

ACCIDENT AT BOSTON BLOCK

Steel Girder Breaks Free from Supports in Midair and Crashes to Ground.

DERRICK AND CABLE SNAP.

The Result is Fortunately Only the Loss of the Girder, as Workmen Were Not in Its Path.

On the Boston building, adjoining the Newhouse skyscraper, structural iron workers remained on duty today, and the result was almost a catastrophe. A huge steel girder got away near the top and fell with a great crash to the ground.

The giant girder, weighing several tons, had objections to being lifted from the ground to the top of the steel skeleton of skyscraper, there to be set upright on the natal day of the Father of His Country, to serve as a support for two stories of rooms, and it made its objections known within an hour its objections began operations.
The girder was attached to long wire ropes extending from the present top of the building to the ground. Then by means of a windlass and wooden crane it was started on its long trip up into the air. Supporting the overhanging arm of the crane was a twisted steel wire cable, and this broke.

FALLS WITH A CRASH.

The result was disaster both to the crane and the girder. The crane fell flat with the steel from over which it overhung, and then snapped off allowing the big girder to fall with a crash to the ground.

The roar was deafening and brought people out from all surrounding buildings. No damage was done, however, except to the steel girder which was slightly twisted.
A large force of workmen were busy nearby but none were injured. Work was immediately commenced repairing the crane, which was a wooden mast, and the usual crane of steel construction. Progress on the building will not be delayed by the accident, as there are many more of the same kind of girders on hand, and they will be taken up as fast as possible when a stronger derrick is arranged.

ASK YOURSELF THE QUESTION.

Why not use Chamberlain's Liniment when you have rheumatism? We feel sure that the result will be prompt and satisfactory. One application relieves the pain, and makes sleep and rest possible.
It has cost others what you? Try it.
It costs but a trifle. Price, 25 cents; large size, 50 cents. For sale by all druggists.

GOES SUDDENLY INSANE.

Mrs. Howe of Fairfield Creates Commotion on East First South.

Mrs. Edith Howe of Fairfield, who was stopping at the home of J. W.
Beck, 200 east First South street, became suddenly insane after midnight last night, and until a neighbor came in three women were in danger of their lives. Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Mary Auer and Mrs. T. L. Beck were in the home, and when the unfortunate woman said she would choke Mrs. Beck to death, they fled barricaded to keep her within one room. The demented woman then threw away and by turning a safety switch prevented the police station being notified. At last the noise brought Will Condie to the scene and the police were called. Mrs. Howe is now in the county jail padded cell.

NEIGHBORHOOD FAVORITE.

Mrs. E. D. Charles, of Harbor Maine, speaking of Electric Bitters says: "It is a neighborhood favorite here with us." It deserves to be a favorite everywhere. It gives relief in dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney derangement, malnutrition, nervousness, weakness and general debility. Its action on the blood, as a thorough purifier makes it especially valuable as a spring medicine. This grand alternative tonic is sold under guarantee at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept., 112 and 114 South Main Street, Price 50c.

WHAT HE LOOKS LIKE.

Judge Colborn's Classic Features Appear on Advertising Card.

A postal card from The Financier of New York City, contains a very good half tone cut of the pensive, thoughtful physiognomy of former County Judge E. P. Colborn of Gunnison county, Colo., but for quite a number of years a very lively reality dealer in this city, and the developer of Popperton tract into a paying proposition.
The usually mathematically correct lines of the judge's hirsute covering are somewhat marred by the action of the postoffice cancelling machine (whether in New York or Salt Lake is not indicated clearly), but the general appearance of "Max" it pleases your honor or the court" is strikingly philosophic, suggestive of a professor of comparative morphology and statistigraphic paleontology at Oxford university.
The card bears the notice attending tious food and the most

Arab Patrol Falls Host and Will Go to St. Paul in Spring

To send the famous El Kalah Arab patrol to St. Paul in May members of that organization played host in the Masonic temple last evening and 1,500 persons and more accepted of their hospitality. Never has such a crowd been seen in the temple; not even when it was being dedicated were more people in the building. But all were jolly and brilliant and the evening was a bit Contributions were received in barrels at the various entrances and over $1,500 was raised. This money will go to send the patrol to contest in drilling with the bodies from all over the country. Out at Los Angeles last year the El Kalah patrol from this city made the hit of the convalescence and was given pages of newspaper notice.
The patrol drilled last evening to show what it can do, even in cramped space. The drillers were in full uniform and outbursts of applause at the neatness with which difficult movements were gone through, were frequent and long. Capt. Henry Simmer and Lieut. C. Kutnewski, really Masot Master Brecken had their men under fine form, although one or two were new. The auditorium was crowded both upstairs and in the gallery and a lengthy program rendered. The Masonic double quartet sang several selections, one being a special hit, "Hail to the Top." Mr. Sharp sang a solo; J. Critchlow sang "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree," with full chorus; Mrs. John Reed and Miss Korn recited and a solo by another young lady made up a most interesting program.

