Gen. Ashert joined the group of insurgents at this moment. His first remark was to the effect that the insurgents would approve of American intervention, but Guerra quickly checked Ashert and reminded him that the question was for the leaders in Havana rather than the soldiers to speak upon.

Guerra said that the form of the future government of Cuba was left entirely to the revolutionary executive committee and the heads of the Liberal party in Havana who were fully authorized to act for the men in the field.

Referring to the resignations of the government officials Guerra said: "We only form the military and of this movement and we are glad of the fact. Our part in this victory for law and justice and the constitution has been only a small one. The outcome is really the result of combined effort of all the revolutionists now in arms. The ending will prove receive an order today to report at Washington at once. His presence there is desired. It is stated, in connection with the situation in Cuba.

BROWN WANTS DAMAGES.

Filed Suit Against Siegel Clothing Company for $500.

An action has been filed in the district court by J. D. Brown against the Siegel Clothing company to set aside a judgment rendered in favor of the company and against Brown by former Justice of the Peace McOmie of Murray amounting to $320 and also to recover damages in the sum of $500 for injuries to plaintiff's credit and reputation because of said judgment being rendered against him.

The judgment complained of was secured by Francis G. Luke as agent for the Siegel company and it is claimed by Brown that he was never served with a summons in the case and knew nothing of it at all until two years after judgment was rendered when his wages were garnished and the amount of the judgment was collected. The judgment is alleged to be illegal and he asks that it be set aside and that he recover the amount collected on the garnishment proceedings and also $500 as damages.

CASE DISMISSED.

But the Fight Over Greenhaigh Child Is Still On.

At the conclusion of the hearing in the matter of the custody of Margaret Greenhaigh in the juvenile court yesterday afternoon the court held that the child is not a dependent child and hence the court has no jurisdiction over her. The parents of the child have been fighting for her possession for several months past. The mother left Greenhaigh and took the child to Montana and placed her in the Sisters' home and a few weeks ago Greenhaigh went after the child and brought her back to this city and placed her in the Infants' home. Mrs. Greenhaigh followed them back and tried to gain custody of her daughter and the matter was brought before the juvenile court.

In the meantime Mrs. Greenhaigh filed suit for divorce against her husband and asked the custody of the child. After the case in the juvenile court had been dismissed yesterday afternoon Greenhaigh declared that he would forcibly take the child from her mother. In order to prevent any such action the girl was taken to the office of Atty. F. H. Scott, who represents Mrs. Greenhaigh, where she was kept until an injunction was secured from Judge Morse restraining Greenhaigh from interfering with or taking the child from her mother. Greenhaigh kept a close watch on the attorney's office and was waiting for an opportunity to take the girl when Deputy Sheriff Ike Emery approached him to serve the injunction. As soon as he saw the officer Greenhaigh started on a run down Second South street, but the deputy overtook him and served the papers.

The matter of the custody of the child will be disposed of in the district court on Friday when Margaret will choose as to which parent she desires to live.

Marshall, deceased, against the Diamond Coal & Coke company, to recover damages in the sum of $25,000 for the death of Marshall, who was killed in an explosion in defendant's mine at Diamondville, Wyo., on Dec. 1, 1905.

Phoebe A. Soderberg filed suit for divorce in the district court today against W. L. Soderberg on the ground of failure of support. They were married in this city on Nov. 7, 1905, and have two children, of whom plaintiff asks the custody. She also asks for alimony in the sum of $7.50 per month and costs of suit and also the restoration of her maiden name, Phoebe A. C. Evans.

Suit for divorce was filed in the district court today by Annie Shulsen against John Shulsen on the ground of cruelty. They were married on Jan. 28, 1904, and have two children, of whom plaintiff asks the custody. Plaintiff alleges that defendant choked her and on another occasion kicked her. He has repeatedly told her that he did not care for her and charged her with conduct unbecoming a wife said mother. She asks for $100 as attorney fees and for alimony.

Custom House Business—The Salt Lake custom house is doing the heaviest business this month. In the history of the office, as Utah merchants and importers generally are learning it is cheaper to import to this port of entry directly instead of depending on New York and San Francisco brokers who charge what they like, and export as they please. A bonded warehouse is very much needed here now, and the chances are that the Short Line will put up one in the near future.

