THE PRESIDENT'S CONDITION.

MacVeagh.

ELBERON, 17.—The President had a severe chill this forenoon, lasting half an hour, followed by considerable fever, followed by perspiration. Since then there has been a gradual decrease in pulse, temperature and respiration, and he has slept most of the time. There has been no gain in strength, nor any evidence of repair; and the situation is now probably more grave and critical than at any time before.

(Signed) MACVEAGH.

Clearness.

The President is troubled somewhat in mind, but if you ask him a question, he will answer it. As an instance of his clearness of mind, Doctor Bliss illustrated how he took the evening temperature, and said he remarked to Col. Swain, when the thermometer had been standing nine minutes, that he could not get the temperature above normal range, whereupon the President said:

"Well, sir, you have only one minute more."

"How do you know that?" asked the doctor.

The President pointed to the clock, and indicated he had his mind concentrated upon time.

Wandering.

The doctor said, while he was with the President yesterday, he made use of an expression which seemed to indicate his mind was wandering a little; and Dr. Hamilton also states that he had noticed a similar remark when he was with the President.

Weary.

The President complains at times of being very weary and tired. If the process of repair had continued in the President's case without interruption a few days longer, the patient would have moved into a high scale of improvement. His conditions are more hazardous than at any time since he has been at Long Branch. The President still looks forward to going to Mentor, and has talked some about it.

Incidents.

As the day progressed the President appeared to grow brighter, and at about 10.45 Bliss said his pulse was 102, with temperature not much above normal, and respiration 20. The report had scarcely been telegraphed before a messenger was seen approaching Bliss, and he at once hastened to Franklin Cottage. The first intimation of another serious complication in the case was communicated by Col. Swain to Corbin, who arrived here to-day, and from that gentleman it was ascertained the President had been attacked with a severe chill. This created great alarm, and although it was not generally known for some little time anxiety became intense among those acquainted with the facts. Boynton said there were indications of the approach of a chill yesterday, but were discovered in time to prevent it. If other chills occur, it will not be surprising.

Pyæmia.

McVeagh, shortly after the rigor, said he fully appreciated the gravity of the situation, and that the rigor was one of the accompaniments of pyæmia. It was not entirely unexpected, and does not necessarily indicate immediate danger. Secretaries Windom, Hunt, and Postmaster General James arrived to-night. Lincoln will probably reach here to-morrow.

At 3 o'clock the President's pulse had fallen to 115. He had been sleeping almost continuously since the rigor passed off. Boynton does not consider that the President has had acute pyæmia, and in his opinion this one was the result of extended treatment on the right lung, and was not due to the formation of a pus cavity along the track of the ball, as has been thought. Hamilton, who was to return Tuesday next, arrived very unexpectedly to-night. Boynton says there is no immediate reason for alarm on account of the rigor, although there are decidedly unfavorable symptoms. It is one of the obstacles which must be expected at this stage of the case. The evening bulletin was received with gratification, and had the effect of calming the most anxious.

Bliss.

Dr. Bliss said it would be difficult to tell the cause for the rigor, but we think it was occasioned by the depressed condition of the blood. It may be attributed to local causes which are not noticeable. The lung trouble is less pronounced. Respiration has been about 18 since between 1 and 2 o'clock. The formation of a pus cavity along the track of the wound is possible, but not probable.

Robbers.

CHICAGO, 17.—A. S. Trude, who went from here as special counsel for the Chicago & Alton Railroad in ferreting out facts regarding the recent train robbery, states that his trip was brought about by a visit to the headquarters of the company in this city of a middle aged woman who gave the company some valuable pointers leading to the apprehension of the outlaws. She revealed the fact that at certain times dark and mysterious conferences had been held at the house of Si Chapman, near the scene of the robbery, and gave the names of the participants. As a result of her talk and subsequent investigation, Trude believes the robbery was planned by a man named Clark, an expert professional train robber, formerly associated with the notorious "Hoosier Bill" and the Reno gang. Clark is ostensibly a cattle dealer in Missouri. Trude thinks his assistants were hoodlums, and green at the business, and who believed their leader was Jesse James. The day following the robbery, Clark lost a large sum of money in the Kansas City keno dens, and realized more by sporting jewelry. The mysterious woman had been ruined and deserted by two of the outlaws, and has been waiting for revenge. The gang were informed of her mission so early that some of them escaped, but more important arrests are expected in this connection. An officer of the Chicago & Alton Company recently stated that the road has served notice on the Missouri authorities that they will be held responsible for damages precisely as the authorities of Pittsburg were in 1876.

