

Program of the Eleventh National Irrigation Congress, to Be Held in Ogden This Week.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 15.

First session—9:30 a. m.—noon.
President Clark calls the convention to order.
Invocation by Bishop John B. Winder of Salt Lake City, Utah.
Address of welcome on behalf of the State of Utah—Hon. William Glassman, mayor of Ogden.
Address of welcome—Hon. Frank J. Cannon of Ogden.
Responses by President Clark.
Reading of message from President Roosevelt.
Reading of message from Hon. E. A. Hitchcock, secretary of the interior, Washington.
Prize ode to irrigation, written by Mrs. Gilbert McClurg of Colorado Springs, and composed by J. J. McDaniel of Salt Lake City, and sung by the Tabernacle choir of 200 voices, under the direction of Mr. Joseph Ballantyne, Miss Luella Ferrin, soprano.
Mrs. Reside Dean Allison, contralto.
Mr. Charlton F. Ferrin, tenor.
Mr. Andrew Bowman, baritone.
Accompanist, Miss Della Lund.
Regular business and appointment of committees.

Second session—1:30 p. m.—3:30.
Reports of committees and reading of roll call.
Reading of telegrams and letters.
Addresses by representatives of foreign governments: Lieut. Col. Don Ignacio Altamira, attaché Mexican embassy; M. Max du Couppé de la Forest, irrigation commissioner of France.
The Twin Ideas of Irrigation and the Conservation of Water for the Prevention of Floods—J. R. Burton, United States senator, Kansas.
The Relation of the Eastern Farmer to National Irrigation—C. B. Booth, Los Angeles, Cal.
The Relation of the National Irrigation to the Oriental Trade—W. M. Bunker (representative San Francisco chamber of commerce, Washington, D. C.).

KILLED UNDER A STREET CAR.

Fate of Albert Grainger, Whose Life Was Crushed Out Saturday Night.

WAS STRUCK BY A MURRAY CAR

Little Known as to How the Accident Occurred—Remains will be Shipped East.

Albert Grainger, a steamfitter, aged about 35 years, was instantly killed some time between 11 and 12 o'clock Saturday night by being run over by a street car at the junction of State and Eighth South streets. Although the accident occurred on Saturday night, the mystery surrounding it has not yet been solved.

How it happened may never be known, but from circumstances surrounding the case it would seem that he must have been in a sitting posture when struck. His head was caught between the fender and the front of the car and he was dragged over 100 feet before the car was stopped and his mutilated body taken out.

The car which caused the unfortunate accident was Murray car No. 33, northward bound in charge of Conductor Swann and Motorman Smith, to whom it seems no blame can be attached. The car was going along at a good rate of speed when the conductor heard an unusual noise as of something being hit and the car was stopped as soon as possible. Upon getting out of the car and making an investigation he found the mangled body with clothes torn and trailing in the mud. When extricated only a groan or two were heard and all was over.

The police department was promptly notified and Dr. Behle and the coroner were summoned to the undertaking establishment of Joseph William Taylor, where the body had been taken. Examination of the spot where the unfortunate man met his death disclosed the fact that he had walked from the street corner to the middle of the block and had stood for a time near one of the electric wire poles. No evidence was found of his having been sitting down, but the conductor and motorman of the car which went down at a good rate of speed when the conductor thought they saw a man sitting between the tracks at about this point.

Papers on his person proved him to be a member of Cheyenne Steamfitters' union No. 224, and that his dues had been paid up to April 19, 1903. There was also found a membership card of Cheyenne lodge No. 601 of the Elks, to which a notification of the accident was sent. It was also found that he had a brother, J. J. Grainger, in Cheyenne, and a sister, Miss Lerina Grainger, in Sumner, Neb., who were likewise notified. He had been employed for a time at Brigham Junction.

The latest investigations show that the unfortunate man had been on his way to a job in Idaho which he intended making arrangements to make a tour of the world when he met with his sudden death. He was well known in Cheyenne as a rider on the wheel and a year ago made the trip from that place to Salt Lake. It is stated that he proposed to start from here this fall and ride to San Francisco, thence by steamer to China and so continue his trip until the circle had been completed.

It was ascertained that he lived with L. P. Larson and his wife on the Thoms farm, two and a half miles south of Murray on the State road. After working for a time at the Brigham smelter he went to work for the United States motter where he worked until last December, since which time he had been doing no regular work, but had been living with his friends.

Last Tuesday he told them he was going to Salt Lake to look for work and on Friday he and his friends lunched together at the Popular restaurant. He then told them that he had secured a job in Idaho which he intended accepting. That was the last they saw or heard of him until they saw an account of his death in the Sunday papers.