The hit of the evening, however, was John Critchlow's "Don't Go in the Lion's Cage Tonight, Mother," from the Press Club's immortal printers be card show. The hall roared whenever John hit one of his pathetic "tremolos."
After this the guests were taken down to the serving room where coffee, sandwiches and cake were ready.
The arrangements to feed the crowd were poor; the edibles prepared by the ladies of the Eastern Star were dainty but not so appetizing but no such a crowd was expected and with the dining room being used for dancing the hosts found themselves right "up against it." As stated before the crowd was good-natured and enjoyed the squeeze into the little dining room as if it wasn't strenuous at all.
Scenery and costumes, forming a part of the Masonic stage, the finest in the country were shown and each scene was applauded heartily. The light effects are magnificent. On all sides could be heard the expression that no branch of the Masonry had ever seen such a social gathering before.

the judge's picture, "Salt Lake City and a Business Community," which is followed by the statement of general local interest: "Why has Salt Lake City grown? What induced Mr. Samuel Newhouse, the great mining king, to expend $5,000,000 in making really improvements? Why have the great railroads built tracks into the city, and why are they continuing to do so?
What are the reasons for the splendid municipal and banking figures? Why is mining supreme? Why has the population grown from a mere 21,000 to 100,000?" These questions and many others are answered by Judge Colborn in The Financier.

AUNT EM'S' BIRTHDAY

Reception to Be Held at the Lion House in Honor of Twentieth Celebration.

Mrs. Emmeline B. Wells, who is universally known among her friends on three continents as "Aunt Em," on Saturday next celebrates her twentieth birthday. Mrs. Wells was born on Feb.
29, 1828, and consequently is only allowed to have a birthday once every four years. For some years she has been regarded as the youngest elderly lady in the international region.
In anticipation of the event the general board of the Women's Relief society, of which she is an indefatigable member, is now making arrangements for a reception to be held in the parlors of the Lion House between the hours of 2 p. m. and 5 p. m. on Saturday. All friends of Mrs. Wells are invited to attend and extend compliments to the guest of honor.
Various committees have been appointed, one on decorations, another on refreshments, for instance, while the general board will act as the committee on reception.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

Col. Jeff Pollard Struck by Mysterious Flying Missile.

Col. Jeff Pollard was the victim of a most peculiar accident about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon near the Halliday drug store on State and First South street. Col. Pollard had just left the store and raised his left hand to button his overcoat when there was an explosion which he says sounded like the firing of a 45 caliber revolver.
Something struck Col. Pollard's left arm. He believes it was a bullet. The missile passed through the sleeve of the coat and bruised Col. Pollard's arm.

"Had I not raised my arm I believe the bullet would have struck me in the breast and probably inflicted a dangerous if not fatal wound," said the colonel.

The police made an investigation of the affair but could find no satisfactory explanation of the explosion.
It might have been caused by boys placing a cartridge on the car track or someone might have fired a revolver by accident.

LIBERAL BEGGAR.
Man Soliciting Alms Returns Dollars
For Dimes.

A strange man, who had the appearance of a beggar, created no little excitement on the corner of Second South and Main streets last night by giving dollars for dimes. The stranger begged from several persons. Some paid no attention to him, others told him to go to work while others suggested that he go to a free soup house. Finally one man gave him a dime.
"Here," said the stranger handing

POLEY WAS ABUSIVE.

Accused of Using Bad Language to Neighbor, He Admits It.

In Judge Diehl's court yesterday afternoon Ludwig Poley proved to be the star attraction. Poley was arrested on the charge of using abusive language toward A. E. Winters and when the case came up for trial the accused man pleaded not guilty. During the course of the hearing it developed that Ludwig Poley and Mr. Winters had trouble over some rock and a fence. Poley called Winters a liar, a thief and several unprintable names. For this he was arrested and yesterday afternoon he sought to show that Winters had done wrong. Judge Diehl would not listen to this phase of the case, saying that Poley was charged with using abusive language.
"I didn't do it," declared the man, "I called him a thief and he was not. I didn't call him der oder name but said he was a scoundrel. Den I called him —, und he iss I can prove it." Poley was found guilty and assessed $5.