Grant.

ST. LOUIS, 17.—Senator Vest writes the re-union of ex-Confederates to be held at Moberly on the 28th inst., congratulating them on their patriotism in war and peace. He thought the tears of sorrow of the South, in shooting Garfield, would remove the malice and suspicion entertained by the North, and is disappointed that such has not been the case. To illustrate he quotes from Grant's recent utterances, that pensions must be paid to none but Union soldiers, and asks what drug can have so changed the speaker since his words at Cairo and Bloomington, when he paid tribute to the present devotion to their country of those who wore the grey. The language of Grant is an insinuation of the basest sort, for the ex Confederates have neither asked nor thought of pensions.

Mason.

WASHINGTON, 17.—Sergeant Mason, who made the imperfect shot at Guiteau, publishes a rambling address to the American people, confessing that his conduct was unsoldierly, but he says that Guiteau is a miserable wretch, deserving no consideration such as a man is entitled to, and it should not be murder to kill the cowardly assassin. He says that soldiers should not be required to guard a dog like Guiteau. They should not be kept out in bad weather while the assassin is well housed and fed. He does not want to bear the brand of a would be murderer for the sake of his poor wife and children. He only regrets he aimed so poorly. The address is manly, not whining or sentimental and he is ready for punishment.

Cowhided.

Mrs. Boyd, who yesterday cowhided a woman with whom her husband, Col. Boyd, was walking, says she wishes it understood that that woman's name is Mrs. Henrietta Sherwood, who has lived in shameless intimacy with Boyd, and that Boyd would not care for her remonstrances if he could prevent the publication of the name of Sherwood.

Scandal.

The latest scandal in the Departments involves T. J. Evans, Chief of the Collection Division, in the Sixth Auditor's Office, and Miss Della Hines, sister of a prominent official in the Postoffice Department. Their relations have been a matter of gossip, and Chief Clerk Elms has been ordered to investigate. Formal charges were filed by recent clerks who were recently removed. One of the witnesses is Revenue Collector Pearson.

Stars.

District Attorney Corkhill has been severely criticised for having dismissed the grand jury until October 2d, while the star route cases were awaiting consideration. Corkhill's excuse was that the cases were not ready for presentation, and that the grand jurors had important business to attend to, and he gave them a recess to give them an opportunity.

Smoke.

The Department of State has a communication from the British legation at Washington, relative to the exhibition in London of apparatus of all kinds devised to prevent smoke. The exhibition will open October 24th.

Khedive.

NEW YORK, 17. — The Herald's Cairo reporter interviewed the Khedive. He said: "The height of my ambition and all I live for is the happiness and prosperity of all the people in Egypt, regardless of religion or nationality. Since my accession I have taken as my model, American civilization which admits of no distinction neither of race nor religion. I have done all in my power to insure that those who live here may feel that they have a real home in Egypt. My path is beset with difficulties which nobody outside this country can appreciate, but with God's help, however, I shall succeed in overcoming them.

Simonton.

The Tribune and other papers in a parting tribute to Simonton who withdraws to-day from the general agency of the Associated Press, compliment the energy, skill and fairness with which he has managed its business and states, that he only retires to give his whole attention to recently enlarged business in Colorado and California.

Shot.

BOSTON, 17.—During a quarrel this afternoon Harry Forbes shot Geo. W. Townsend, a well known marine diver, through the neck, and then shot himself in the head and fell dead. Townsend will probably die

Murders.

ROCKLAND, Me., 17.—Charles Smith, a laborer, last night shot and killed his wife, infant son and mother-in-law and attempted to kill Mrs. Metcalf, an old lady living in the house, but she, with two children, escaped. The murderer surrendered. Jealousy the cause.

Suicide.

PITTSBURG, 17.—Andrew Vountiz, an insanely jealous German, fatally hurt his wife and cut his own throat. A boarder who was suspected of alienating her affections was assaulted, but not badly hurt.

Savages.

DYKES MILL, La., 17.—A negro woman named Jane Campbell, who lived near here, supporting herself and two children by washing and cotton picking, the other day became angry with the children because they disobeyed her in a trival matter and taking a pine knot beat out their brains. After the coroner's verdict a mob, composed of blacks and whites, gathered and seized Mrs. Campbell, tied her to a stake, and despite her shrieks and cries for mercy, literally roasted her alive. The crime and punishment are without a parallel in the criminal statistics of the country.

