

OGDEN DEPARTMENT

Manager, E. A. Larkin
608 24th St. Telephone 133-k.

Advertisements for the Daily Saturday and Semi-Weekly News accepted on the same terms as at the Salt Lake office.

Circulator, John J. McGeevor
225 Wash. Ave. Telephone 161-Ind.
Office with Lambert Paper Co.

Payments for the Daily, Saturday and Semi-Weekly News should be made to the circulator. Delivery made by carrier on the same terms as in Salt Lake.

OGDEN, UTAH. - JAN. 2, 1905.

ROLAPP RETIRES FROM THE BENCH.

Held in Unbounded Esteem for Brilliant Court Record of Probity and Honor.

SUICIDE OF HERBERT STONE.

New County Officers Installed—Switchman Corbin Hurt—Funeral of Mrs. Pett—News in Brief.

Judge Rolapp held the concluding session of the December term of the second district court on Saturday. It was also the concluding session of his term of office as district judge. He leaves the bench with the unbounded esteem and respect of all who have had business before him during his long term. While his name has become a terror to evil doers, his judgments have been tempered with mercy to the unfortunate and others who wished to reform and do better. His dignified, unbiassed, fair and just course on the bench has won for him the admiration and undying regard of all the members of the bench and bar of this state, and he retires with the well deserved honor and homage of the citizens of Utah.

When court convened in the morning another offer was made for the shares held by Mrs. Etta Shippe in the Shupe-Williams Candy company. The offer was made by Mrs. Pearl Decker, and the amount was $12,500, an increase of $1,000 over the highest offer of the day before. The court, however, decided not to confirm the sale or entertain any of the offers, but ordered that the property be readvertised for sale.

A motion for nonsuit in the case of E. H. Austin against the Utah National bank was denied.

In the case of J. H. Winslow vs. Clifford S. Potter, a decision was handed down ordering the action dismissed. A suit was filed in the afternoon in which Ralph E. Hoag and Horace E. Peen are plaintiffs and A. C. Fisk and twelve others are defendants. The suit is to quiet title to Fisk's addition in Ogden City.

A trial was granted the defendants in the case of Jane S. Warner against the Union Pacific Railroad company. The new trial was granted by Judge Rolapp, who gave a written opinion reversing the law points in the case. Mrs. Warner had been given judgment by a jury for $8,000 because of the death of her husband, which, it was alleged, was due to injuries received while engaged as a brakeman in the employ of the railroad.

HERBERT STONE ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Because of a disagreement he had with a girl whom he had been keeping.

A RELIABLE MEDICINE.

A Reporter of the News Interviews our Local Druggists, Druehl & Frank.

The Interview of Interest to Every Person in Salt Lake City.

So many patent medicines and "divergent" cures are now offered to the public that readers should be glad to know the opinion of a man who has spent years in handling them, and profit by his advice.

"After having sold drugs and all kinds and makes of medicines for so many years, naturally we have learned something about them, their value, and power to cure."

There is no one medicine that will cure everything, but this I do know, only realized the wonderful curative power of Vinol, a wonder-creating power of Vinol, we would not have clerks enough in our store to put up the orders for it.

Continued Mr. Druehl, "You see Vinol is not a patent medicine, and it actually contains every one of the best of fresh cod liver, with other vitalizing ingredients. It contains no poisonous drugs or nauseating oil, and Vinol has wonderful curative power. It tones up and invigorates every organ of the body to do its work, and build up the depleted system and create strength."

"When I tell you that we have never sold in our store such a valuable remedy as Vinol for the following ailments, and that if it fails to accomplish what we say it will, we will refund your money, it will show our faith in its wonderful curative and vitalizing power."

"It will build up run-down, tired, debilitated people. It will make the weak and sickly people strong and well. It will make flesh for thin people. It will increase their appetite. It will cure nervousness, irritability and sleeplessness. It will cure chronic troubles, dyspepsia and indigestion. It will make rich, red blood. It will make strong, ailing children strong and robust. It is the greatest strength-giver for old people. It is a great strength-giver for weak women. It is a boon to nursing mothers. It will positively cure chronic coughs and colds. It cures bronchitis. It makes weak lungs strong and is of untold value in combating all wasting diseases. For the consumptive it has no equal as a strength-giver."

