

WOMEN MEET AT THE UNIVERSITY.

INTERESTING PAPERS READ.

Tonight at the Ladies' Literary Club A Social Will be Given for Mrs. Denison.

This morning the Utah Federation of Women's clubs met at the state university to investigate the domestic science department. In connection with this a practical demonstration was given by the educational committee. Miss Alice Reynolds of Provo read a paper on "State Institutions." The subject, "Some Needed Reforms," was presented by Mrs. F. S. Richards of Salt Lake.

This evening at the Ladies' literary club, a social will be given for Mrs. C. S. Denison.

AFTERNOON MEETING.

The meeting this afternoon was held in Barratt hall. Miss Ethel Paul read a paper, "John Luther Long." A report was given by Mrs. J. A. Putnam of Ogden of the reciprocity bureau and Miss Eva Rankin of Brigham City, discussed the subject. The new state president, Mrs. C. S. Denison, read a paper on "New Thought in Education." Mrs. W. R. Hutchinson made a report of the Educational committee.

The teachers of the domestic science department at the university served buffet luncheon and everybody present seemed to have a very pleasant time.

RACE SUICIDE TALK.

The program given by the Utah Federation of Women's club last evening at Barratt hall was a most interesting and by far the best that has been rendered up to date. The stage was tastefully decorated with sunflowers and ferns. However, the attendance was rather small, about half of the seats in the auditorium being occupied.

Mrs. C. S. Denison, the president of the National Federation, delivered an address, "The Need of the Hour," in a very pleasing and accomplished manner. She compared the local clubs to the fibers on the roots of a tree reaching out and obtaining nourishment; the state federation to the trunk, carrying the nutritive substance to the tree and lastly the National Federation to the flourishing tree, spreading its branches in every direction.

In talking of race suicide she said: "Do not let us talk of 'race suicide' until we are able to take care of our own. In New York upward of 40,000 babies were born last year, and that state alone had more children than the school can accommodate." The child labor problem was next discussed in an interesting way. She proved the influence exercised by the women's clubs in passing four labor bills through the legislature of New York. She closed her remarks by encouraging the women to widen their influence and enlarge their opportunities.

GOSHEN ON CITIZENSHIP.

A speech given by the Rev. I. Goshen on "The Responsibilities of Citizenship," was well handled and effective. He laid great stress on the need of a good, clean person, and the nomination of good men and women for public offices. He emphasized the fact that citizenship means obedience to the law. The discussion was continued by Mrs. J. J. Nunn of Provo, Mrs. M. H. Allen of Park City and Mrs. W. H. Dale of Salt Lake. The musical selections, "The Irish Love Song," "The Dreamer's Song" and "The Nightingale Song" completed the program and made the evening most delightful.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

In spite of the fact that it rained steadily all the afternoon the Women's Federation was as usual well attended. After the minutes of last session were read and approved, came the election of a board of directors and four delegates, who are to represent the Utah Federation of Women's clubs at the biennial meeting of the General Federation of Women's clubs at St. Louis next May, 1904. The following were elected: Mrs. M. H. Allen, Park City; Mrs. Philip Speckhart, Provo; Mrs. H. S. Culmer, Salt Lake City; Mrs. Goula Blackley, Salt Lake City; Mrs. L. K. Cherry, Mt. Pleasant; Mrs. Alma J. Dredge, Coalville; Mrs. Douglas, Springville; Mrs. Stanley H. Clawson, Salt Lake City.

The delegates chosen were: Mrs. Samuel King, Provo; Mrs. D. E. Hemphill, Salt Lake City; Mrs. Edward Allen, Park City; Mrs. Edward Broedel, Ogden.

WILL BE NO STRIKE.

Probability of One Among Wyoming Miners Grows More Remote Daily.

(Special to the "News.") Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 3.—Your correspondent has made a careful canvass of the coal mines of the state and has ascertained that the probability of a strike among the miners is growing more remote daily. The efforts of the organizers in this state have signally failed and unless something unforeseen occurs there will be no strike. A number of miners who were dissatisfied with the wages and conditions have quit and gone away and the coal companies have advertised for 500 men. The wages paid are in the main satisfactory to the miners and while there may be a few grievances of minor importance to settle, the danger of any serious trouble is over.

LITTLE GIRL BADLY BURNED.