Had a Close Call—"Harry" Woodman had a narrow escape from getting badly hurt at the intersection of West Temple and Second South this morning. While crossing the street he had occasion to pass behind a wagon of the Kemmerer Coal company which was piled high with packing cases, barrels and an assortment of bric-a-brac. Without warning the broke loose and was precipitated into the street. Mr. Woodman made a quick jump just in time to prevent the assortment falling on his devoted head. Sperry requested the attorney to leave so that the prisoners could be served with their meal and the attorney left under threat in a cell where he remained before to abuse Sperry and used some profane language whereupon Sperry placed him under arrest and put him in a cell.

ELDER WEIR IS BACK ONCE MORE

Old-Man-Ashamed-of-Salt Lake, When He is Out of Utah, Returns Home.

LIPPMAN AT HEADQUARTERS.

Republican Executive Committee List Almost Made up by Chairman Salisbury—Political Gossip.

Elder Thomas Weir arrived in his own town today from a trip east. He stepped off the train feeling proud of his city, and wiped the last trace of a blush he had had for it off his face before proceeding up town. On the train which brought him here it was evident as far away as Ogden, that he was growing more cheerful, and the deep red blush just his peddled him soon after he left the last big town outside of the state.

To Elder Weir the home coming was an auspicious event. He was glad to think good things of his town once more, and glad to put aside all those forebodings of shame that had made him tremble at every hotel counter in the broad land, and sigh for a chance to sign some other locality as home.

Elder Weir reported for duty at his office this morning, and will soon be in conference with agents of Boss Kearns.

The American party headquarters enjoyed a visit from Joseph Lippman today. Joseph carried the special Lippman brand of lightning rod with him. It has a gimlet end, constructed at the orders of Joseph himself, and is guaranteed to bore into a barrel within forty rods. He inspected every corner of the offices, and routed Secy. Armstrong out of his private headquarters, but at last reports hadn't located the jingle anywhere in the vicinity.

There were no shouts of joy for Joseph. He is recognized as an ambassador from Boss Kearns whose only ambition is to regain control of the party's machinery and turn every rod of antagonism raised against the older parties to his own private benefit. The Americans last night decided to keep J. E. Darnor and S. P. Armstrong in command through this campaign, and with the announcement comes a rumor that American party workers are to be paid double money for all their services in the campaign to be in full operation since Kearns and other mining operators spilled their jingle into it.

The Republican state headquarters was still the scene of activity today, over the election of an executive committee. The committee named by Chairman Hammond consisted of seven men, but the new committee will consist of nearly 30. It was all ready to-day, except two men who are still to be heard from, and Secretary Squires will probably be ready to give it out tomorrow. On the list are to be included prominent Republicans in every large town of the state, and a large percentage of them are men not of the dominant faith.

In speaking of his campaign plans today Secretary Squires said that he would wage an aggressive campaign from state headquarters, that would be carried out in every village; and that he wanted a large executive committee to work in unison through the whole state.

County Chairman Cunningham was busy today mailing out to county workers, copies of his address entitled "Give Common Sense a Chance" under which title he appeals for a general Democratic landslide. His executive committee is composed of the following members:

John Dorn, James H. Moyle, Richard P. Morris, Charles A. Quigley, Thomas Marioneaux, Frank B. Stephens, John B. Reid, Mrs. Anna Meier, Rulon J. Wells, Henry C. Lund, Ashby C. Lund, Fisher Harris, W. H. Dale, Louis E. Iversen, D. W. Moffat, W. J. Horne, Pearl A. Hill, Joseph E. Caine, John S. Critchlow.

PERSONALS.

George T. Odell is in Idaho Falls today on a business trip.

J. C. Leary returned this morning from a business trip into southeastern Idaho. He reports the live stock situation there as encouraging, with heavy shipments being made eastward, especially shipments of sheep.

A Santa Fe mining man named O'Brien is at the Kenyon hotel, having come here to negotiate the sale of mining properties near the City of Mexico. He is an old time friend of Atty. Gen. Breiden, and called on him this morning. They had not seen each other for 20 years.

Postmaster Penton of Boise is in the city today, en route to St. Louis in attendance on the national convention of first class postmasters. He called on Postmaster Thomas this morning. Mr. Thomas is unable to go to St. Louis on account of the contemporaneous making of the Utah Postmasters' convention in this city.

C. R. Savage has returned from a southern California trip. He reports it as hot, dry and dusty down in that country, with the mercury coquetting with the 100 degree mark on the thermometers. But he found the service on the Clark road very satisfactory. There is an attendant on the day and chair cars where the comforts of the passengers are looked after just as carefully as though they were in Pullmans.
