A Southern Trip.

Yesterday Apostle Lorenzo Snow returned to the city from an extensive trip through Southern Utah as far as St. George. He visited a great many settlements and held numerous meetings which were largely attended. Among the gatherings were several conferences of Stakes. During a brief period of four weeks he traveled about 800 miles, mostly by team. His health is excellent, the trip having been highly beneficial to him in that regard. He is looking and feeling better in that respect than for a long time past.

Accidentally Shot.

On Sunday, a fifteen years old boy named Wilkinson, who is employed on the farm of Mr. Stillman, at East Mill Creek, Salt Lake County, took a pistol and went out to shoot crows. He found a nest with some young birds barely able to fly, and tried to capture them. In running around, his weapon, which was still in his pocket, was discharged in some unaccountable way, the ball striking him a few inches above the knee and ranging downward, coming out a few inches below the joint. Dr. Rauscher dressed the wound, and found that some of the boy's clothing had been carried into it by the bullet. The lad is getting along fairly now.

Change in Time.

The Utah Central Railway has issued a new time table, to go into effect Friday, July 1st. The time of running between Salt Lake and Ogden is shortened ten minutes, the trip being made in one hour and twenty minutes instead of an hour and a half. The morning train leaves this city at 8 a. m., reaching Ogden at 9:20; returning, leaves Ogden at 9:50 and arrives in this city at 11:10 a. m. The afternoon train, or Park City express, leaves at 4:10 p. m., and returns to this city at 7:20 p. m. Trains for south of this city leave at 7:20 a. m. and 4 p. m., as before. The Milford express arrives at 10 a. m., half an hour earlier than before, and the Juab express at 6:40 p. m.

Serious Accident.

On Sunday evening last a serious accident happened to a little boy in Paris, named Newshwander, the son of the blacksmith. It appears that a fractious horse was tied up in front of Mr. Bird's house in the First Ward, when from some cause it broke loose and ran down the street at full gallop. The little boy was driving the cows home and the horse soon overtook him, and in passing administered to him several kicks which threw the boy quite a distance. He was badly bruised, and it was feared for awhile that his back and leg were broken, but this proved not to be the case. Dr. Ramseyer was called, who promptly dressed his wounds, and at last reports he was doing as well as could be expected.—Southern Idaho Independent.

He Came Unconpled.

An amusing incident occurred on Saturday evening, on the road running east from the Francklyn Smelter, on the State Road. A young man was driving a hay wagon, and following a party of friends in a light spring wagon. Suddenly, while crossing a ditch the wagon on which he was riding parted leaving the hindmost wheels and bolster in the road and the hay-rack still holding to the fore-wheels, with the driver desperately struggling to regain his equilibrium, he at the same time exclaiming to his companions ahead: "I've come unconpled!" which created a roar of merriment from a number of onlookers. The frightened horses were stopped without any further damage, the wagon fitted together, again and all started for home.

FELL FORTY FEET.

W. H. Atwood Meets with a Severe Accident.

On Saturday last Mr. Walter H. Atwood, a resident of South Cottonwood, Salt Lake County, in company with several others was putting up hay at Dry Creek, south of Sandy. He was putting up the frame with which were about forty feet long, were in their places and the wire rope stretched and fastened. Mr. Atwood went up the ladder to put on the clamps so that the poles would not slip on the rope. Thinking the wire would hold the poles, he removed the guy ropes before starting up. Just as he reached the top the poles commences to slip, and down the whole framework came. Mr. Atwood clung to the poles for about twenty-five feet and was about fifteen feet from the ground when he heard his son call to him to jump, and he did so. He alighted on the ground free from the poles, but the force was so great as to break both bones of the left leg and one small bone near the right ankle. A wound was made in the right heel, which bled for about twenty-four hours. Mr. Atwood is a heavy man, weighing over 200 pounds, and the fall has shaken him up very badly, causing intense suffering. Doctors Rauscher and Armstrong attended him and made him as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. What added to his discomfort after the accident was the fact that he had to be carried nine miles in a heavy wagon to his home.

