LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

TALK OF THE TOWN.

Enter south wind. Exit snow.

Sabin, the Grouse Creek would be suicide, is getting better.

Dwyer has received Pack for January 15th, and Harper's for the 15th.

Brannen, the man shot is still improving. It looks as if he would weather the storm.

Professor Hamill, with his family went to Provo on Saturday, to take up his classes in education there.

Mrs. Susan S. Young, widow of the late President Brigham Young, leaves tomorrow morning for St. George.

The rule requiring abstracts in cases on appeal to be made out and submitted to the Supreme Court, was abrogated to-day.

Miss Ada Dwyer, daughter of Mr. James Dwyer, left this morning for Provo to continue her course of lessons under Professor Hamill at that place.

The Utah Eastern Company have enlarged the capacity of the Spriggs mine, at Coalville, and have three years coal in sight, of an excellent quality.

The District Court, after disposing of one or two cases, yesterday, adjourned over to Thursday.

The business of the Supreme Court is being attended to by the Judges.

"He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord," is the motto upon the invitation ticket of a party to be given on next Friday evening by the 15th Ward Relief Society.

In the case of Jeter Clinton vs. Wm. Nelson et al., for false imprisonment, cost has been allowed the defendant and the case dismissed, as per mandate of the United States Supreme Court.

The hall leading to the Federal Court Room is in a "werry" wet condition. Leakings from the roof and subsequent freezing has transferred the place into an arctic grove. Further on, this illusion is dispelled.

A picnic party, complimentary to the aged and worthy Bishop of the Sixth Ward, William Hickenlooper, will be given in their Assembly Rooms on Friday evening, January 14, commencing at 8 o'clock. It will be a fine affair.

A special from Mr. Pleasant states that Thaddeus Hambrick, the policeman charged with shooting Peter Brannen, was discharged by the commissioner yesterday afternoon.

T. E. Fuller, the other defendant, was to be examined this morning.

"Minority" was a minor bold, where "Mormons" tilted their farms.

A Cannon knocked him off his legs, so up he rose in arms.

He fell himself "a little off." But others "had him on" that made him argue the Governor to send him down to Washington.

"Agreed" quoth Murray, "but I leave it to you."

At once this saintly turn, lest, though the few may crack me up, The many crack me down.

He then to the certificate Alford his awful seal, And generous gave "Minority" What he himself did steal.

Thus Eli wrought for Allen G., And thus it came to pass, While others wrote him up a knave, He wrote himself an—donkey.

Who Owns Them?—L. R. Cropper, Justice of the Peace at Deseret, writes concerning the finding of a pocket book near the body of a man supposed to have been murdered about 30 miles north-west of that place.

The book contained various papers, among which was a note for $344, drawn in favor of N. V. Jones, and dated at Salt Lake, Dec. 11, 1875.

On the back were endorsements by Mary Jane Cotton and D. McGuire. The following was also among the papers:

SALT LAKE CITY, May 19, 1876.

Mr. McGuire—Please let my brother Fred, have the four head of animals I bought of you, and oblige me, N. V. Jones.

An owner is wanted for the papers. The dead man is supposed to have been murdered by Ben Tanker, for testifying against him at his last trial.

The above was crowded out of yesterday's issue. Since then we have been permitted to use a letter written by Mr. N. V. Jones to Justice Cropper, explaining why his name appears on the dead man's papers. Following is a copy of the same:

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 11, 1881.

L. R. Cropper, District.

In the Salt Lake Herald of Sunday morning, January 9th, I noticed an account of the finding of the skeleton of a man, also some papers upon which my name appears. And that "the owner can have them by applying to you." I do not claim to be the owner of them, but as my name appears prominently in them, will explain my connection with them, the same. At the time the promissory note was given I was employed as deputy sheriff of Salt Lake County, and had just returned from Beaver County, taking in my custody a band of horses which I had levied upon under a writ of attachment from the 3rd District Court in the case of Mary Jane Cotton vs. John E. Tanker. At that time Mary Jane Cotton and her agent Daniel McGuire, claimed to have no money with which to pay the expenses of serving the attachment, feeding the horses, etc. But in lieu thereof gave me a promissory note for $344.00, signed by each of them, which note I hold to-day, hence the note found with the body is evidently a copy of the note in my possession. The other note to D. McGuire, signed by myself, is a note undoubtedly which I wrote requesting him to deliver to my brother Frederick Jones four head of horses he had sold me in part payment of the note before mentioned. The last I ever heard of D. McGuire was that he had been in company with "Ben Tanker" and that he was afterwards killed. You are at liberty to draw your own conclusions from what

