

had got through, saying, "Have we not treated you well, Mr. Russell?" "Yes, I have no fault to find with you." "What then is your object in pursuing this course? We have done business with you a good many years; we want to know if you are going to change your insurance office?" "I am." "Will you tell us where you are going to have your business done in the future?" "Yes, I am going to have it done in heaven, for the insurance offices do not control the winds, the elements are not obedient to them, and I have been paying ten thousand dollars a year for insuring a few ships, and I have to trust in the Lord anyhow, so in the future I shall pay my insurance fee into the Lord's treasury."

The gentlemen of the office thought he was cracked or beside himself, for I tell you trusting in the Lord in these days is an unpopular business with the world. But the Saints have to trust in the Lord, and we might as well begin and seek this kingdom and the interest of it, and the righteousness of it, and build it up first as last. I believe the people are reforming in this thing; I believe they are increasing in their faith and have manifested it here in the city this winter, and I am glad to see it.

The exhortation we have had this morning is proper and seasonable, as we have been sowing the seed of the word this winter among the people, and we should watch and see that the seed is sown in good ground, and try to cultivate the principles we hear that the fruits of righteousness may appear in abundance. In doing this we will be saved.

We have had one of the most interesting seasons this winter that we have ever enjoyed since the church and kingdom of God has been organized in the last days. We have had new lessons opened unto us by the servants of the Lord, and among those things the mercy of the Lord has been manifested in a great degree towards this people. I have reflected on his mercy and I feel we should be faithful and humble and prove true unto the Lord our God because of this mercy which has been manifested unto us, and we should be very careful hereafter, as President Young exhorted us the last time he spoke concerning this people continuing to commit sin. He plainly laid before us the consequences of this course; we should let the past suffice wherein we have done anything in which we cannot be justified. I am satisfied that the people in these valleys will never hear the same proclamation which we have heard this winter.

If this people with the light they have, the teachings they have and the examples they have had set before them intermingled with chastisement, if they still will go on and be neglectful of their duties with regard to their salvation they will have to pay the debt, for the sinner in Zion will be cut off from the church of God, and will have to pay the penalty whether it be small or great. It is of the utmost importance that we should guard ourselves against sin as the tree of life is guarded. We have no time to throw away in the service of sin, in committing iniquity and grieving the Holy Spirit of God.

I tell you when you look around and see the state of the world on the one hand and what we have to perform on the other, and what the kingdom of God has got to arrive at in order to fulfill its destiny and the revelations of Jesus Christ, our chief object should be to build up the kingdom of God and roll it on.

As I remarked last evening in the High Priests' quorum, we have been rolling this kingdom up hill, up a mountain; we have been toiling against a mighty current all the day long from its first organization, but the day will soon come if this people will do their duty and take hold of the kingdom of God as they should do, it will soon get on the top of the mountain, and then it will begin to roll down from the mountains and it will gather both strength and speed as it goes, and then instead of singing "Get out of the way, the hand carts rolling," it will be "Get out of the way the kingdom's coming," and it will not stop until it has filled the whole earth. The Lord has proclaimed this in all the revelations he has given on the subject.

This kingdom has got to stand and spread itself abroad and gather unto itself strength. The Lord is going to work with this kingdom and with this people. The Lord says in the parable of the vineyard "My servants labored with their mights and the Lord labored with them and they prevailed, and brought forth the fruits of the kingdom and the bitter branches were broken off, and the tame olive brought forth good fruit, and the vineyard was no more corrupt." This should be uppermost in our minds, we should look for the building up of the kingdom, and secure not only blessings for ourselves, but seek to become saviors of men on Mount Zion, and try to do all the good we can, laboring to promote the cause and interest of Zion in every department thereof where we are called to act.

By pursuing this course we shall be prospered, and have continual peace in our minds and as the Lord has said, nothing will be withheld from any man that seeks for the righteousness and blessings of the kingdom of God. Salvation should be the uppermost thing with us, and you will find if ever we seek to do something else besides carrying out the dictates of the Holy Spirit, we will get into the fog and into darkness and trouble, and we shall be ignorant of the way we are pursuing. Every day that we live we need the power of the Lord—the power of his Holy Spirit and the strength of the priesthood to be with us that we may know what to do. And if we will so live before the Lord, the Spirit will reveal to us every day what our duties are; I do not care what it is we are engaged in, we should first find out the will of the Lord and then do it, and then our work will be well done and acceptable before the Lord, but if we take a course against light and against the Spirit of God, we will find it an unprofitable road to travel.