Train Robber.

ST. LOUIS, 17.—J. W. Brassfield, the escaped convict, arrested for participation in the train robbery of the Chicago & Alton Railroad, claims he can prove an alibi. If innocent, he will serve out his unexpired term for forgery.

Fires.

CARTHAGE, N. Y., 17.—Forest fires are spreading rapidly in this vicinity. Crops, stock and many buildings are burned. Twenty houses in Crisp settlement have been destroyed since Thursday night.

FOREIGN.

Arrivals.

PARIS, 17.—The public are becoming alive to the nature of the situation in Tunis, a seriousness which is shown by the fact that the measure ordered in the circular of the Chief Staff, directing that the strength of all battalions sent to Africa be 600, is calculated to call for twenty to thirty million francs. The optimist semi-official telegrams are distrusted, even the Republican journals are expressing distrust of General Logerot's ability to grasp the situation. It is stated that besides that he is hampered by instructions from home. The accounts of the operations are conflicting. Correspondents state that the selection of the route from the advance on Kairawan via Zaghawan has led the French into a rough and difficult country, where water is scarce, whereas they might have found a better route if they had advanced from the direction of Susa. Because of the difficulty concerning water, Gen. Subatior, who is advancing to the aid of Zaghawan was unable to effect anything beyond a skirmish. The French loss was not heavy, and generally they have a nominal advantage but have done nothing which will have any tendency to arouse native resistance. Gen. Cornard, whose forces were intended to co-operate with Subatior, was similarly unable to make any progress. The French papers express the fear that through general aimlessness the operations may become a serious disaster through the force being cut off in the interior. Meanwhile the State at Algeria is threatened. It is said a conspiracy to massacre Europeans was only narrowly frustrated by recent arrests of Algerian Cadis.

Compensation.

The report that France has proposed an establishment of an Anglo-French military commission in Egypt is incorrect. It is semi-officially stated the report that France consented to treat the question of compensation for Spanish victims at Saida, the report is incorrrect. On the contrary, all rights of French sufferers by the Carlist and Cuban wars, are formally reserved, and it is only by mutual concessions that the governments will be able to come to an understanding.

Splendor.

KIEL, 17.—The Emperor, with a large and brilliant suit, arrived here at 6 o'clock from Itzkehoe, where the Kaiser witnessed manœuvers. He was greeted with great acclamation by the populace, who thronged the streets along the route to the Schloss. A curious incident occurred in the harbor to-day. An old transport ship, the Elbe, which was to have been blown up to-morrow by the fish torpedoes, sank because it was too heavily ballasted. The Elbe has been replaced by another more costly vessel; thus the very interesting experiment will not be interrupted. At night, the harbor and suburbs of the town on the western shore were brilliantly illuminated with Chinese lanterns and electric lights.

Thanks.

LONDON, 17.—Previous to the closing of the Trader's Union Congress to-day, a letter from the American Minister—Lowell—was read, thanking the friendly and sympathetic feelings it had expressed relative to President Garfield.

Closed.

Thirteen cotton mills at Ashton-under-Lyne, representing 600,000 spindles, closed to-day for one week.

Confiscation.

BERLIN, 17.—The New Free Press and Vastdt Zeitung have been confiscated for adverse remarks on the appointment of Count Richard Beard, as president of the Administrative Court of Justice.

Resignation.

ROME, 17.—Cardinal Milasslaw Ledochowsky has transmitted to the Pope formal notice of his resignation of the diocese of Posen, on account of ill health. Before making this announcement public the Vatican communicated with Russia in regard to providing for the vacancy. An envoy will go to Varzin to submit to Bismarck a list of Bishops the Vatican propose to nominate.

Persecution.

Since the disturbances here attending the removal of the remains of Pius IX., the receipt of Peter's Pence amounted to nearly 1,500,000 lire, while from January to April inclusive it exceeded that sum.

Canal.

ST. CATHERINES, 17.—The New Welland Canal was opened to-day, and an American steamer, D. M. Dickerson, towed through.

Mexican.

CITY OF MEXICO, 17.—The President's speech at the opening of Congress yesterday, congratulates the nation on the peace and prosperity enjoyed; says friendly relations exist with all foreign countries, and refers to the wounding of President Garfield as a deplorable misfortune.
