A LEGISLATIVE JUNKET.

One to Idaho and Possibly Another to Wyoming Soon.

There is considerable talk among the members of both houses of the Legislature with regard to returning the compliments of the Idaho legislature four years ago by paying that State a return visit. Chairman Hewlett of the House railroad committee said this morning that he would bring the matter before the House at an early date. The election of a senator having been effected and the House having done its duty in introducing nearly sixty bills, and the Senate some thirty odd in two weeks, all of which are under the consideration of various committees, it is hought that the proposed visit to Idaho will come, members say, as a well merited rest to them, besides fulfilling a social duty that courtesy demands.

is claimed that the visit could be effected without loss of time to the Legislature as the members could leave here early on a Friday afternoon and return to their homes on Saturday night. As neither house has held a session on Saturday so far the State's time would thus not be encroached up-

If there is time and opportunity there is no saying but that the recent visit of the Wyoming legislators may also be returned during the current session. Members are urging that there is much benefit to be derived from these interchanges of hospitality as Utah has many questions of common interest with her neighbors.

MRS. FORD LAID AWAY. Impressive Obsequies at St. Mary's Cathedral Yesterday.

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Ford was held from St. Mary's cathedral yesterday afternoon amid tokens of love and esteem. The crowded church and the profusion of luxurious flowers and the beautiful floral designs all attested to the hold that Mrs. Ford had upon the hearts of those who knew

The services were conducted by Bishop Scanlan and Vicar-General Kiely, the latter delivering the funeral discourse. The music, which was under the direction of iss Nora Gleason, was very beautiful and included the "Gregorian Stabat Mater," by the choir: "O Meritem Passions," by Miss Burke; "The Plains of Feace," by J. P. Murphy "Nearer My God, to Thee," tle Ciara Fafek. The sermon of Father Kiely was very fine, he holding out the consolation to the bereaved husband and son that they would all meet again in that other world where loving hearts

The pall bearers were, W. P. O'Meara, Joseph Geoghegan, H. B. Kooser, dore Bruback, Benner X. Smith and P. J. Moran. A large cortege of ve-hicles followed the remains to Mt. Olivet where they were interred.

Samuel L. Page, who represents Plute county in the lower house of the Legislature, is expected back shortly among his colleagues. It will be remembered, as stated in the "News" at the time, that Mr. Page was excused from legislative duty on the opening day of the current session, owing to his being about to undergo a painful oper-ation, no less in fact than the removal of his right eye. Friends of the afflicted legislator will be glad to learn that the operation has been performed successfully at the Holy Cross hospital, and the gentleman from Piute expects to take his seat in the House in a very

The accident which has occasioned Mr. Page the loss of an eye happened early last month. A restive horse "lit with its heels when the represent ative was passing behind it with a fork of hay. The fork was driven with steat force against Mr. Page's face. When the injured man came to Salt Lake for treatment it was found that his right eye was in a dangerous condition and would have to be removed in der to present the loss of both eyes He was told that there was a general state of chaos in the interior of his optic cavity, disruption of the lens, decoment of the retina, etc.

Members of the House and friends will warmly welcome Mr. Page back to his seat among the representatives.

ACCUSED OF STEALING COAL William Saley and His Nine-Year-Old Son Arrested.

William Saley, his son, aged nine, and Albert and Harold Muggleson, who are said to live near Saley, were arrested on Saturday night on the charge of having stolen coal. Just whose coal shed had been depleted is a matter of conjecture. The night watchman of the Salt Lake Ice factory saw the four staggering along under a load of fuel at an unseemly hour, and concluding that all was not as it should be drew his gun on the procession and requested all con-cerned to step to the negrest telephone. The boon was granted with more alacrity than good grace. The night watch-man called up "No. 8," with the result that in a very short time the patrol wagon came for the load of protesting

At the police station Saley was loud in his protestations of innocence and declared repeatedly that he was helping the boys to carry the coal to their home, and had no idea that the stuff was stolen. The desk sergeant was as adamant, however, and booked the adult on the charge of petit larceny. As the unfortunate individual had not the wherewithal to put up his bonds he was placed in jail. Some time later his wife appeared on the scene and made a plea that her husband be returned to was without avail. but it boys were allowed to go home on their

THE DUTY OF YOUNG MEN.

Should Get Into Harness Before Going on Missions.

WORDS OF APOSTLE YOUNG.

Elder C. W. Penrose Preaches a Gospel Sermon-Defines the Spirit of "Mormonism."