Jail Delivery at Blackfoot.

BLACKFOOT, Idaho June 27th.—About 7 o'clock last evening it was discovered that five of the prisoners confined in the county jail here had gained their liberty by holding up the guard. As near as the facts can be ascertained it occurred as follows: The wife of one Nickerson confined for horse stealing was permitted to visit him, Nickerson being brought into the jailer's office for that purpose. While they were in conversation, sitting near each other, the one ward present leaned over in his chair to spit, and on looking up discovered that Nickerson had him covered with a gun, which is supposed to have been secreted in his wife's or baby's clothing. He ordered the guard, at the point of the gun, to go down stairs, unlock the door leading to the cells, and step in where Williams, the Cariboo murderer, under sentence of death, was waiting to receive. The guard was immediately placed in a cell and locked up. The prisoners were then released, and proceeding upstairs, appropriated all the arms in the jailer's office, and taking possession of the court house, each guard and two citizens who happened to be in, were taken down stairs and locked up. Among the citizens who came was C. Bunting, Jr., of this city, who was immediately confronted by a gun in the hands of Williams and taken below and locked up with the balance. About four hours after the first guard was captured the prisoners all made a bold dash for liberty, three horses having been furnished by a brother of one of the prisoners, which Williams, Nickerson and Harrington, the latter two horse thieves from the Teton country, mounted and started off in a north-easterly direction. Woods, the Pocatello wife-murderer and Hughes, a horse thief from Beaver Cañon, started on foot toward the Indian reservation. Woods was overtaken and recaptured about one mile south of town. All the rest are still at large, but all are being hotly pursued by a posse from Eagle Rock. The wife of Nickerson and his brother were immediately locked up as accomplices, and are now having their preliminary examination before Judge Shoemaker.—Ogden Herald.

ITS TWELFTH YEAR.

Prospectus of the Brigham Young Academy.

We are in receipt of the prospectus of the Brigham Young Academy at Provo for its twelfth academic year, 1887-8. Pending the erection of a building of its own, the Academy is now occupying commodious rooms in the Z. C. M. building, which are capable of accommodating four hundred students.

As is well known, a theological organization forms a prominent feature of this excellent educational institution. Speaking of this the prospectus says:

Our theological organization has extended its influence far beyond the confines of its daily routine, wherever former students of ours have been or are yet laboring either as missionaries abroad or filling positions of responsibility and trust at home. Although the spirit of our religion underlies all our teaching and discipline, many non-members are in constant attendance to their satisfaction and benefit.

We reproduce the following paragraphs from the circular:

The Normal Department, assisted by a church appropriation for ten beneficiaries, counts among its graduates many leading educators of this Territory and adjoining regions.

The scientific course, having at its disposal a general laboratory with valuable apparatus for chemical, physical, and physiological experiments and demonstrations, and a separate students' laboratory, included, besides its recitations, excursions for geological, botanical, and other scientific purposes; all of which features tended to give to our academical labors a prominent place among the scientific institutions of the west.

On account of the great number of instructors, all of them teaching after carefully devised plans and programmes, under constant consultation, and by a uniform method, all the branches of the so-called common English education are taught with a thoroughness, rarely equalled but nowhere surpassed.

The general interest which the citizens of Provo, of Utah County, and of various other parts in this Territory have manifested, by making appropriations for a beneficiary fund, guarantees the continuation of the Brigham Young Academy upon a solid financial basis.

Not only is the B. Y. Academy a superior institution of learning on account of the religious instructions its pupils receive, but also on account of its superior methods of imparting secular instruction, and the wisdom displayed in making up its curriculum. Knowledge of the most practical value in the household and workshop and on the farm, is taught as well as mere "book learning."

