

ANNUAL MEETING OF CREDIT MEN.

Will Attend Session at Commercial Club on Saturday Evening.

THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Report of Former President, O. H. Hewlett, Shows Satisfactory Condition—Parsons New President.

The annual meeting of the Utah Association of Credit Men held a well-attended annual meeting Saturday afternoon at the Commercial club, where the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:

President—Arthur Parsons.
Vice-President—Leon Sweet.
Secretary—J. W. Delano.
Treasurer—A. D. McMullen.
Assistant Secretary and Manager—John Q. Critchlow.
General Attorneys—Thomas & Maycock.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

Retiring President O. H. Hewlett made the following annual report: "Conforming to our usual custom, I am glad to report our association for the past year. During the fiscal year ending April 30, 1934, the Utah Association of Credit Men has handled 62 assignments, an increase over the last year of 13. Of this number 38 were in Utah, 29 in Idaho, two in Wyoming and two in Nevada. The total liabilities amounted to $236,934.23. On these claims which have been assigned, the association has paid 92 dividends, $3 of which were paid on assignment cases and nine in bankruptcy cases. The dividends on the assignments averaged 56 percent and the dividends on the bankruptcy cases 14 percent.

One reason for the small per cent which has been realized on the bankruptcy claims is the heavy expenses attached to bankruptcy proceedings. A comparison of the percentage of claims paid will show a great saving to creditors when the accounts are assigned directly to the association.

CONFIDENCE SHOWN.

"One of the most gratifying features of the past year has been the confidence shown in our association by eastern people. Business men of the east have unhesitatingly turned over their claims to us for adjustment, and our adjustment bureau has been so successful and so well conducted that several of the larger credit associations in the United States have patterned their adjustment bureaus after ours.

"One of the highest compliments that could be given any association was paid by the president of the National Association of Credit Men when he said that our association had paid a higher percentage on the claims assigned to it than any other association in the United States.

"We have been invited to become members of the National Association of Credit Men, and there would doubtless be many advantages to us in accepting this invitation and joining the ranks of the 70,000 strong and conservative business men who are at present allied with that association. The members of practically every credit men's association in the United States, except ours, are also members of the national association, and it seems to me that it is our duty to join them and help them to better the credit conditions in the country generally, and to secure proper legislation regulating these matters in which we are most interested.

"We are able at the present time, without increasing the membership fee, to give each member membership in the national association as well as the Utah Association of Credit Men, and if we join the national, I believe we will become stronger and in closer contact with the business men of the country. We will be supplied with their Monthly Bulletin and other matters which they get out from time to time, and which are of importance and interest to us. We should use our influence with the merchants with whom we are transacting business, to carry sufficient insurance to protect them in the event of loss by fire. Insurance will not only benefit the merchant himself, but it will also be of value to the wholesaler, jobber and the manufacturer, from whom the merchant obtains credit.

"A sad illustration of neglecting to attend to this important matter occurred a short time ago; a certain merchant had carried a stock for $2,500 on this store and policy. The policy expired on the 5th of the month and he had intended to renew it on the eighth, but on the seventh a fire occurred which destroyed his property and left him practically without anything in the world except his obligations. In order to commence business again he would have to secure a new building and get fresh credit as well as meet his old accounts, and this he was unable to do and so was left in a very trying and embarrassing position.

"The San Francisco disaster should be a warning to all business men to be properly protected from loss by fire, as no one can tell the time when he is likely to be burned out, and a little encouragement on the part of our association will have a wholesome effect on the merchant to whom we are extending credit. We should work in harmony and help build each other up and keep business at home, and by so doing build up our state. If for some reason we are unable to secure certain business or to supply certain lines, it would be a good thing for us to encourage the merchant to turn that

MET HIS DEATH UNDER ENGINE

Joseph Condie Instantly Killed While Working in "Pit."

AN INQUEST MAY BE HELD.

Just How the Horrible Accident Happened May Forever Remain a Mystery—Leaves Large Family.

Joseph Condie, an engine wiper employed by the Denver & Rio Grande, met death yesterday afternoon in the roundhouse on Sixth West, the wheel of a "dead" engine passing over his neck, killing him instantly. The deceased, who was 31 years old and resided at 704 South First West, in company with O. F. Landgren, was in the pit beneath an engine which had been brought in off the road, when, it is claimed, without warning, another engine coupled on and started to haul the dead locomotive away. Just how the accident happened may never be known. A scream was heard and the engine was stopped. Then it was found that the driving wheel had ploughed the unfortunate man to the rail between the head and shoulders. When the engine was backed he dropped lifeless into the pit.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer showed that from a balance of $7,772.88 a year ago, the receipts had increased this amount to $147,671.17, with expenditures of $132,547.40, leaving a balance of $15,123.77 on hand.

