WASHINGTON, 25.—The funeral of Vice-President Wilson took place in the Senate chamber at half-past ten this morning. Although the weather was very unfavorable, the crowd was great. Many were unable to gain admission to the building. After 10 o'clock the Senate chamber was heavily draped in mourning and immediately in front of the Vice-President's table the catafalque was placed, the desks having all been removed from the chamber. The seats were all arranged on the floor for the President and Cabinet, the Supreme Court, members of the Senate and House of Representatives, and other prominent persons.

At 10:15 the judges of the Supreme Court of the United States, headed by Mr. Middleton, their clerk, entered and were assigned to the front row of seats on the right of the Vice-President's desk. At 10:22 the body was taken from the Rotunda to the Senate chamber, preceded by the Rev. Dr. Sunderland, Chaplain of the Senate, Sergeant-at-arms French, the committee of arrangements and pall-bearers, and followed by the relatives of the deceased, among them his brother, Mr. Colbath, and wife. The casket was carried by twelve soldiers, and as soon as it was placed on the catafalque prepared for its reception, two privates of the marine corps took position at the head and foot, and stood "at rest" throughout the entire service. Numerous crosses and crowns of white flowers, sent to the Capitol this morning by friends of the deceased, were placed on the coffin. As the body was brought into the chamber, all the persons upon the floor arose and the Rev. Dr. Sunderland read the passage, "Lord, make me to know thy ways," etc., and other selections from the scriptures.

Soon after the casket was placed on the catafalque the President, with Secretaries Fish, Bristow, Belknap, Robeson, and Chandler, entered and were assigned to the front row of seats opposite those occupied by the Supreme Court, all of whom were clad in their robes of office. The committee of arrangements and the Massachusetts committee occupied seats immediately in rear of the Supreme Court, and behind them were nearly all the members of the diplomatic corps, headed by Sir Edward Thornton, who is dean, or the oldest continuous member, of the corps, and behind them were citizens of Massachusetts in Washington. On the other side of the chamber the relatives of the deceased were seated in the rear of the President and next the members of the Senate and House of Representatives. Among others on the floor were Adj. Gen. Townsend, Q. M. Gen. Ingalls, Judge Advocate Gen. Dunn, Gen'l Pelouse, Van Vliet, Meir, Barns, and Humphrey, and other army officers, ex-Attorney Gen. Williams, Commissioner Pratt, Fred'k. Douglass, and others of prominence. The chair of the Vice President was vacant and heavily draped in mourning. T. W. Ferry, of Michigan, president pro tem of the Senate, occupied a seat at the clerk's desk. The officers of the Senate and the committee of arrangements wore white silk sashes, gathered on the left shoulder in black and white rosettes.

In spite of the very inclement weather the largest part of those present were ladies. Among those in the diplomatic galleries were Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Fish, Mrs. Belknap and Mrs. Bristow.

All being in readiness, Mr. Ferry announced that the services will now begin. Rev. Dr. Sunderland, standing at the clerk's desk, then read a brief selection of scripture, after which the Rev. Dr. J. E. Rankin delivered an elegant discourse.

When the address was finished, Rev. Dr. Sunderland offered prayer, and pronounced the benediction. The coffin was then closed and the funeral cortege formed in the order prescribed and proceeded to the depot of the Baltimore and Potomac Railway Co. The streets along the route were thronged with spectators, who stood in the cold, drizzling rain. Guns were fired and bells throughout the city were tolled. At the depot the remains were given by Senator Thurman, in behalf of the committee of arrangements, to the charge of the Massachusetts committee and placed on a special train, which started for Baltimore at 1:30 p.m.

COLUMBUS, O., 26.—Daniel Holleran, the switchman at this point, on the Short Line railway, was run over and killed this morning by a passing train.

TORONTO, 26.—Ex-Alderman Clement was arrested this morning, charged with complicity in the murder of Miss Gilmour, for causing whose death Dr. Davis and wife have been sentenced to be hanged.