Taken as a whole, a most desirable school for the education of children of whom it is the design to make Latter-day saints, does not exist, than the Brigham Young Academy of Provo.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, JUNE 23.

Diphtheria.

This disease has again made its appearance in the city. In the family of Brother D. L. Davis, Seventeenth Ward, there are two cases. One of the patients is in a very precarious condition, the disease having taken a severe hold on his system. The other is of a milder type.

Elders in Ohio.

Two Elders now laboring in Ohio have recently baptized a number of persons and organized a branch of the Church at East Liverpool, in that State. Brother George Davidson, whom they ordained a priest, has been chosen to preside over the branch. A few are inquiring after the Gospel, but some persons in that city have confessed that they do not want to hear it in order that they may not be condemned for disobeying it.

Rich County Convention.

We are in receipt of a well written report of the convention held at Lake Town, Rich County, on the 25th. It was well attended, and was an enthusiastic assembly. Stirring, patriotic and eloquent speeches were made, and the audience sang "The Star-Spangled Banner." Jonathan G. Kimball, of Meadowville, was selected as the delegate to the Territorial convention. Lack of space and the length of time that has elapsed since the convention was held cause the condensation of the report.

Outstripped by the Wire.

We are in receipt of the minutes of several of the county conventions held for the purpose of choosing delegates to the Territorial Constitutional Convention. As we were apprised by telegraph of the results of these conventions from one to three days before the minutes reached us, the latter are not printed. The kindness of correspondents in sending the minutes is none the less appreciated, even though their favors are not used. It is a case of rail vs. wire.

Operation at Deseret Hospital.

A young lady who has been suffering for the last six or eight months from a most distressing malady resulting from stone in the bladder, called vesico vaginal fistula, was operated upon at the Deseret Hospital last Monday. Until within the last 25 years such a malady was considered incurable, but American genius and skill, developed by Dr. Marion Sims, of New York, invented mechanical means of permanent cure. The operation was performed by Dr. Romania B. Pratt, assisted by Dr. J. S. Richards, Dr. Ellis B. Shipp and Dr. Maggie Shipp. The patient is making a most satisfactory recovery.

Territorial Supreme Court.

A session of the Supreme Court was held this afternoon, the three justices being present.

In the case of the People vs. A. J. Peacock and W. A. Thompson, assault, the decision of the Third District Court was affirmed. Judge Boreman rendered the opinion, in which the other judges concurred, and gave H. R. Watrous, attorney for the defense, a scoring for "the hodge-podge manner in which he had thrown the record together."

In the case of the People vs. A. J. Peacock, also for assault, and appealed from the Third District Court, the action of the lower court was affirmed.

Judge Boreman also rendered the opinion of the court in the suit of Eliza Durnell vs. Joseph Sowden, sustaining the action of the Third District Court.

In the unlawful cohabitation case of the United States vs. George T. Peay, appealed from the First District, Judge Boreman rendered the opinion, affirming the decision of the court below.

People vs. Andrew Pettit, convicted of grand larceny; appealed from Third District Court; opinion by Judge Henderson; decision of lower court affirmed.

United States vs. Joseph Clark; unlawful cohabitation; opinion by Judge Zane; decision of lower court affirmed.

FUNERAL OF S. W. MUSSER.

A Crowded Assemblage Attends the Service.

The funeral service over the remains of Elder Samuel W. Musser was conducted in the First Ward schoolhouse to-day, under the direction of Bishop J. Warburton.

Before the time appointed for the beginning, the large main hall was so densely crowded that the wing of the building had to be opened and even then all standing room was occupied and many were unable to gain ingress, and remained on the outside while the service was being conducted.

The opening prayer was offered by Elder George Goddard. Comforting, instructive and eulogistic remarks were made by the following brethren, who addressed the concourse of people in the order in which their names are given: Bishop J. Warburton, President Argus M. Cannon, Bishop F. Kester, Elders Arthur Stayner, Elias Morris, Lorenzo D. Young and John Nicholson. The benediction was pronounced by Patriarch L. D. Young. The singing exercises were performed by the ward choir.

