Got Behind Them, Much to Their Surprise-Refused to Surrender, Preferring to Fight it Out.

Washington, June 21.-Capt. J. J. Pershing, who was in command of the troops at the fight at Lake Lanao, in the Philippines, has written a letter to a personal friend in the war department describing the battle. It has been shown to Secy. Root, who authorized its publication. Capt. Pershing says:

"Camp Vigars, April 27, 1903 .- I suppose your mail advices have or will have brought you a full account of the Bacolod incident. In reality, the best fight of the Moro campaigns, not so many Moros killed as at Bayan or Pandapalan-one year ago-but fought according to some sort of system.

"Of course, I have worked on this fight, as I foresaw long ago that it must come and the whole thing from beginning worked out as planned. First, we got behind them, much to their surprise, and could post our guns above and drop projecties down into their fort, so that their artillery fire in this case was about all noise. We had some work and some fighting to gain this po-sition. Once there it was only a ques-tion of sitting down deliberately and waiting to see what the Moros would do. Many got away before the place was invested thoroughly. "The fight began in a flood of a rain-storm that lasted till dark and reconnoitering was difficult. So we did not find all the avenues of escape until-next day, and I am glad now we did not, as they had such confidence in this fort, that they have been constructing for a year, that they took many women and children inside and these escaped during the night.

The next day and night we held them fast, however, tried to get them to surrender, had two talks under flags of truce. 'No.' they would fight it out. So there was then only to finish it. I called my officers together and gave each one his work. The main obstacle a deep ditch 35 feet wide and 40 feet deep to be crossed. It was to be bridged with fallen trees and over all a bamboo bridge was laid.

"Everything in readiness, the assault began. In the face of a heavy Reming-ton fire from the fort, the lines advanced against two faces of the fort. putting out of business every More that appeared. Within 30 minutes, the assaulting infantry swung across and formed a line on the Berme and clambered up nearly in line to the top of the parapet. There is nothing so good in cases of chronic headache as Dr. Miles' Nervine. It restores the disordered nerves to their nor-mal condition and banishes headache forever.
