American Beauties and plumosa made almost an archway for the receiving party; and every fire-place was banked with white carnations. The same adornment was seen in the reception hall, and on the stair landings were palms and plants with banks of lilies If the valley forming effective pictures. In the dining room pink and white were used, the table being spread with lace and a silver bowl filled with pink roses, and edged with lilles of the valley, forming the centerpiece. On the mantel, two boat-shaped pieces or cut glass and a tail vase held the same flowers, and the arrangement throughout was most artistic. On the stairlanding an orchestra was stationed, and furnished delightful music during the evening. The host was assisted by Mrs. Montgomery Belvin of San Francisco, and a number of young girls, including the Misses Miller, Elizabeth McIntyre, Alleen Maclean and Helen Gillespie. The hours were from 9 to 12, and about 200 guests were present.

On Monday night Mr. and Mrs. P. McPherson entertained at an enjoyable suchre party in honor of Mrs. Charles Shields and Mrs. James White of Park City. The rooms were effectively dec-prated with American Beauty roses, and Easter lilies, and the scores and tallies had the Easter designs. About 30 guests were present.

Mrs. David Evans entertained at an exceedingly pretty luncheon on Tuesday, her guests numbering about Violets and lilies of the valley made a picture of the table, the centerplece being a tall vase filled with lilies rising from a bowl of violets, encircled with plumosa, this design being duplicated at each end of the table. Sprays of plumosa, were strewn upon Battenberg lace spread over violet colored sa tin, and the place cards had attached to them with loops of violet ribbon, glass vases filled with violets and lilies. The guests were, Mrs. J. L. Herrick of Mrs. Sam Schwab of Prov Miss Mirlam Nekle of Provo, MINA Hirth of Chicago, Mrs. Frank Evans of Coalville, Mrs. Jermaine, Mrs. By-ron Cummings, Mrs. F. D. Whitney, Mrs. S. W. Sears.

On of the many delightful affairs given in honor of Mrs. Charles Shields and Mrs. James White of Park City, was the luncheon at which Mrs. E. F. Holmes was hostess. The 28 guests were seated at seven small tables, each decorated with Easter lilles. The place cards were from Denmark and were decorated with blue birds, the name of the guest being engraved in corresponding color. After luncheon, euchre was played, the cards, scores and tallies be ing also from Denmark. The first prize, a centerpiece in Japanese work, was won by Mrs. Fred Davis and the consolation, a vase of quaint English ware, by Mrs. A. B. Richardson.

One of the largest and most enjoyable affairs of the week was the reception given at the home of Mrs. Annie Taylor Hyde on Tuesday night, in honor of the stake officers of the Hellef society. The home was made bright with potted plants and flowers, and an interesting program of songs, plano selections, recitations and addresses was given. delicious refreshments were served. The affair was in charge of the general board of the society and was a most distinct success. About 75 guests were present.

On Tuesday Mrs. Holmes entertained at an informal luncheon in nonor of Mrs. F. T. Harris of Idaho, covers bo-mg laid for eight. The table was pret-tly decorated in pink roses, and the ice cards were dainty paintings from Sweden. A: 0 5.
