CAIRO, 25.—Arabi Pasha says the best thing the English could do for Egypt would be to send all the notables and other leading men connected with the rebellion out of the country. If they do not do so vengeance will surely be wreaked upon them after their departure.

Seeing the manner in which the British treat their prisoners Arabi says they are a great people and that he is heartily sorry he fought them.

He denies that he had any communication with the Sultan during the war.

The Khedive, the Duke of Connaught, Gen. Wolseley and Sir Edward Malet entered the same carriage and were driven to the Ghezreh palace.
