THE EVENING NEWS.

Saturday, - - - July 15, 1871.

WEATHER ITEM.—The highest point reached by the thermometer to-day was 96.

THEATER.—There was a time of merriment last night, the performance of "London Assurance" creating much laughter. A better illustration of drunkenness than that given by Mr. Adams in the first scene is scarcely possible. Some of those who had not seen the play before and were ignorant of the character personated by Mr. Adams failed, we believe, to recognize him, so thoroughly was he transformed in every particular. Throughout the play he displayed to advantage the wide range of his talents, for, possessing a keen sense of the ludicrous and apt imitative powers, besides the qualities necessary for a tragedian, he is an able representative of the comic drama.

Mr. McCullough as Dazzle created much amusement by his drolleries. His rendition of the part, when it is considered that it was the first time he played it and that he had but little time in which to study it, was really excellent.

Miss Helen Tracy, as usual, charmed the audience with her elegant and polished style of playing. The acting of this talented lady will always have ardent admirers in those who can appreciate refinement and delicacy of deportment on the stage; although she may not be a favorite with the class who can only be satisfied by witnessing loud, demonstrative playing, she does not belong to that school. However, one of the finest qualities in an artiste is that of being able to display passion and emotion without excessive outward violence, which she possesses in an eminent degree.

Carrie Carter enacted a part, Lady Gay Spanker, which requires a great deal of energy and snap, which she threw into it without any apparent difficulty, for this lady's style of performing is essentially vehement and active. She was frequently applauded during the course of the evening.

Messrs. Coggeshall and Thorne played well.

At the close of the performance the star trio were brought before the curtain. Calls were made for a speech, when Mr. Adams and Miss Tracy walked off, and Mr. McCullough stepped forward and stated that it was the first time he had enacted the part of Dazzle, and that he, consequently, had had but little time in which to study it, stating that he, therefore, thought Mr. Adams owed an apology to the audience as it was at his desire that he undertook it. Mr. M. then retired, and Mr. A. made his appearance, and commenced his apology by assuring the audience that if they would overlook Mr. M's appearing as Dazzle, he would spare the public such an infliction in the future. He continued to speak for some minutes in the same strain, stating that he intended to speak for an hour or two, when Mr. M. made his appearance, seized Mr. A. by the coat and led him off. All this was done in a humorous, serio-comic style, which caused the audience to make the house ring with frequent bursts of laughter.

Everybody appeared delighted with "The Illuminated Fountain," and certainly the jets of real water, illuminated by changing colored lights, as variegated as the hues of the rainbow was an exquisitely beautiful sight. The effect will be given again to-night.

The great Shakespearian play of Richard III. to-night.

IN TOWN.—M. Rumsey and Harry Comstock, Esqrs., called at our office this morning, and with whom we spent a very agreeable half hour. The former gentleman is connected with the large firm of L. M. Rumsey & Co., manufacturers of pumps, pipes, beltings, railway supplies, farming tools, &c., 311 Main Street, St. Louis, and the latter with the Bay State Faucet and Valve company, Chicopee Falls, Massachusetts. They are here for the double purpose of business and enjoyment, and we think them capacitated to act an excellent part in both directions. The firms with which they are identified are in every way trustworthy and reliable, and being so can be confidently recommended to the business men of this Territory. We are indebted both to Mr. Rumsey and Mr. Comstock for numerous courtesies shown our agent while in the East.

NEWS FROM FISHER.—The following was received by Deseret Telegraph last night:

BEAVER, July 14.

The Ely Record, of the 13th, states that the body of Samuel Coaking was brought in from Desert Springs, on Saturday morning last, and buried. A long line of citizens, headed by the Fisher brass band, followed the remains to its last resting place, not less than 300 being in the line. Rev. W. G. Blakely officiated at the grave. A profound impression was made on our citizens for one half-hour at least, by the respect paid to the memory of this misguided and unfortunate young man.

S. C. Phillips, who was captured by Sheriff Kane on the Salt Lake stage, charged with an assault with intent to commit murder, was examined before Justice McDonald on Monday. Phillips was required to find bonds in the sum of $2,000, which was promptly raised and he was released.

PERIODICALS.—For the current number of "Every Saturday," (the best illustrated paper published in America) "Harper's Weekly," "Harper's Bazaar," "Harper's Monthly," for August, "Scribner's Ready Reckoner and Log Book" for ship builders, boat builders and lumber merchants (a very useful little work, price forty cents), and "De Witt's Connecticut Cook Book," the latest and most useful American Cookery book, price fifty cents, go to the book store of the enterprising Dwyer, on East Temple Street, if is the only place in Utah where they can be obtained.