SUFFERING AND DOLLARS SAVED.

salve I have ever found." Heals burns, which may be brought into being in a short time. A preliminary meeting was held to consider the advisability of forming such an organization last night, with the following people present: E. C. Ashton, A. E. Carr, J. B.

Giles, H. O. Jensen, H. L. Milton, Dr.

ONLY ONE BIDDER ON PAVING WORK

Figures on Proposed Street Improvements Submitted to the Board of Public Works.

CITY IS LOSER BY $10,000.

Piece of Work Left Undone on Intercepting Sewer Will Cost That Amount to Repair.

As forecasted in yesterday's "News," bids were opened by the board of public works on two proposed street pav-ings, namely, First South from Second East to Thirteenth East, and Pierpont street from West Temple to First West.

On the first proposition there was but one bidder, P. J. Moran, who, however, submitted two bids, the difference being in the kind of material to be used.
Following are the figures:

Paving First South street from Second East to Thirteenth East: P. J. Moran, Utah asphalt, five-year guarantee, $228,864.83.

P. J. Moran, California asphalt, five-year guarantee, $131,384.99.
If the product of this state were used, it would require 666 days to complete the work, while the imported material could be laid in one-third of that period, 222 days.

In bidding on the Pierpont paving, Mr. Moran had a competitor, the Campbell Building company, which firm wanted something like $1,200 more for doing the work than Moran was willing to do it for. Following are the figures submitted:

Pierpont street from West Temple to First West:
P. J. Moran, five-year guarantee, $10, 579.92.

Campbell Building Co., five-year guarantee, $11,756.88.

LOSER BY $10,000.

The Campbell Building company made a bid of $16,044.50 for making an outlet for the intercepting sewer. Had this work been done at the proper time, the city would have been saved in the neighborhood of $10,000, for that is the sum that James Kennedy is asking the municipality for pumping out water that hindered progress in the sewer work that he had in hand. Kennedy put in a bill to the board of public works yesterday afternoon for $9,989.23.

CONTRACTS LET.

The board yesterday let a contract to the Fairbanks-Morse company for the installation of two pumps, and other contracts let were as follows:

Sever extension No. 170, Capitol hill, about three blocks:

Davis & Hyson ..... $2,251.47 Strange & McGuire ..... 2,089.23 J. D. Hawley ..... 3,176.84 blocks:

THREE LECTURES TOMORROW.

Rev. Benj. Fay Mills to Speak in the Assembly Hall.

Owing to the large audiences and great interest which has attended the lectures of the Rev. Benjamin Fay Mills through this week, he has arranged his plans so as to be able to remain in Salt Lake through next Thursday. He will not lecture at all today, but tomorrow will speak three times. In the morning at 11 o'clock he will preach in the Unitarian church at the regular service, taking for his subject, by special request, "The Divinity of Christ."

In the afternoon at 4 o'clock he will speak in the Unitarian church at the one of his most powerful addresses, on the topic, "Have You Seen God?" In the evening at 8:15 he will speak again in the Salt Lake Theater, giving the first of four interpretations of Emerson, on the subject, "The Prophet Emerson."

Admission and all seats will be free at all these meetings on Sunday, but on Sunday evening the theater seats will be reserved until 8 o'clock, sharp, for ticket holders. These tickets may be obtained so long as they last without charge upon application at the boxoffice of the theater, or at the morning or afternoon meetings on Sunday.

At the afternoon lecture the Hon.
William H. King will preside, and in the evening J. E. Bransford, mayor of Salt Lake, will occupy the chair.

Next week Mr. Mills is to give four distinct courses of lectures, Monday and Tuesday evenings on "The Gospel According to Emerson," from Monday through Thursday afternoon on "The Opening of the Spiritual Senses," and Thursday evening on "Spiritual Healing."

One of the most interesting courses will be given at the unique hour of 5 o'clock in the morning, on "The Higher Psychology," in order to accommodate university professors, school teachers, and all sorts of students, and professional and business men. In other cities where Mr. Mills has been, there has been a large attendance of leading citizens at this early hour in the morning. The lecture will continue for exactly 45 minutes, and then a discussion will follow, but those who need to retire may do so at 8:45 o'clock sharp. The lectures on the week days during next week will be given at Unity hall.