Lizzie Russell, the five-year-old daughter of William Russell, who conducts an umbrella business just a few doors east of the old city hall, was badly burned this afternoon while playing near a bonfire. Dr. Wither attended to the little girl's injuries and it is believed she will get along all right, although her burns are quite painful.

Milk won't bear much water, you know; but flavoring extracts and spices will bear a good deal of mixing. One part pepper and ten parts meal is still pepper.

Buy Schilling's Best and avoid the mixing.

NOTICE.

After the early forms of this edition of the "News" were made up on a basis of 40 pages, the heavy demands of advertisers necessitated an increase to 44 pages. This will account for the insertion of four extra pages which will be found unnumbered in the first section of the issue.

CORRECTION.

On page 30 of this issue of the Deseret News an interesting article dealing with the long and remarkable experience of Joseph E. Taylor, in which it is stated that he has buried 20,000 persons, which is correct and that he has reached 30,000 funeral sermons, which is not correct. Just one too many eulogies appears in the last mentioned figures. However, the Deseret News must disclaim responsibility for the addition of the number as it was clearly written in notes that were furnished the paper. But the distinction of having preached even 3,000 funeral sermons is so unique that not many men can equal it. In regards the article itself it is most interesting and can be read with profit by all who peruse the columns of the "News."

CLOUDS DISPERSE; WEATHER IS GOOD.

he reaches from a half to three-quarters of a pound, but give him plenty of room and he grows to five or six pounds in weight. Among the big fellows are the large mouth black bass, rainbow trout and land locked salmon, which, under favorable conditions, reach from eight to 15 pounds. One of the biggest fish shown, however, is a magnificent rainbow trout that is some seven pounds in weight. Native trout, fry, grayling trout, gold and silver fish, carp, sunfish, silversides, catfish, suckers, mountain herring or William's white fish, and eastern brook trout are included in the display. There was a big fellow of the lake trout species but he landed in his checks yesterday and in his place Mr. Shapely was very much surprised to find this morning a big fishing tackle and in the form of a metal fish suspended in the aquarium. By way of diet there is a generous supply of live kept on hand, but on occasion the fish are not above sampling each other and indulging in cannibalism. The gold fish are greatly addicted to a specially prepared paper wafer which they devour with avidity.

THREE PROTESTS.

Hewlett Bros., H. L. Griffin and W. Kraack Dissatisfied with Awards.

Invariably there are protests when the awards are made known. This year is not an exception to the rule, in fact to date three protests have been registered, two from the manufacturers' building and one from the fruit ranch. All three aver that they will put up the necessary $10, and file the affidavit setting forth the grounds of protest. Up to noon, however, this had not been done. The protesters are Hewlett Bros., H. L. Griffin of Ogden, and William Kraack of Zion's Fruit ranch. Hewlett succeeded in capturing every thing they were after with the exception of the premium on spices which went to the Salt Lake Coffee and Spice company. This decision the protesters declare to be not in accordance with the two exhibits. They claim that the coffee and spice firm has not as large display by one-fifth, neither has it as large a variety on exhibition, further that the award was made out of sympathy and not on merit.

H. L. Griffin, the Ogden dairy firm, also is full of grief owing to the exhibition of the Butter Creamery company and the status of the judges, one of whom he avers is disqualified from acting as he is a grocer and handles the same product. This he claims would have the effect of making the judges biased in favor of his rival, Mr. Griffin avers that the other dairy company is ringing in daily fresh butter and other products while he is limited solely upon the exhibit he brought from Ogden on the first day. "If we are going to have that sort of thing," he said last night to the "News," "we will each add to our show for a month and then I will be content to abide by the decision. But that is nothing, I simply am protesting because John McDonald, the judge, is a grocer."

William Kraack of Zion's Fruit ranch, is the third man with a grievance. Ever since he opened up his display of peaches and apples he has been under the head of three varieties, not less than 30 each, a premium for the best quality, experts have been telling him that he would walk away with the prize. Instead, he has not even a second, Peter Garf of Draper carried off the premium and Kraack thinks that he has a grievance of large proportions. He says that the Draper man's peaches were larger but they were gummy and wormy, while his were clean and of better flavor. As the judges did not even taste his exhibit and flavor entered into the contest, he thinks that he has good cause to raise a protest.

