EVENING NEWS.

Tuesday, . . February 3, 1880

Bishop Pugmire, Elders Stuckies and Galloway, started on a trip to visit some of the northern settlements. They held five meetings at Montpelier, two at Bennington and two at Georgetown. The meetings were well attended, a splendid feeling prevailed at all the meetings. The presidency gave much valuable instruction on temples, tithing, education, home industries, etc. The weather was somewhat cold and stormy, but the people were well warmed up by that fire that never freezes, while they dare to do right and obey God, rather than obey the commands of men.

With the remark that this is but a temporary check. They say they say they is the same result, which will be passed at this session.

The democrats here seem to be taking a queer course to promote their success in the next campaign. No sooner is a Presidential candidate mentioned on their side than some of them jump upon him, and cut and hack, him all to pieces. Thus Tilden, Bayard, Randall, Seymour, Thurman, Hancock and others have been more roughly and then by their own party friends than by their opponents; and if this keeps on, the Democrats will fur-of men.

The bishops of Montpelier, Bennington and Georgetown are very anxious to have a number of good families come and sattle with them. At Mentpelier they have organized, or are about to organize them. At Montpelier they have organized, or are about to organize a canal company for the purpose of taking out the waters of Bear River for irrigation, thereby enabling the estilers to utilize thousands of acres of land that would otherwise remain wasts. Georgetown is a small settlement of some 18 families. The location is very pleasant. There is between 700 and 800 acres of land enclosed; about 400 acres cultivated last year, from which the good folks of Georgetown raised some 13,000 bushels of a first-class quality of grain. The settlers are principally young people, scions of some of the old families of Mormondom. Bennington has many advantages which will, in the course to time, be developed under the fatherly care of Bishop Moore. The cry is not come "over to Macedonia" but come to the land of the north, "beautiful for situation" and belp us to stretch this portion of Zion's cords and strengthen her stakes. The company wes out four Zion's cords and strengthen her stakes. The company was out four days and returned home in fine days and returned home in line spirits.

The weather is a little cold, the thermometer this morning at seven o'clock showed two degrees below zero, the snow is not very deep on the level, but is drifted pretty deep along side of some of the fences.

The health of the people generally is good. ly is good.

Editors Deseret News: traveling companion, which place oning the Digestive, Respiratory and we left on the 12th. Came by way of Omaha, Council Bluffs, Chicago, and Washington City, and on the 21st found ourselves at the residence of Col. On the 23d we were joined by Elders Barnett and Cowley, and after staying with them four weeks after staying with them four weeks visiting among the Saints, and holding meetings, we started on our journey toward our field of labor in North Carolina. On Nov. 1st Elder Moyle and I took a trip to Burke Co., and got back here Dec. 24th. While there we held some public meetings and did a great amount of fireside talking; some nights sitting up till 11 o'clock, answering questions upon the principles of the gospel, which I think will result in much good; but few of the people in that section ever heard what they call a "Mormon" Elder before, but they seem to have more of an enquiring spirit than any place I ever was in before. While there we had the pleasure of going down into the water and baptizing five of the honest in heart, while many others expressed themselves as being strong believers in the principles of the gospel, and no doubt some good will be done in that section, when the Eldes go back there again. Of course while we were doing some Elder Beck was released to return home on the 1st of November, leaving Elders Moyle, Taylor and myself in the field, and through the help of Gcd, we are doing our best to disseminate the principles of truth among the people, and we expect shortly to baptize a few more in this section.

One family emigrated from here to the home of the Saints, last fall; we expect a faw others to emigrate this spring. The only thing that keeps many of the Baints here is the want of means to emigrate to Elder Beck was released to return

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER. [REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 28th, 1880. Editors Descret News:

The excitement upon the political contest going on in Pennsylvania still continues, and Senator Cameron is in hourly conference with republicans from his State who are trying to fix things to the satisfaction of different factions. The Camerons are severely disappointed at the outlook, and are greatly chagrined at Senator Blaine because his popularity seems to be marching away with control over the caucus. Senator Blaine has arrived here and is congratulated by large numbers of his party on his success in Maine as well as in Pennsylvania.
