CENTENNIAL NOTES,

20

There will be no exhibits permitted in Festival Hali at the Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland next year. The building which will seat more than 2,500 persons, will be used for concerts. lectures, and conventions.

Californians are taking an encourag-ing interest in the Lewis and Clark exposition. The California Development committee is arranging for an excur-sion of several hundred people of that state to be present on June 1, the formal opening day.

The New York building at the Lewis and Clark centennial will cost $30,000. and the state will spend an additional sum of $15,000 for the collection of a sulfable exhibit to be contained in the building. Mussachusetts will spend in all $30,000, of which sum $10,000 will be used for the building and $10,000 for the exhibit.

Historic names will be given the streets, avenues and courts at the Lewis and Clark Centennial. The street leading to the Truth, which is the name given to the anusement street, will be called Astor Drive, in bonor of John Jacob Astor. Plazas and courts will be named for Senator Thomas H. Benton, a strunch friend of Oregon; his colleague, Senator Lewis F. Linn: President Jefferson, and President Monroe,

A novelty in the way of a labor saying device is the electrical whitewashing contrivance, which is being used in finishing the interiors of the buildings now in course of construction for the Lewis and Clark Centennial exposition. The machine consists of an electric engine, a giant traveler, and long lines of hose, through which the whitewash is squirted against the roof and sides of the buildings.

Notable men and women from all parts of the world, exponents of many creeds and beliefs, will deliver ad-dresses at the exposition. Famous ex-ponents of Buddhism, Mohammedanem, and the religion of Confucious will he among these.

The management of the Lewis and Clark exposition is plauning for a "Trail" which shall be second to none of those in the past. Indications are that there will be a general migration of the Pike shows at St. Louis to the weaters for western fair.

The government life-saving station at the Lewis and Clark Exposition will be fitted up in the same monner as a large service station. There will be the regulation complement of life boats and a crew to attend them.

A complete set of rules governing the use of exposition grounds by exhibitors and concessionaires, has been issued. The charges for lighting and power and other accommodations are included in the pamphlet.

Progress in construction on the grounds and buildings of the Lewis and Clark exposition is far advanced and everything points to a completed fair on June 1.

Orders from eastern polnts for Lowis and Clark nouvenir dollars are daily increasing in number. The coins sell for two dollars apiece.

Frederick Neil Innes, leader of the famous band that bears his name, Las been engaged by the authorities of the Lewis and Clark fair to furnish music for the exposition from the date of the opening, June 1, to June 28. Mr. Innes plans to organize an adult chorus and charms in which the school children will take part.

The Jacksonville, Ore., board of trade, at a recent meeting, decided that the Jacksonville mining region that should be properly represented at the Lewis and Clark exposition next year The exhibit, according to present plans, will embrace gold, silver, copper, lead, platinum, sinnabar, plumbago, hon shestos, chrome, slate, marble, limestone, granite, sandstone and cement There will be a number of the crude mining implements, relies of the carly days in Jacksonville, represented in the exhibit.