The meeting appointed a committee consisting of Sol Siegel, Edward Rosenbaum and S. Weltz to draw up a resolution, which was adopted, asking from the railroads transportation for the manager and assistant, and a fund was agreed upon in $10,000 to be used in prosecuting fraudulent debtors. The meeting also agreed to join the national association, on the understanding that the Utah body would be under no obligation to furnish eastern houses any of its local information as to home travel conditions.

At the evening banquet, Mr. C. N. Strevel, as toastmaster, said: "This is an occasion of great pride to the members of the Utah Association of Credit Men. Six years ago a few credit men met at the Knott's block hotel, and as the result of that meeting we have this splendid organization, which has done so much toward a better understanding among wholesalers and retailers, wholesalers and their customers. There are many retail dealers who would not be in their present position except for the assistance rendered by this association.

"I am told by our president that all these toasts are to be replied to in a serious vein, and that if there is any fun here tonight the toastmaster must make it. My friends will realize that for me this is a hard task. The position you are in reminds me of X. Beidler, a deputy United States marshal of Montana, who, by the way, was a famous story teller, and returned from a trip after repugnant Indians, while telling his experience, one after another of his friends left the room.

"Finally X. realized he was alone and swore vengeance. Not long after, he returned to town from an exciting trip after 'Big Nose' George, a desperado and train robber, he went around town and gathered up the fellows who had taken French leave during the former story telling, and taking them over to the jail, he opened the door, saying, 'Walk in, gentlemen. They did so, and he quickly closed the door, saying 'You gentlemen may not realize it, but you are trapped as X. Beidler's friends were, and cannot get away until I have finished my stories.

"We have been looking up the records of the speakers of the evening and we hope to present to you some facts concerning these gentlemen which have heretofore escaped public attention."

The speakers who followed were in a humorous mood, so that the evening passed very pleasantly. The respondents to toasts were Matt Thomas, on "Assets and Liabilities"; Frank Kimball, on "Overdrafts"; Charles Baldwin on "The Referee"; J. W. Delano, on "Future Business of Salt Lake"; Edward Rosenbaum, on "Salesmanship"; Arthur Parsons on "The Merchant and the Banker"; F. W. Gardner, on "The Press"; James Douglas, on "The Future of the Wholesale of Ogden."

A Friend in Need—

THAT thin, little, 10-cent Box of Cascarets. When carried constantly in your Vest Pocket, or in "my Lady's" Purse it will ward off ninety per cent of Life's ordinary ills. Eat one of the six candy tablets contained in that "Vest Pocket Box" whenever you suspect you need one. It can't hurt you, and is sure insurance against serious sickness.

Want of Exercise, Indoor Employment, weaken the Bowel Muscles, just as they weaken Arm and Leg Muscles.

The Muscles lose tone, tension, strength, to force the food onward.

And the longer they stay in that state the weaker they become, because the less exercise they get through the slow passage of food.

Cascarets contain the only combination of drugs that acts on the Muscles of the Bowels and Intestines, just as Cold Water, or Exercise, act on a Lazy man.

They act like Exercise.

When you have Heartburn, Colic, Coated

Tongue, Suspected Breath, Acid-rising-in-throat, Gas-belching, or an Incipient Cold, take a Cascaret.

Remember, all these are not merely

Discomforts, but indications of a serious

Cause.

Nip them in the bud—eat a Candy

Cascaret. Cascarets don't purge, nor punish the stomach like "Bile-driving"

"Physics."

They act like Exercise on the Bowel-

Muscles that propel Food, and that squeeze

the natural Digestive Juices of the body into Food.

Cascarets ward off, or cure, the following diseases:

Constipation Bad Breath

Biliousness Diabetes

REALTY DEAL.

Los Angeles Operator Fires First Gun Of Salt Lake Campaign.

Charles S. Mann, a Los Angeles real estate operator, has become interested in Salt Lake to the extent of purchasing 700 lots at Brighton just over the Jordan river. While no details are given out regarding the price paid, it is understood that the deal involved some $13,000.

This fact, however, is not the most interesting feature of the invasion of the hither from Los Angeles. Apparently he means business, for he has had issued from the press several broad sheets of the size of an ordinary newspaper. These he is distributing throughout Los Angeles and incidentally drawing the attention of investors to the profitable field in Salt Lake.

One of these bears the title of "Los Angeles' Opinions of Salt Lake City," and consists of four pages of clippings from the Salt Lake newspapers, interviews from prominent citizens and letters from Tuttle Bros., J. G. Jacobs, E. F. Colborn and other business men. Others are devoted to maps of Salt Lake showing the Western Pacific and other railroad projects, the Garfield smelters, etc.

This invasion on the part of a Los Angeles realty dealer with a successful record is looked upon locally as the forerunner of the coming of a number of other experts who are destined to make somewhat of a stir in Salt Lake realty circles.

Constipation causes headache, nausea, dizziness, languor, heart palpitation. Drastic physics gripe, sicken, weaken the bowels and don't cure. Doan's Regulents act gently and cure constipation. 25 cents. Ask your druggist.
