

DR. KING ACTED INDEPENDENTLY
Employed an Assistant Without Consulting With the Council.

RESULT A DISPUTED CLAIM.

Consolidated Railway and Power Company Asks for Brief Extension to Procure Evidence.

The appointment of Dr. F. H. Royce as assistant quarantine inspector by the City Physician King without consulting the council in regard to the matter caused considerable comment at the council meeting last evening. Dr. Royce has been serving in that capacity for the past two months and the bill for his services for that period amounting to $250 was referred to the council by the sanitary committee with a recommendation that it be paid. President Cottrell failed to see where Dr. King obtained his authority to employ an assistant. The only authority he had was from a resolution adopted in January, 1900, three years ago, which provided for a contingency existing at that time and did not apply, according to President Cottrell, to this year or even last year. Daveler accused Cottrell of having a personal spite against the health physician which caused his attack on the department. He argued that inasmuch as Dr. Royce had rendered services he should be paid his salary. Thomas settled the matter by suggesting that the bill be paid and that Dr. King be notified that in the future he must consult the council before making appointments or does other things which involve the expenditure of money. With that understanding the council voted to allow Dr. Royce's salary for both months.

WANT MORE TIME.
The Consolidated Railway & Power company petitioned the council to extend the ordinance requiring all of its company's cars to be provided with brakes by April 1 so that the time may be extended to June 1, 1903. The company stated in its communication that it had provided 44 of its cars with brakes at a cost of $14,000 and that it would require until June 1 to complete the work. Should the time be extended it promises to continue with the work with all possible speed and diligence. The matter was referred to the committee on municipal laws.

WANT NUISANCE ABATED.
Albert E. Atkins and 12 other residents in the neighborhood of Fifth and N streets entered a complaint against the unsanitary condition of that corner. It has been used of late as a dumping ground for rubbish of all kinds, making it a nuisance. They asked that the city complete the grading of Fifth street at that point and thereby abate the nuisance complained of. The committee on streets will investigate the matter.

FOR PERSONAL INJURIES.
Charles Gillespie presented a claim for $500 as damages for injuries sustained by a fall on the walk on Fourth street between Second and Third streets on Feb. 8, 1903. The uneven and dangerous condition of the walk, he alleged, caused her fall which resulted in her breaking her leg in two places and otherwise injuring herself. The matter was referred to the committee on claims.

ASKS THAT LICENSES BE REVOKED.

Acting Chief Burbridge called the council's attention to the fact that John Sprinman and James Bombino, proprietors and bartenders at the saloons at Nos. 124 and 125 south State street, had been found guilty of selling liquor on Sunday and recommended that their licenses be revoked. The matter was referred to the police and prison committee for consideration.

RESOLUTION OF SYMPATHY.
The following resolution of sympathy was adopted by a unanimous vote:
Resolved, That the sympathy of this council is hereby extended to our fellow citizens, F. S. Fernstrom, and his family, in their great bereavement occasioned by the death of his daughter.

SPECIAL POLICEMAN.
Acting Chief of Police Burbridge sent the appointment of Wren Wilkins as special policeman at the Rio Grande street depot to serve without pay from the city. This is the acting chief's first appointment and it was confirmed without opposition.

TELEPHONE TRANSFER.
Thomas introduced a resolution providing for the transfer of the franchise of the Utah Home Telephone company, a Nebraska corporation, to the Utah Telephone company, which is a Utah corporation. Both companies are controlled by identical parties. The company decided to incorporate under the laws of Utah and make a change in its name and to order the transfer of the franchise it was necessary to obtain the consent of the council. The resolution was passed unanimously.

EXPENSE MONEY.
The council by a vote of 3 to 2 adopted a resolution which appropriates $500 to defray the expenses of the city engineer on a trip to the east to inspect the latest and modern pavements and other improvements in large eastern cities.

WANTS MORE PAY.
R. W. McAllister, night watchman at the city and county building, asked the council to increase his salary from $20 to $27.50 per month. The committee

PAINE'S Celery Compound

Used in Springtime Will Give That Strength, Vim and Bodily Activity That All Are So Eager to Possess.

Pure blood and well nourished nerves are the great requisites at this season for every man, woman and child. Too many of our people enter the spring season with systems charged with deadly impurities, the blood is foul and stagnant, the liver and kidneys work imperfectly, and very often are diseased. With many, rheumatism, neuralgia and dyspepsia are daily tormentors. Life is not safe when such ailments are permitted to run unchecked.

