

SALT LAKERS IN GOTHAM.

Special Correspondence.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Junius F. Wells dropped into our midst for a few hours in the early part of the week, returning soon to Boston and Vermont. His labors in connection with the Joseph Smith monument fund are about completed, and it has been suggested that a fitting testimony to the successful completion of that historical undertaking would be to hold a mission conference at the farm on Pioneer day. Arrangements have been made to that end and invitations sent out to all elders, saints and friends in the adjacent east to be in attendance. There is a general desire expressed to be there and no doubt a large company will gather, making the occasion one long to be remembered. The conference meeting will be advertised extensively among the people in the country round about, and it is hoped that the good impression made upon them at the time of the dedication of the monument will be added to by the coming visit.

The weekly publication, Life, is well known as one of the leading periodicals of the country, and the standard of its drawings and illustrations is the very highest. Especially is this true of their double page drawing that appears each week. To secure this double page for one of their own creations is among the highest aims of any artist. It has been the well-merited fortune of a young Utah artist, in the person of Geo. W. Barratt, to have one of his drawings given the place of honor in an early number of Life. This is a decided honor for Mr. Barratt, and indicates that he has talent that augurs well for an auspicious career.

Our friend V. S. Peet is still in the east and is as active as ever in defending and advocating Utah and her people. He is at present in Baltimore waging an effective campaign against the ignorance and prejudice that exists concerning a much misrepresented and misunderstood people. This last week bills were distributed broadcast over the city of Baltimore advertising a lecture on the Utah question from a non-Mormon viewpoint, to be delivered by Mr. Peet in Red Men's hall on Friday evening, July 13. We are informed that a considerable audience gathered to hear him, and many seemed to be favorably impressed. Mr. Peet has also been active in Philadelphia and other parts of Pennsylvania, informing the people of the true condition of affairs in Utah, and refuting the slanders of pious busy-bodies who seem to take delight, in that section, in vilifying a peaceful and God-fearing people.

It was a great pleasure to all our number to greet Col. Willard Young, who arrived here from home a few days ago and registered at the Imperial. Col. Young resided here for so many years, and was such a pillar of strength to our colony, that we still feel he is one of our number. His stay will be short, however, as his business will keep him here only a portion of the coming week. He has made good use of his leisure time in having many pleasant visits with old-time friends. We hope he will find it necessary to often come this way as he is always heartily welcome in our midst.

J. A. Marshall of Salt Lake registered at the Imperial on Wednesday.

A sufficient number of elders have been assigned to the Brooklyn conference to admit the opening up of another new branch in this neighborhood. Elder J. F. Bean, assisted by Elder Amos W. Rockwood, has established headquarters in the pretty village of Yonkers on the Hudson just north of New York. So far they report having received fair consideration at the hands of the people there. Today's issue of the New York Herald, however, has an article headed "Yonkers Bars the Mormons," and quotes the mayor as saying that he will refuse to allow the elders to hold public meetings or distribute tracts, but the elders feel sanguine, judging by the general spirit of the people, that his honor will relent from his unjust attitude and permit them to do a good work among the people there.

Elder Alfred W. Gordon, who was for several months in charge of the Brooklyn conference, has been reassigned to labor in Baltimore the concluding few months of his missionary service. He has some musical friends in Baltimore and he hopes while there to give some attention to vocal culture. Elder Gordon will be much missed as he has made many friends while laboring here. Elder Lawrence Snow has been appointed to preside over the Brooklyn branch.

Joseph Snowcroft returned to New York during the week for a short stay, after visiting several of the large cities of the east in the interests of his business. From here he expected to go direct to his home in Ogden.

Miss Helene Davis, well known to most all Utah people who have been in the metropolis, is taking a vacation and rest at Meadowview, Me., a delightful summer resort. She will remain about two weeks.

Harold Orlob has gone to Salt Lake for a summer vacation, expecting to return in the early fall to take up his professional duties.

Viola Pratt Gillette is at Atlantic City for the summer, where she is playing light opera roles.

Mrs. Frank Eldredge and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Meakin, have returned from Boston.

Mr. Samuel Newhouse has been in New York the past week as a member of the international policyholders' committee, which is formed to secure control of the Mutual and New York Life Insurance companies. The committee is composed of many of the most prominent men of the country, including several governors of states, and it is a recognition of the business ability of Mr. Newhouse to be among their number.

Clyde Squires and George W. Barratt left on Tuesday, the 19th, for Salt Lake, where they will spend the summer.

OF INTERVIEWED TWIG.