This afternoon there was more trouble in the horticultural department. It being averred that E. Briggs of Bountiful, the successful man in cabbages and vegetables, had not grown the produce shown but had purchased the same for the purpose of gaining the prize. This assertion was boldly made by C. G. Porter of Morgan and Louis Fayter of Mill Creek, who are taking up a labor with Briggs to induce him to withdraw. As a threat both gentlemen state they will protest the awards if Briggs continues to hold on to his first place. Later the difficulty was patched up, with the result that there will not be any more protests made in all probability.

MORE POULTRY AWARDS.

Judges Clean Up This Department And Turn in the List.

In addition to the poultry awards as printed in last evening's "News" the judges have turned in the following list:

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overrated. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so that the patient can get rid of the great danger and dread of the consumptive, and prevent or stop by taking German Syrup literally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of cured and cured strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial bottles, 25c, regular size $1.00 at all druggists. ### CATTLE PREMIUMS.

Judges Get Down to Work and Distribute Ribbons Today.

The judges in the cattle department have been working hard all day today with the object in view of cleaning up, if possible, tonight. Prof. Clark of the Utah Agricultural college, N. H. Henry of Missouri and B. F. Saunders were named as the judges in the cattle classes. The last named, however, failed to qualify. Owing to the fact that until a late hour the judges were still hard at work, a complete list could not be obtained. Among those who have been awarded premiums are: John H. White, of the Island Improvement company, Hereford, bull, 3 years and over, Blanco XVI captured the yearling bull premiums. In the three-year and over for cows, Island Queen, Island Gem and Island Princess captured the three prizes in the order named. In the yearling heifer class, Lady Cleveland II, Lady Harrison II, and Chrystal, while in the heifer class Dotty, Maria and Moby respectively, walked away with the ribbons.

In the three-year-old and over class there were a number of handsome bulls entered. The best was that of John H. Seely of Mt. Pleasant took the first premium with his splendid three-year-old, Ravenwood Councillor, he also secured second place with Baron Scott, who is beginning to show signs of age. Third prize went to Draper, Pride, owned by Allen Bros, taking the ribbon. The judges this afternoon were busy in the Shorthorn class and making good headway.

CONFERENCE OF THE RELIEF SOCIETY.

First Meeting Held in the Assembly Hall This Morning At Ten o'clock.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS MADE.

President Bathsheba W. Smith Bids Visiting Officers Welcome and Reviews the Work

The general semi-annual conference of the Relief society convened in the Salt Lake assembly hall this morning at 10 o'clock. There was a large attendance and a good meeting was held. Each stake organization was represented by the president or an authorized representative. The principal speaker was Mrs. Bathsheba W. Smith, president of the general Relief society, who extended greeting to the members and expressed satisfaction with the work that had been accomplished by the different stakes.

Mrs. Mary Pomeroy of the Maricopa stake reported that the work among the Indian societies of that stake was productive of a great deal of good. Ayldo Dickson of Big Horn stake, told of the settlement of that section and the aid given by the Relief society to the poor.

Mrs. Rebecca Standing of Alpine, Mrs. M. I. Horne of Salt Lake, Mrs. Call of Bannock, Mrs. C. C. Shepherd of Beaver, Mrs. Page of Nebo, and Mrs. Anna Phillips of the St. Joseph stakes also reported. All were satisfied that the work of their respective stakes had improved much in the last year and that the quantity of grain on hand was much larger than in the previous year.

Mrs. Maggie Hull gave a vocal solo at the close of the meeting.

BLAME THE PREACHER.

Say the Rev. Simpkins and Mrs. Walker Instructed the Boy.

The case against Walter Lloyd and Arthur Coombs of the Lloyd drug store, charged with selling cigars to minors, came up before Judge Diehl yesterday afternoon for trial, but before the case had got fairly started, Asst. County Atty. Dana T. Smith moved for a dismissal.

It appears from the testimony that a 12-year-old son of Mrs. C. A. Walker had been sent to the drug store to purchase the cigars and was instructed to tell the druggist that the cigars were for Mr. Whitaker. Mrs. Walker thought that by this scheme she would have a clear case against the defendants. She declared that prior to this her boy had secured tobacco there and had caught him smoking. He admitted he got the tobacco at the drug store. The scheme was then fixed up to catch the druggist. As soon as Mr. Smith heard of this he knew it was a hopeless case for the prosecution, and asked that the action be dismissed. The order was made by Judge Diehl and the defendants ordered discharged.

