General Buller's Monday Dispatch Does Not Tell of Fighting.

REPORTS LOSS OF 92 MEN.

other News Held Back-Strain of Fighting Heavy-Rumor of Rellet of Ladysmith.

London, Jan. 23 .- Gen. Buller has reorted nothing of his operations on Monday, and officials and press intellince leaves the British bivouacked Sunday night on the ground they had von after two days' fighting. Just before midnight the war office issued the llowing dispatch from Gen. Buller: "Spearman's Camp, Jan, 22, 6 p. m.-The following casualties are reported in Gen. Hart's brigade as the result of esterday's fighting:

"Killed-Capt. Rydall, Yorkshire reginent, and five men.

-Wounded-Second Lieut, Andrews, border regiment; Capt. MacLaughlan, aniskillings, Licut. Barlow, Yorkshire ngiment and seventy-five men; missing, eight men.

Other casualties will be forwarded when received."

The war office turned everybody out of the lobbies at midnight. Apparently Led Landsdowne was as much without MW all yesterday as other persons west Military men assume that fighting must have taken place, and that it va probably more severe than on the two preceding days. Gen. Buller would not be likely to give the Boers leisure to sid to the elaborate intrenchments, to arrange their artillery and to concentrate their forces.

The special correspondents Sunday right were allowed to send the ansemement that the battle would al-most certainly be resumed the following isy and hence official and popular entity is at high tension. The British ary experts all share the hopes of er leaders and, as Spencer Wilkinson mints out, they hesitate to say a word hat might be interpreted as unfavor-Mr. Wilkinson refers to the coler judgment of Germans and Ausrian critics," which means that some the best judges look upon Gen. Bulers enterprise as a foriorn hope, as merely a continual strain of fighting, which may prove too much for the ical energy of the troops engaged. The Daily Chronicle's military expert "Even when a battle is won in a single day, as a rule pursuit is only when fresh troops are available. But in this instance it is not a question of mere pursuit, but of renew-

It is an undoubted fact that they are bitterly disappointed at the apparent apathy of the continental powers." The Times published the following from Frere Camp, dated yesterday: "On Friday Gen. Warren began a long, circuitous march from Trichard's Drift westward. This was abandoned owing to the fact that the long ridge which runs from Spion-kop was occupied by the enemy, who commanded the route, rendering the maintenance of communication for transports impossible. He therefore returned and camped for the night about two miles from Trichard's Drift. "On Saturday a frontal attack on the ridges was ordered." correspondent then describes Saturday's fighting, and adds: "The men behaved splendidly under an incessant heavy cross-fire in a burning sun for seven hours. Our casualties were for the most part slight, the pro-portion of killed and wounded being extremely small." Durban, Natal, Jan. 22. -The statement comes from an excellent source in Pietermaritzburg that Lord Dundonald has entered Ladysmith with 1,600 men. This is not confirmed from any other quarter, but it is known that Lord Dundonald's flying column has been acting well to the left of the line of advance.

It has been said at the state department that no representative of the Transvaal would be recognized. The sudden determination to acknowl edge Mr. White can only be accounted for on the theory that the administra-tion has become alarmed by the vigorous declaration of public sentiment throughout the country.

They have tabulated the inks employed of similar composition, showing that both pen and ink were changed when the alterations were made in the addresses of the "H. Cor-

This rule commends itself to the secretary of state for war, most of whose rela-tives are in the household troops. "Lord Methuen got his command because he is a guardsman."

New York, Jan. 23 .- A despatch to the Tribune from London says: It has been difficult to understand the reports of the fights among the kopjes, owing to the inaccuracy of the maps available here and the confusion caused by the use of the terms "right" and "left," when the direction in which Gens. Warren and Clery were moving was unknown. It is now fairly clear that Saturday's fighting was west of Splon Kop, and that the Boer right was forced back upon the main position. Sunday's flanking attack carried Warren's left northward and upward two miles. Central News dispatches dated on Sunday night, describe Gen. Warren as having worked around the extreme right of the Dutch line, and as naving taken everything except the last ridge on the summit of Spion Kop. Dundonald's cavalry brigade was still further to the north and west, covering the approaches to the Tintwa and Olivers Hoek passes over the Drakensberg mountains

Gen. Warren has apparently got to he end of the Boer line of defense and turned it, while his cavalry holds a strong position on the main road to adysmith, near Acton Homes. His army blocks any attempt of the enemy to outflank his own turning movement by advancing from Bethany toward Springfield. General Lyttleton, at Potgieter's Drift, faces the second Boer position of Brakfontein and also obtaneously with the publication of the sensational dispatches enumerating the terms of alleged proposals of peace which rumor vaguely connects with Mr. Macrum's mysterious journey from Pretoria to the White House in Washington has given rise to much ingenious journalistic guesswork. A diametrically opposed feeling, how, ever, prevails at the foreign office where it is reluctantly admitted that all attempts at mediation, whether through President McKinley or the king of Bdglum, have no chance of success unless asked for from Downing street as well

Pandora, so runs the myth, let all the fils of life out of her box to prey upon mankind, but shut the cover soon enough to prevent the escape of hope. Hope remains to every sufferer but it is only an ignis-fatuus unless it takes on some tangible form. The hope of recovery is treasured by every one who suffers from weak or bleeding lungs, obstinate and lingering cough, bronchitis or similar ailments, which, if neglected, or unskilfully treated lead on to consumption. That hope becomes a practical and tan-gible thing when it is based on the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.