Mr. Larson's theory is that he was waiting to catch a Murray car and return home for his clothes. It is thought that he sat down and while waiting for the car, fell asleep and upon hearing its approach he awoke and in a dazed condition stepped in front of it with the result mentioned. A cash over three inches long was found on his person, and his head and further investigation showed that his neck was broken.

Third session—9:30 a. m.—noon.
Subject, "Colonization."
Address, C. E. Wantland, Union Pacific railway, Denver.

Our Inheritance—William K. McAllister, general agent Southern Pacific railway company, Denver.
"Colonization," John Henry Smith, Salt Lake City, Utah.
"Colonization," Commander Frederick Booth-Tucker, Salvation Army, New York City.
Informal addresses by ex-Gov. A. L. Thomas, Salt Lake City; governors, senators, congressmen and prominent railroad officials, amongst whom are Senators Thomas Kearns and Reed Smoot of Utah; Senators Francis E. Warren and Clarence Clark of Wyoming; ex-Senator Joseph M. Carey of Cheyenne; Govs. George C. Pardee of California, John H. Morrison of Idaho, etc.

Fourth session—1:30 p. m.—3:30.
Subject, "Legal Discussion."
The Intent of the Reclamation Law—Prof. Dubois, United States senator, Idaho.
"The Repeal of Some of Our Land Laws," Paris Gibson, United States senator, Montana.
"Value and Importance of the Desert Land Law," Frank Mondell, congressman from Wyoming.
"The Utilization of the Public Grazing Lands of the United States," W. M. Woolbridge, Hinsdale, Mont.
Address, F. E. Brooks, congressman from Colorado.
"State Co-operation With National Irrigation," Francis G. Newlands, Nevada.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 17.

First session—9:30 a. m.—noon.

charge and were making arrangements to ship it over the Union Pacific today.

DEATH OF A VETERAN.

Cache Valley Pioneer Goes to His Last Rest at the Age of 66 Years.

Logan, Sept. 11.—William Haslam, an old time resident of Cache valley died Thursday night of bowel trouble. The deceased was born in England 66 years ago, and was a pioneer of Cache valley. He was an active and useful citizen, a kind husband and father and an unswerving Latter-day Saint. He leaves a large posterity and many relatives and friends who honor his memory. He was a miller of wide reputation and one of the original land leaders of the county. The funeral will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday.

BISHOP PRESTON IMPROVED.

Bishop William B. Preston, who has been quite ill the past few days with stomach and liver trouble, is somewhat improved today.

MEETING OF TEACHERS.

State Pedagogues Will Listen to Lectures by Hon. Henry Pettengill.

The following program has been arranged for the coming meeting of the Utah State Teachers' association in this city, Oct. 6, 7 and 8:

On Tuesday evening, Oct. 6, at 8 o'clock, there will be a special musical program and a lecture, "Made in America," by Hon. Henry Pettengill. On Wednesday at 9 a. m. department meetings will be held under the direction of the respective presidents. At 11 a. m. there will be a lecture, "Gearing the Square" (for primary grades) by Mr. Pettengill and at 3 p. m. a lecture on the same subject for grammar grades. At 8 p. m. Mr. Pettengill will lecture on "The Schools and the Labor Problem."

On Thursday, from 9 a. m. to 12 m., the teachers will visit the city schools for the purpose of inspecting work, and at 3 p. m. Mr. Pettengill will speak on the subject, "Inspire or Expire." At 4:30 p. m. there will be a business meeting for the election of officers, etc., and at 8 p. m. a lecture, "Nancy Hanks and the Nineteenth Century," by Mr. Pettengill.

MUSIC NOTES.

The musical score of the Irrigation ode music is just off the presses of the Deseret Evening News. It contains 24 pages of music and the title page is in two colors. It is attractively gotten-up. The Ogden tabernacle choir is reported as doing fine work in practicing the choruses, and of the solo parts, Miss Ferrin will be the soprano, Mrs. Bessie Dean-Alison, the alto, and Charlton Ferrin, the tenor.

Miss Esther Allen has begun organizing a new orchestra for the First Congregational church Sunday school, and has made a good beginning.

Local dealers are getting in goodly stocks of guitars and mandolins for the fall and winter trade as a steady business is regarded as certain in this line.

Students from different parts of the state are arriving in this city to study various branches of music during the coming season. All such should consult the "Musicalian Directory" on the music page of the Saturday "News."

The introduction of vocal numbers at the Tabernacle organ recitals is enjoyed by the audience. It is a pleasing variation from the continuity of instrumental numbers. It tests the organist, for the work is very light, and it brings out latent vocal talent, for with the prospect of appearing at these recitals, local singers will apply themselves with renewed vigor to their studies, and new and valuable voices will be developed. Singers justly consider it an honor to sing in the Tabernacle.