Those who had assembled in the court room to prosecute the case, were disposed to be angry at this action on the part of the prosecuting officer, but he explained that he could not secure a conviction inasmuch as it was shown by the testimony that the boy had been instructed by the mother to say that the cigars were for somebody else.

LAWYERS.

JAMES H. MOYLE.

No gentleman of the legal fraternity in Salt Lake occupies a more prominent position at the bar of the state than Mr. James H. Moyle, who maintains his elegant office and library at suite 7-12-14 second National bank building. Mr. Moyle appears in all the courts and has ever been esteemed as one of the strongest and most brilliant legal lights in the state. Mr. Moyle who is a native son of Salt Lake City is an eminent representative of the legal profession and has built for himself an enviable reputation for a cultured intellect, and for learning in the law. He is a graduate of the Deseret university, now University of Utah and also the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, in 1885, and has been practicing his profession ever since and with great success in all the courts. While engaging a wide general practice, Mr. Moyle confines himself mainly to civil law and in that line he is attorney and counselor for all the important corporations and mercantile firms and he has always been noted for his great success in these lines. He has large office business in civil practice and as an attorney he is one of the most forceful and effective advocates at the bar. In professional life Mr. Moyle is esteemed as one of our most influential citizens, and all times taking a lively interest and active part in public affairs, and, without, he is one of the successful men of the times.

CAUGHT IN FAIR CROWD.

"Dirty Nora," the mud eater on the midway, says she prefers Illinois mud to the Utah mud, the latter containing so much alkali that she is afraid of contracting appendicitis.

Despite the heavy condition of the race track owing to the rain the horsemen were out bright and early this morning limbering up their legs.

Two garbage wagons, five men and a roller and harrow were hard at work this morning cleaning up and making ready for today's crowd. A patent anti-dust preparation has been put on the floor of the manufacturers' building, and all along the line cleanliness is the motto this year.

J. S. Bransford, who is in charge of the horse racing is giving correct imitations of the strenuous life from 9 a. m. until dark. The horsemen are unanimous in the statement that he is the right man in the right place.

To date the crowds on the fair grounds have been most orderly. A number of special officers are on the grounds but their presence has not been needed and not a single arrest has been made to date.

To see Assistant Amusement Manager S. A. Mann stirring up the freaks on the midway and exhorting the barkers is alone worth the price of admission.

Already there is considerable favorable comment on the manner in which the Centennial Exposition is being handled by the company is handling the crowds and keeping the strings of cars moving without any waits. In order to facilitate business and protect the public the company has stationed flagmen at the various railroad crossings on the line up town.

Pettrified woods taken from the mines near Bingham are among the novel exhibits in the horticultural building.

One of the swiftest rigs at the opening races was the Keith Irish jumping car. Some comments on the part of some of the visitors from the country were extremely edifying.

The butter exhibits in the main building come out strong this year.

Thomas Judd of St. George progresses each year when it comes to exhibits. His display from Dixie this year puts all previous ones in the shade. He exhibits three show cases of fruits that would make California look to her laurels.

Hewlett Bros' Dutch windmill in the manufacturers' building is undoubtedly the novelty of the fair.

A small boy lost a section of overalls on the midway this morning while examining the fine points of the bear cub on exhibition.

Owing to the fact that the management has put 250 loads of gravel on the grounds, patrons to the fair are able to walk around dry shod providing they keep on the regular paths.

Among the handsome and artistic samples of art china to be seen in the manufacturers' building is a cabinet displayed by Mrs. Hattie Pitt Lee that is drawing considerable attention.

Despite the set back occasioned by the stormy weather yesterday which, possibly, cost the society $5,000, President

HON. GEO. W. BARTCH.

The highest honor that can be conferred on a member of the legal profession within the state is his elevation to the supreme court bench. The selection of one for this distinguished position is paramount to a declaration of his pre-eminence of character, his attainments, and mastery of law. All of these qualifications have been found in Hon. Geo. A. Bartch, who for a number of years has ably discharged the duties of justice of the supreme court of Utah and for years he has been recognized as one of the ablest jurists, and most impartial judges in the west. He has a thorough mastery of precedent and practice, is painstaking and thorough in the hearing of all cases, and brings to bear on his decisions a masterly grasp of all the salient points of a case.
