ENGLISH COLONIES

Feeling Grows that They Should Aid In Imperial Defence.

New York, March 23 .- There is doubtedly a growing demand by the people of this country that the selfgoverning colonies should bear a larger share of the cost of the imperial defense, says a dispatch to the Tribune from London. The Saturday Review, referring to the subject, argues as fol-"Supposing for a moment that Canada was a separate country. She would be forced, especially as her wheat ex-port increases, to keep a considerable fleet to defend her merchantmen, and et Sir Wilfred Laurier maintains that Canada is doing her full duty in the imperial defense by building railways, most of which were made possible by English capital." The real meaning of this and similar arguments is that John Bull in spite of his broad back, is groaning under an income tax of 15 pence on the pound, and is anxious to be relieve of teh load.

Tried to Kill Herself.

New York, March 23 .- A well dressed young woman of respectable appear-ance, who had been arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, tried to kill herself in the police station last night. She said she was MasRobinson of Baltimore, and that she had asked two men to direct her to the ferry. Fail-ing to find her way, she addressed the letective who took her into custody. After an outburst of grief in her cell t was noticed that she became strangey quiet. Matron Clark was sent to investigate. She found that the girl had strangled herself by tying a ribbon about her neck. She was unconscious. The ambulance surgeon, who was summoned, said she would have died in five minutes more.