The deceased was a noble youth. From his early boyhood he devoted himself to the performance of his duty. He was not only a young man of promise from a moral standpoint, but was also endowed with more than ordinary mental capacity.

As is well known the deceased young Elder lately returned from a mission to Germany, which he faithfully performed. Quite recently he was set apart to act as a Home Missionary in the Salt Lake Stake of Zion, and filled his first appointment in that capacity a week ago last Sunday. He had been given another for last Sabbath, but the call from the Lord to labor in another sphere prevented his filling it.

CONTINUANCE CONTINUED.

The Prosecution's Chronic State of Not Ready in Ogden.

The case of the United States vs. Jas. H. Nelson, on a charge of unlawful cohabitation, in Ogden, was called up before Commissioner Rogers for the second time on Saturday last, at 10 a. m. At that time, as we learn from the Ogden Herald, defendant and his counsel appeared. There were no witnesses present for the prosecution and the commissioner announced that a subpoena had been issued in blank for a witness. The subpoena had not been returned and the witness was a necessary one to the prosecution before the examination could be proceeded with. The court was asked the name of the witness, but he said he did not know it. Defendant's counsel insisted that Mr. Nelson was entitled to an immediate examination, and that it should be completed at one sitting, unless a good cause was shown by affidavit for a continuance. No affidavit had been shown, nor any reason or fact brought forward for a continuance. The commissioner said that he would make the showing on behalf of the prosecution that there was a subpoena issued and the prosecution desired the evidence. The defense also objected to the Commissioner's sitting on the bench and acting as public prosecutor at the same time. The court explained that the practice in the District Court had been to grant a continuance to the prosecution without affidavit, while the defense must always produce a good showing for a continuance. That practice would be followed in this court, and the continuance was granted till Tuesday, at 1 p. m., when defendant was on hand with his legal adviser prepared for examination. The same proceedings transpired, the subpoena not having been returned. Another postponement for a week was taken. Mr. Hiles was present this time, and said he knew nothing of the case. He did not know the name of the witness who was wanted.

The Commissioner said he was anxious to try the case, as he was making up his accounts and would like to include this case with them; but a continuance was necessary to the prosecution and therefore must be had for the time stated.

Captured.

BLACKFOOT, Idaho, June 28.—Williams, the Cariboo murderer, who was under sentence to be hanged July 22d, and who, with Harrington and Nickerson, the two horse thieves, who broke jail along with Woods, the Pocatello wife murderer, and who was captured shortly after leaving the jail June 29th, were surrounded last evening and captured in a cañon twenty-five miles from Eagle Rock and taken there this morning. It is evident the prisoners showed fight, as they were heavily armed, and as near as can be learned, Harrington, the horse thief, is wounded, being shot through the foot by one of the pursuers. None of the pursuers were hurt. The prisoners will be taken from Eagle Rock this afternoon and placed in jail here. Great excitement prevails.—Ogden Herald.

Another Excursion.

A great many inquiries have been made since the European excursion left here May 30th, by parties who were unable to go at that date, as to whether there would be another this season. Spence and Rossiter are arranging to accommodate such parties, and there will likely be another excursion leave here about the middle of September. It is expected also that there will be a round trip excursion rate to New York and return in addition to an excursion rate to Liverpool, thus giving parties a chance to visit relatives and friends in the Eastern States at a reduced fare. Those desiring information in relation to the above, should communicate with W. C. Spence or W. A. Rossiter, Box B, Salt Lake City.

Col. E. C. Walker, Trotting Editor of the "Spirit of the Times," N. Y., and General Rufus Ingalls, Quartermaster General, U. S. A., both recommend St. Jacobs Oil as "without equal as a horse remedy." Price fifty cents.
