SPECTACLE AT WANDAMERE.

Press Agent Pires a Broadside of Adjectives Descriptive of Vesuvius.

H. M. Hanaford, manager of Pains' "Eruption of Vesuvius," the spectacular production which he booked for a week's engagement at Wandamere beginning June 1, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon from Los Angeles, where the company is now completing a successful two weeks' engagement. Mr. Hanaford brought with him a force of skilled mechanics and together with a force of men numbering upward of 40, most of whom are local mechanics, he will supervise the construction of the frame work of the city which was erected by the latest eruption of the Italian volcano.

Here is a single paragraph clipped from the press agent's promise for the Wandamere spectacle.

"There is a rapid succession of kaleidoscope evolutions, dazzling scenery, dainty costumes, dancing figures, brilliant illuminations and entrancing strains as to be almost bewildering to the senses. An endless panorama of marching, counter-marching, flitting, tripping, prancing figures, a swirling, eddying mass of life and color, pantomimic gestures, startling novelties, mirth and mimicry in all the fantastic magnificence of the Neapolitan. A delicate intermingling of lights, sounds, persons and places, glimpses of verdure, flashes of Venetian splendor, peeps into the mystic realms of fairy-land and into fleeting visions of the regions of darkness, the rays of the gentle dawn, the lurid glare of the inferno, the gentle music of purring streams, the fierce roar of raging elements, the tuneful tinkling of marriage bells, the discordant clanging of the war timbre, a myriad variety of sights, sounds, lights, motions, and over it all such an exquisite harmony of coloring, such a perfect consistency of lights and shades, such a toning and mingling of the component parts as to leave not the slightest discordance or harshness and to attain in the whole, a degree of perfection in every detail that is rare indeed."

"I suffered habitually from constipation. Doan's Regulator relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since."—A. E. Davis, grocer, Sulphur Springs, Tex.

GOVERNOR SHOWS INTEREST.

Gov. Spry who is taking an active personal interest in the proposed trip of the High school cadets to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition at Seattle in August, has written letters to the parents of all the cadets, informing them of the conditions of the trip, and enlisting their assistance in making it a success. The trip is now assured and the cadets are en route to continue their drill practice throughout the summer so that they will be in perfect trim for the trip.

TRAGIC DEATH OF WHITNEY RYNDERS

Young Man is Ground Under Wheels of Streetcar, Dying Soon After.

HIS MOTHER ILL IN SEATTLE.

Her Condition is Very Serious and He

Was Planning to Join Her Soon—

Two Views of Accident.

Whitney Rynders, the 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rynders, now of Seattle, and nephew of Horace G. Whitney, J. R. Whitney, C. L. Whitney, S. A. Whitney and L. T. Whitney and Mrs. George D. Pyper, Mrs. John D. Owen, Mrs. H. S. E. E. and Mrs. S. G. Saville, was the victim last night of a fatal street car accident, dying at St. Mark's hospital within a few hours after he had been crushed and ground beneath the wheels of a moving street car in Center street near Seventh North street.

The accident occurred about 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Rynders had boarded a Center street car at the Salt Palace, and at Sixth North street had left his seat, going to the front platform, and telling the motorman that he wished to get off the car at Seventh North. According to Motorman A. W. Hooper, the young man had attempted to jump from the car before it had come to a stop, and he appeared to have missed his footing and balance, rolling directly under the wheels. Although the motorman threw on the emergency brakes when he saw Rynders fall and heard his scream of pain, the car was not stopped until the rear trucks had passed over the body, crushing and mutilating the right arm and hand, cutting off a portion of the right side of the head, and inflicting such other injuries as to completely paralyze the right side of the body.

Mrs. Joseph Benson, who was also a passenger on the car, says that when she alighted from the car, which was stopped for her, she saw the young man's body at the side of the tracks and partly beneath the car. She gave the alarm at once. She says that when she informed the crew of the accident, it was the first knowledge they had of the lamentable affair.

The unconscious form was removed to St. Mark's hospital, where examination revealed the hopelessness of his recovery. He never regained consciousness and died about 6 o'clock.