"We cannot make a stronger statement and can only ask such people in Salt Lake City to try Vinol on our guarantee." Druehl & Frank, also Smith Drug Co. Druggists.

company with Herbert Stone, a young man 15 years of age, shot himself in the head with a .22 caliber rifle at the home of Mrs. Broecker at West avenue yesterday morning, inflicting a serious if not fatal wound. The evidence points to a case of attempted suicide. The young man had told his father that he intended to kill himself. Yesterday morning he took the .22 rifle into the presence of the girl and told her that he intended to kill himself. Soon afterward the gun was discharged, and the bullet entered Stone's right temple. The ball shattered the bones of the skull but did not enter the brain. He was removed to the hospital where Dr. Joyce attended him. His condition is regarded as critical on account of the concussion which rendered him unconscious. The girl is Clara Bingham. She said she went to her just before committing the act and told her to look at his face as it would be the last time she would see him alive.

At 11 o'clock this morning Stone was in very critical condition, and it was not expected that he would recover.

DEATH'S HARVEST.

Mrs. Esther Reed Reeve, wife of John Reeve, died at 3:35 this morning at the family residence, 425 Twenty-second street, from leakage of the heart, from which she had suffered for about six weeks. She was born at Norwich, Norfolk, England, Nov. 25, 1833, and has been resident of Ogden since October, 1869, and one of the best known and most highly esteemed women of the city. She was a faithful member of the Saint and an active and energetic church worker. She leaves besides her husband, three sons, viz. John J., Albert G. and William A., all well known employees of the Southern Pacific railway.

A strange coincidence connected with the death of Mrs. Reeve is the fact that just 35 minutes previously, her granddaughter, Hazel Reeve, aged 12 years, died of a similar ailment at the family residence, 231 Twenty-sixth street. She was the daughter of William A. and Sadie Reeve and a bright, lovable girl. The cause of death was leakage of the heart, and the family physician, Dr. W. B. Wilson, who has attended her since her affliction began, has suffered for some time.

The funeral services will be held together, the time and place to be decided upon later on.

Mrs. Eliza Cox, a well known resident of West Weber, died at 7 o'clock last night at the family residence, aged 60 years. She leaves a husband and several sons and daughters. On account of a number of relatives being in Idaho, the time and place of funeral is not yet announced.

FUNERAL OF MRS. PETT.

Yesterday afternoon the funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Margaret Roberts Pett, wife of Archie Pett, were held yesterday afternoon from the Fifth ward meetinghouse. Bishop John Watson presided and music was furnished by a choir under the direction of Joseph Ballantyne and by Mrs. Parley, who rendered an impressive solo. Addresses were made by T. A. Shreve, A. T. Wright, James Douglas and Bishop Watson. Each of the speakers had been acquainted with the dead woman and each called attention to her many beautiful and noble traits of character. While the deceased was taking away of one so young and beautiful they offered words of consolation to the bereaved relatives from the fact that though young, the dead had already won a great and noble position in the memory of a pure and beautiful life. The pall-bearers were A. T. Wright, Axel Lingstrom, P. T. Wright, Charles H. Wright, Inner Pett, Joseph Shreve and Rudolph Jans.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED.

Most of the new county officials have already taken their oaths of office and will enter upon the discharge of their duties beginning at noon today. The oaths were administered by Charles Hollingsworth, the retiring county clerk, and who, with County Superintendent Samuel W. B. Wilson, are the only county officials who will remain in the courthouse.

SWITCHMAN HURT.

V. Corbin, a Union Pacific switchman, while on duty at the Union Pacific yards about 10 o'clock this morning by being knocked from a moving car. Corbin was at work switching, and was clinging to the side of a box car when it was struck by another car. He was struck on the head by a switch pin projecting toward the track, throwing him off the car to the ground. His head was badly cut and he suffered a great amount of pain in the back and breast. He was taken to the hospital and Dr. Jenkins was summoned.

