BREVITIES.

A man of many views.—The carpenter.

The only man who can beat time.—

The drummer.

Boarding house bread.—'Tis but a little failed flour.

Marked men.—Mark Lemon, Mark

Smith, Mark Twain and Blumstein.

A Cincinnati minister preaches on

"What I know About Hell."

Indigestion and industry are two things seldom found united.

An exchange says that the man who couldn't find his match had to go to bed in the dark.

Chillicothe, Ohio, in 1868 had a population of 7,106. In 1870 its population was 8,944—showing an increase of 244 in sixty-four years.

Whatever Misses touched turned into gold. In these days touch a man with gold and he'll turn into anything.

An author ridiculing the idea of ghosts says how a dead man can get locked into a room. Probably with a skeleton key.

It is possible Miss, that you don't know the name of your best friend?

"Certainly, I do," says a lady. "What my name may be a year from now."

About the only person that we ever heard of that was not spotted by being lionized was the Jew named Daniel.

"Well," says Jones, "I always make it a rule to take note of everything that happens." "Oh, my dear fellow, that is nothing; I tell my wife lots of things that never happen."

Our neighbor is still arguing against the credit system. Let him try to get credit anywhere to the amount of five dollars, and he will find that his argument is perfectly conclusive.

A writer asks through the farmers' department of a contemporary, if any one can inform a poor man as to the best way to start a little nursery. Why, by getting married, of course.

A clergyman down East asked a woman what she had baptised, as she was coming out of the water, how she felt in her mind, and was somewhat surprised to hear her answer, "Bully!"

J. J. McMillan, short-hand reporter of the Washington Globe, says, "I have written with both hands at the same time, the left taking notes and the right transcribing. He is said to be the only person in the world who can do this.

A college professor having requested that some man should go to the president's office on an errand, nearly the whole class rose to their feet. The professor's question, "How many of you do you think it takes to make a man?"

quickly brought them to their seat again.

SENATE.

Min. Klux investigations.—Steamer subsidy bill.

WASHINGTON, 2.—In the Senate, Cole, presented a petition of the assistant marshals of California for additional compensation.

The Senate select committee on the alleged Southern outrages examined several witnesses from North Carolina, today, for the purpose of obtaining additional proof to show the existence of the Klan Klan organization in that State and of the murders and other crimes committed by its members.

The committee have already examined about fifty witnesses. It is not supposed that they will complete their examination during this session, although before the close of the present Congress they will make a partial report.

Sanitary rose to a question of privilege, and moved to reconsider the vote by which Pomeroy's resolution of sympathy with the people of France and Germany was laid over yesterday.

He proceeded to criticize the grammari-cal construction of the resolution, but the Vice-President remarked that debate upon the motion was not in order.

Messrs. Conkling and Pomeroy declined a vote at that time, and the question was put. Sanitary then responded in the affirmative to the great amusement of the galleries. The motion to reconsider was therefore lost. At 1:30 o'clock the Senate agreed, by a vote of yeas 33, nays 24, to the pending motion of Williams to proceed with the bill substituting a steamship line in the Gulf of Mexico. The vote was not regarded as a test in view of a general disposition to allow Senator Kellogg, from Louisiana, to address the Senate on the subject. Kellogg then proceeded to urge the claims of the Gulf States upon the liberality and attention of the Government.

Williams moved to take up the first of the bills, and the Senate agreed to take up the bill to amend an act relating to the Gulf of Mexico. A discussion arose as to an understanding of which bill was to be taken up, whether this one or the other. Kellogg, however, insisted that the bill to amend the act allowing the Senator from Louisiana, (Kellogg) to address the Senate in support of the bill in accordance with previous notice should be taken up first.

Conkling was disposed to recommence his friend Kellogg, but did not wish to commit to take up the bill to be considered as an indication of favor to it. He made a statement in consequence of the singular course of newspapers, charging Senators who introduced a subsidy bill with favoring the measure; for one he had heard seen one of these bills he could vote for, yet, because by request he had introduced one of these measures, he had been charged by the Chicago Tribune with an attempt to engineer the job through the Senate. Nye was not at all sensitive on newspaper criticisms and would favor taking up the measure, but he thought that the main object of subsidies was to enrich a few interested parties, and suggested that the most effective measure of restoring American commerce was to purchase more steamers abroad.

WASHINGTON.

Commissioner Wilson. The Japanese

Embassy.—Revenue Committee.

WASHINGTON, 2.—Commissioner

Pleasanton has decided that, under the provisions of section 37 of the act of July 18th, 1870, the American Board of Missionaries for foreign missions is released from all liability for the subscription or levy of taxes which were imposed at the date of passage of that act, and that, after that date, no such taxes can accrue. It has also been decided that the taxes of 25 per cent. upon the undivided profits and dividends of interested parties, enumerated in section 15 of the act of July 14, 1870, should be withheld only from that portion of midwinter dividends which were received between December 31st, 1870, and that no tax whatever should be withheld from the portion earned and accrued during the last five months of 1870. All previous rules of the Internal Revenue Bureau, inconsistent with the above, are revoked. Claims for abatement will be propounded in all cases where payments have been made contrary to the tenor of this decision.

First Lieut. Alexander Grant, of the first cavalry, is ordered to accompany a detachment of recruits from St. Louis to the division of the Pacific. Captain Farmer, of the 12th infantry, has been assigned a similar duty.

One nomination was sent to the Senate to-day: that of Samuel Coulter, for Collector of Internal Revenue for Washington Territory.

The nomination in the Executive session of the Senate yesterday, over the nomination of the General Land Office was quite animated and, at one period, rather exciting; the session was chiefly spent in attempting to secure a compromise of the Senate to order a commissioner to give Joseph Wilson time to arrange his papers, and moving to repeal the act which authorized the Senator Harlan to oppose this bill.

Senator Harlan, however, in his speech, intimated that this bill was not made in good faith.

This charge brought Nye to his feet, in a sharp reply, followed by Con-kling, who said that the bill was made in good faith. Conkling made a speech in favor of the immediate confirmation of Dr. Hammond, and was taken down after Conkling had, resuming in Hammond's place, in a speech in which he declared that he was not a party to the bill.

The Japanese embassy, accompanied by the Secretary of State, sailed for Walla Walla today, and will be speaks to the President. The Japanese assistant Minister of Finance informed the President that the object of his mission was to obtain an insight concerning the management of our financial system.

ILLINOIS.

The "Alabama."

CHICAGO, 2.—The Times New York special says it is currently reported in political circles here to-night that the President has firmly resolved to make the Butler programme on the Alabama claims his own, and to take a stand in regard to this question more in consistence with the popular demand. This involves the superseding of Fish by McCullough, who is looked for by the Department, and is the sole cause for the delay of Schenck's departure. Senator Domingue will very shortly be replaced by the Alabama claims and a grand effort made to have the question settled forever upon a basis more humiliating to Great Britain than the one of 1855 by Russia, and then making England's consent if she may do so. Not only Fish but McCullough is to leave the Cabinet.

Several names are mentioned in connection with the Treasury, but great railroad man boast that Jay Cook's chances are the best, as the President places great faith in McCullough's financial abilities and relies upon having indirect advantage of his counsel through Cooke, who is now McCullough's partner.

victed of murder, for shooting Dr.