The great Hindu river, the Indus, is crossed in some of its remote reaches by "rope bridges." The ingenuity of the natives in making these bridges with no material but twisted twigs, yet strong enough to hold the weight of any number of combs with their loads, and long enough to be swung from cliff to cliff across this great river, is a source of wonder. Such bridges are composed of three strands of twigs, one for each hand to grasp, one to guide the feet. They are gracefully flanked the river, occasionally swaying slightly in the wind, but are firm and safe as a bridge of iron or stone.—Cassell's Saturday Journal.

THE SMILE

that won't come off, appears on baby's face after one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, the great worm medicine. Why not keep that smile on baby's face. If you keep this medicine on hand, you will never see anything else but smiles on his face. Mrs. S.—Blackwell, Okla., writes: "My baby was peevish and fretful. Would not eat and I feared he would die. I used a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and he has not had a sick day since. Sold by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept., 112-114 Main St. B

MRS. WILLIAM K. RYAN and her SON, WILLIAM K. RYAN JR., and her FATHER, THOMAS F. RYAN.

TWELFTH GRANDCHILD FOR THOMAS F. RYAN.
By the birth of a son a few days ago to Mr. and Mrs. William K. Ryan, Thomas F. Ryan, the banker and railroad magnate, became the happy recipient of the knowledge that he is grandfather of 12 children. William K. Ryan is the second son of Thomas F. Ryan. His wife was Miss Lillie Bondurant, of Louisville, Ky. This is their third child, their other children being William K. Ryan, Jr., and Thomas F. Ryan, III. The latest youngster was born at Oak Ridge, Va., his grandfather's home.

LIVELY IN HAVANA.

Havana is a continuous performance. Picturesque groups of natives, queer-looking wheeled vehicles, grotesque scenes and unusual sounds greet one at every corner.

Havana is old, and it looks every day of its age. In fact, except that it is now the cleanest city in the world, where only about four years ago it bore the reputation of being the dirtiest, it looks just as it must have looked a hundred years ago.

About every two squares, says Lacle's Weekly, are kiosks or fruit stands, where green coconuts are piled up high, and where native guaraná, or "sour-sour" lemonade is dispensed at a few cents a glass. Pina frita, a refreshment made from the juice of the pineapple, is also prepared in a second.

These kiosks are also virtual information bureaus, not because they cater to this business, but because so many strangers stand on the corners and ask questions. The native Cuban, he man of leisure or ordinary laborer, is cast in the same mould of old Spanish chivalry, and he will put himself at your disposal even to the neglect of his business.

To the New Yorker, accustomed to the constant cry of "Step lively," it is a genuine novelty as well as a pleasure to board a car in Havana and ask the conductor to call out when he reaches a certain street. To render a courtesy gives to the Cuban. Even the blacks are Chesterfieldian in speech and manner.

Lover Got What He Asked.

A good story is told of a young man who had gained access to the house of one of the richest and most aristocratic families in Berlin. He fell in love with the only daughter of the house and tried to ingratiate himself with her in every possible manner, especially by bringing her the latest publications.

One day the father of the young lady found one of these books lying on the table and began glancing through it. In one of the chapters he found a number of words underlined with a lead pencil—not beautiful passages, but insignificant words such as "I" and "you." He turned over leaf after leaf and found everywhere the same thing. He connected up the underlined words and read as follows: "Dearest Frau—Will it insult you if I tell you that I adore you and—"

In short, a love letter of the most gushing description and closing with the suggestive words: "Answer in the next chapter." Then he took a lead pencil, underlined some words in the next chapter, wrapped the book in a piece of paper and handed it to his footman, whom he Instructed to take it back to the young gentleman.

The latter opened the volume, his heart throbbing like a sledge hammer, and found the words underlined in the next chapter. He read as follows:

"You young scoundrel! If you dare to cross the threshold of my house again I shall kick you out of the window."—Tit-Bits.

What Text?

Bishop Strachan of Toronto once received two church wardens who complained that their clergyman had married the congregation by repeating a sermon. He had preached it twelve times. The bishop asked for the text. Neither of the church wardens could remember. "Go back," said the bishop sternly, "and ask your clergyman to preach the sermon once more and then come back and tell me the text."—Salt Lake Tribune.

ASTHMA SUFFERERS SHOULD KNOW THIS.

Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases of asthma that were considered hopeless. Mrs. Adolph Buesing, 20 West Third St., Davenport, Iowa, writes: "A severe cold contracted twelve years ago was neglected until it finally grew into asthma. The best medical skill available could not give me more than temporary relief. Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended and one fifty-cent bottle cured me of asthma, which had been growing on me for twelve years. It had taken it at the start I would have saved years of suffering."