If you, unfortunate sufferer, find yourself burdened with any of the forms of disease just referred to do not fail to give Paine's Celery Compound a trial. It is your only safety—your only true and certain deliverer from perils that end in death. Paine's Celery Compound has cured tens of thousands every springtime; it will do the same blessed work for you. One bottle will cost you less than a visit to consult a physician, and will convince you of its power to cure. Mr. A. S. Farley, Milwaukee, Wis., says:

Last spring I was convinced very strongly that my blood was in a bad and dangerous condition. I had boils and skin eruptions, was rundown, sleepless and had no appetite. The doctors failed to cure me. I fortunately tried your Paine's Celery Compound. My dangers and troubles were soon banished, and I was made a new man, strong and vigorous, thanks to Paine's Celery Compound.

on finance and control will take the matter in hand.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE GRANTED.
City Recorder Nystrom asked the council to grant him a leave of absence for 30 days beginning March 23, 1903. The request was granted without opposition.

FOR BURIAL PLOT.
The Utah Philanthropic Veterans petitioned the council to set apart and dedicate to that association the burial plot set apart in the council on Feb. 8, 1900, for the burial of deceased soldiers, sailors or marines who were Utah volunteers in the late war with Spain. "Twenty-eight lots were set apart for that purpose. The petition was referred to the committee on cemetery with the city sexton associated.

DEATH WAS SUDDEN.

Mrs. Johnson Expires While Visiting Her Next Door Neighbor.

A death sudden and unexpected occurred in this city yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Eliza Johnson of 7 April street, passed away at the home of her nearest neighbor, Mrs. Herman Campbell, as she was making a call on her. She had just crossed the threshold when she made a remark that she thought she was going to faint and immediately sank to the floor and expired. Dr. E. E. Wilcox was summoned and pronounced death due to heart failure, with which the deceased had been afflicted for some time.

Mrs. Johnson was born in London, England, Feb. 19, 1841, and came to Utah in 1852. For many years she was a resident of St. George, but on the death of her husband she came to Salt Lake, where she has several sons, among them C. E. Johnson, the photographer, now in California with the corps; Ben Johnson, the attorney, and Rufus Johnson, an employee of the Nelson-Judson Drug company. The funeral will be announced later.

REAL ESTATE RECORD.

Land and Water Commissioner MacKnight Evolves New Scheme.

Land and Water Commissioner MacKnight has devised a plan for establishing a permanent and complete record for the city's real estate. Hereafter the records have been incomplete and no regular record has been kept other than abstracts and data filed away on paper tabs. Mr. MacKnight's system for taking care of the city's real estate, though in a measure condensed, is equally as thorough as regular city real estate records, and is uniquely suitable to the recording of such property as is owned by the city.

The system consists of a large record book with the usual blank spaces for description, etc. The book is subdivided by a "tab" index, designating the county, township, range, then city plats, subdivisions, etc. There is a numerical index which corresponds with the numbers on blue prints, making the location of any piece of city property, but the work of a moment. The description blank in the record book contains the page number of the plat book in addition to the usual plat book index.

The blank spaces in the record are to contain valuable information concerning the city's real property: a minute description of all improvements, on said property, and the value thereof. A blue post is to be established at conspicuous corners of the more valuable property, outside the city, so that the location may be determined without a survey being made each time.

WHAT DID HE DIE FROM?
Demise of William H. Fox a Puzzle To Local Physicians.

The death of William H. Fox, the mining man, which occurred in this city yesterday, is one over which certain members of the medical profession in Salt Lake are sorely puzzled. The man passed away at his apartments, 4 E. First South street, and the death certificate written by Dr. Hosmer, the attending physician, states as the cause of death, "Don't know." The reason for this is that every organ appeared perfectly normal, the autopsy revealing nothing that would throw light on the seeming mystery. "I do not know what Mr. Fox died from," said Dr. Hosmer. "He was taken ill about six weeks ago with a fever. In some respects it resembled typhoid, but it was not typhoid. Neither the physician I called in consultation could determine the cause of the trouble. He grew weaker and weaker and finally died. I held an autopsy yesterday, at which Drs. Richards, Deane and Jones were present. No adequate cause of death was found by the examination of the organs. There is no doubt, however, that death was due to some natural cause. I have not given up yet and intend to make some cross sections. The cause is there and it only remains for us to find it. The case simply remains for us to find it. The case simply remains for us to find it."

Mr. Fox was formerly a resident of Chicago from which city he came to Salt Lake about five years ago. He was 47 years of age and his funeral was held from his late home at 11 a. m. today, with interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

WOMEN WERE AWFUL ANGRY

Inveighed Against the "Mormons," Then Grew Murderously Mad.