The Italian conservatory graduate, who sang there Saturday, said she considered it a high privilege to be heard in the great building.

The music teachers are flocking back to their studies from the mountains and the sea shore, and are ready for the work of the coming year. Their return has been enthusiastically met by a great sale of sheet music and Etudes. There is a call for a higher grade of sheet music than has heretofore. Sharp competition has caused prices to take considerable of a fall.

Salt Lakeers regret to hear that Col. Channing Ellery is again in trouble, and that his handiwork "skipped out" from Denver with the music. However, the colonel appears to emulate the phoenix and soar from the ashes of disappointment and disaster into the blue ether of further experiment. His first visit to this city was attended by a financial disaster, and the second visit was attended by a similar minor strain; while the third time, the "music of the spheres" savors of the dirge, even Chairman, James Wilson, secretary of agriculture.

United States department of agriculture, bureau of irrigation investigations, Washington.

"The Work of the Department of Agriculture Regarding Irrigation," James Wilson, secretary of agriculture.

Pumping for Irrigation in Western Kansas—J. G. Haney, agent and expert irrigation investigations.

"Irrigation Investigations in Nebraska," Prof. O. V. P. Stout, agent and expert irrigation investigations.

"The Value of the Study of the Duty of Water for Different Crops," Prof. Samuel Fortier, agent and expert irrigation investigations.

"Drainage Investigations in the Yakima Valley, Washington," C. G. Elliot, agent and expert irrigation investigations.

"Alkali Reclamation," Thomas H. Means, bureau of soils.

"Weather Co-operation in Reclamation Work," F. H. Brandenburg, section director of weather bureau, Denver.

"Some Unsolved Problems of Irrigation," Prof. John A. Whitson, agent and expert agricultural experiment station, Logan, Utah.

"Planting of Trees on Prairie Lands," Prof. Daniel E. Willard, agent and expert North Dakota agricultural experiment station, Bismarck.

"Economics of Irrigation," Dr. Richard T. Ely of the University of Wisconsin, agent and expert irrigation investigations.

Sixth session—8:10 p. m.
"Agriculture Under Irrigation as Shown at the World's Fair," Fred W. Taylor, chief department of agriculture, St. Louis World's Fair.

"The Victories of Peace," "Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war," George H. Maxwell, Chicago.

"The Influence of Irrigation on the before the colonel has reached the city. There is no discount on the character of the music Col. Ellery's band furnishes, and he has the sympathy of many friends in his hard luck, as well as their approval of his quick in standing up against the odds against him, and pulling out of what appeared to be a desperately bad hole. The band is a good one, and with the new changes, it will still be welcome here as expected. It arrives on the 17th.

The recent failure of Mason & Hamline of Boston, for $200,000, a widespread regret in musical circles. The company has been in business for many years, and while it confined itself to the manufacture of cabinet organs, it did well. But a recent venture drifted off into the manufacture of pianos, and now it is in trouble. The assets consist mostly in stock. It is believed that the firm will reorganize and start in again.

Prof. George E. Skelton will introduce his little pupil, Mildred Almy Parker, in a solo recital tomorrow evening in the First Congregational church, assisted by Mrs. A. D. Maltby, soprano, and Lena Broadus, Janet Witteck and Helen Tracy, as a violin trio, with Mrs. M. D. Parker as accompanist. Little Miss Parker is the daughter of the late Capt. Montgomery D. Parker of the Eighth U. S. Infantry, who had a wide acquaintance in this city for years, as an officer of the Ninth and Seventh cavalry regiments before transferring to this infantry. The child has developed a fine talent, and is as enthusiastic as she is talented in her work.

The musical portion of the public will be pleased to hear of the success of the directors of the Orpheus club, held last Tuesday evening, plans for the ensuing year were carefully discussed. The club will give two important concerts during the season; they will, of course, be assisted by the best talent available, and Salt Lake music lovers will be given an opportunity of hearing artists of the first rank.

Dr. Kirkwood, Dentist, moved to 58 E. Third South St.

Social and Personal.

The marriage of Miss Swift and Mr. McCurdy took place on Saturday afternoon at St. Paul's church and later a wedding supper was served, the near relatives and friends being present. Mr. and Mrs. McCurdy left at night for a month's stay on the coast.

Miss Clara Peal has returned from Mexico, and is at home at 112 north Main street.