QUEBEC, 26.—A dispatch received from the survivors of the Magdalen Island fleet says six vessels were lost, and only seventeen men were saved out of sixty-two. The government will send a steamer with provisions to the island.

CIMARRON, N. M., 26.—The Indian situation here is still serious. The government has demanded the delivery to the civil authorities of the Indians engaged in the shooting at the agency. Thus far the Indians have failed to comply and their rations are stopped at the agency. Capt. McClellan's Company of 8th Cavalry are here and the citizens are arming in anticipation of further outbreaks. Capt. Allison's Company of Volunteers and from two to three hundred other citizens will take the field in case of further hostilities. The Apaches are camped in the mountains to the number of 250 warriors, and they expect reinforcements from the Utes. Their women and children are sent away. The Interior Department has sent orders to the agent to turn over the control of the Indians to the military. The citizens, with few exceptions, are urging the removal of the Indians to reservations to prevent further depredations.

CHEYENNE, WY., 26.—Col. Stanton arrived from the agencies last night. He reports extreme cold north and the escort suffered considerably. Captain Pollock's command has evacuated the Black Hills and arrived at Ft. Laramie to go into winter quarters. Hundreds of miners were met going into the Black Hills, which are now uncoccupied by troops. California Joe, after being released on the charges for the murder of old man Richard and nephew, was arrested at Red Cloud for an attempt to murder his partner, and placed in guard in a house at Camp Robinson. He escaped the same night, notwithstanding a number of shots fired by the guard, and is now at large. A number of persons have been arrested for selling whiskey at the agencies and are coming to Cheyenne under guard for trial. J. S. Hastings, the newly appointed agent for the Sioux, arrived here today, en route to Red Cloud agency.

ST. PAUL, 26.—A special from Bismarck says that a big council was held at Standing Rock on Sunday between the Indians of that agency and the Cheyennes, the Black Hills being the subject under consideration; it was determined that the Missouri river Indians should offer to dispose of their interest in the Black Hills region regardless of the other tribes. These Indians embrace about 70 per cent. of those originally joining in the treaty; they are satisfied that the whites will take the Hills and they are unwilling to surrender.

WASHINGTON, D. C., 26.—The military escort, under command of General W. H. Emory, consisted of a full battalion of U. S. marines, stationed in this city, headed by a marine band of the First Regiment District Militia, under Col. Robt. J. Fleming, and the First Battalion, colored, under Major Charles B. Fisher. The staff officers of the district military, and Col. Pontiers and three other officers of the 5th Maryland regiment, also formed part of the military escort.

The funeral car was elaborately trimmed with black, surmounted by five heavy black plumes, and was drawn by six white horses, caparisoned in black, each one led by a groom in mourning. Surrounding this car was a guard of honor, consisting of three non-commissioned officers, and ten privates, under command of G. B. Haycock. Twelve soldiers from the Signal Service Corps detailed as body bearers, followed. After the carriages came on foot members of the Grand Army of the Republic, Massachusetts State Republican Association, and Maryland Republican Association of this city, and a considerable number of white and colored citizens.

When the procession reached the station, the President and Cabinet, pall bearers, committee of arrangements, Supreme Court, and Massachusetts committee followed the casket and car, the guard of honor presenting arms as the remains and the President and Cabinet passed. The casket having been placed on a platform, Senator Thurman, chairman of the committee of arrangements, addressing the Massachusetts committee, said—

"Gentlemen of Massachusetts, the funeral ceremonies at the national Capitol over the remains of the late Vice President are here concluded, and we now deliver them to you, to convey them to the State of which he was a citizen, by which he was so much honored, and which he so well deserved. In the performance of your mournful duties you will carry with you the sympathies of the nation, and everywhere meet with sincere marks of respect for the illustrious dead."

Col. Wyman, in reply, said, they accepted the precious trust confided to them, and would convey the remains to Massachusetts, where they would receive all the honor that love and affection could bestow.