WOULD NOT HEAR A REPLY

When Elder Timpon Sought to Answer the Challenge in Philadelphia. They Cried "Throw Him Out."

The Philadelphia North American tells the following story of the incident which occurred in that city a few days ago between Dr. Sarah Elliott, who was delivering a tirade against the "Mormons," and Elder Nephi S. Timpon, who sought to reply to a challenge thrown out by the female evangelist. The scene occurred at a meeting of the Methodist Women's Home Missionary society, and so intensely bitter was the attack on the "Mormon" people and their religion that when Elder Timpon declined to make reply the 200 women present hissed him and cried, "Throw him out." Proceeding with the story the North American says:

In the excitement gray-haired grandmothers and young girls climbed upon the backs of the benches with as much confusion as though a mouse had been discovered on the rampage. While cries and hisses sounded from every part of the room, a half-dozen strong women took the Elder and pushed him down the stairway to the street. The Elder was threatened with arrest, and a doctor who intervened in behalf of the missionary was threatened with the same treatment if he didn't keep his mouth closed. The excitement was intense, and the incident probably has not a parallel in the history of women's meetings in this country.

The address which Elder Timpon attempted to answer was one by Dr. Elliott on "Mormon" teachings, in which she said:

"They teach that Christ was a polygamist; that he was married to two women, and they say if he was not married to them then he was a very bad man. But their doctrine is that he was married to both, and that he therefore sanctioned plural marriages. They teach that a man may become a god by raising a large family, and that to raise a family which will defy him he must have many wives."

Elder Timpon stood near the door in the rear of the room and at the close of the address announced that he was a "Mormon" and would like to answer the charges made by Mrs. Elliott. The women who stood near him, according to the story, began to move away. There was a low murmur that finally broke into hisses and cries of "out him out." The women began to crawl upon the seats and press toward the Elder. The latter raised his voice in denial of the charges of Dr. Elliott, but this only added to the excitement, and his voice was drowned by the cries of the women.

"How dare he come here! How dare he speak to us! He is a Mormon—a Mormon!" Let us rise in our strength! Put him out!"

These and other exclamations were shouted. The voice of Elder Timpon was completely drowned. Nevertheless he stood his ground. His dogged perseverance increased the anger of the women, and by a sudden impulse those who stood in the aisles and in the rear of the church crowded forward and forced him half-way down the stairs.

He offered no physical resistance, but stopped midway on the staircase, where he met a clergyman, who had been attracted by the turmoil in the auditorium, and who was coming up the stairs to find out what had happened. The clergyman caught Timpon by the arm and exclaimed:

"You must get out of here or I will have you arrested." Still trembling, still pale and apparently badly frightened, says the paper, the "Mormon" hesitated to move toward the street, and in fact, placed one foot on the upper step. As he did so a number of the more excited women hurried down the stairs and changed the Elder's position. He was pushed to the lower hallway, where he took his third stand, and Dr. Cochrane rushed to his support, for the women had followed him to the foot of the stairs, and were about to lay hands on him again.

"Don't, don't," the doctor exclaimed. "Don't do that, it is inhuman!" But the physician was brushed aside, and Timpon was hustled to the outer door.

"You would burn a man at the stake if you dared," Dr. Cochrane exclaimed. "Are you a 'Mormon' too?" one of the women inquired in a most aggressive manner.

"No."

"For if you are we'll put you out, too," she interrupted.

"I'm not," the physician protested, "but I believe in humanity—in fair play."

It was a few minutes later that he repeated this same sentiment in the presence of the Rev. G. Buckley Burns, who promptly warned him to keep his opinions to himself.

After the incident Elder Timpon said in relation to the action against him: "I would not accuse these women of doing wrong, for they believe that they are doing the work of the Master, but I think they are less charitable than the humble man in whose footsteps they profess to follow. I would not accuse Dr. Elliott of intentionally reaching things which are false, but she is surely misinformed. I have nothing but charity for these women, good women as I believe they are, who used physical violence toward one who went to them, not to preach, not to

GET STRONG

Vinol Makes Weak People Strong.

WE GUARANTEE IT WILL DO SO.

WE KNOW OF NO TONIC OR RE-BUILDER LIKE IT.

Vinol does create strength. We know that and have proved it in many instances. The reason Vinol rejuvenates and strengthens a person is that it acts directly upon the stomach, strengthening and toning up this great vital organ and enabling it to obtain for itself, from the food that is taken into it, the elements which are required to make firm healthy flesh and muscle tissue, sound bone structure and pure healthy blood.

Vinol does this in a scientific way and is enabled to do it because it contains, dissolved in a delicate mild wine, in a highly concentrated state, the active principles of cod-liver oil.