FREE LECTURE ON ANCIENT EGYPT.—We had a short visit this morning from Professor William H. Holsington, of Janesville, Wisconsin, who, at six o'clock to-morrow evening, will deliver a lecture in the Tabernacle, on "Ancient Egypt." The Professor has made this a specialty for the last thirteen years, and as the subject is a most interesting one, and Mr. Holsington is thoroughly posted therein, the lecture will no doubt prove very attractive. Ages before the mighty civilizations of Greece, Rome and other ancient nations, were born, art, science and learning of every kind had reached their highest fruition in Egypt, and the myriads of imperishable monuments of their departed grandeur and magnificence, attest a state of civilization and refinement never surpassed by more modern nations. On this account lectures on Ancient Egypt are always interesting, and as the subject will be handled by one who has made of it such a thorough study, it is likely that it will draw a large audience to-morrow evening.

To add to the novelty, if not the interest of the occasion, it may be stated that Professor Hoisington is blind; his affliction is congenital, and he has been stone blind for the past twenty years, during most of which his wife, who travels with him, has acted as his reader, amanuensis and assistant.

The grandeurs of Ancient Egypt are without a parallel in the world, and its very numerous mementoes, furnish material for very many lectures; but Professor Hoisington has so systematized his subject that he presents a pretty full and comprehensive review of it in three. To-morrow evening he will deliver the first, and if the verdict of those present be favorable, the whole of the course will be delivered.

The Chicago Tribune and other eastern papers have spoken in eulogistic terms of these lectures, which include the manners, customs, and religion of the people, also the scenery, tombs, temples, pyramids and everything remarkable, so far as known, of that most remarkable of all lands, Ancient Egypt.

To enable Professor Hoisington to live and to defray the expense of his journeyings a collection will be taken up at the close of the lecture.

DIED.—At 1 p. m. on the 13th instant, at Soda Springs, whither she had gone hoping to benefit her health, Mrs. Sarah T., wife of Mr. Stephen S. Rose, of this city. Deceased obeyed the gospel in April, 1840, in New Jersey, and with her husband emigrated to Utah in 1853. She had been afflicted with a complication of diseases, four years, on the 9th day of the present month.

PACIFIC RURAL PRESS, SCIENTIFIC PRESS.—We had a call this morning from Mr. W. H. Murray, Special Corresponding Agent for the Scientific Press and Pacific Rural Press, of San Francisco, Cal. Mr. M. has been traveling in the interest of these journals in Colorado, and visits Utah for the purpose of extending their circulation. After visiting Ophir City, and probably other camps, where he will be absent about a week, he will attend to business here. Mr. Dwyer is the Agent for these papers. The Scientific Press is, as its name implies, a paper well suited for those engaged in engineering and mining, and its principal circulation will be among those engaged in these pursuits. But the Rural Press is the farmers' paper. It is an excellent journal, and well adapted to supply a want on the Pacific Slope. Its price, per annum, is $4. Among other objects which Mr. Murray has in view is to awaken an interest in miners and others to prepare specimens of ore, mineral, etc., for the Industrial Exhibition, which is to be held at San Francisco on August 10th, under the auspices of the Mechanics' Institute. This Exhibition will be kept open for four weeks, and will be visited by thousands from various parts of the Union, and from these specimens ideas can be gathered of the wealth of the Territory. All specimens should be properly labeled, and Wells, Fargo & Co have proffered to carry them free of expense. When the exhibition closes, the specimens will be placed in the mineralogical cabinet of the Institute, to be preserved for perpetual reference with similar specimens from the other mineral regions in the adjacent territories. We understand that Mr. W. S. Howland, of this city, will receive and forward the specimens which may be prepared for this purpose.

NOT SLOW.—We notice that our enterprising grocer, Mr. Geo. W Davis, has removed into his splendid new store; it is only three weeks since he commenced to pull his old establishment down since which time his new building has been erected, plastered and painted in a manner that reflects credit on the builders, Messrs. Culmer & Armet.

UTAH CENTRAL RAILROAD.—For departures and arrivals of trains, rates of passage, &c., on this line, read their time table which will be found in another column.

NEW REFORM.—The introduction of Soda Water and Sarsaparilla, by Day & Co., has done more in the way of a Temperance Reform than all the lectures that have been delivered in the country. The natural condition of man is a thirsty one, and it has long been an established fact that water will not quench thirst. The question then arises, can we find a substitute as harmless in its effects, and more delicious in taste than anything yet discovered? We find it in Day & Co.'s Soda and Sarsparilla. If every one would sign the Pledge and drink nothing but this Celebrated Beverage, much degradation, misery, shame and crime would be prevented in the world. If any one doubts the truth of our remarks let them step into the first place they come to and try it. It will vouch for itself. 4m[170]f
