Morgan said the fears of the Senator rom Ohio (Sherman) are groundless. masters, and that there is no State if he supposed any injury could come to the proper business of the country where this industry is not pursued; second, that the product of wool for the year 1883 reached 320,000,600 lbs., to the proper business of the country by the investigation proposed. The business of the country did not mean the operations of stock gamblers. Morgan criticles the action of the Secretary of the Treasury for his inter-ference in the late trouble, and officers of the Government generally, for not seeing that the banking haws ware en-forced. We might as well, he said, farm out our credit to faro dealers in Pennsylvania Avenue, as to allow the National Banks of New York to farm out their credit to stock gambling and farm out our credit to faro dealers in Pennsylvania Avenue, as to allow the National Banks of New York to farm out their credit to stock gambling and other speculative operators, men who made a business of buying and selling things that had no existence, and that were all characterized by the question on imaginary and mythical existences propounded a few days ago in New York by Francis W. Bangs to Ferdi-nand Ward. Morgan feared much, however that parties who had so long our cultre system of agriculture will be embarrassed, our capacity for the pro-duction of meats, breadstuffs and other articles required by our civilization will be serionsly diminished, and our great property impaired. We cannot afford as a nation to endanger a great articultural pursuit, which adds each year directly $150,000,000 to the nation's wealth, having invested in real estate not less than $500,000,000 of capital, and which con-indirectly so extensively to the na-tion's prosperity; fourth, that the act of 1883, reducing duties on foreign wools, has seriously injured, and if con-tinued will in future diminish, if it does not substantially destroy the pro-duction of wool and sheep in the Unit-ed States; and this assertion we sushowever, that parties who had so long been pets would at least be permitted to subside into quietude and pence among the millions they had laid aside, while those who had been wronged would remain unavenged. attacked two young girls, manufers of prominent citizens, and attempted to ontrage both; but they succeeded in breaking from his grasp and escaping. Continuing his course up the street the villain then attacked a servant girl, whose cries brought a policeman. A battle ensued, and the negro was badly besten, and it is believed abot, not-withstanding which the negro downed the policeman with a rock and escaped. Over 200 citizens are now scouring the town and suburbs in search. It is certain that lynching awaits the negro if caught. The two young ladies as-saulted were Allee Hanns, aged 15, and a daughter of Judge Gilbert. The former received a severe gash on her forehead; eye badly injured. The lat-ter was struck in the side with a knife, which struck her corset stays, saving duction of wool and sheep in the Unit-ed States; and this assertion we sus-tain by these facts. The report then poes on to show that by it the clip of 1883 caused a loss of over $16,000,000 to the wool growers, compared with 1882, and predicts a much greater loss for 1884.
