

WIVES FIGURE IN JUVENILE COURT

Pathetic Scene Witnessed This Morning In Hearings Before Judge Gowans.

BABES BOUGHT AT $5 EACH.

Hospital Run by Mrs. Lizzie Geisler
The Market Where Mothers
Dispose of Offspring.

This was baby day in the juvenile court, and for three hours the chambers of Judge Gowans resembled more a nursery than anything else, attaches and spectators in turn playing the role of caretakers. The scene was most pathetic, men and women being scarcely able to control their feelings as the court endeavored to determine the fate of three infants, neither of which was more than two months old.

Two there were, a boy and a girl, with no name to distinguish them, except the designation "A" and "B," the boy being referred to by the initial letter of the alphabet. The third child, the oldest of the trio, was Mabel Irene Cook, and she was the only one that had a relative in the courtroom. The two younger children slept the entire time, held lovingly in the arms of sympathetic men and women, who saw that the festive faces found no resting place on the babes' faces.

"Exhibit B," a tiny cherub that first saw the light of day on Decoration roorn, was the center of the most interest, and the unfinished hearing occupied three hours. This child was found by juvenile court officers in the care of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McFarland, who live in a shack in North Salt Lake. The babe was taken away from the place last Monday, and the foster parents are endeavoring to regain possession of the babe. Probation Officers Guardella Brown and Mrs. Young, with Captain M. W. Woods, testified that the McFarlands have not a farthing of money, and are unable to adopt a baby. Finally, the chance came through the means of Mrs. Geisler, who conducts a private hospital. On Thursday of May 20 last, at Mrs. Geisler's place, he had received a little girl baby from its mother, the latter giving the name of Mrs. Sarah Thomas. Upon departing, he placed a $5 gold piece into the woman's hand to help her through her illness, promising her that she might come and see the child, but she never came. The child he said, at once found the most tender spot in the hearts of himself and wife, and they had bestowed upon it as much love and care as they could give. He had done all he could for his own flesh and blood. The man's story was straightforward and was in no way contradicted by any of the McFarlands. Poverty seems to be the gravest situation that can be found at the McFarland home. Neighbors were on hand to testify in their behalf, and the case went over to another date.

"Exhibit A" was born June 25, and he too left his mother's arms at the home of Mrs. Geisler, and $5 changed hands. He was to have been sold to a woman, but the boy was not so fortunate. In falling into good hands as was the girl. The people securing the boy were Mrs. Emma LaMoine and her husband, and while there is no evidence that the child was not well treated, the foster father is in the county jail awaiting trial on a charge of burglary and chicken stealing, and the mother was accused a day or two ago of attempting to poison her neighbors, the McFarlands. The La Moynes, by permission, occupied a tent on the ground occupied by the McFarlands, and two or three weeks there have been considerable trouble between the two families. Mrs. La Moine declared today that she did not desire to adopt the babe, since the trouble came to her husband, and the little fellow was sent by Judge Gowans to the Infants' Home and Day Nursery. Thither also went the little girl, until it shall be determined whether or not the McFarlands shall be permitted to adopt her.

A WAYWARD MOTHER.
Glady's Cook is the mother of the third child that came before the court. Glady appears to be not more than 35 or 36 years of age, and before her marriage was an inmate of the Industrial school. Of late she has had trouble with her husband, Joseph Cook, and as her ways were considered none the best, the child was taken from her and placed in the infants' home. The mother was arrested last night in a commercial street resort, and spent the night at the county jail. Today she declared that she would have her baby, come what will, and that if it were taken from her she would steal it. She was very defiant and showed a great deal of spirit. Finally the father of the child was introduced into court, and he expressed a desire that the child be taken back to the home until divorce proceedings now pending were settled. At this the mother declared that she wanted nothing to do with the child and they could send it where they wished. She declared that they could not send her again to the Industrial school as she is now a married woman. The court released her, and she was about to leave the building when she was detained pending an investigation as to whether she should be held for immoral conduct.

The day before a great State's Holiday is a most fitting occasion for the introduction of Sweet's Society Chocolates into your home, if by chance your home is not already absolutely demanding them.

COURT NEWS.

WIFE ALLEGES CRUELTY.

Mary K. Schmidt Says Her Husband Shows Little Devotion.

Mary K. Schmidt filed suit in the district court yesterday afternoon for divorce from Frank J. Schmidt, on the grounds of cruelty and insufficient support. During the five years of their married life, says Mrs. Schmidt in her complaint, her husband has given her but $2 or $4 per week with which to provide for the family, and has then complained of the poor fare furnished him. Schmidt is also accused of coming home at intervals in an intoxicated condition, upon which occasions the wife is subjected to indignities. Plaintiff alleges that defendant has $900 in the bank and has real estate worth $2,000, she asks for a restraining order to prevent him from disposing of his property, and requests that a divorce, with $10 per month permanent alimony be awarded her.

