The benediction was pronounced by Elder John M. Smith. A pathetic incident in connection with the obsequies was the placing up-on the casket by Frank Mortalon, an old French blacksmith whom the de-ceased had befriended many times of a bouquet of flowers, the aged gentle-man marching up the alsie and with tear-bedimmed eyes paying a last tribute to the man he loved. The fu-neral was largely attended and there was a profusion of beautiful floral of-ferings. ferings by the councilmen up to yesterday in regard to naming the judges he had the regard to naming the judges he had the Democratic committee name the Demo-cratic judges and then sent the list to the Republican committee for it to name its judges, "We are satisfied with our judges," continued Fernstrom, "and if there is a fight over your Re-publican judges we can't help it, it's not our fault."

not our fault. AGAINST "RAILROADING."

The entire list was then read, and at its conclusion Martin entered a vigorous protest against railroading the ap-pointments through without giving the councilmen an opportunity to name any of the judges as provided in the reso-lution formerly passed by the council. He said that it was rank injustice to put the thing through in that manner. "I stand here," he said, "representing a party which cast 6,000 votes at the last election."

A POINTED QUESTION.

'Aren't you a Republican?" asked Ferustron "I haven't said anything about any party; I haven't mentioned any names," was the reply. "Weren't you elected as a Republi-

BLACK TO THE RESCUE. At this juncture another American took a hand in the proceedings, Black arose and offered an amendment to the list which would give the Americans one judge in each district and the Re-publicans and Democrats one each. In support of his amendment he said that sub-all knew what the American party is, if not he declared that they would know after the election. He insisted that the Americans were entitled to recognition in regard to the matter of judges and asked that his amendment he adouted be adopted.

WOOD OFFERS LIST. Wood asked for the law governing the matter, whereupon City Atty, Dey read from the statutes and stated that whether or not the American party should be recognized was a matter for the council to determine, as the law did not prohibit it having judges. Wood then made a complaint against the judges in his ward. He had a list which he declared was made out by the Republican city committee too, and he insisted that the judges named therein for the Second ward be ap-pointed. He did not care what was done in the other wards but he did want to have something to say about his own ward and therefore submitted his list as a substitute for the whole BLACK ON IGNORANCE.

Black then objected to some of the Republican judges of the Second pre-cinct and declared that they were so ignorant two years ago they got things so mixed that the matter was taken to the courts for settlement. He ob jected to those judges being reappoint-PREECE LIST WINS. Hobday then made a final attempt to secure some changes in the list for the First precinct judges. He offered changes in the first and second dis-tricts but they were voted down and he then submitted his case after de-ploring the fact that there were no Republicans in the council to help him secure the appointment of Republican judges. After some further discussion and after Fernstrom had in-serted a provision fixing the "alary of the judges at the rate of $3 per day, the roll was called on the Preece resolution and list and on the Preece resolution and list and it was adopted as stated above. It was then decided when the council ad-journed be to Thursday night when the recorder will submit the list of polling places for confirmation and the pay rolls will be approved.

BIG COTTONWOOD DEED.

The next matter up was a resolution The next matter up was a resolution submitted by Hobday at the request of City Attorney Dey in regard to the deed given by the Utah Light & Ral-way company to the city conveying the land in Big Cottonwood canyon. The resolution follows: Whereas, the city council did on Sept.

Utah Light & Railway company to Sait Lake City, and also a deed from Utah Power company to said city; And whereas, said deeds contain clauses and reservations not in accord-ance with the agreement and understanding as to what said deeds should ontain

And whereas, the council was not ad-vised of or acquainted with the sail conditions or reservations in said deeds at the time said resolution approving the same was passed, and inadvertently passed said resolution; Therefore be it resolved by the city

ouncil of Salt Lake City:

That said resolution of the city coun-cil passed Sept. 11, 1905, approving cer-tain deeds and releases in the matter of negotiations between said Utah Light & Railway company and said city, be and the same hereby is revoked and repealed in so far as the same approves or purports to approve the deed of said Utah Power company, to said city pur-Utah Power company, to said eity pur-porting to convey certain rights, priv-leges, easements and property at the mouth of Big Cottonwood canyon to said city.

And be it further resolved, that the city recorder be, and he hereby is in-structed not to publish the ordinance consolidating and extending the fran-chise of said Utah Light & Railway company and said Utah Power company until ordered as to do by the council until ordered so to do by the council.

BLACK RULED OUT.

Hobday moved the adoption of the resolution. Black had a resolution on the resolution. Black had a resolution on the same subject which he wanted read, but President Hewlett ruled that the council could not consider two different resolutions on the same subject at the same time.

Fernstrom suggested that the reso-lution be laid over until Thursday, as the company would have the deed fixed up satisfactorily by that time. Preece then moved that the matter be referred to the municipal laws committee and the city attorney with Instructions to the city attorney with instructions to report Thursday night. Black offered an amendment that the matter be re-ferred to the council as a committee of the whole so, as he said, the blame for this matter could be placed where it belongs. His amendment was lost. HE MADE NO REPLY.

Martin then registered a complaint Martin then registered a complaint that the majority just wanted to give the company a chance to fix the mat-ter up and crawl out of it before the council could fix the responsibility for the error. Wells inquired if it was not a desirable thing to have the company fix the deed up. Martin made no reply. The motion of Preece was then carried