Vinol does not contain any of the grease that formerly characterized cod-liver oil, hence is free from all the objectionable features which made it impossible for patients to take or retain that vile-smelling remedy into their stomachs.

Vinol in its favorable action upon the stomach and other organs of the body acts also in a beneficial way upon the nerves and brain, and will be found to be invaluable to brain workers as well as body workers.

The following letter is from a well-known author. It reads as follows: "I wish to acknowledge the receipt of the Vinol and testify to its great benefits. Since taking it I am much improved in health, and during the intense heat of last August I should not have been able to continue in my literary work if it had not been for the strengthening properties of Vinol. Yours in gratitude."—ELLA STARR, 105 W. 82d St., N. Y. City.

We wish any one suffering from weakness, a demoralized condition of the nerves, or a susceptibility to wasting diseases, to call on us and hear what we have to say in regard to Vinol.

Try it on our recommendation, and if you find it does not do everything we claim for it, we will gladly refund to you the amount you have paid us.

prose, but to defend his faith against an attack which, I believe, was unintentionally unjust."

Another Elder, seen the next day, explained Elder Timpon's presence at the meeting in the following words: "Elder Timpon," said the younger member of the church, "did not go to the meeting with any purpose of causing a disagreeable scene, nor with the intention of trying to speak. He only wished to hear what Dr. Sarah J. Elliott had to say. In the course of her remarks she defied any one to deny her statements in derogation of the 'Mormon' Church and the 'Mormon' people. It was this challenge which determined Elder Timpon to reply to her. They went back on her challenge. They would not allow him a hearing."

Danger of Colds and Grip.
The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure a cold or an attack of the grip in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

BRUTAL TO DYING MAN.

Harsh Treatment to a Pauper Victim Of Pneumonia.

G. N. Stetzel, an old prospector who has been lodging at the Mission house where William McHaddon died of pneumonia, claims that the old man was brutally treated just before he died. Stetzel says that he went to the Mission house Sunday night and found the old man lying on his cot. He told McHaddon to take another cot, saying he would pay for it.

"I put him in a cot opposite to mine but in a few minutes he got up and went out into the hall. Shortly after that I heard a fall and went out to investigate. I found the old man lying on the office floor. I picked him up and put him to bed. He told me that a big brutal bod-carrier found him lying on a table and pushed him off."

Stetzel said that McHaddon did not live long after that and thanked him for his kindness just before he passed away.

WILL BE SELECT.
Grand Ball in the Theater to Follow Basketball Games.

The grand ball to be given by the L. D. S. university in the Theater next Friday evening is not open to the general public. Only those with whom members of the committee are acquainted can receive invitations. Each city ward has a committee for this purpose, and those who desire to attend may make application to the M. I. A. president or to the Bishop of any ward, or to any member of the faculty of the University. This arrangement has been adopted as the only apparent means of both keeping the ball very select and also of admitting, as far as possible, those who may care to be present. The committee will issue invitations, irrespective of religious affiliations, to all honorable citizens that make application.

FIRST PRIZE WINNER
HUSLER'S FLOUR TESTIMONIAL CONTEST.

"We have a large family of 'grown up' children, and all winter long I have been listening to their lamentations and fault finding on account of my poor bread until I was in despair. I had been using the so-called best brand of flour with the poorest results. One day my husband said, 'Why try Husler's Flour, no firm would dare to advertise their wares as the Husler's Flour is advertised unless it could stand the test. Try it.' I immediately returned my last sack of flour to my grocer with a request to replace it with Husler's Flour. He did so, and since then my bread has been highly satisfactory to every member of my family. I am telling all my friends of its good qualities. It can't be equalled."

DEATH OF QUEEN BESS.
Royal Geographical Society Commemorates 300th Anniversary.

New York, March 24.—The Royal Geographical society commemorated yesterday the three hundredth anniversary of the death of Queen Elizabeth, by a London dispatch to the Tribune. There was a series of short addresses in the lecture hall of London university on the achievements of British explorers in the Elizabethan reign, and a deeply interesting exhibition of relics and curiosities was reviewed. Mr. Gosse delivered an address on the career of Sir Walter Raleigh, laying stress upon the versatility and accomplishments of this heroic figure of the Elizabethan age.

The exhibition of relics included mementoes of Queen Elizabeth, Raleigh and Drake; instruments, maps, and charts, used by early British navigators; a complete collection of the writings of William Gilbert, Queen Elizabeth's physician; many books of the Elizabethan period; the famous Mollinax globe from Middle Temple, and a miscellaneous lot of Italian dials, astrolabes and nautical instruments.
