JUDGE DIEHL'S COURT.

Gus Cravens' "Alibi" Turns Out Decidedly Bad for Him.

Gus Cravens, the colored man arrested last Tuesday morning on the charge of robbing Kluge's barbershop the night before and stealing a shotgun, met with keen disappointment this morning in trying to establish a flimsy alibi.

Yesterday morning two witnesses testified that they saw Cravens with the gun in question and the records of a pawnshop showed that Cravens "soaked" the gun for $7 at 8:30 Monday evening. In spite of this testimony Cravens put on an air of injured innocence; declared he was a victim of circumstances; did not steal the gun; never saw it before and finally, that on the night of the robbery and at the time the witnesses said they saw him with the gun, he was at work at the Palace barbershop from 7:20 until 9:30.

In his behalf, three witnesses were summoned from the Palace shop and they appeared this morning. All three testified that Cravens left the shop about 8 o'clock and did not return for 35 minutes, thus giving him ample time to commit the robbery and pawn the gun. The testimony given by his own witnesses simply clinched the otherwise strong case made against him by Asst. County Atty. Myers. Judge Diehl ordered the man held to await the action of the district court and as Cravens is unable to furnish $400 bail he is occupying a cell in the rotary at the county jail.

Charles Wallace, the youthful robber who was caught red-handed breaking into the California Fish and Poultry store on Monday night, pleaded not guilty to the charge of burglary in the second degree and the case was set for the 12th for hearing. It is likely that Wallace, who is but 17 years of age, will escape the state prison. He begged Atty. Myers to permit him to plead guilty to petit larceny and take six months in the county jail.

Owing to the youth of the prisoner and the fact that he has not been in trouble before, this arrangement will probably be made.

FELL IN A FIT.

Stranger Painfully Hurt on Main Street This Morning.

About 10 o'clock this morning Joseph Graham, a young man from Denver, fell in a fit in front of Keith-O'Brien's store on Main street and received numerous cuts and bruises. After falling heavily to the pavement the man began bumping his head on the hard walk, inflicting several cuts on the head and face, and he also bit his tongue.

His nose and mouth bled profusely, and the man would have seriously injured himself but for Patrolman Stains, who seized him and took the man to the emergency hospital, where Jailer "Dr." Wilkinson washed the man's face and dressed the wounds.

Graham came here from Denver about six weeks ago and says he has been working at the Palmer hotel. After his injuries were attended to he was able to go on his way.

JOHN WAS FIGHTING DRUNK.

When John Clements went to his Third avenue home last night he was filled with bad whisky and was in an ugly frame of mind. Arming himself with a hatchet he threatened to kill his wife. He then smashed a large mirror and next turned his attention to other pieces of furniture, reducing them to kindling wood. Some one telephoned to the police and a patrolman placed Clements under arrest and took him to the city jail.

WEATHER REPORT

This lovely fall weather appears to be, for the present at least, a constant quantity, while heavy rains are falling in the east and northeast, extinguishing the forest fires. An area of low barometric pressure is central this morning over the upper lake region and Ontario, and has caused light rains during the past 24 hours over portions of northern Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania and New England. High pressure, accompanied by fair weather, prevails over the south Atlantic and gulf states, and over the entire country west of the Mississippi river. Unseasonably cold weather still continues over the Atlantic and gulf coast states, and nearly normal temperatures elsewhere throughout the country.

With the continuance of the high pressure over this locality, fair weather will prevail tonight and Saturday.