MOTHER ALARMINGLY ILL.

The accident and death was one of tragedy. The mother of the young man is lying in a critical condition at the Seattle home, following a long illness from Bright's disease, and her state is such that the news of the fatal accident is being withheld in the fear that she will be unable to withstand the shock.

Young Rynders was born in Provo, and spent his boyhood days in this city, removing with his parents to the Pacific Grove, and then to Seattle about seven years ago. The family had recently planned to return to Salt Lake, but the serious illness of the mother for the past three months prevented this. The son with four young sisters, came to the city a month ago with the expectation of remaining here until the arrival of his parents, and two brothers, or returning to Seattle, according to the outcome of his mother's condition.

Since his arrival here Rynders had been employed in the business office of the "News," as a collector, and it was while engaged in his daily duties that he met with his accident yesterday. He had gone to Salt Palace on a business errand and from there had been going to collect an account in the northern part of the city. The accident occurred near the curve in the vicinity of the Twenty-fourth ward, meeting-house, a block from his destination. He had sprained his ankle in the morning, and was suffering to such an extent that this may have contributed to the accident.

During his residence here Whitney Rynders made his home with his uncle, L. T. Whitney, 152 Fourth avenue. Mr. Whitney was notified of the accident immediately after its occurrence, and after the death telegraphed to Geo. D. Pyper, who is now in Seattle, asking that the family of the deceased young man be informed.

Whitney Rynders is survived by his father and mother, two brothers, Clark and Lawrence and four sisters, of whom the youngest, a child of the war, is in Seattle. The others are in this city. He was the oldest child in the family.

Awaiting word from the young man's father, funeral arrangements are pending, but it is believed by relatives here that the funeral will take place in this city.

PAUPER CLERK'S REPORT.

James Sabine, Jr., county pauper clerk, filed his monthly report yesterday afternoon with the county commissioners. During the month of May he assisted 304 families, consisting of 129 persons. The total expense amounted to $2,420.69. Of this amount $2,065.70 went for groceries, coal and clothing and $144.90 for railway transportation and rent. The average amount to each family was $7.39 and $2.61 to each individual.

HORTICULTURALIST'S REPORT

John P. Sorenson, county horticultural inspector, submitted his monthly report yesterday to the county commissioners. His report follows:

In the month of May the deputy inspectors worked from 12 to 15 days each, as it was considered needful in the different districts, making a total of 75 days' work. In the first part of the month there were some 10,000 trees imported and about 25,000 sent out from the nurseries. Most of the imported trees, as well as the ones dug up in the nurseries, were sent out of the county, and a large part out of the state. About 2,000 of them were planted in the county.

They were set out in the nurseries and planted about 7,000 seedlings, about 200,000 of which were foreign importations.

The spraying for the codling moth larva is now on and should be prosecuted with the utmost vigor during the next 10 days. If we wait apples free from worms. After we get through with the first summer spraying it will be time to search out and clean out the pear blight, if any of our trees shall be preserved.

OHIO SOCIETY MEETS.

Plans Begun to Entertain President Taft at Encampment.

The Ohio society met last night to arrange for the entertainment of President Taft while here at the time of the G. A. R. national encampment. There were 145 Ohio people present, and 40 more were added to the list of members. Judge Colborn made an address on the position of Ohio in national affairs, with six presidents to her credit, to say nothing of hosts of other prominent men and women. Mrs. C. E. Allen was made chairman of the executive committee to which was entrusted the inviting of the president, and a luncheon was adopted. An attractive program was carried out as follows: Piano solo, Mrs. Fred Hornung; violin solo, Cavatina, Miss Margery Brooks; Miss Paul Rothchild, accompanist; reading, Mrs. John Reed; vocal solo, "When the Heart is Young," Mrs. Rose Gotschwald, who sang especially beautifully; duet, "Venetian Boat Song," Mrs. C. E. Daly and Mrs. Corinne Hammer; Mrs. Hornung, accompanist; baritone solo, "Because Your Heart Is Mine," Rulon Robison.

Another meeting of the society will be held early in July.
