing party given at Christensen's on Tuesday evening by the Local Lodge, No. 57, of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers was a brilliant affair in every way. It was the third annual ball given by this

WALKER'S STORE.

A GREAT EVENT IN NEW SPRING COTTON FABRICS!

16 $\frac{1}{2}$ c KINDS 9c AND 10c A YARD—12 $\frac{1}{2}$ c FOR 7c.

AS SPLENDID AN ACCOMPLISHMENT as the Walker Store has perfected in many a year. To go along, though, and tell you how our buyers now in eastern markets brought about such an amazing price-lowering on new, crisp cottons, fresh from the mills, won't be necessary. Announcement will be sufficient to bring you here to see. Then you'll buy. Perhaps because February is a most opportune month in which to have sewing done, but certainly because of their goodness coupled with cheapness. Sale begins Monday, lasts until all the goods are gone. Lots are ample:

Two thousand yards of the excellent "Westminster" lawns, ring, scroll, stripes, figure pattern designs on light grounds and black and white effects; 32-inch fabrics. Made to sell at 16 $\frac{1}{2}$ c a yard, instead—9c.

Canvas weave madras—the fabric that will be largely used for shirt waists and shirt waist suits—in reseda, pink, blue, cadet blue, tan and black shades and black and white; 30 inches wide. Market price should be 16 $\frac{1}{2}$ c a yard, but—10c.

"Grenada" percales—no better made. Dark red, navy blue and black with small white figures or stripes; 32 inches wide. A grade sold the country over at 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ c a yard, these—7c.

The first invoice of white shirt waist goods has just gone into stock. They are the exquisite mercerized fabrics that will be more than ever popular this year. These the kind that keep their silky sheen forever, the mercerizing having been done in the yarn. Handsome pattern designs on some that stand out like rich embroidery, others plain, 20c, 30c, 35c to 60c a yard.

DOMESTIC SECTION.

Walker Brothers Dry Goods Co.