LOCAL BRIEFS.

Ears for the Ladies—The Dakota delegation presented each member of the Ladies' G. A. R. band with a big ear of Dakota corn.

Success to Bronchitis—Judge Patrick Talbot, aged 69 years, and a pioneer resident of Park City, died at the Holy Cross hospital Thursday night from bronchitis.

Eagles—The local Eagles held a public reception last evening. In their West Temple street hall, where punch and light refreshments were served. The rooms were crowded until midnight.

Cathedral Choir—The final choir rehearsal will be held by the cathedral choir at 6 p. m. today, following the public reception given to Cardinal Gibbons, to which the public is invited.

Small Blaze—A roof fire caused by flying sparks gave the fire department a run to the two-story frame building at 413 south Main street, the property of the St. Paul's church, yesterday afternoon. The fire was extinguished without loss.

Public Work—The board of public works failed to meet last night as scheduled to open bids on two or three improvements. The contractors were present but only Chairman H. G. McMillan of the board was present. A meeting will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Souvenir Badge—Salt Lake musicians have presented the Civil War veterans with a souvenir badge that is very acceptable. It consists of a bar of Utah gold from which hands the state motto, "In God We Trust," is engraved in copper metal below suitably engraved.

Encampment Views—The Amos News company has published a book of photographic engravings containing 360 views of the late encampment of the G. A. R. The largest pictures were taken with a revolving camera, and the whole thing is creditable.

Death of Mrs. Nelson—Mrs. Edith V. Nelson, wife of James C. Nelson of 321 1/2 north First street, died at the Ketchum-Hammond hospital Thursday night. The deceased was survived by a husband and two children, one aged 3 years and one aged 8 days. The remains will be taken to Chester, Utah, for interment.

Enlarging Plant—The Utah Ice & Storage company is planning to double its plant at Third South and Fifth West streets, installing two more refrigerating machines and freezing tanks, increasing the capacity of the plant to 250 tons of ice every 24 hours. The company will also enlarge its cold storage facilities.

Pastor Helmick—The many friends of Rev. D. M. Helmick, pastor of the First Methodist church, will regret to learn that he is to be sent to another field at the close of the coming annual conference. His pastorate of the membership of the church has increased 80 per cent, and the $1,500 debt has been cleared off.

MAJ. R. W. YOUNG VICE PRESIDENT

Seventeenth National Irrigation Congress Elects Him to The Position.

NEXT MEETING AT PUEBLO.

Congress Asked to Approropriate $10,000,000 for Arid Land Reclamation.

Spokane, Aug. 13.—With the election of officers, the selection of Pueblo, Colo., as the next meeting place, the passage of resolutions commending both the efforts of Pinchot and Newell in the forestry and reclamation bureau, asking a $10,000,000 irrigation fund from congress and commending the Mississippi deep waterway, the seventeenth National Irrigation congress came to a practical adjournment this afternoon.

There will be no session tomorrow, unless John Barrett, director of the bureau of American republics, arrives to deliver a promised address. The business planned for tomorrow was all transacted today and nothing is left except formal adjournment.

The following officers, in addition to the election of B. A. Fowler of Phoenix, Ariz., president and Arthur Hooker, Spokane, secretary, as reported by the Associated Press several days ago, were today elected unanimously:
Vice President—Ralph Titchwell of New York.

Second vice president—Richard W. Young of Utah.

Third vice president—L. Newman of Montana.

Fourth vice president—P. W. Fleming of New Mexico.

Col. Martin represented the deep waterways project before the congress. The bureau of reclamation and forestry were general, not even mentioning the chiefs of these divisions.

Col. Martin represented the Deep Waterways project before the congress. In the absence of W. K. Kavanaugh, president of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterways association. He gave an outline of what is expected as a result of the proposed 14 foot main trunk waterway. John L. Matthews was also a speaker on the subject of waterways.

The afternoon was given over to addresses by governors of the states of Florida, South Dakota, Idaho, Washington, Nebraska and Montana. Gov. Shallenberger of Nebraska made a stirring appeal for the conservation of resources which was greeted with continued applause. He had with him a considerable delegation of both men and women. Gov. Gilchrist of Florida gained the confidence of the congress by an appeal for the abolition of Mason and Dixon's line and by the designation of the south as a "sleeping giant now awake."