The Tabernacle services yesterday afternoon were presided over by President Angus M. Cannon, and were opened by the choir singing the hymn commencing, "Ye Simple Souls Who

The opening prayer was offered by Elder Arthur Winter, and the services were continued by the choir singing the nymn which begins with the words, Softly Beams the Sacred Dawning." Elder James E. Meeks of Wayne county and recently returned from a mission in Great Britain, was the first speaker. He stated that he learned to appreciate more highly than ever before the Gospel of Jesus Christ, while away. There were many people there who listened to the testimony of the Engers, people who had become disgusted with the man made systems of the world. The speaker said he enjoyed his labors in England. He testified that ne anew that Joseph Smith was a pro-phet of God, in fact the greatest that ever lived except Jesus Christ. The Lord chooses men of the humbler walks of life to perform His work on the earth. He chose that class of men in ancient times. The speaker closed by again bearing his testimony.

Eider C. W. Fenrose was the follow-ing speaker. He said that one of the many evidences of the divinity of this work is the testimony that an the returning Eiders possess. The young men go out into the world, untrained in theology, untrained in public speaking, but they return with the testimony that they have gained for themselves that the work is true. They not only testify to this, but they tell the people of the world that they themselves will receive a knowledge of the truth if they will seek for it in the proper manner. And they further testify that the same results follow the Gospe in this day as in the days of the anclent Apostles. Men may go to the world and testify that Joseph Smith is a Prophet lod has restored the ancient Gospel and that they have divine authority to preach it, and that may be false, but here is the phenomenon: Wherever people receive that testimony and accept the Gospel they are lit up with the intelligence that comes from heaven, and they receive a witass from God of its truth for themselves. This but one of the evidences of the truth of the Gospel. Men cannot bestow the Spirit of God upon people; it must come from God or it does not come at all. Now the people who have come to these valleys from all parts of the world have brought with them these strong testimonies, so strong that they are interwoven in their very nature. They are not perfect by any means; they sometimes go astray, but sincere repentance restores them and their diine witness remains. Another piece vidence in favor of this work is that when men become evil and corrupt, the light and spirit of the work departs That spirit is a spirit that rom them. lifts up, that leads men to approach near to their Creator, and they know that He lives, and desire to keep His commandments. That is the spirit or

There are people belonging to various sects in the world who have received a measure of the Spirit of God. No natter what a man's belief is, if he is conest and devout he will receive blessings from the Lord if he turns to Him in faith with sincere penitence and this is true whether he be a Chris-ian or a heathen. This system called "Mornonism" la not to take away any truth from anybody. But personal sincerity and faith in a system is not evidence of itself that that system is true. God recognizes the personal sincerity of men, but joes not mean that He indorses all their otions and churches, Elder Penrose quoted copiously from the Bible to the effect that the path that leads to eternal lift is narrow, and that the gate is straight, that there is but one way to salvation, that Christ de-clared He was the door to the sheep-fold and anyone who attempted to limb up any other way would be counted a thief and a robber. That He s the way, the truth and the life. Apostles were sent out to teach what Christ had commanded them, not what they thought or imagined. And the they thought or imagined. people who received the Gospel from them had the Spirit of God poured out upon them, and they received a testi-mony of the truth. They received also the gifts of the Gospel. They prophe-

the gifts of the Gospel. They prophesied healed the sick, spake in tongues and enjoyed all the other gifts that are, hanifested by the Holy Ghost.

The Apostles had to face the hatred and contumely of the world, until at last most of them were slain. There came a great falling away and the rites of paganism were mingled with the rites of the church. Then force was brought into use to compel orce was brought into use to compe ubmission to the dogmas of men ple began to rebel against established systems and they set up churches of their own. Some of those reformers were sincere and were willing to lay down their lives for what they believed was true. Others were hypocrites and they taught for hire and divined for money. Amidst all this confusion the years of God was not heard. The secmoney. Amidst all this contains the voice of God was not heard. The sectaries taught that "the awful voce of prophecy was stilled forever," and the gifts and manifestations belonging to Christ's church were "done away."