The Constable's Story.—A great deal has been said of late concerning the Borlace homicide at Sandy, which occurred some time ago and not only have reflections been cast upon the officers of the precinct wherein the shooting took place, for alleged neglect of duty in not having Dave Jenkins (the other principal) arrested and examined, but efforts have been made to fasten blame upon the News for plainly stating facts in the case, and not taking sides with either party in the affair until the truth of the same was more fully established. We now have to offer, not in excuse, for we have no apology for doing what we consider is the right thing to do in such matters, but as the real status of the case, as related by Samuel Bateman, constable of West Jordan Precinct, that the public mind may be enlightened and the question be set at rest. On the evening that the shooting took place between John Borlace and Dave Jenkins, at Sandy, Constable Bateman was sitting at his West Jordan home, when the door opened and in walked Jenkins. On the former's inquiring the cause of his visit, the constable stated that he wished to give himself up, as he had had a fuss with John Borlace and shot him, and wanted to surrender himself to the law. Mr. Bateman thereupon demanded his pistol, which was delivered up accordingly, and found that three shots had been discharged therefrom. He put the weapon under lock and key, and kept Jenkins a prisoner. Next morning the constable proceeded to Sandy and interviewed the Justice of the Peace there, who declined to take hold of the matter for the reason that he, upon what he considered proper grounds, did not consider himself the right person to sit upon the case. Mr. Bateman then returned to West Jordan, and got the Justice of that precinct to take action. This officer required a large number of witnesses to be subpoenaed from Sandy, in fact all whom it could be ascertained knew anything of the shooting affair, whether friends of Borlace or of Jenkins. At the set time, the examination took place, all the summoned witnesses to the number of 11 testifying, and the same privilege and also of asking questions being extended to any others in the court room; the desire being to shut out no evidence, but to hear all sides, ascertain the facts and bring forth the truth. From the testimony adduced the following as facts were elicited: That Borlace was known as a bad character; that he had been around threatening various persons and acting in a most disagreeable and quarrelsome manner; that he picked up Washington Jenkins, a brother of the defendant, stigmatized the father of the Jenkins brothers with a very offensive epithet, and further said to Washington, speaking of Dave, that he (Borlace) had made up his mind to kill him and fill him so full of lead that he could not move; that Dave Jenkins hearing the epithet, denied that his father was such a character as he had been called, whereupon Borlace reiterated it; that Jenkins, to avoid a row, left and went to the house of a citizen in Sandy and asked to remain there for a couple of hours, in order to avoid an encounter with Borlace; that he received permission from the owner of the house to do so, and while there, Borlace, who had been searching for him, came and looked into the window and asked, with an oath and an epithet, where Jenkins was; that after he had gone away, Jenkins sallied forth, but had not gone far before Borlace came after him, flourished a pistol in his face and pointed it at him as if to shoot; that Jenkins, at the time, had his hand upon his own pistol in his pocket, but did not dare to draw for fear Borlace would shoot; that while they stood in hostile attitude, the elder Jenkins (the father) came out of a saloon and was getting into a wagon, when Borlace turned toward him; that thereupon Dave Jenkins drew his pistol and fired three times at Borlace, which caused Jenkins for his being shot in the back; Jenkins claimed that before he fired Borlace shot at him, the ball almost grazing his face. The witnesses also testified that besides three shots fired by Jenkins, there was one shot fired in a contrary direction, which they believed to have been fired by Borlace. Upon hearing this evidence the Justice held that Dave Jenkins had acted in self-defense, and so discharged him from custody. This, Constable Bateman assures us, is the true inwardness of the matter, and he wishes it published for the benefit of those individuals who have been so forward in blaming the officers for being recreant to duty, and howling for vengeance upon a man who killed another to save his own life and perhaps the life of his father, and who has since been turning at large for the simple reason that, after giving himself up and being duly examined on the charge, he was discharged for lack of any evidence that would warrant his detention.

Conference of Y. M. M. I. A.—A conference of the Y. M. M. I. A. of Salt Lake Stake will be held in the Assembly Hall, on Sunday morning next, commencing at 10 o'clock. Members of the Young Ladies' Associations are also expected to attend, and a general invitation is extended to all who feel interested in the associations of the young people to be present and hear the instructions which will be imparted.

A few associations have not yet sent in their reports that were called for before the Quarterly Conference. They will please forward them immediately to Joseph H. Fell.

From Provo.—Messrs. A. O. Smoot, Jr., and W. C. A. Smoot, of Provo, came up to the city last evening for the purpose of purchasing an assortment of general merchandise for the Provo, Factory Store, about to be established. The board will carry a line of general merchandise by selling the products of the Provo Manufacturing Company.

Supt. James Dunn and Secretary John Twelves are expected here this evening to assist in the

An Unequal Match.—Word has been sent to this office of a strange affair that is alleged to have taken place in Sevier County recently. It was a singular marriage between an individual who is said to be a Texas tramp, rejoicing in the sobriquet of "Tex," and a young girl 12 years of age, whose parents reside at Monroe. The ranger, obtaining the consent of the child, but not of the parents, repaired to the office of Squire Warnick, to have their marriage performed. The Squire, after asking a few questions, emphatically refused to officiate in the transaction. "Tex" and his affianced thereupon started on foot for a place, a distance of six or seven miles away. Arriving there at 3 o'clock in the morning, it is stated they were married by the Justice of the Peace, for the sum of $5; $2 of which was paid down, the Justice trusting "Tex" for the balance. The witnesses to the wedding ceremony were two small girls of 10 and 12 years respectively. The newly married couple, after wending their way back to Monroe, found the parents of the child-bride on the alert, and a struggle ensued between them and the bridegroom for possession of their daughter. The community were highly incensed, and with cause, if the above account is accurate, and consider the affair an outrage. We hope, for the Justice's sake, that the part relating to him is subject to modification.

Sent up.—The two blanket thieves, who stole from Day & Co. the other evening, have each been sent up for 100 days.

Four vagrants, also supposed to be thieves in league with the two worthies above mentioned, received 50 days each.

Capt. Breckenridge, promoted to Asst. Inspector General of the army, is a cousin of Mrs. Hayes, to which fact only he owes his advance.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.—The following statement of Wm. J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our readers. "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at times that I could not get out of bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung, and that I had to be operated on. I expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but friend John Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got well in better spirits than I have the past three years.
