Mr. McLaurin said he would join with Mr. Tillman in having the seats de-clared vacant and meet him anywhere. Mr. Tillman immediately offered to sign with Mr. McLaurin in a resigna-tion and send it to "that man", (pointing to President Pro Tem Frye), "and that would settle it."

Mr. Tillman declared that he did not want the vote of South Carolina divid-ed and would be willing to go before the people with McLaurin on his "new fangled issues."

that the prosecutor was overstepping his right and was making an argument to the jury. The court sustained the objection.

TAKING OF TESTIMONY.

Miss Retta Wilson, a daughter of the deceased Mrs. Jane Wilson, was the first witness called by the state. Miss Wilson is a professional nurse and lives at 444 south Sixth East street. She testified that when she first saw her mother after the shooting she was on-ly partially conscious. On cross-exmination Mr. Frick tried to make Miss Wilson admit that her mother's health had rapidly declined after the probing for the bullet at the hospital, with the object evidently of showing that death was due in part at least to the prob-ing. Witness would not admit that this was so. By the time counsel got through with Miss Wilson's examina-tion, it was noon, and the court took a records with 2 school recess until 2 o'clock.

HISTORY OF THE SHOOTING. The circumstances of the shooting of Mrs. Jane Wilson at Holliday, a woman 52 years of age, were fully reported in the "News" on Monday, July 1. Frank Shurtliff, George Nellsen, John Cooper, Mark Bean, Frank Lark, Ham Fergu-son, Ben Shurtliff and Will Fcuiks, a crowd of boys of from 13 to 18 years of age, were shooting with a 22-caliber rifle on Sunday forenoon, June 30. Mrs. Wilson was in her house alone, making up a bed, when without any warning a bullet came whizzing through the screen door. A moment later another bullet broke through the window and buried itself in Mrs. Wilson's neck. The injured woman rushed out of the house with the blood welling up in her throat and choking her so that she was unable to call for help, and she fell to the ground, swooning, with the blood oozing from the wound in her neck. Her two sons, coming home from Sunday school a half hour later, found their mother lying unconscious in a ghastly pool of blood. Constable Nellen was hastly summoned, and Dr. Rauscher, a retired physician of the neighborhood, was called in. He found Mrs. Wilson weak from the loss of blood. Later Dr. A. C. Behle of Salt Lake City was summoned. The doctor found on examining the patient that the bullet had ruptured the jugular vein and the cavotid artery, and lodged in the muscles at the back of the neck. The doctor expressed wonder that Mrs. Wilson had not bled to death, the two main blood vessels on one side of the neck having been severed. He ligatured the torn vessels, but did not probe for the bullet. Dr. Behle held out but lit-tle hope of Mrs. Wilson's recovery, and the bullet. although she was carefully nursed by Miss Retta Wilson, the only one of her four daughters at home at the time. On the Monday following the shooting the wounded woman was taken to St. Mark's hospital, where, after lin-gering for eleven days she died on Fri-day, July 12. She had been conscious but little of the time since she was place.

All the boys who were with Frank Shurtliff at the time of the shooting were brought before Justice Dana T. Smith on a charge of disturbing the peace, but their cases were dismissed. Frank was held under a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, pending the result of Mrs. Wilson's death. When she died the charge was changed to murder in the second degree, on which charge young Shurtliff is now standing He was only confined to fail two trial. or three days, being released on $2,000 bail.

The four men suspected of burglarizing Browning Brothers' store at Ogden. who were captured Saturday evening by the police, were yesterday taken to Ogden by Sheriff Layne and will be tried on the charge of burglary.

Their capture was effected by Officers Gillespie, Sperry, Arthur Pratt and J. D. Brown, on State street near Seventeenth South. It was first reported to the police that the nien were seen to dig up some guns and watches near the Oregon Short Line depot and the patrol wagon was at once sent to the scene, while Detective Sheets and Sergeant Janney proceeded to the Rio Grande Western depot to head the num off. The officers were too late, however, and the suspects were rapidly leaving the city behind them when the officers above named boarded a Murray car and overtook them near the smelter town. No revolvers nor watches were found on them but one of the fellows had a number of rat tail files and some bur glar implements on him. The Ogder The Order authorities believe they have a good case against the men and will be able to prove they burglarized Browning Bros." MINISTERS MEET.