PAZALY DISCHARGED.

As was expected, the case of murder in the first degree against Joe Pazaly, was dismissed in Justice Dana T. Smith's court yesterday afternoon. The man was accused of murdering Mike Boychik. It was admitted by some of the officers that the wrong man had been arrested. The case was set for preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon, but because of insufficient testimony the matter was not prosecuted. The charge of disturbing the peace against Joe Uzzine and Mike Ppich was also dismissed.

CLAYS NOT CONTENT.

M. V. Clays is not satisfied with the judgment of the district court in the matter of the suit entered by his wife, Della Clays, for separate maintenance. Mrs. Clays filed a cross complaint, in which he asked for a divorce, which was denied, and Mrs. Clays was awarded $40 a month, instead of $50 asked for. Clays appeared before Judge Morris yesterday afternoon and was given 10 days in which to file a motion for a new trial.

SUES ON REALTY DEAL.

A suit against Edgar P. Sears and Della S. Sears was filed yesterday in the district court by John Johnson. A similar case was before the court once before, at that time A. T. Moon appeared as a defendant. Johnson alleges that he exchanged certain Murray property for 135 acres of land southwest of Salt Lake City, and that instead of delivering to him the promised parcel, the Sears couple decided to return to a different place. Plaintiff, who is 76 years of age, sues for damages in the sum of $2,500.

ON STATUTORY OFFENSE.

William H. Dixon, arrested near Sedalia, some 30 miles from here, on the charge of committing a statutory offense against a 15-year-old girl named Alice Davis, is having a hearing before Justice of the Peace Dana T. Smith this afternoon. The case was set for this morning and the prosecution is still offering evidence. It is alleged that Dixon had criminal relations with the young girl and the prosecution is confident of making a strong case against the man.

OWN RECOGNIZANCE.

The case of the state vs. Thomas Culver, charged with burglary in the second degree, was set this morning for August 17, and the defendant pleaded on his own recognizance. Culver is accused of breaking into the residence of George Ross, 471 south Second east several weeks ago.

JUDGE DIEHL'S SESSION.

Two more colored women of the town and alleged "dips" have been run out of town by the police. They are Millie Miller and Bessie Rivers. They were charged with vagrancy and this morning entered pleas of guilty with the understanding that they would be released on their own recognizance until Saturday morning. The order was entered and the women will be out of Salt Lake before the time arrives for sentence.

Attorney William Newton was decidedly angry this morning when the case of Hazel Bone, charged with vagrancy, was called. The woman was arrested last night and Newton put up bail for her. This morning when the case was called there was no complaint filed against her and the attorney demanded that the bail be released. The bail had been fixed by the desk sergeant but the arresting officer had failed to swear to a complaint. Newton objected to the prosecution, but the court could not make an order in the case for the reason that it was not in his jurisdiction and would not be until a complaint had been made out. When the complaint was filed and the bail reduced from $25 to $10.

F. M. Johnson, "pat" of Jimmie Getz the pickpocket now under arrest for attempting to steal a diamond pin from Max Florence, has been released from custody but with the understanding that he will free Salt Lake City from his presence as rapidly as possible. The fellow was arrested the day following Getz's attempt to "lift" the diamond from Mr. Florence's.

IN JAIL IF HE RETURNS.

This morning, by counsel, he pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy and it was explained to the court that Johnson would get out of town immediately.

FELL DOWN EMBANKMENT.

Narrow Escape of Party Returning From Parley's Canyon.

This morning about 11 o'clock a party of young men with faces bald in need of a razor, and with bruised bodies returned to the city with an exciting tale of a narrow escape from serious injury or probable death. The party consisted of William Lewis, Denis Murphy, Rulon Smoot and Clarence Walker, who in company with the driver of their team, Fred Geissler, were returning from a two weeks' camping trip up Parley's canyon. The young men escaped from injury or death is a mystery, but they consider themselves lucky that their injuries are not more serious.

About 11 o'clock last night, just after the rig, drawn by two horses, had passed the waterworks, the party met with an accident that might have cost a life. Near the edge of the road the driver, who was attempting to avoid the mud, but drove too close to the edge of the narrow roadway, and as a result the wagon, horses, and all the party were hurled into the canyon. Two of the party, Murphy and Smoot, were asleep in the back of the wagon, and had no warning of the accident, but rolled down the bank with the horses and horses. Murphy stated that he expected every second to be killed by one of the horses or be caught underneath the wagon. Luckily, however, he was not killed, but both horses and horses, and escaped with but a few slight bruises, and a good ducking in the creek. Murphy said that he did not care to go back to the canyon at that time of the evening. The other members of the party were not asleep at the time and jumped from the rig, and managed to escape with their companions of their danger.