The body was placed in a car and the following gentlemen, who will accompany it to Massachusetts, took their places in the train—Col. Edward Wyman, aid to Gov. Gaston, Col. Geo. H. Campbell, private secretary of the Governor, Hon. Seth Turner, Hon. E. H. Dunn, members of the executive council of Massachusetts, Senator Boutwell, Capt. Haycock and guard of honor from the marine corps, Deputy Sergt.-at-arms James J. Christy, delegation of officers from Maryland Regt., A. G. Hill, of the Boston Journal, and Fred. Douglass, James Wormley and Robert Parvis, who, as personal friends of Mr. Wilson, were especially invited by the Massachusetts committee to accompany the remains to Boston.

Among the floral offerings on the casket in the Senate chamber was a large monument bearing the inscription, "Floral offering from the South, by Rev. David Wills, for the funeral of the lamented Vice President, the student, statesman, philanthropist and Christian, whose name will ever live in the annals of his admiring countrymen, and whose memory will be cherished by the wise and good, without respect to sect or party." A large cross from Mrs. Grant also rested on the casket.

BALTIMORE, 26.—The funeral train with the late Vice President arrived at Union Depot, Charles Street, at 3:11 p.m. Notwithstanding the rain, Charles Street and the approaches to the depot were crowded with people. Within the depot enclosure the First Brigade of Infantry, under Gen'l Herbert, 5th Regiment, Lt. Col. Loney, 6th Regiment, Col. Peters, and a body of soldiers and sailors of the late war under Gen'l Felix Agnus, were drawn up as escort. The command of Gen'l Agnus was joined by about 30 ex-soldiers and sailors under Gen'l Tyler, who had gone to Washington this morning and accompanied the procession to Baltimore.

Immediately after the arrival the casket was borne to the hearse, the band of the 6th Regiment playing "Rest, Spirit, Rest." The procession formed in the following order—Platoon of police under Capt. Earhart; 6th Regiment, six companies in full dress uniform, preceded by the band and drum corps; soldiers and sailors of the late war 100 strong and a detachment of post 7 G. A. R., about 30 men, colored; 5th Regiment, ten companies, with band and drum corps; four carriages, containing members of committees from Washington; the hearse, containing the casket, drawn by four black horses, and guarded by an escort of marines under Capt. Haycock; five carriages with members of committees of escort.

The cortege moved from the depot to the funeral dirge along Charles Street to Baltimore St., down Baltimore to Holiday and to the City Hall. The line of march nearly one and a half miles was thronged with spectators, who defied the drenching rain. At the City Hall and vicinity full five thousand persons awaited the procession. On its arrival a little after four o'clock the escort was drawn in line facing west to the City Hall. The hearse then moved forward and halted at the east entrance, the regiments standing at present arms, and the band of the 5th playing the "Dead March in Saul." The casket was borne from the hearse and placed on a bier in the Rotunda, which was tastefully draped in mourning and festooned with white fringe and tassels, as were the halls and doorways leading to the Rotunda. The several committees with the remains were received by Mayor Latrobe, in the Mayor's reception room, assisted by ex-Mayor Geo. Wm. Brown, present Chief Judge of the city courts, Ex-Mayor Robt. T. Banks, and ex-Mayor Joshua Van Sant. The casket was profusely strewn with crosses and bouquets of camellias, calla lilies, immortelles and other flowers, the tribute of admirers and friends of the distinguished deceased. The doors were thrown open and the vast crowd passed through the Rotunda for an hour and a half, taking the last look at the features so long familiar to the public. About half-past five o'clock the casket was closed, the line of march again formed, the body removed to the hearse, and the procession marched to Calvert Street depot, where the remains were placed on the train, which left for Philadelphia at 6:25.

During the ceremonies in the city the bells were tolled and there was every demonstration of respect to the deceased.

NEW ORLEANS, 26.—Nine persons have been executed for murder in the three years that the present State administration has been in power and three other death warrants have been signed and await executions. The records of the Secretary of State's office show that in the preceding fifteen years only three executions for murder have taken place by process of law in the State of Louisiana.

