FRAGMENTS.

SHIVERS on the decline.
 A fortnight's thieves made another raft last night.

WASHINGTON'S birthday comes on Sunday this year.

BENNY THOMAS was fined $5 to-day for last night's drunk.

The scaffolding is being taken down from the Theatre ceiling to-day.

The suit of Ida L. Smith vs. Jesse Smith was yesterday dismissed by Judge Poyer.

Wm. Cowan, who has been ill for some time, is improving. We hope soon to see him at his post in the Eagle House.

A VERY fine assayer's outfit was yesterday purchased at the Wasatch Pharmacy for shipment to the Henry Mountains.

McCORMICK & Co. received to-day one lot of Eureka ore, $1,100; one lot of Nevada, $1,200.

SILVER quotations correctly daily by Wells, Fargo & Co., New York, 107 & 108, London, 49-50-16.

JOE BUDGEMAN and Miss Rose Herman were yesterday married in Philadelphia. May Herrmann's garden always possesses a rooster.

T. B. JONES & Co. received yesterday ten cars of Germania bullion, $25,120.21; one car of Wood River ore, $27,392.21; total, $52,512.42.

WELLS, FARGO & Co. received to-day one lot of Vienna bullion, value $1,400; thirty-three bars of Ontario bullion, value $24,162.00.

The Union Pacific passenger train is reported six hours late. The Utah Central will run a special train to bring down the passengers and mail.

Lost, on Monday night, from the Pacific Express Co's wagon, a roll of papers. The finder will confer a favor by leaving it at the Express office.

This continuous snow keeps the sidewalks, and a number of men employed in clearing the street car track.

The colored department of the New Orleans Exposition is short of funds and cannot defray the transportation expense of the State and Territorial commissioners of that department. So says a circular from headquarters.

WE understand that James A. Mc-Knight, who has been confirmed as United States Consul for the island of St. Helena, will act as advance agent for the next three months for General Aganone's lecture and exhibition.

Boys are playing havoc with sparrows in this city. A number of these birds are being killed daily by "flippers" experts, besides this, dogs are punished and window glass broken. Cannot something be done to put a stop to this evil?

The High Priests of Salt Lake State will hold their regular monthly meeting at 7 p.m. to-morrow in the Social Hall. An interesting feature of the occasion will be a lecture on the history and character of Oliver Cowdery by Elder Samuel W. Richards.

LOCAL NEWS.

Michael Sullivan.—The body of Michael Sullivan, the miner who was killed by falling down the shaft of the Eureka mine, was brought to this city this evening.
 The remains were accompanied by seventy-five of his fellow-miners and delegations from Park City and Bingham. His funeral service was held in the Catholic church to-day. An inquest held over the remains resulted in a verdict that no one was responsible for the accident.

A Surprise.—Mr. Thomas Guest, paymaster and chief clerk of the D. & R. G. Western, was seen purchasing a lot of furniture, a short time ago; it looked suspicious, but Mr. Guest said nothing until yesterday afternoon, when he invited a few friends to call and see a pleasant home which had been fitted up. In the evening Mr.
 (Guest's friends assembled and Rev. I.
 C. Hill appeared and Miss Annie Spencer of Cincinnati, Ohio, was made Mrs. Guest. A pleasant time was had by all until eight o'clock.

Captured.—J. M. Lawrence, a man who skipped out of Salda, Colorado, some days ago, with money collected at an entertainment given by the Eastern Star Lodge of that place, has been in this city for several days. The last Sunday he was arrested by Captain Hawley, chief detective of the D. & R. G., who received telegraphic orders to make the arrest. The prisoner left to-day in company with Capt. Hawley, who goes as far as Grand Junction, where he will be met by Deputy Sheriff Duffer, who will escort Lawrence back to Salda.

