TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

marks he took occasion to reply to the remarks of Senator Ingalls, in a recent speech, in which the latter said: "The United States is a free country, and cannot tolerate a man who is not agreed with Ingalls in the sense meant by the president of the senate, but in the sense that any man, however obscure, might aspire to that lofty position. Intending an insult to the president and the democratic party, Ingalls had unconsciously paid tribute to look and to American institutions."

Concerning the platform, Gov. Hill said: "We favor free trade, but not a free trade democratic platform. While not in every respect as some of us might desire, it sufficiently expresses the principle of tariff reform to which we are all committed. If I thought our platform favored free trade, I should not be here tonight. I believe in a revision in the interest of the people, and the essential principles of our platform, which is that unnecessary tariffs shall cease, and that favoritism shall not be the controlling factor in our tariff legislation."

At another point in his address he said: "But notwithstanding the attitude of their representatives in Congress, the people of the United States to all measures of relief from taxation,

I venture the prediction that in the future the States toward Germany and its people, I can let no occasion pass to testify of the reciprocal good will which animates this government towards its

Majesty and its people, and which has been called to life."

As the faithful exponent of the people of the United States toward Germany and its people, I can let no occasion pass to