PHILADELPHIA, 26.—The council committee with the Mayor, left this city at 8 this evening, in a special car for Wilmington, to meet the Massachusetts committee having charge of Wilson's remains. The train containing the body arrived at Wilmington at 9:25 p.m., and the cars with the body and the Washington delegation were detached and connected with the special car, which sped on to this city ahead of the regular time, arriving at 11:05 p.m. Mr. King, chairman of Philadelphia committee, made a few remarks extending hospitalities, which were responded to by Col. Wyman. On the arrival there was a large crowd in waiting at the depot. General Bankson and staff and General Muirhead were present. A procession was formed, consisting of the committee and the 2nd regiment, under Colonel Lyle. The remains were transferred to an open hearse, and drawn by six horses were removed to Independence Hall, arriving there at 11:40 p.m., where another large crowd had assembled. At 12 the upper half of the lid of the casket was removed, and up to 2 a.m. the public was admitted to view the body. A detachment of the 2d regiment was on guard at the hall. The body lies in the room in which the Declaration of Independence was signed, on a low catafalque in the centre of the hall, under a canopy consisting of the American colors trimmed with black. On the casket are flowers formed into various designs. At the head of the casket to the east are beautifully arranged many floral offerings, gifts of our citizens, consisting of broken columns, crowns, harps, etc. The room is beautifully draped.

A dispatch from Stanmix, Arizona, says that Chavez, the lieutenant of the late band of Vasquez, was shot and instantly killed near there yesterday, while attempting to escape arrest.

CHICAGO, 27.—A Washington special says that the political axe will fall in the interior department to-day, and that a great number of removals will be made for cause. In the Indian Bureau alone about twenty clerks will be dismissed. This embraces all whom recent investigations have led Secretary Chandler to suspect have any connection with rings of any sort. There will be many removals in all the other bureaus. Secretary Chandler, yesterday, struck out from the bill of an attorney for one of the Indian tribes an item making a charge for legislative expenses; in doing this he made an indorsement that such services should be considered illegal and immoral, and that they would not hereafter be allowed. Hitherto large allowances have been made to the Indian tribes for such services. The celebrated Adair case is a notable illustration.

DETROIT, 27.—Two brothers, named R. J. and J. E. Wilcox, en route from Mt. Pleasant to Kalamazoo, with their brother, G. E. Wilcox, for the purpose of placing him in an insane asylum, stopped last night at Grand Rapids. This morning, in a room of the hotel, the insane brother knocked down J. E. Wilcox with a chair, cut his own throat, and soon died.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., 27.—Gov. Ingersoll, to-day, appointed ex-Governor English, U. S. Senator, in place of O. S. Ferry, deceased.

NEW YORK, 27.—Col. Robt. Desanges, an officer in the appraiser's department of the Custom House, was found guilty of complicity in smuggling goods, and sentenced, to-day, to two years imprisonment and to pay a fine of ten thousand dollars.

The Attorney General of the State has ordered suits to be entered against the contractors and engineer in chief of the storage reservoir water commissioners of Brooklyn, to recover $662,000, said to have been stolen from the city.

WASHINGTON, D. C., 27.—J. J. Boville, agent of the Red Cloud agency, having telegraphed for definite instructions as to his course in the case of the Indians refusing to give up the young member of their band who, without provocation, shot at G. M. Bosler, who was bringing in a herd of cattle, Commissioner Smith has sent the following reply—

"The Indians must be compelled to surrender the guilty party. If the military will stand by you, stop the rations until the surrender is made."

Joaquin Miller thinks Americans laugh too much. "We laugh at each other. We laugh at art. We laugh at old men and women. If ever I grow old I shall go to Europe, that I may be respected in my age. We laugh at religion and we laugh at love. There is no reverence in us."

Silk culture is increasing so rapidly in South America that the government of Brazil contemplates offering subsidies for the scientific cultivation of the worm. The climate is well adapted to the industry, and the country possesses an abundance of the Palma Christi, a plant upon which the worm feeds with avidity.