Stuck in the Mud.—The Grand Jury paid a visit to Bountiful yesterday, to take the testimony of the witnesses, Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Kanner, who were subpoenaed last week, but whose delicate state of health would not permit them to attend court. A mammoth carry-all was chartered for the occasion, and the jurymen and escort seemed to enjoy the excursion until they lost their way, through the ignorance of the pilot or from some other cause. Instead of keeping the upper road leading direct to the settlement, they went through South and West Bountiful, one on the way got stuck in the mud twice. Two much irrigation may possibly have had something to do with their misadventures.

Court Proceedings.—The demurrer to the complaint in the case of Otto Homitz vs. Thos. Cupit et al., was overruled, an exception taken, and ten days allowed to answer. The case of the People vs. B. F. Bell was dismissed, as the jury were unable to agree.

Angus M. Cannon, indicted for unlawful cohabitation, was arraigned and given until Feb. 15th to plead.

In the case of the United States vs.
Wm. P. Williams for assault with a deadly weapon, the jury found the defendant guilty of battery.

John Aird indicted for polygamy and unlawful cohabitation entered a plea of not guilty.

Examination of witnesses in the case of the People vs. John Kelly for burglary, was in progress when we went to press.

JED. WOODARD.

A SKETCH OF HIS EARLY LIFE.

The Sevier Valley Echo, in giving the particulars of the shooting of Jed Woodard at Panguitch some time ago, which are substantially the same as we have already published, says concerning the deceased:

"A system of reform dances had been inaugurated to which Woodard was not admitted. On this particular evening he was determined to dance, whether the committee would sell him a ticket or not, and made so much disturbance that Sheriff Pace was ordered to arrest him. Knowing him to be a desperate character he took a deputy, Wm. Cameron, to assist him. Pace ordered Woodard to throw up his hands, where, instead of complying, he rushed at Pace with a drawn knife.
 They clinched and Woodard succeeded in getting Pace by the throat. Pace fired two shots: the first ball just grazing the back of Woodard's neck and the second entering the head behind the left ear. Death was instantaneous.
 There was no regret at his death, except that a respectable man, although in the strict discharge of his duty, and in self defense, was obliged to kill him.
 He has been known all his life as a ruffian and a bully, a promoter of strife and an oppressor of the weak, besides having in his youth committed a cold-blooded murder. He was expelled from the district school at Lehi, when a boy of 18, for gambling and other disorderly conduct. For two years he nursed the famous dry, frequently uttering threats against his former teacher, W. P. Thurman, a young man beloved and respected by all who knew him, whose prospects were bright for a long and useful life. Woodard had been absent at a mining camp for some time and returning the evening before Christmas. He visited the school house where Mr. Thurman, assisted by his pupils, was preparing a Christmas admittance on being told that the doors would not be opened to the public until 7 o'clock when he would be admitted, he kicked a paper on the door. Again he demanded admittance, saying he wished to settle for the damages. Mr. Thurman referred him to the trustees. He then became personal, using the most abusive epithets and vilest of insults.
 Mr. Thurman, who was exasperated beyond endurance, opened the door and stepped out, when he shot him dead."

Jed Woodard was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary after two years spent in giving him new trials, but was pardoned out in about 15 months. Since that time he has been a terror to all with whom he came in contact. Mr. Thurman left a wife and two children, and Jed Woodard, "The mills of the gods grind slowly, but they grind exceeding fine."

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

CULLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

—Owen McDermott, stationed at Lookout, W. T., fell from the platform last Sunday and broke his right shoulder.

—George Beinhart, a young man of Omaha, took an ounce of laudanum last Wednesday, because his sister went back on him. He will recover.

—The present snowstorm seems to be quite extensive, the adjacent States and Territories appear to be having a generous fall of "the beautiful," as well as Utah.

—Joseph Woods, of Panguitch, was up before Justice Myers, of that town, on Wednesday last, charged with stealing hay from the wife of James Houston, absent on a mission, and was found guilty and fined $150 and costs.

—A man by the name of Wm. Crayford, a former resident of Omaha, was brought to Ogden yesterday to be placed in the hospital, in consequence of having been accidentally shot in the leg by a pistol ball, at Eagle Rock, Idaho.