An examination of the man's wounds this morning revealed a broken skull, dermal collar, which is dangerous, while not necessarily dangerous, will lay him up for some time.

CUT-OFF OFFICIALLY COMPLETED.

The Ogden-Lucien cut-off was officially pronounced complete yesterday morning at 12 o'clock when it was turned over to the operating department from the construction department. The actual changes involved by the transfer were very few for the reason that the operating department has had charge of almost the entire line for several months and both freight and passenger trains have been going regularly over this route. However, there was a small section near Rambo where considerable trouble had been experienced by the settling of the track and this remained under the control of the construction department. Beginning yesterday morning, however, at one minute past 12, the entire line was turned over to the dispatchers' office at Ogden to operate, and the dispatchers' office at Lucien.

The new time table went into effect, which recognizes the Lucien cut-off from one end to the other as a completed work.

STREET RAILWAY IMPROVEMENTS.

Extensive improvements in the Utah Light and Railway service in Ogden are to be made this year. This decision was reached Saturday by Manager R. S. Campbell of the company.

The plans have been under consideration for some time and were approved yesterday after a conference between Manager Campbell and Local Manager E. W. Wade. The improvements include the installing of 60 new lamps for street lighting service of Ogden. This will involve the changing of all the lamps north of Twenty-second street and east of Adams avenue about 80 in all—and will cost the company, it is estimated, $15,000.

The improvements will be placed in the basement of the company's buildings on Washington Ave. The advantage of the new lights over

Husler's Flour
"That Never Fails."

The old is that the new are not so apt to burn out, and the burning out or impairment of light does not disarrange the entire circuit as in the case of all present system. The new lamps give a much steadier light and the area of the substance emitting the light has a larger area besides being inclosed with less frame work.

The company has also planned the raising of its dam in Ogden canyon four feet so as to store the surplus water of the reservoir. This will require the necessary changing of the roadway and will probably cost $15,000.

DEER ATTACKS LOUIS LOFGREN.

Louis Lofgren, who has had charge of the wild animals at Glenwood park this winter, was attacked Saturday afternoon by one of the large buck deer, which he was feeding. He struck him in the left cheek with his sharp horn, which penetrated into the mouth and a bad gash, which required six stitches to close it up.

Mr. Lofgren had taken some bread to the enclosure to feed the deer, and bent over by the wire fence to break the bread into small pieces. His actions did not seem to mean anything, but the deer charged against the fence, the horn striking Mr. Lofgren in the face with the result stated. Dr. Joyce attended him and says he would heal up in a short time. The deer has always been considered very tame, hence the parkkeepers are greatly surprised at the ferocious charge.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. ELIZA COX.

Last evening at 7 o'clock death claimed another of Weber county's best known ladies, Mrs. Eliza Cox of West Weber, who died at her home from an attack of pneumonia, with which she had been suffering for over a week. She was 60 years of age, and has resided in this county for many years. She leaves a husband and several sons and daughters to mourn her demise. The time and place of funeral will be announced later.

OVER $12,000 WILD ANIMAL BOUNTIES.

The payments of bounties on wild animals from Weber county has been very excessive during the past year, nearly $13,000 having been paid out. The trade in the county has been increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

WEDDING BELLS.

A license to wed has been granted by County Clerk Hollingsworth to Joseph J. Newman, 24, and Miss Sophia C. Swenson, 20, both of Ogden City.

The marriage of Mr. W. C. Campbell, the popular manager of the Union Pacific telegraph station in Ogden, to Mrs. Rose Hirt, also of Ogden, was performed New Year's eve very quietly in the presence of a few intimate friends. The ceremony was held at the residence of the bride, who was surprised to learn of their wedding, but join in wishing them every prosperity and happiness. Both parties have numerous friends in Ogden.

BRIEFS AND PERSONALS.

The Postal Telegraph company last night closed its night office and will operate its day office only for a few weeks. The office will continue to maintain night messenger service and will have the office open all night, but will not receive messages after 9 o'clock in the evening except for transmission the next day.

Harry Reed and Fred Payne, two boys, while walking along the railroad track Saturday morning, found a trunk in a tunnel near the track. The trunk turned out to be the one which had been stolen from the train on the union depot baggage room.