The testimony of the Latter-day Salnts is that in the early part of the interaction century God raised up a boy mineteenth century God raised up a boy to be His prophet. The Gospel was restored by the ministering of angels. not nondescript creatures with wings, but glorified men who had personally lived on the earth. John the Baptisi, Peter and James and John and others who held authority in former times appeared to Joseph Smith and ordained him to the authority which they held when they were on the earth. And he by the commandment of God ordained thers, until the Gospel and church of thrist was established with Apostles, Prophets, Evangelists, Pastors, Teach rs, etc., as in the early Church. Th honest in heart among all sects and na-tions will receive the testimony of the Elders and they will pursue the path marked out and obtain a witness for themselves that the work is true. The ast days reaches out to all mankind, not only the living but the dead. God's lender mercles are over all His works. There is but one plan of salvation and it must be preached to every creature either in the body or out of the body. Elder Penrose closed his strong disourse by bearing his testimony in a very earnest manner.

Apostle Brigham Young was the concluding speaker. He said he saw the ment, 25c.

evidences before him that the labors of the Prophet Joseph Smith were effectual. He could remember the time when there were not many foreigners among the Saints, but now there are represen-tatives of nearly every nation on earth in the midst of the Latter-day Saints. The knowledge of Christ and of the Gospel is vounchsafed to every man and woman who will bow in obedience to the principles that have been taught this afternoon. The speaker testified that he knew to whom he prayed. He knew the voice of the Savior. He had been upon missions among strangers stricken with what seemed to be death, but the power of the Lord had pre-served him and raised him up. The speaker affirmed that the time has come that our young men must obtain the testimony of the truth before they go out into the world. They must begin to seek God here at home. There is to much evil among the Latter-day Saints, KNOCKED OUT BY CHINAMAN Drunken Tough Given a Wholesome Lesson on the Street Yesterday.

There is a benevolent looking Chinese laundryman in town who has not lived in hustling America in vain. Among other accomplishments that he has placed in reserve up his capacious sleeve during his sojourn in the land of freedom is that of handing out, with a smile both childlike and bland, a bony ounch of knuckles on a spot that hurts. John brought this accomplishment into play yesterday afternoon to the joy of the populace assembled on lower State street and the profound humiliation of an individual who had become shortsighted "through looking through glass-

John, he with the almond eye, was complacently sauntering up State street with a basket of laundry on his head. When he arrived opposite the Miller bo tel a gentleman carrying another load (liquid) came along. The perambulat-ing disciple of Mr. Barleycorn eyed the chinaman, while the latter humbly pro-ceeded on his way, apparently imbued with the commendable idea of avoiding trouble. "Oh it was dead easy; the chopsticks would be great fun." No sooner had the thought entered Mr. Barleycorn's head than he steeped er-ratically after the laundryman and jerked a number of unclassified articles on to the sidewalk. It was fun for the on to the sidewark. It was full for the intoxicated man, who proceeded to regale the spectators with some more samples of his entrancing wit. At this functure the Chinaman, more in sorrow than anger, placed his fist with excessive suddenness upon the anatomy of the inebriated joker with the result that he went down and out to the accompaniment of a thump that sounded lik liceman striking the sidewalk with his club when he is in need of assist ance. John then gathered up his lingeric and ambled up the street leaving the spectators speechless with admiration at his Boxer abilities.

DOG ATTACKS CHILDREN.

Becomes Infuriated and Inflicts Serious Injuries-Was a Domestic Pet.

A dog that had been kept as a pet in the family of Ernest Langton for months, suddenly became vicious on Saturday and turned on to three of the Langton children and inflicted several severe wounds on all of them, when a neighbor by the name of Smith came to the rescue of the children by shooting the animal.

The family lives at 911 west First North street, and the little five-year old girl was playing with him, as she had done nearly all her life. The brute became impatient and ugly and suddenly turned upon the child and begar biting her. A brother just two years older, ran to render her assistance, and the dog pounced upon him, and him seriously. A twelve-year-old si hearing the cries of pain and fright, ray the children and was herself badly ten. The beast was thoroughly in furiated and would possibly have killed one or all of the children had not the a bullet.

Representative of the Line Will Oper-

San Francisco railroad, better known as the "Frisco" line, was, this morning, closed up and the furniture shipped to Colorado Springs. H. B. Worden, who has made his headquarters here here ever since Mr. Doolittle resigned as traveling freight and passenger agent for that road, will follow this evening and be duly installed at Colorado Springs, from where he will still look after this territory and pay flying visits to Salt Lake and Idaho at stated periods in the interests of the Frisco line. It is understood that there is a possibility, however, of the office being opened here several months hence, but at present there is nothing definite forthcoming.

The move is the outcome of railroad conditions here and is the sequel to H. Worden's recent visit to headquarters. During the wool season he expects to locate in this city.
