INTERESTING EXPERIMENTS.

When the sugar beet flowers the blos-When the sugar beet flowers the blos-soms usually come in clusters, but oc-casionally the blossoms are found singly, and the single blossom produces a sin-gle germ seed. By taking the pollen from a single variety blossom and plac-ing it on another single blossom the Washington experts hope to produce a single germ beet seed that will pro-duce to a certainty beets which will produce none but single flowers and by preventing the pollen from the flowers proventing the pollen from the flowers and by preventing the pollen from the flowers that come in clusters being carried to the single blossoms for several years, they are sanguine of success. The practise is that as soon as two single germ flowers have become innoculated to tie a small paper sack over them so that bees, while gathering honey, may not carry to them pollen from the un-desirable plants.

UTAH SOIL TO BE TRIED.

Besides the mother beets, Mr. Austin will receive several thousand single germ seed that have been gathered by the paper sack system in Washington and these he will plant in single seed at a time on the Saratoga farm. When the beets begin to flower, which will be about July 1, Mr. Townsend, with two or three assistants, will come from Washington to take charge of the experiments and gather the seed, which is all done by hand and requires much patience and scientific accuracy.

LEAVES ARE A FACTOR.

The department is also experimenting with the leaves of a beet. As all ob-serving farmers know, there are beets whose leaves lie flat down, leaves that stand up erect, leaves which are short and some that are long, leaves that are crimped and leaves that are smooth, in fact, there are leaves of more than 20 varieties, all of which Mr. Town-send has been photographed.

The beets which produce all of these varieties are being tested and the best variety will ultimately be selected as the kind from which to produce the fu-ture seed for American farmers.

Mr. Townsend is greatly taken up with the west, and Utah in particular. This is his second visit to this state, and when he comes again this summer he will be accompanied by his wfe. There is fine boating, bathing, hunting and fishing at the Saratoga farm, and as the sugar company has placed it all at the government representative's dis-posal, his stay will undoubtedly be a pleasant one.

Mr. Edward Steele of Sugar City Ida., is in town for a few days. He says about 100 lots have been sold in that new town and about that many new homes will be built, this, together with many stores, hotels, and other places of business and the sugar fac-tory will make things boom up there in the building line as never seen be-fore in southern Idaho.

NO AGREEMENT:

South Jordan Canal Stockholders Are Still Opposed to Government Plan.

The South Jordah canal stockholders who are opposed to the government plan for the redemption of this watershed, again won the day at yesterday's meeting. President Angus M. Cannon did his best to stem the opposition, but had to leave early on account of business engagements, neither State Engi-neer Doremus or Prof. Swendsen were present, and the obstructionists had it all their own way. The minority who understood the advantages of agreeing with the government plan made a strong fight, but they were no match for the majority, who couldn't under-stand the situation, and were snowed under. So the meeting adjourned with-out accomplishing anything.

The department is making exhaustive experiments in the production of sugar beet seed, and it was to find out more about the demand for the beet seed and the possibilities of supplying this de-mand that brought him west. It may be interesting to note that the

has charge of beet seed investigation

Utah Sugar company was the first to grow sugar beet seed in America, and is the only one up to date that has made of the industry a commercial success.

We have been in this seed business for 10 years. The first year we harvested but one sack, but the last year we harvested over $0,000 pounds of seed which were grown mostly is the Bear River valley. Our seed has proven to be as good as any that can be had from Germany and the sample of beets that took the prize at the Irrigation Con-gress at Ogden last fall was grown in the Bear Rriver valley from seed grown in the same valley." Mr. Townsend and Mr. Austin made a visit to the Agricultural college at Logan Friday last and on their way back they went through the Bear River valley and inspected the mother beets which are now being tert-ed by Chief Chemist Heber Cutler, asend by a force of boys. Mr. Towns-end was very much delighted with the prospect that we have from an agricultural standpoint.

SOMETHING NEW FOR HIM.

It seems that the government has not known that Utah was the ploneer in the production of sugar beet seed in America, or even that beet seed had ever been produced in this state at al So when Mr. Austin told the Washington representative that last year the Utah Sugar company had produced more than 40 tons of first-class beet seed and that the sugar beet prize at the national irrigation congress had been taken by beets grown from beet seed produced in the Bear River Valley, the expert's surprise can easily be imagined. When he was shown the big sheds at Garland in which are stored more than 300 tons of mother beets, ready to be set out soon as spring opens, and the methods adopted for growing, threshing and cleaning the seed, all of which had been brought well nigh to perfection by the Utah Su-

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneuborne in mind, however, that pneu-monia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment of these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the 30 years and more that Chamberlain's Cough Kernedy has been used, we have yet to learn of a single case of a cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was in phenomial when this relatively was used. It is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of San-ders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamber-lain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practise for the past six years, I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results."
