Smith Some Concluding Remarks Made by

Now, the First Presidency-or, least, two of them, Brother Joseph F. being absent at the timewrote an article, which appeared in the Deseret News. When that was that there was something needed by us in order to quiet matters and to check, if possible, further agitation of this question. We have felt ever since that there is too much talk and strife over it; and the Spirit of God is grieved by our people giving way to this spirit. We are a free people, and to a certain ex-tent we can do as we please, God having given us that freedom; but in carrying out our ideas we must not give way to that spirit which I refer to. You are a people of experience, and you know what I say is true. Whenever two persons begin to contend, God is not Whenever a community get to there. contending one with another, or one part with another part, you may know that God is not there, and it is con-trary to the spirit of our religion. I hope we shall cease indulging in that spirit. God bless you. Amen. spirit. President Angus M. Cannon read a letter on the proposed testimonial to be given to Joseph H. Ridges, the builder of the great organ, urging all who would like to do so to help the undertaking and if any desired to contribute to the enterprise by purchasing tickets for the concert they might do so by re-mitting to George D. AMUSEMENT'S.

The Theater will be dark tonight and public interest will all be centered upon the Grand, where the Cummings Stock company will give the first performance of the exciting war drama, "The Blue and the Gray." . . .

The next attraction at the Theater will be a "Stranger in a Strange Land," which opens Thursday evening. For the Saturday matinee Mr. Thali has announced to all the children of the city that a $5 gold coin will be placed in one of the seats on the lower floor, and also in one on the first balcony, and the lucky girl or boy who happens to be seated in that chair, will receive the money.

. . . Manager Mulvey announces that the old orchestra headed by Professor Coleman will be reinstated to night. While Mr. Coleman's friends will glad to see him ocupy his old place, Mr. Clive's admirers will regret that the organization which he was rapidly making such an effective one, is not to be kept together. President George Q. Cannon.

The large congregation in the Tabernacle were greatly interested on Sunday afternoon, President Angus M. Cannon and counselors presided. The choir sang, "Come dearest Lord descend and dwell," etc.

The opening prayer was offered up by Elder John T. Barrett.

The choir sang: "Lord thou wilt hear me when I pray."

Elder Henry S. Tanner was called upon and addressed the congregation. He prayed that the good Spirit usually prevailing on such occasions might be manifest at the meeting. Said no matter how consistent and reasonable our religion may be, persecution was bound to come; it is the heritage of the Saints. though an era of peace is just now enjoyed. "I have," said the speaker, "in-vestigated the various systems of reigions extant, and find the religion lieved in and practiced by the Latterday Saints to be the most practical, scriptural, and reasonable. He showed up the conflicting religious doctrines of the day, their inconsistency and difference and contrasted them with the Gospel of Jesus Christ as revealed in the present age and embodied in the faith of the Latter-day Saints. He said we believe that eventually all mankind, through that Gospel, will be saved in some degree of glory, except those who sin against the Holy Ghost. But we further hold that those who obey and live the Gospel on this earth will reeive a higher glory in the kingdom of God than those who do not obey it in the flesh. Paul speaks of a glory typi fied by the sun, another represented by the moon, and numerous others like unto the stars in number and brightness. There are many stars that we cannot see with the neked eye, and I believe it will be so in the resurrection, the glory of many is so far in the future as ourselves, were the two great com-"We are accused by the world of not being charitable," said he, "but in read-ing the word of the Lord we find that in ancient times charity was not un derstood to mean merely the be-stowal of alms. Charity, according to the Lord's definition is the pure love of God and of humanity. Christ said that to love God with all our might, mind and strength, and to love our neighbor and strength, and to love our neighbor as ourselves, were the twto great com-mandments, on which hung all the law and the prophets. If we loved our neighbor we would not steal from him: we would not harm him in any way. and we would not commit sin if

Later a Presbyterian church in the East offered this preacher $500 more than he Was then getting, to go East and preach for them. The minister referred to re-signed his position in California, and for $500 quit preaching baptism by imrsion and commenced to promulgate the doctrine of predesination and baptism by sprinkling. He may say God called him to do this, but who will be-lieve it? No consideration of this sort would induce an Elder of this Church to do a thing of that kind. WILLIAM BUTTLE DEAD.

Another of Utah's Veterans Passes to the Great Beyond, At 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning, William Buttle, an old and highly respected resident of this city, breathed his last at his home in the Sixth ward, He was 74 years of age, and has lived in Utah since 1853, in which year he came from his English home, having cast his lot with the Latter-day Saints. He was born in Ellerton, Yorkshire, Jan, 1, 1827, and started for America Jan. 17, 1853, having joined the Church three years previously. With him on the journey west was his young wife, whom he had married three days before leaving England. Soon after reaching Salt Lake City, she died, and later her sister, Elizabeth Acomb, be-came Mrs. Buttle. The latter survives the deceased, as do also five children and fourteen grandchildren. For fif-teen years after his arrival in Salt Lake City, William Buttle was in the employ of President Brigham Young: in 1868 he went into the service of the railway, staying there till a few years ago. He was in the Echo canyon campaign, and was also associated with other notable events in Utah's history; he was honored and trusted as an up active citizen, faithful to the right, duties that rested on him. At the time of his death he was a member of the High Priest's quorum of the Salt Lake Stake, and was highly esteemed for his sterling worth. The funeral services will be held to.

morrow, Tuesday, at 1:30 p. m., in the Sixth ward assembly hall. The remains of the deceased may be viewed by friends at the family residence, No. 458 west, Flifth South street, from 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. on Tuesday.

"I hobbled into Mr. Blackmon's drug store one evening," says Wesley Nelson of Hamilton, Ga., "and he asked me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism with which I had suffered for a long time. I told him I had no faith in any medicine as they all failed. He said: 'Well if Chamberlain's Pain Balm does not help you, you need not pay for it. I took a bottle of it home and used it according to the directions and in one week I was cured, and have not since

SANTA FE NOT IN IT.

President Ripley in New York Talks on Railroad Consolidations.

New York, Feb. 11 .-- President E. P Ripley, of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway, is at the Hotei Netherland, and will be in the city until tomorrow or Wednesday. Mr. Ripley last night denied that the Atchison would be brought in some way into close relations with the Union Pacific system

"I have heard," he said, "that there have been many reports of late in street to the effect that there will be in the near future another move in the consolidation of western roads which will include the absorption of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe by some other road. You may state that no step of this nature has been or is being eing considered." Asked if his visit to New York was arranged for the purpose of conferring with Chas. H. Hays, president of the Southern Pacific railroad, who arrived here last Friday night, Mr. Ripley said: "Our coming to New York within a few days of each other is a mere coin-cidence, and is without any significance whatever. I had no idea that Mr. Hays was here until I read of his arrival in the papers. I shall probably meet him here. We shall no doubt talk over a number of interesting questions with together, but there will be nothing said on the subject of absorption or consolidation

Mr. Ripley added that the report that there would soon be a consolidation be tween the Atchison and the Rock Island was news to him.

"Of course there is nothing in the amor," he continued. "Every one has rumor," the subject of consolidations on the mind just now. The imagination of the public has been so worked up of late that rumors of a shadowy sort are credited in some parlors."

Several days ago a Rock Island offi-cial said the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific would build its branch road from Kansas City to Liberal, Kansas, on to Santa Rosa, N. M., and would in a year or two connect with the El Pas and Northeastern rallway. He added that a traffic arrangement with the Southern Pacific would be made, so that Rock Island trains would be run on to San Francisco from El Paso over the Southern Pacific tracks.
