

JAPANESE DEFEAT THE RUSSIANS.

An Important Engagement Takes Place Near the Town of Chong Ju

THE JAPS SUFFERED HEAVILY.

Loss of the Other Side Not Known but Their Troops Retired in Good Order.

St. Petersburg, March 29.—The emperor has received a dispatch from Gen. Kuropatkin giving a lengthy report from Gen. Mishchenko dated at 10 p. m., March 28, which says that an important engagement took place near the town of Chong Ju, in which the Russians were defeated, retiring in perfect order.

The Japanese suffered heavily, but the Russian losses are not stated. Cavalry and infantry on both sides were engaged. The Russians occupied a commanding position.

The Japanese fought gallantly, but owing to their heavy losses were unable to occupy the position abandoned by the Russians.

MISHCHENKO'S REPORT.

St. Petersburg, March 29.—Gen. Kuropatkin's report of the battle at Chong Ju is as follows:

"I have the honor to respectfully communicate to your majesty the report of Gen. Mishchenko, dated March 28, at 10 p. m., which says:

"For three consecutive days our small outposts attempted to draw the Japanese cavalry into action, but their patrols, after contact was established, retired beyond Chong Ju (about 50 miles northwest of Ping Yang).

"Having learned that four squadrons of the enemy were posted five versts beyond Chong Ju on March 27, six companies marched toward Kasan and on March 28 reached Chong Ju at 10:30 a. m. As soon as our scouts approached, the enemy opened fire from behind the wall. Two squadrons promptly dismounted and occupied the heights, 600 yards distant. An engagement ensued.

"In the town a company of infantry and a squadron of cavalry were lying in ambush. Our men were reinforced by three companies and attacked the Japanese with a cross-fire. Notwithstanding this and our commanding position the Japanese gallantly held their ground and it was only after a fierce fight of half an hour's duration that the Japanese ceased fire and sought refuge in the houses. The Japanese hoisted the Red Cross flag at two points.

"Soon afterwards three squadrons of the enemy were seen advancing along the Kasan road at full gallop toward the town, which two of the squadrons succeeded in entering, while the third fell back in disorder.

"An hour and a half after the beginning of the engagement four companies were seen on the Kasan road hastening to attack. I gave the order to mount, and the entire force, with a covering squadron advanced in perfect order and formed in line behind the hill. The wounded were placed in front, and the retreat was carried out with the deliberation of a parade.

"The Japanese squadron which was thrown into disorder was evidently unable to occupy the hill which we had just evacuated, and their infantry arrived too late.

"The detachment protecting our rear guard arrived quickly at Kasan, where we halted for two hours in order to give attention to our wounded. At 4 p. m. our forces reached No. 3.

"It is supposed the Japanese had heavy losses in men and horses. On our side, unfortunately, three officers were severely wounded—Stephanoff and Androok, in the chest, and Vasilevitch in the stomach. Schinkoff was less seriously wounded in the arm, but did not leave the field.

"Three Cossacks were killed and 12 were wounded, including 5 seriously."

Gen. Mishchenko bears witness to the excellent conduct and gallantry of the officers and Cossacks, and especially praises the third company of Argunak regiment, commanded by Krasnostanoff.

DETAILS OF THE FIGHT.

St. Petersburg, March 29.—Gen. Kuropatkin, in his first report to the emperor from the scene of war, announced:

ONLY A SUGGESTION.

But It Was Proven of Interest and Value to Thousands.

Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump it can only result from the food we eat and digest and that food should be albuminous or flesh forming food, like eggs, beefsteak and cereals; in other words the kinds of food that make flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bills of fare.

But the trouble is that while we eat enough and generally too much, the stomach, from abuse and overwork, does not properly digest and assimilate it, which is the reason so many people remain thin and under weight; the digestive organs do not completely digest the flesh forming beefsteak and eggs and similar wholesome food.