After several hours of hard work trying to get the wagon and horses back on the road, the party found the horses were freed from their position by cutting the harness and tied to a nearby tree until daylight. This morning the five men got to work early, and after several attempts succeeded in getting the wagon back on the road, and after one or two minor repairs to the outfit, were able to resume their journey home. They arrived shortly after 11 o'clock, tired but glad they were alive.

WATCHING FOR SAVAGE.

Chief of Police Tom Pitt received a telegram from the United States post office inspector at Grand Junction, Colo., today, stating that Charles Savage, the negro who stole $56,000 from a mail pouch at Kansas City, left the Colorado city Saturday. It is believed by the postoffice officials that Savage is headed for Salt Lake City, and this reason have notified the police here. Savage is a clever negro and has successfully escaped from the clutches of the government for several months. He is well known here and has served a term in the Utah state prison.

CAUGHT RED HANDED.

Silver City Watchman Has Encounter With Dynamic Thief.

(Special to the "News.")
Silver City, July 23.—Last evening at about half past nine Manager J. M. Taylor of the L. E. Ritter company, in making his rounds previous to closing up, discovered a man in the act of carrying dynamite from the magazine into which he had been climbing, and was about to blow up the safe with the explosive. The man was discovered when he was about to enter the safe, and was caught red handed. The man was a negro, and was about 30 years of age. He was wearing a dark suit and a light shirt. He was carrying a dynamite stick in his hand, and was about to enter the safe. The man was caught red handed, and was taken to the police station.

brided. He called for help when one of the clerks, F. Christensen, responded. The man ran to the hills, however, escaping to the hills, followed by Mr. Christensen, who exchanged several shots with the robber before he lost sight of him in the cedars.

PENCHANT FOR CHERRIES

May Cost James Anderson Long Sojourn in Building "On The Hill."

His penchant for cherries and other things may cost a fellow named James Anderson a term of imprisonment in the Utah state prison. A complaint charging him with burglary will be filed by the county attorney and, according to the officers, Anderson stands an excellent chance to take a trip and a long sojourn "on the hill."

There was considerable excitement incident to the fellow's arrest last night. He was captured by Frank L. Beattie, employed at the Studebaker company office and residing at 101 First avenue. The capture occurred shortly after 9 o'clock last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Beattie had been down town and when they returned to their home Mrs. Beattie discovered a man, who proved to be Anderson, in the dining room calmly eating cherries. Mr. Beattie was in the kitchen when the burglar was discovered. Anderson made a dash for the kitchen and ran into Mr. Beattie. There was a struggle between the two men and Anderson managed to get into the back yard and jump over a 5-foot fence.

Beattie was instantly in hot pursuit. Down First avenue to Canyon road he dashed the burglar with the outrage. The burglar got away, however, and Anderson darted up Second avenue and was doing quite well as a sprinter when he came to grief. He became tangled in some wire and went to the ground with a dull sickening thud. The man lit on his left ear and Mr. Beattie pounced upon Anderson's neck. He held the man until the arrival of Officers Curran, Golding and Kast.

The Anderson entered the Beattie home for the purpose of robbing it. There is not the least doubt. He apparently thought he would have plenty of time to get away with the money and to eat a few cherries before beginning his search. He will be charged with burglary in the second degree.

The complaint is before United States District Judge Howell. Brown's certificate of citizenship is canceled.

NOT "KID" BERNSTEIN.

Through a misapprehension of facts and a mistake as to names made by the police last Monday, Kid Bernstein, a prize fighter, was named as defendant in a battery case. A warrant had been issued for the arrest of Abe Bernstein on a complaint sworn to by his wife, Sarah. The warrant was given to the police Monday afternoon for service and they concluded that it was for "Kid" Bernstein. The mistake was not discovered until toward evening of that day and too late to prevent the name of "Kid" Bernstein appearing in the evening paper as the defendant.

The man arrested was not a prize fighter and is no relation to him. Yesterday morning the case against Bernstein was dismissed because his wife asked Asst. City Atty. Rogers to discontinue the case as the couple had "made up" and she did not wish to prosecute.

Winch, new manager for the Orpheum theater, arrived in this city this morning ready to take up his duties with the State street playhouse upon its opening the vaudeville season the beginning of next week. ASSOCIATION ASSIGNS.

The Salt Lake Co-operative association, which was started a year ago under promising auspices by mostly railroad employes, has assigned to the Utah Credit Men's association for the benefit of creditors. The liabilities are rated from $7,000 to $10,000, and of the assets, $5,000 are in book accounts. But stockholders say the concern will break about even, and there will be really no losses incurred. The trouble has been what is commonly termed in business parlance, "internal dissensions."