I feel as though the Lord is going to do a great work in the midst of this people. There is a great many things at our door, a great many changes to take place in the earth, and the kingdom is growing; and I would here exhort all the Latter Day Saints who hear me this day to study well the position you are in, and search your hearts and see if we are in favor of the Lord our God, and then let us increase continually in faith, in hope, in righteousness, and in every virtuous principle which is necessary for us to have to sustain us in every trial through which we may be called to pass in order to prove us as the friends of God, whether we will abide in the covenant or not; we will be tried from this time until the coming of the Messiah or while we live on the earth.

If we could open the vision of our minds and let it extend into the future and see this kingdom and what it is bound to accomplish, and what we have to do, the warfare we have to pass through, we would certainly see that we have a great work on hand. We have not only to fight the powers of darkness, the invisible forces that surround us, but we have to war with a great many outward circumstances and to contend with a great many difficulties that we must of necessity meet, and the more of this we have to meet the more we should be stimulated to action, and to labor with all our power before the Lord for the establishment of righteousness and truth and the building up of the work of God, and to see that his name is honored upon the earth.

Br. Wells has said, why the world is troubled about us is because we are united. This is true; the world and the devil are afraid of it, and he has labored all his life to divide everything where righteousness dwelt, or at least ever since he was cast out from the presence of God, what he did before that I cannot say any further than what is revealed. We have got to be one and labor together to build up this kingdom because we cannot establish it upon any other principle.

We should be careful to know that we are right and then go ahead, and we will find our advantage, and we shall be satisfied with our reward if we pursue that course which is according to the commandments of God. When we come into the presence of our Father in heaven we shall meet with his approbation, this alone will reward us for our labors.

If we go to work and build up the kingdom of God instead of ourselves, it is no matter in what shape we do it, whether it is in building a canal, or in building a temple, preaching the gospel, cultivating the earth, or anything else, let us take that and make it a business, and we will find the Lord will help us and sustain us, and nerve us with his power, and will assist us in everything we have to do, and if we are called to lay down our lives in the defence of God and eternal truth, then all right, and if we live, all right, and when we come into the presence of the Lord we shall be satisfied with our reward and blessings.

The Lord has said he would prove us whether we would abide in his covenant even unto death; indeed we have been tried from the commencement of this great work, but there has been an invisible hand at work for our defence all the time; the wicked have not seen the power that has sustained us, they cannot see the inside machinery that is at work in this kingdom, the nations of the earth cannot understand it, and they never can comprehend it, but the Latter Day Saints understand it, and they know it is the power of God and the word of God, for the Lord has made proclamations and decrees and covenants concerning Israel in the last days and all the prophets from righteous Abel to Brigham Young have proclaimed it to the nations of the earth as with the voice of thunder, and we know they will be fulfilled; we know the gospel has to be offered to the gentiles first, we have offered it to them for the space of 25 years that we may be prepared to go to the house of Israel.

The gentiles, in a great measure, have rejected it; we have borne a faithful testimony to the nations of the earth, and they prefer to take their own course and act on their own agency; they would rather build themselves up than the kingdom of God. The consequence is, it will soon be taken from the gentile nations, and it will not be long before the judgments of God are abroad among them, and those bitter branches will be taken off the tree.

Now there is no personage or subject, or work upon the face of the whole earth but what is more popular than the Lord and his gospel and kingdom; his name is dishonored and blasphemed with impunity by nearly all the inhabitants of the earth and in the midst of every nation under heaven, but the day is high at hand when he will make bare his arm of power and show the world that there is a God in Israel, who will no longer bear the blasphemies of the wicked without bringing them to judgment, but he will send forth those angels, those messengers who dwell in the presence of God, who are waiting with their sharp sickles in their hands to reap down the earth, but this will not be until the gospel has been fully offered to the gentiles, then the bitter branches will be broken off.

This kingdom will go forward, for the Lord God has decreed it, and Zion will arise and be adorned with beauty and power and true refinement, in light and knowledge, and in every good gift that will prepare the minds of men for the society of their Heavenly Father and of celestial beings. These lessons have got to be given and we have got to learn them, and we have got to bring our selves to the celestial law of God; we have to be quickened by the Spirit and power of the kingdom of God and its righteousness that we may be prepared to carry out the purposes of the Lord; then this kingdom will be borne to the house of Israel and they will receive it.

The door has already been unlocked to the Lemnites in these mountains and they will begin to embrace the gospel and the records of their fathers, and their chiefs will be filled with the Spirit and power of God, and they will rise up in their strength and a nation will be born in a day, because they are of the seed of Abraham, and God has promised to bless the descendants of Abraham and they will be saved with the house of Israel, for the Lord has spoken it and made those promises unto them through their fathers.