There are thousands of such who are really confirmed dyspeptics, although they may have no particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs. If such persons would lay their prejudices aside and make a regular practice of taking, after each meal one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural pepsin, and diastase which every weak stomach lacks, and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to regain its natural tone and vigor.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets direct every form of flesh-forming food, meat, eggs, bread and potatoes, and this is the reason they so quickly build up, strengthen and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children.

Invalids and children, even the most delicate, use them with marked benefit as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartic nor any harmful ingredient.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada as well as in Great Britain, at 50 cents for complete treatment.

Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, nervous dyspeptic people strong, plump and well.

announced that offensive land operations had taken place against the Japanese upon the sixth anniversary of the occupation of Port Arthur by the Russians. These operations took the form of a cavalry attack yesterday by six by Gen. Mishchenko, against four squadrons of Japanese cavalry, which the general believed to be beyond Chong Ju, but which he found to be in occupation of that town. Despite a cross-fire which Gen. Mishchenko cleverly directed against the enemy, he pays a tribute to their tenacity and bravery, the Japanese only ceasing to fire after a combat which lasted for half an hour. Before the Russians could follow up their advantage, three Japanese squadrons galloped toward the town, which two of them succeeded in entering, while the third was driven back in disorder, men and horses falling.

The fire maintained on the town was so destructive that the Japanese were unable to make an effective return.

Further Japanese reinforcements arrived an hour later, and in view of the superiority of the enemy Gen. Mishchenko determined to retire, doing so without embarrassment, although he carried with him three killed and 16 wounded.

Gen. Mishchenko's Cossacks have been endeavoring for some days to come in contact with the Japanese patrols, but the latter refuse to combat. The skirmish of today will have the effect of encouraging the Russians to retard as much as possible the advance of the Japanese army.

Gen. Kuropatkin's dispatch reporting Gen. Mishchenko's operations, as published, does not give the place of its origin, but it is presumed that the commander-in-chief is either at Liao Yang or en route to Newchwang.

ARMIES IN KOREA.

London, March 29.—No Japanese report of the land operations in Korea has yet been received here, and there is much speculation as to the size of the opposing armies, regarding which there is no reliable information.

A correspondent at a Russian headquarters in Mukden telegraphs that according to reports received there about 10,000 Japanese have crossed the river at Chin Changuan, and 5,000 have advanced north from Chong Ju.

The Russian division of 25,000 men from southern Ussuri is advancing in two columns through Korea. The main column coming along the east coast road, reached Puk-Chang, 180 miles from the Tumen river, and the flanking column, consisting of Cossacks and mountain artillery, coming along the valley of the Tumen river toward its source, has reached the coast of Lake Khasan.

The report of the Russian division has been accepted as authentic.

COMMITTEE JURISDICTION.

Question Arose in Discussion of Irrigation of Arid Lands.

Washington, March 29.—The question of committee jurisdiction resulted in a lively session today in the house committee on irrigation of arid lands. The committee adjourned when the hour of 12 o'clock arrived, with an appeal from the ruling of Chairman Mondell pending. The trouble arose over a bill introduced by Representative Reeder, providing for amendments to the national irrigation act. When the bill was taken up by committee, Mr. Reeder moved to strike out the first two sections. Subsequently this motion was made to cover all after the enacting clause of the bill. Mr. Underwood immediately presented a substitute which was a repeal clause for the desert land law.

Mr. Marshall of North Dakota made a point of order against this substitute, first, that it was a matter over which the committee did not have jurisdiction, and second, that it was not germane to the pending bill. The chairman sustained this point of order, and by his decision Mr. Underwood appealed. A meeting for further consideration of the matter has been called for Thursday.

The repeal of the desert land law, the timber and stone acts and the communication clause of the homestead act is legislation which Mr. Reeder has been advocating. A bill he introduced to this end had been referred to the irrigation committee. This reference was changed by the house and the bill sent to the committee on public lands. The effort today to get legislation along the desired line by substituting the repeal clause referred to in an irrigation bill brought on the row in the committee. The test of strength will come when a vote is taken on the appeal from the decision of the chair, which is in order at the next sitting.