—Men posted in Wyoming, say Rawlins will this year have a boom unprecedented in the history of the West; that Eastern capitalists are becoming excited over the developments so far made, and are ready and anxious to put their money into oil lands.

—The Colorado Legislature is petitioned to establish an experimental farm at some suitable place in San Luis Valley, to be under the charge of the State Agricultural College. A large number of farmers, stockgrowers and people who are interested in seeing the country developed, are urging the proposition.

—Laramie, Wyoming, is about to have extensive reduction works built, to reduce the ores which abound in the surrounding region, a large share of which will not pay to ship off any great distance to be worked up. A company has been formed with a capital stock of $100,000 to build the works, and sufficient money has already been subscribed to ensure their erection.

—A shooting affray occurred on the 5th at Bellevue, Montana, between James Connors and Griff Thomas, who had been indulging in a night's carousal, which wound up with a quarrel.
 Thomas shot Connors just below the breast, and it is feared the wound will prove fatal, though at last accounts the injured man was resting quietly.
 Thomas is under arrest.

A vacation home was recently run out of Lovellville by the police and other officers of that town, as he had long been an annoying and expensive nuisance to the place. He was escorted a considerable distance on his journey by officer White. After finding he must go, he dropped his Danish accent, turned upon the officer and dressed him up with some of the best English language that he had heard for months. He was a pretty sleek vagabond.

—The family of Wm. Roehoford, of Omaha, were brought near to death's door last Thursday night by escaping coal gas. Himself, wife and their five children had retired, closing a base burner stove securely as they supposed, with the doors of the chambers opening into the room in which the stove stood. The baby was alling slightly and restless and its crying aroused the father about midnight. He found himself hardly able to rise and noticed that his wife and one of the children, were struggling for breath.
 Comprehending the situation, he made his way to the doors, threw them open, and called to the neighbors for help.
 This gave partial relief to the victims, and the neighbors telephoned for Dr.
 Sretman, who completed airing the house, and gave such remedies as were necessary to revive the family. They were all pronounced out of danger, but had a very narrow escape. An examination of the stove showed that a piece of mica had fallen inward from one of the doors, allowing the deadly gas to escape and fill the rooms.

Fall of A Barn.—A large barn belonging to H. C. Jacobs, of the 18th Ward, broke in this afternoon from the weight of snow upon it. We were unable to learn of the extent of the damage before going to press.

The El Paso Lone Star thus describes an interesting exhibit which recently passed through that place on its way from California to the New Orleans Exposition. "It consists of a cast of a mountain, made of silver, resting upon a base about five feet long, three and a half wide and eight inches thick. This is a cast of solid silver and bears upon each side a medallion of Hidalgo and the words in Spanish: 'From the State of Chihuahua to the New Orleans Exposition.' The cast of the mountain, which is hollow, but nevertheless magnificent, is about three and a half feet high. It has two peaks, is quite natural in appearance, is covered with cacti and other Mexican vegetation, and has a band of soldiers scaling its sides and an Indian shooting a deer with a bow and arrow at its base. All cast in silver.
 The whole thing weighs about three tons and is valued at $50,000."

The uncertainty of what mortals are exposed in this little world of their attempts to find a safe place of deposit for hoarded wealth is illustrated by a case recently brought before a Chicago police magistrate. An Irishman by the name of Paislok Moran, employed in the Rock Island depot in renovating cars, had a horde of Italians up for robbing him. In the course of the examination Moran told a story of disappointments which he had met with, in brief as follows: He first saved $2,000, which he deposited in a savings bank. The bank failed and his money was lost. Having no further confidence in banks, he next deposited his savings with a yard master, whom he took to be an honest man, but when the deposits had accumulated to the neat little sum of $2,000, the yard master made away with the money. Thereupon, feeling that neither bank nor yard-master could be trusted, he had just-faith in others generally, obtained a belt to wear around his waist in which to carry his savings, and after he had gathered together the sum of $1,000, he happened to get drunk and go to sleep in an Italian saloon. When he awoke his treasure was gone, and his confidence also to every place and person, including himself, to deposit money with.