The marriage of Miss Kate Varley and John Astin, who were formerly associated with palms and smiles tastefully arranged. The bride's dress was of cream tulle over tulle with trimmings of wood fibre lace. Mr. and Mrs. Varley were assisted in receiving by Mr. Varley, Emma Wallace, Marnie Smith and Laura Newton. Punch was served by Misses Bell and Katharine Varley. Mr. and Mrs. Astin will reside at Coalville during the winter. Mr. Astin having accepted a position as principal of the Coalville schools.

Miss Katherine Wall has returned from her eastern trip.

Capt. and Mrs. Samuel Paul have returned from a trip through the Pacific northwest.

One of the most enjoyable events of last week was the Kensington given by Mrs. Thomas Gerrard at her home on Third East street. The entertainment was a delightful affair, the table being adorned with asters, roses and carnations. A delightful program, consisting of songs, recitations and musical numbers, was rendered, and about 25 guests were present to enjoy the affair.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett, of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend, Mr. C. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved, and when I had taken the third dose I was entirely cured. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for putting this great remedy in the hands of mankind." For sale by all druggists.

THE LEADING BOOK STORE.

We have all of the popular fiction of the day; all the works of the Standard Authors; all of the University, College and Public School Text-Books, New and Souvenir Books, Children's Story and Picture Books, and all the publications of the Church.

DESERET NEWS BOOK STORE, 6 Main St., Salt Lake City.

American Ideal—William E. Smythe, San Diego, Cal.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 18.

Seventh session—9 a. m.—noon.

Chairman, F. H. Newell, chief engineer United States government irrigation surveys.

Department of the Interior—Reclamation service.

"The National Irrigation Act"—F. H. Newell, chief engineer U. S. R. S.

"The Utah Lake Reservoir in Utah"—George L. Swendsen, engineer U. S. R. S.

"The Salt River Dam in Arizona"—Arthur P. Davis, supervision engineer U. S. R. S.

"Correct Designing and Stability of High Dams"—George Y. Wisner, consulting engineer U. S. R. S.

"Irrigation Along Colorado River"—J. R. Lippincott, supervising engineer U. S. R. S.

"Electric Transmission of Power for Pumping"—H. A. Stokes, electrical engineer U. S. R. S.

"Gunnison Tunnel"—A. L. Fellows, engineer U. S. R. S.

"Development of Snake River"—D. B. Ross, engineer U. S. R. S.

"Development of the Pecos Valley"—J. M. Reed, engineer U. S. R. S.

"The Relation of State and Federal Land Irrigation"—Morris Eien, Washington, D. C.

"The Underground Water Resources Available for Irrigation"—N. H. Darrin, geologist, Washington, D. C.

"The Milk River Valley"—Cyrus C. Habb, engineer U. S. R. S.

"Development of North Platte River, in Wyoming"—John E. Field, engineer U. S. R. S.

"Irrigation in Oregon"—John Whittier, engineer U. S. R. S.

"The Bear River Project"—George L. Swendsen, engineer U. S. R. S.

"The Truckee Project"—H. L. Taylor, Reno, Nev.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

Eighth session—1:30 p. m.

"State Progress of Irrigation in Utah"—A. F. Doremus, state engineer, Utah.

"State Progress of Irrigation in Wyoming"—Clarence T. Johnston, state engineer, Wyoming.

"State Progress of Irrigation in Colorado"—A. E. Chandler, state engineer, Nevada.

"Practical Irrigation in Oregon"—Mr. Solos Ontario, Oregon wife of the special reference to sugar beets—Paper by Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief chemist United States government.

"Sugar Beet Culture in Utah"—Judge Rolapp, Ogden.

"Irrigation and Beet Sugar"—Truman G. Palmer, secretary American Beet Sugar association, Washington, D. C.

"Fruit Culture Under Irrigation"—Judge J. H. Richards, Boise.

"Horticulture Under Irrigation"—J. A. Wright, Salt Lake City.

Ninth session, Friday evening, subject, "Forestry."

Chairman, Clifford Pinchot, chief forester United States government.

Address—Clifford Pinchot, chief forester United States government.

"The Future of Federal Forest Reservations"—E. A. Bowers, secretary American Forestry association, New Haven.

"Forestry at Universal Expositions"—Tarleton H. Bean, chief forestry department, St. Louis World's fair.

"Forest and Water Supply"—E. H. Newell, chief engineer United States government.

"The Growth of Forest Sentiment in the West"—H. M. Carter, editor Forestry and Irrigation, Washington, D. C.

Resolutions.

Adjournment.

estate was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.

When the property was divided it was found that there were so many debts that some of the property had to be sold to pay them. Mrs. Kealy's home was one of the houses that were sold. John T. Mulhall bought it but was never able to secure possession.