THE MISSOURI COLLISION.

Court of Inquiry Recommends no Further Proceedings.

Washington, March 29.—The report of the court of inquiry, which Rear Admiral Wise was president, on the investigation of the collision between the battleships Missouri, commanded by Capt. Cowles, and Illinois, commanded by Capt. Bradford, was made public today. The court recommends no further proceedings, and its action is approved by Rear Admiral Barker, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic station. Accompanying the report are opinions by the judge advocate general, and by Admiral Dewey, each of whom concurs in the Servian Difficulties to be Settled.

Vienna, March 29.—A dispatch from Belgrade, Servia, says that a settlement of the difficulties between Servia and certain of the powers resulting from the assassination of their late king, Alexander, and Queen Draga, will be announced next week, involving the removal from the court of the officers concerned in the conspiracy which resulted in the assassinations.

Denver Adopts New Charter.

Denver, Colo., March 29.—A charter for the new city and county of Denver, created by recent legislation enactment, was adopted today. An election of city officials will occur on May 17. Factions of the Republican and Democratic parties defeated the first charter submitted. Today they joined in support of the second draft and their united efforts secured its adoption.

Brutal Non-Com. Sentenced.

Berlin, March 29.—A non-commissioned officer named Mitschke, belonging to an infantry regiment at Neisse, has been sentenced to imprisonment for three months. Eighty-seven cases of ill-treatment of soldiers and other brutalities committed by Mitschke were disclosed Jan. 29 last, when he was a Polish prisoner down two fights of stairs. It was proved at the trial that nine men recruited by Mitschke had been treated by him to kicks and blows daily during a period of two months. One cannoner good-naturedly admitted to the court-martial that "we often have deserved a beating."

Boer Veterans at St. Louis.

Washington, March 29.—The steamship Mousie, from Cape Town, carrying about 40 Boer veterans, will arrive at Newport News, Va., on April 5, with the South African Boer war exhibit on route to the world's fair at St. Louis. There are about 40 Boer veterans in the party, who were with Cronje at Spion Kop. Gen. Viljoen, vice president of the Boer republic, is in immediate command. Gen. Cronje awaits the party at St. Louis.

Union Teamsters Indicted.

St. Louis, March 29.—Indictments were returned today against six officers of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, charging them with being accessories before the fact in connection with the assault on Basil Rutherford, a non-union driver for a live company.

The men indicted are: Cornelius P. Shea, Indianapolis, general president; Albert Young, Indianapolis, general secretary; Charles Robb, Chicago, sixth vice president; William Rowbotham, Indianapolis, corresponding secretary; Daniel Thurman, Chicago, general secretary; and George Jones, Indianapolis, one of the general organizers. The latter has been arrested, and warrants have been issued for the arrest of the others.

Judge Knowles Will Resign.

Butte, March 29.—Federal Judge Hiram Knowles today announced that he would send in his resignation some time in April and that as soon as his successor had been named he would retire from the bench. Judge Knowles has been on the bench since Montana was admitted to the Union as a state in 1889. He reached the age of retirement nearly a year ago.

TOGO TELLS STORY OF HIS FAILURE.

Details of the Second Attempt to Bottle Up the Port Arthur Squadron.

DASHING BUT UNSUCCESSFUL.

Japanese Officers and Crews Behaved in a Most Gallant and Daring Manner.

Tokio, Tuesday, March 29, 2 p. m. (Delayed in transmission).—Admiral Togo's recital of the second attempt to bottle up the Port Arthur squadron, and sixth attack on that port reached Tokio today. Admiral Togo's report is as follows:

"The united squadron again left for Port Arthur last Saturday. On Sunday morning at 3:30 we commenced preparations for blocking the harbor entrance. The four steamers, which were to be sunk, escorted by a flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers advanced to the entrance, facing the enemy's searchlights. About two miles from the entrance the bottling up squadron was discovered by the enemy. Exposed to the fire of the fortresses on either side and also to that from the enemy's ships on guard and braving these dangers the four steamers ran into the waterway at the mouth of the harbor. One of the steamers, the Chiyu Maru, anchored about half a chain from the west shore of Golden Hill, blew itself up and sank. The second one, the Fukui Maru, passing to the left of the Chiyu Maru, advanced a short distance and was about to come to anchor when she was struck by a torpedo from the enemy's destroyers. She sank in that position. The third one, the Yahiko Maru, went to the left of the Fukui Maru and blew herself up and sank. The fourth steamer, the Koneyama Maru, reached the harbor entrance and colliding against the stern of one of the enemy's torpedo destroyers she managed to reach the middle passage by passing between the Chiyu Maru and Fukui Maru. Just at that moment one of the enemy's torpedoes struck and sank her. Her momentum brought her toward the left shore and with her bow toward the left side she sank sideways. To have accomplished the work so far under such great disadvantages and dangers must be considered a success and should command admiration. It is to be regretted, however, that owing to some space being left between the Yahiko Maru and the Koneyama Maru a complete blocking of the entrance has not been effected.

"Those who were engaged in this work were those who had been engaged in the same work before. It was by their special request. Only petty officers and crews were supplanted by new men, CASUALTIES.

"The casualties follow:

"Killed—Commander Hirose and three petty officers.

"Morally wounded—Lieut. Shimada.

"Slightly wounded—Lieut. Maoki, Engineer Kurita and six petty officers and men.

"All the remainder of the crews were safely picked up by our destroyers. Commander Hirose and Boatswain Sugino, who were killed, displayed remarkable courage. Boatswain Sugino was just going down to light the main magazine on the Fukui Maru when the ship was struck by an enemy's torpedo which killed him.

"Commander Hirose, after causing his men to take to the boats and not finding Sugino, searched through the ship three times for him. Finding his ship gradually going down, Commander Hirose was compelled to give up the search and enter a boat. As he was rowing away under the enemy's hot fire a shell struck him on the head. His head and part of his body was blown away. Only a piece of flesh in the boat was all that remained of the brave officer's body. Commander Hirose was always a model officer and he leaves a meritorious example, the memory of which will be everlasting.

GREAT WORK.

"For the protection of the steamers and the rescue of their crews all our flotilla of torpedo destroyers did their utmost in the face of the enemy's severe cannonade. Above all were the efforts of the destroyers Adakura and Teubame, which penetrated to within about a mile of the harbor entrance, where they encountered and engaged the enemy's destroyers, inflicting considerable damage.

"One Russian destroyer seemed to have been hit in the boiler. She sent up a volume of steam and retreated. As the officers and men of the Adakura and Teubame were leaving the harbor after the work they had done they observed that one of the enemy's ships blew Golden Hill seemed to be completely disabled. Despite the very hot fire of the enemy to which our flotilla was exposed until dawn, no damage whatever was sustained. The crews aboard the Chiyu Maru and the Yahiko Maru were taken on board the destroyer Teubame. The crew of the Yoneyama Maru escaped in three boats and were rescued by the destroyers Misasagi and the Karigane. The crew of the Aikido Maru was taken on board the Kasumi.

PARTICIPANTS.

"The following torpedo boats and destroyers participated in the movement: The destroyers Shikamo, Kasumi, Asashio, Akatsuki, Akabono, Oboro, Inazuma, Adakura, Teubame, Ikatsuchi, Usumugi, Sazanami and Shinonome; torpedo boats Karigane Misasagi, Manazuru and Hato.

ALIEN IMMIGRANT BILL.

Is Introduced in Commons and Passes First Reading.

London, March 29.—The alien immigrant bill was introduced in the house of commons today and passed its first reading without a division. The bill follows the recommendations of the report of the royal commission on alien immigration issued Aug. 11 last, that the immigration of certain classes of immigrants into the United Kingdom be subject to state control.

Home Sec. Douglas, in introducing the measure, referred to the increase of crime due to the admission of a class of aliens in this country who would be refused admission into the United States.

It Never Disappoints.