Mahle Butler, the 3-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Butler, died Saturday morning at the family residence, 2400 D avenue, of pneumonia. Funeral service was held today from the residence.

Al Morrissey and Joseph Gage, two deserters from the United States army, were Saturday sent down to Fort Detrick and turned over to the military authorities.

The New Year attraction at the Grand Ogden House tonight is the "Grand Wedding," for which there has been a heavy advance sale.

PROVO.

The Daily News is delivered by carrier in Provo early every evening (Sundays excepted) on the same terms as in Salt Lake. 5 cents per month. All complaints, requests for change or notices of non-payment of accounts should be made to Mr. Dugdale, 372 West 4th North Street. From advertisement orders for Church works also received.

NEW YEAR WEDDINGS.

Samoan Missionaries Feasted—Court Notes—County Business.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Jan. 2.—A very enjoyable social was given by Mrs. Ellen Jakeman at her residence Friday evening in honor of Elder Martin F. Sanders, who recently returned from presiding over the Samoan mission. The returned Samoan missionaries of Utah county, and a few friends were the guests. A pleasant evening was spent in singing, reciting, speaking, looking at Samoan views and curios, recounting missionary experiences, and last, but not least, in partaking of a delicious supper, prepared by Mrs. Jakeman.

FOURTH DISTRICT COURT.

The following business has been transacted in the Fourth district court: State vs. Charles Richards et al; further hearing postponed till March 26.

In the matter of the adoption of Maud Smith, Mrs. Mary Jane Smith was granted the custody of the child until she is old enough to decide; final decision to be made July 1.

In the divorce suit of Polly Smith vs. John W. Smith, which has been held under advisement by Judge Booth for some time in the hope that the parties would settle their differences, and resume marital relations, a decree has been given plaintiff. The property will be retained by defendant, who is given the custody of the minor boys, and is to pay costs, $25 attorney's fees and $10 a month to plaintiff for the support of the children.

Good Wash-day when Fels-Naptha helps. Clothes are brighter; work is lighter.

Fels-Naptha Philadelphia

support of two minor girls of which plaintiff is given the custody.

The calendar of the Fourth district court for the January term will set Thursday, Jan. 5, at 2 p. m.

DEATHS OF CHILDREN.

A 4-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Boardman, died from pneumonia. The funeral was held from the home yesterday.

Effie, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brown died Saturday night from diphtheria. The interment took place yesterday.

Eva, the 4-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Piek, died Saturday night from pneumonia. The funeral was held today from the home of the parents in the Fourth ward.

NEW YEAR'S WEDDINGS.

Marriage licenses have been issued to the following couples: George Kelly, 35, of American Fork, and Mary M. Swenson, 35, of Pleasant Grove.

John T. Haul, 19, of Benjamin, and Reine Pratt, 19, of Salt Lake.

COUNTY BUSINESS.

Supt. Hales of the county infirmary presented report to the board of county commissioners Saturday, showing the expenses for coal, wood, etc., exclusive of wages, at the infirmary for the past year has been $4,000.

Plant with which the county has a contract for the past year has been valued at $2,037.17. Twenty inmates have been received during the year. There have been six deaths and twenty-two inmates have been discharged and there are at present 88 inmates in the institution.

A letter was received from the Salt Lake County Horticultural society, urging the board of county commissioners to take steps for the establishment of an experiment farm at some point between Brigham City and Nephi, for which a bill will be presented to the Legislature.

STARTUP CANDY CO.

The Startup Candy company, of this city, which is one of the leading candy manufacturers in the west, has closed its doors for a prosperous year. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.

The company occupies a large three-story and basement brick building, on First West street, near the San Pedro, which is considered a local market. The trade of the company extends through all the western states, including California, Oregon and Washington, and the last year St. Louis was invaded and the excellent candy produced by Utah experts from Utah sugar, helped to make the great fair the success that it was. The trade in Idaho, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, which is considered a local market, was increased greatly over the year 1903, and the first straight car of candy ever shipped out of the state was shipped by the Startup Candy company last month.