Again, here are the ten tribes of Israel, we know nothing about them only what the Lord has said by his prophets. There are prophets among them, and by and bye they will come along and they will smite the rocks and the mountains of ice will flow down at their presence, and a highway will be cast up before them, and they will come to Zion, receive their endowments and be crowned under the hands of the children of Ephraim; and there are persons before me in this assembly today who will assist to give them their endowments. They will receive their blessings and endowments from under the children of Ephraim who are the first fruits of the kingdom of God in this dispensation, and the men will have to be ordained and receive their priesthood and endowments in the land of Zion according to the revelations of God.

Again, here is Judah, which is the tribe of Israel from whom Jesus sprang; how many times have I seen them among the nations of the earth standing in their synagogues, even gray-headed rabbies with their faces to the east, calling on the great Eloheim to open the door for them to go back to Jerusalem, the land of their fathers, and to send their shiloh, their king of deliverance; when I have seen this my soul has been filled with a desire to proclaim unto them the word of God unto eternal life, but I knew I could not do this, the time had not come, I could not preach to them. I might have stood in their midst for a month and preached unto them Jesus Christ or their shiloh and king, but I should have failed to have established one particle of faith in their minds that he was the true Messiah.

They do not believe in Jesus Christ, there is an unbelief resting on them, and will until they go home and rebuild Jerusalem and their temple more glorious than at the beginning, and then by and bye, after this church and kingdom has arisen up in its glory the Savior will come to them and show the wounds in his hands and side, and they will say to him, "Where did you get those wounds?" and he will answer, "In the house of my friends," and then their eyes will begin to be open and they will repent and mourn, they and their wives apart and there will be a fountain opened for uncleanness to the house of Judah, and they will for the first time receive Jesus Christ as their Savior; they will begin to comprehend where they have been wandering for the space of two thousand years.

You cannot convert a Jew, you may as well try to convert this house of solid walls as to convert them into the faith of Christ. They are set in their feelings, and they will be until the time of their redemption. They are looking forward to the time when they will go home and rebuild Jerusalem; they have looked for it many hundreds of years; they are looking for the coming of their king and they do not suppose for a moment that he has already come, but they are looking for him to come as the Lion of the tribe of Judah, not as a lamb led to the slaughter and as a sheep that is dumb before his shearers; they are looking for him to come with power and great glory.

I thank God that the day is at hand when the Jews will be restored. I have felt to pray for them; I feel interested in their behalf, for they are of the seed of Abraham and a branch of the house of Israel, and the promises of God still remain with them. It is true they fell through unbelief and the kingdom was taken from them and given to the gentiles, and when it came from them it came clothed with all its gifts and powers and glory, priesthood and ordinances which were necessary for the salvation of men, and to prepare them to dwell in the presence of the Gods; and when the kingdom was given to the gentiles, they for a while brought forth the natural fruits of the kingdom. But they, like the Jews, have fallen through the same example of unbelief, and now in the last days the kingdom of God has to be taken from the gentiles and restored back to every branch and tribe of the house of Israel; and when it is restored to them it must go back with all its gifts and blessings and priesthood which it possessed when it was taken from them. But the Lord has said that in restoring these blessings to the children of Abraham that he would be inquired of by the house of Israel to do it for them. But from what branch or part of the house of Israel will the Lord look for this petition or request to issue, if not from the Latter Day Saints, for we are out of the tribe of Joseph through the loins of Ephraim who have been as a mixed cake among the gentiles and are the first fruits of the kingdom, and the Lord has given unto us the kingdom and priesthood and keys thereof. Hence the Lord will require us to ask for those blessings which are promised unto Israel and to labor for their salvation.

These things will be required at our hands; a great work is before us, a work worthy of intelligent beings—worthy of the most noble of spirits that ever existed around the throne of God in time or in eternity, in heaven or on the earth. Then, if we would feel right about this important subject and look upon it as it is, we will go to work and labor with all our mights to build up the kingdom of our God, to carry out the purposes of the Lord, in the building up of Zion, the establishment of his kingdom and restoration and salvation of the house of Israel; we should listen strictly to those men who are the word of the Lord to us.

The prophet Jeremiah saw this kingdom established, and saw that Ephraim was the first born, and in gathering the children of Jacob and establishing Zion in the last days their nobles should be of themselves, and their governor should proceed from the midst of them. I have looked forward for years by faith to that time when the children of Zion would have the privilege of having their rulers and a governor of their own choice of the house of Israel to rule over them and counsel and lead them.