Gov. Bray of Idaho commended both Secy. Ballinger and Gifford Pinchot and urged that oil be poured on the troubled waters in the interests of the general welfare.

Govs. Vesey of South Carolina, and Norris of Montana thanked the congress for its activities.

Gov. Pitt Villard, formerly of Kruger's army in the Transvaal, represented Gov. Curry of New Mexico.

All the remaining traces of the Baltimore and Ohio project in the congress on the last day of the congress with perhaps a mention now and then by some kindly disposed friend.

ORA VAN NOY, Aged Five, Killed by Roger Powers' Auto Last Night.

While running across the street to join her playmates, Ora Van Noy, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Van Noy, was struck down last night about 8 o'clock by an automobile driven by Roger Powers, and died from her injuries 20 minutes later.

The fatal accident was of an unusually distressing nature. The little girl was playing in the street, within sight of the home at 1121 Second avenue, with her brother, two sisters and a number of other playmates. Roger Powers, who is a son of Judge O. W. Powers, saw the children playing in the street while still a block away, and decided the best way to warn them was to stand on the north side of the street with Lawrence Bailey of 1119 Second avenue, and his sister, and as the car was approaching she suddenly started forward crying she was going to her brother across the street. Her playmates called to her to stop but she gave them no heed.

Although the car was not going at an excessive speed, the driver instantly realized the danger of the girl, and made a check the machine in the short distance, yelled to the girl to "stand still," at the same time applying the emergency brakes and swinging the car toward the curbstone.

Th front of the car struck the girl, knocking her down in such a position that the left rear wheel passed over the shoulder and neck.

Kenneth Bailey, aged 12 years, was the first to reach the little unconscious form, and picking her up in his arms started towards the home. Instantly after striking the girl, Powers had his car stopped, and joined the little boy, Dr. C. F. Platter was called by Lawrence Bailey, and arrived at the girl's side within a few minutes after the accident. A hasty examination showed a fracture of the bones of the neck. She did not regain consciousness and died within 20 minutes after she had been struck.

YOUNG POWERS GRIEF-STRIKEN.
Roger Powers was prostrate with grief and after the death hurried to his father's home in Newhouse park, leaving the machine behind him. He sounded his horn wailingly and crying, and under touring car, and from the statements of those who witnessed the accident was using proper caution. He sounded his horn wailingly and crying, and under touring car, and from the statements of those who witnessed the accident was using proper caution. He sounded his horn wailingly and crying, and under touring car, and from the statements of those who witnessed the accident was using proper caution.

At his home in speaking of the accident, he said:

"I was coming toward the city on Second avenue on the side of the street used by automobiles and buggies in coming toward the city. I was in a high rate of speed in going, and I kept it going almost continuously. When I reached the center of the block I noticed the child make for the middle of the street which was possibly 50 or 75 feet in front. I set my brakes and blew my horn again, thinking that the child would stop. When I saw that she was not going to heed my warning, I called to her to stand still and turned my machine to the side of the road. As I did so the brackets on the side of my machine struck her and knocked her down. When I got out of my machine the child was lying in the road. She was picked up and carried into the house and I left my machine standing where it stopped. The parents of the girl were in Wyoming last night and will not arrive in the city until tonight. Mr. Van Noy is a member in the firm of Handy & Van Noy, and accompanied by Mrs. Van Noy, was on a business trip through Idaho and Wyoming. They were located at Cheyenne, Wyo., and informed of the tragedy by telephone.

FUNERAL OF A. W. WINBERG.

An evidence of the esteem and high regard in which Patriarch Anders W. Winberg, editor and pioneer was held, was shown yesterday by the large number who assembled at 3 o'clock in the Nineteenth ward meetinghouse to pay a last tribute of respect to his memory.

The life of the deceased has been such that he was brought in close touch with thousands of people, and he is mourned by an unusually large number of friends.

Floral tributes, in great profusion, were sent to the funeral home, and music for the occasion was furnished by Mrs. Lizzie Thomas Edwards and Mr. Winter. A number of beautiful songs were given by the speakers.

The speakers dwelt feelingly on the good work that had been accomplished by Mr. Winberg. They told of his coming to this city, his life and the good traits that were shown throughout his career. The speakers were John Hagman, H. J. Christensen, L. Dahlstrom, W. A. Carlson, Peter Erickson and Joseph E. Taylor.