We have had a governor since we have been a Territory who is actually of the loins of Joseph, the son of Jacob. Jeremiah saw this, spake it and it has been fulfilled. There has been a great exertion to make this prophecy fail. It hurt the feelings of the gentiles to think this prophecy should have its fulfillment in these days. It has been fulfilled so far, and I feel thankful to day, that all the prophecies which have not been fulfilled will be; hence I have hope and confidence in looking forward to the fulfillment of the blessings that are promised to us.

Let us be faithful and seek diligently to build up the kingdom of God in righteousness and do our duty, and try to save ourselves, our wives and children, our kindred and our friends, and the house of Israel, and also the gentiles as far as they will be saved, and then we will be satisfied with our reward which we shall obtain in this life and in the world to come. I pray the Lord to bless us all and save us in his kingdom for Christ's sake. Amen.

DISCOURSE

By Elder Samuel W. Richards, Tabernacle, Feb. 22, 1857.

[REPORTED BY J. V. LONG.]

It is to me, my brethren and sisters, and no doubt it is to every one who is called upon to address you from this stand, a very great degree of satisfaction to see the warmth of spirit indicated by the people in their assembling together in this Tabernacle to hear the words that may be spoken to them; and to see the intensity of feeling that is manifested in their crowding this room so early in the morning, that they may be ready to hear what may be said to them. It indicates to me a desire on the part of the people to hear the words of life, and this is certainly a very great stimulus to those who address you.

I have often remarked when I have seen the freedom with which the First Presidency and others have addressed you, that it was an evidence to me that the people were increasing in their faith, their love of righteousness and desire to do that which is well pleasing in the sight of God, otherwise they could not speak with that degree of ease and freedom with which they often communicate to us. Evidently there is place for the truth in the hearts of the people, and the Lord sends forth the words of life through His servants, and we can with pleasure witness their effects upon the minds and upon the character of the Saints. I think every careful observer must be able to discern the good and salutary influence that it has upon the minds of the people.

As I look upon the operations of the word of the Lord I discover that in its workings it is to a very great extent like good seed that is sown in the ground, or like the husbandman sowing seed in the field which is nourished by the soil, swells and becomes enlarged, and finally shoots forth the tender sprout which matures and brings forth many fold. So likewise the word of the Lord when it is sown in a proper place, or in good and honest hearts will grow and cause the heart to swell and become enlarged in its views and feelings, and consequently in its desire and love for righteousness.

The process is very much the same as that of the good seed when it is cast into the earth. It certainly has a tendency to enlarge the heart; we can feel its influence and its blessed results; it abides with us and we know that we have received something that we had not before within us.

It is so ordained that all have power in themselves, in a great degree, to determine what is right and wrong, and to distinguish between truth and error. It is a great and important fact, the saying of the Prophet Joseph, that "Truth carries its own evidence with it." When we receive the word and by it we are influenced to do good, by it our minds begin to expand, the result is that it immediately begets faith in our hearts, not only faith in the word, but faith that we will realize the hopes that spring up in our bosoms, and that faith continues to increase until perfected in knowledge.

This is something which enables us to understand and comprehend the word that is associated with the proclamation of the gospel of truth. When we have this faith in our hearts it becomes strong by the power of the Spirit, then the word of the Lord becomes desirable, and as faith continues to abound the knowledge of the Lord increases, and if we continue to practice upon it we shall surely bring forth the fruits thereof. We can see and witness the truth of this in the conduct of men. The good spirit leads our minds and inclines us to do that which is good. In all our actions and doings connected with the principles of righteousness, we should endeavor to keep the proper object in view, and have our minds upon the principles of eternal life that we may secure the desired blessings. Is not this desirable? Yes, it is. It is for this reason I feel that it is a pleasure to witness the faith that is in this people, and I pray that it may increase until we shall have no occasion to say that this people have been preached to death, but that the word has its desired effect upon their minds, that they treasure it up, that it is abiding with them, and that the spirit and power of the Lord is with them to assist them to develop themselves in all that is good, for the Holy priesthood is calculated to develop all the powers and faculties of our souls.

We have been told from time to time what our duties are and have had texts given us to preach from, and have been told from day to day to live our religion. I have asked myself frequently since the commencement of this reformation, what shall I do in order to live my religion? And in endeavoring to answer it I have invariably come to the conclusion that I must answer my conscience before God and my brethren, and if I do this I am then living my religion and I feel that this is all that is required. It is the position that all men ought to occupy, to feel day by day that they have fully answered their consciences in view of the light and knowledge they have received, and if they do not they are under condemnation before God and before their brethren, but if they do, then they are justified before
